(unless program has deadline above.)
Submit by May 1 (see specific program deadlines)

A non-refundable fee of $70, in the form of a check or money order payable to St. John's University, must accompany the application.

The Office of Graduate and International Admission will make every effort to notify students of the status of their application. Ultimately, however, it is the student's responsibility to make sure that all supporting credentials are received by the application deadline.

Completed applications and supporting credentials should be forwarded to the campus of intended study as follows:

Queens, Staten Island and Rome Campuses

Admission to a Degree Program

Admission to a degree program is contingent upon an assessment of the candidate's ability to successfully pursue graduate study.

Ability is demonstrated by previous academic performance, satisfactory achievement on appropriate standardized tests, letters of recommendation and other factors that suggest academic potential and motivation.

Specifically, degree candidates must provide the following for admission consideration:

1. Evidence of a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university including official transcripts from each institution attended.
2. Letters of recommendation (requirements vary according to program; please refer to appropriate program information in other sections of this bulletin) from instructors in the proposed area of specialization or other qualified individuals as designated by the school, division or program to which the candidate is applying.
3. Official results of performance on standardized test as appropriate to the requirements of the particular school, division or program.
4. Evidence that conditions or requirements specific to the school, division or program of interest have been met.

Admission to a degree program does not guarantee advancement to degree candidacy. Additional requirements must first be met before the student may be considered a degree candidate (see "Degree Requirements"). In special cases, the dean of the college may waive an admission requirement if it is deemed warranted.

International Student Admission

Applicants whose native language is not English and who have not attended a post-secondary institution in which English is the language of instruction must take the (1) TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) or (2) IELTS (International English Language Testing System). For applications and information regarding IELTS, please visit the Web site: www.ielts.org. For applications and information regarding TOEFL, contact TOEFL Services, Educational Testing Service, Box 6151, Princeton, NJ 08541-6151; or visit the ETS Web site: www.ets.org.

English as a Second Language:

International applicants may be asked to take a University-sponsored English placement examination prior to the start of their academic studies at St. John's. Students will be informed of this test in the decision letter. Students requiring additional English language support are considered for the University's full-time Intensive English Program (IEP) or part-time English as a Second Language (ESL) classes.

Application Deadline: All students living outside the United States who require a student visa must provide completed applications (including all supporting materials) by May 1 for the fall semester and November 1 for the spring semester. However, applicants must first adhere to any specific deadlines for their intended program of study as noted in the Graduate Bulletin.

Applicants must present a formal application, official school records issued by your college/university and results of the TOEFL/IELTS examinations. All documents in languages other than English must be accompanied by certified English translations. For deadline dates, please see the "International Students" section. Students who require a Form I-20 for a student (F-1) visa or a Form DS-2019 for an exchange (J-1) visa must provide proof of financial support. Please refer to our University brochure "How To Get Your Form I-20" or "How To Get Your Form DS-2019", or contact the International Student and Scholar Services Office, (718) 990-6083, fax (718) 990-2070.

General Graduate Information

Questions concerning admission procedures or graduate programs offered by the University should be directed to the Office of Graduate Admission, (718) 990-1601, fax (718) 990-2346, or you may email gradhelp@stjohns.edu.

Transfer Student Admission

Students may seek admission to one of the graduate programs at the University after having successfully completed some graduate coursework at another accredited institution. The student must present the catalog description(s) of the graduate course(s) for which transfer credit or advanced standing is requested and complete a Transfer of Credit form (where applicable), which is available from the office of the appropriate academic Dean. No credit will be allowed for courses beyond the stipulated time limit or in which the grade attained is below "B" (3.0). Only after the academic Dean evaluates all documentation, may requests for transfer of credit or advanced standing be approved. Transferred or advanced standing grades will not affect the cumulative quality point index.

Transfer Credit

A student may request that credit for previously completed coursework be transferred to the St. John's University program of study, provided that it has not been applied toward the fulfillment of requirements for another degree. At the master's level, a maximum of six semester hours of graduate credit will be accepted on a tentative basis, pending re-evaluation after the student has successfully completed 12 semester hours of graduate credit at the University. For programs in the graduate divisions of St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the The Peter J. Tobin College of Business, please refer to the appropriate sections of this bulletin.

A matriculated student may wish to take a course at an accredited institution and transfer the credit toward the St. John's degree program. The student must present the catalog description of the course and a permission form to his/her department/division Chair. Upon the recommendation of the Chair and the approval of the academic Dean, the student may register for the course. Upon completion of the course, the student must submit an official transcript to the Office of the Registrar and complete a Transfer of Credit form, which is available in the office of the appropriate academic Dean.

Advanced Standing

Students enrolled in advanced certificate and doctoral programs may request advanced standing for coursework completed in fulfillment of a previously earned graduate degree.

The number of advanced standing credits permitted is contingent upon assessment of the previously earned credit in accordance with department/division and school/college regulations. However, all doctoral students in the Graduate Division of St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences must complete a minimum of two-thirds of the total number of credits beyond the master's degree at St. John's University. All doctoral students in The School of Education are required to take a minimum of 45 credits at St. John's University.

Health Insurance

The University makes available health insurance to all students through University Health Plans. The University requires all international students holding F1 and J1 visas and all resident students to have adequate health insurance coverage.

F1 and J1 Students: All F1 and J1 students will be automatically provided with and charged for health insurance each semester. The mandatory charge for the insurance will be added to the semester invoice, which is due and payable with the tuition and fee charges.

Resident students: Resident students who have not waived the University-provided insurance will be automatically provided with and charged for this health insurance. The charge for this insurance will be added to the semester invoice, which is due and payable with the tuition and fee charges. To waive the insurance coverage, resident students are required to submit their insurance information online at www.universityhealthplans.com.

Commuter Students: Insurance also is available to our commuter full-time and part-time graduate population and can be purchased at www.universityhealthplans.com.

Please direct any questions to the Office of Student Financial Services at (718) 990-7592 (Queens campus); the Health Office at (718) 390-4447 (Staten Island campus); or University Health Plans at 1 (800) 437-6448.

Expenses

All fees and the entire tuition as well as room and/or board charges for each semester are due and payable in full before registration can be completed. All payments must be made by check or money order payable to St. John's University or by credit card. American Express, MasterCard, VISA and Discover are currently accepted by the Office of Student Financial Services.

Students holding full-tuition scholarships are required to pay the General Fee and any other fees required for the course(s) they are taking.

Students whose accounts are in arrears will not be permitted to register for a subsequent semester, receive grades, or be issued a diploma or a transcript of record. All past due balances are charged interest at the rate of one percent per month. Delinquent accounts may be referred to a third party for collection, which will result in the addition of collection costs to the account balance.

The University reserves the right to change the schedule of tuition and fees when necessary, but every effort is made to maintain them at the lowest possible level.

Withdrawal from Courses and Tuition Credits and Refunds

A student who wishes to withdraw from a course must complete a Change of Program form and have it signed by the appropriate departmental Chair and academic Dean. The date of withdrawal will be the date of the student's written request as attested by his or her Dean.

Withdrawal from courses may entitle the student to a credit for tuition. The percentage of credit will be determined according to the schedules listed. The credit policy refers only to tuition. Fees are not refundable.

Students should allow at least three weeks from the date of filing a Change of Program with the Dean for refund claims to be approved, processed and for checks to be mailed.

Students will not be entitled to any portion of a refund until all federal Title IV programs are credited and all outstanding charges have been paid.

Students are considered in attendance until they officially withdraw from the University or are requested to do so by a Dean. Students who leave school voluntarily or drop a course must do so through the proper channels, or otherwise risk assuming full tuition charges.

Please also see page 12 "Officially Notifying the University of a Withdrawal from Class" and "Withdrawing from Class."

The Withdrawal schedule for Tuition credits for 2013-2014 will be announced in April 2013. The following percentage of tuition may be credited for withdrawals:

Program Requirements

In addition to the regulations in this section, each student is responsible for becoming familiar with the requirements specific to the college/school, department/division and academic program of study in which he/she is enrolled. For further details, consult the appropriate section of this bulletin.

Academic Units and Programs

Approved Programs of Study

Students may only enroll in programs of study officially registered with the New York State Education Department or otherwise officially approved. Enrollment in non-registered or unapproved programs of study may jeopardize eligibility for certain student aid awards.

Most graduate courses at St. John's are conveniently scheduled for late afternoons, evenings and Saturday mornings. Following is a listing of all approved graduate programs at St. John's University. To learn which of the University's campuses offer specific programs, please consult your academic Dean.

Office of the Registrar

The Office of the Registrar serves and supports students and alumni, faculty and their departments, the University as a whole and its constituent colleges. These services include registration, the maintenance of student academic records, grade processing, transcripts, verifications of enrollment and classroom assignments. The Office of the Registrar is responsible for maintaining the accuracy and the integrity of the University's official student academic records.

The Office of the Registrar mails continuing students information about registration in February and October. Registration for continuing students takes place in March/April and in October/ November for the coming fall and spring semesters. Continuing students may register for summer classes when they register for fall classes.

The Office of the Registrar mails student grade reports for the fall and spring semesters on a rolling basis, i.e., each student's grades are mailed when all grades for that student are posted. Summer grade reports are mailed at one time at the end of all summer sessions. Grades are also available from the University's website www.stjohns.edu. Access to online grades is available through UIS (University Information System) via St. John's Central, the University's web portal. An assigned USER NAME and PASSWORD is required. Questions regarding access can be referred to the Office of the Registrar. Students are required to change their PASSWORD to a six digit number of their own design at their first login.

Because the University is continually expanding the services and information it makes available via the Web, students should refer to the University's Web site on a regular basis. The University's homepage may be found at www.stjohns.edu. For the Office of the Registrar site, go to www.stjohns.edu/services/registrar.

Advisement

Advisement policies vary among the individual schools, students should consult with their respective Dean's office to ensure that proper procedures are followed.

All matriculated students are assigned an advisor upon admission to any graduate program. Students are responsible for planning their programs in consultation with their official advisors and for registering for coursework or maintaining matriculation each semester until the degree is awarded. Where applicable, students should bring an Advisement Report with them when they meet with their advisors.

All students must complete a specific registration form with courses that have been pre-approved by an advisor and then signed by their respective Dean. Any changes in a student's program must be completed before the end of the registration period by filing the appropriately approved Change of Program form.

Students will not be permitted to enroll in a course after the late registration period has ended even if the student has been unofficially attending a class. If a student wishes to withdraw from a course, the appropriate Change of Program form must be approved by the appropriate academic Dean and filed in the Office of the Registrar.

Students who stop attending a class without withdrawing from it officially will receive the appropriate grade or mark as determined by their attendance, participation, and performance, and in accordance with the grading criteria provided by their instructors. See page 14 "Grading Systems," for additional information.

Registration

Once advised, students may register according to the schedule published by the Registrar. The Registrar mails students a notice informing them of the dates of registration. This schedule and other information is available on the University's Web site. The Web offerings are updated daily and should be consulted regularly for additions, cancellations and changes.

Matriculated students are assigned an advisor upon admission. Students are responsible for planning their programs in consultation with their advisors or Dean, and for registering for approved coursework or maintenance of matriculation each semester until the degree is awarded. While registration reserves a seat in class, registration by itself does not guarantee that any class is acceptable toward a student's degree program. Students who register for classes without their advisors' approval put themselves at financial and academic risk.

Students may register using UIS via the University's web portal, St. John's Central. St. John's Central can be accessed through our website www.stjohns.edu. As with accessing grades, students are required to log into St. John's Central using their USER NAME and PASSWORD. Registration also requires students to enter their Priority Registration Number, which is obtained from the student's academic advisor or Dean.

E-Bills (electronic bills) are generated each semester (summer, fall, spring and intersession) through the Office of Student Financial Services (SFS). Registration is not complete until students have satisfied their financial liability with the SFS.

The University reserves the right to cancel the registration of a student who has not satisfied this responsibility by the announced due date.

Advisement Reports

St. John's University makes Advisement Reports available to students in many graduate programs via the University Information System (UIS). Advisement reports match courses that students have taken against the requirements for degree programs. While unofficial in nature, these reports are invaluable complements to the advisement process and should be presented to one's advisor at each advisement session.

Note that even new students may and should obtain an Advisement Report from UIS. If a new student has been awarded transfer credit or advanced standing and if the Registrar has been informed of such award, the Advisement Report will take it into consideration even before the student has registered for any classes. Even without such credit, however, the report will show all degree requirements.

Please also note that not all graduate programs have been coded for an Advisement Report. If UIS does not permit you to run a report for your program, this is because it has not yet been coded.

For additional information regarding advisement reports, consult the Registrar's website at the following www.stjohns.edu/services/registrar/advisement

Officially Notifying the University of a Drop from Class

When you register for a class, the University considers it a clear indication of your intention to attend that class. If you change your mind about attending class or if circumstances prevent you from attending, you must notify us officially of your change in status. There are two ways to officially notify St. John's that you will not attend a class for which you have registered.

You can drop a class using the web the same way that you registered for it—via St. John's University Information System (UIS). Web registration is available through the last day of the first week of the semester.

During the second and third weeks of the semester, you may still drop a class, but you need to get permission from your Dean's office. Bring this permission to the Office of the Registrar, and we will drop the class for you.

Classes dropped through the first three weeks of the semester do not appear on your transcript.

Withdrawing from Class

After the last day of the semester's third week, you can no longer drop a class. Any class for which you are still registered on the first day of the semester's fourth week will remain on your transcript. From this point on, you may withdraw from a class. To withdraw from one or more of your classes, contact your Dean's Office. If possible, you should visit the office in person so someone can discuss this decision with you. If you cannot visit the Dean's office, you must put your request in writing.

Requests made through the deadline indicated in the academic calendar will be honored. You will receive a mark of WD in these courses. This mark does not calculate into your GPA.

There is no guarantee that a request for withdrawal after the date indicated in the academic calendar will be approved. If a request after the deadline is not approved, you will receive a grade in the course.

Dropping or withdrawing from a class are academic actions initiated by students. If you do not drop a class during the first three weeks of the semester, it will remain on your transcript whether or not you attended the class, even if you are subsequently allowed to withdraw. You may be entitled to a full or partial refund of tuition paid for a class. Refunds are based on the official date you drop or withdraw, whether via the Web or through your Dean's office. Your Dean may not indicate as the date of drop or withdrawal any date prior to your official written request.

Students who stop attending a class without withdrawing from it officially will receive the appropriate grade or mark as determined by their attendance, participation, and performance, and in accordance with the grading criteria provided by their instructors.

Transcripts and Verifications

Students and alumni may request transcripts and verifications of enrollment in person, by mail or on the Web via their UIS account.

Once a request has been received, most transcripts are in the mail within three business days. Verifications of Enrollment, whenever possible, are provided when requested. There is no charge for transcripts or for verifications.

When requesting a transcript or verification by mail, be sure to include the following information: your full name and any other name used while at St. John's, the last four digits of your social security number, your dates of attendance, the division of the University you attended, degrees received, your address and telephone number, the reason for your request and the complete address to which you want the document sent. Be sure to sign your request; your signature is needed as authorization for releasing information about you.

Send your written request to one of the following addresses:

St. John's University
8000 Utopia Parkway
Queens, NY 11439
ATTN: Transcript Desk
Queens campus
Office of the Registrar

St. John's University
300 Howard Avenue
Staten Island, NY 10301
ATTN: Transcript Desk
Staten Island campus
Office of Enrollment Services

Students may view their entire academic record from the University's Web site. This record may be printed and, may be used as an unofficial document pending receipt of an official transcript or verification.

Veterans and their Dependents

Veterans and their dependents should contact the Department of Veterans Affairs regional office in Buffalo, New York, for information about educational benefits. The telephone number is 1 (888) 442-4551. The Department of Veterans Affairs also maintains a very useful website at the following: www.gibill.va.gov. The Office of Student Financial Services (OSFS) certifies the enrollment of veterans and their dependents for educational benefits.

Graduation

The University confers degrees three times a year, January, May and September, holding the commencement exercises in May. Students awarded degrees in September and January are invited to attend the May ceremony. The Office of University Events informs candidates for degrees of the commencement ceremony to which they are invited. Commencement for the Rome campus is held in June.

"Conferral" means that the Registrar posts a notation of the award of a degree in our academic record-keeping system and this notation appears on a transcript.

Only those individuals who complete all the degree requirements by the end of the spring semester will be eligible to participate in the spring commencement exercises.

For details regarding Rome commencement exercises, please contact the Office of University Events.

To ensure that a diploma is ordered, the Office of the Registrar requires all pending graduates to complete an online Application for Diploma available through a student's UIS account. To access, a student should log into St. John's Central, click on UIS, click on Student Records, and then select Application for Diploma.

Replacement Diplomas

If an original diploma is lost, stolen or destroyed, we will replace it. To order a replacement diploma, write to us for a replacement diploma application. Send your request to one of these addresses:

St. John's University
8000 Utopia Parkway
Queens, New York 11439
ATTN: Diploma Desk
Queens campus
Office of the Registrar

St. John's University
300 Howard Avenue
Staten Island, New York 10301
ATTN: Diploma Desk
Staten Island campus
Office of Enrollment Services

Return your replacement application to the same address with a notarized statement explaining what happened to your original diploma if it was lost or stolen. If the original was damaged, return it with your application. Your application must be accompanied by copies of two proofs of identity, at least one of which contains a photo. Examples of acceptable proof include a passport, driver's license and employment ID. There is a fee for a replacement diploma.

Full-Time Study in Graduate Programs

Full-time study shall mean enrollment for at least 9 credits a semester or the equivalent. Non-credit or prerequisite courses may be considered as contributing toward full-or part-time study on an equivalent basis. Such equivalence is determined through the program or school in which the student is enrolled and must be approved prior to registration. A student carrying a full-time program that includes non-credit prerequisite courses will carry at least six-credit hours each semester with the exception of the first semester, in which a student need carry only three credit hours. A combination of such credit and prerequisite work shall equal the minimum student effort requirement for full-time study.

Courses taken entirely on a personal or voluntary basis, or solely to meet teacher certification, licensing or other external requirements, not recommended or required by the school, shall not contribute to full or part-time study.

Students will not be permitted to register for more than 12 hours of graduate study in any semester. However, under unusual circumstances and with appropriate approval, students will be permitted to register for up to 15 hours. All students holding F-1 or J-1 visas must be enrolled in a full-time programs.

Time Limit

Students who are unable to devote their full time to graduate study may extend the time for obtaining the master's degree or professional diploma beyond the normal span of two years. All coursework, research tool, residence and examination requirements must be satisfied within five years. No degree credit will be allowed for courses completed more than five years before the granting of the degree or diploma.

Students working for the doctorate must complete all requirements for the degree within seven years (eight years for The School of Education). No degree credit will be allowed for courses completed more than seven years prior to the granting of the degree.

Examinations

If a student is not present for the regular final examination, a make-up examination may be permitted by the appropriate Dean. Permission may be granted in the case of students whose academic work is acceptable and only when the reason for absence from the scheduled examination is of a sufficiently serious nature, i.e., an emergency situation which absolutely precluded attendance and can be documented to the Dean's satisfaction. The deferred examination may be taken only on the date published in the Academic Calendar and the student is subject to a make-up examination fee in each case.

Auditing Courses

A student who audits a course is one who is qualified to register for a credit course for which no credit will be granted. Students may not audit a course which they subsequently would be required to complete for their degree. Auditors are expected to attend class but are not responsible for examinations or written assignments. A grade of "AU" for the course will be noted on the permanent record.

Permission to audit a course must be obtained on a Pass/Fail-Audit Option Request form from the student's Dean and the Dean of the school in which the course is offered. This written permission must be presented to the Office of the Registrar. Audit and credit courses may not exceed 18 semester hours per term. Full tuition and fees are charged for audited courses. A student may not change from audit to credit status once the semester begins.

Grading System

A letter system is used in assigning grades for the course with quality points given for each grade:

Grade	Quality	Points
A	Excellent	4
A-	Excellent	3
B+	Very Good	3.3
B	Good	3
B-	Good	2.7
C+	Fair	2.3
C	Passing	2
F	Failure	0
INC	Incomplete	0
ABF	Absent/Failure	0
P	Passing	0
UW	Unofficial Withdrawal	0

Credit for courses is given in semester hours. The quality points for a course are obtained by multiplying the points corresponding to the grade given for the course by the number of semester hours of credit attached to the course. The total quality points for all courses divided by the total credits attempted give students their quality point index.

Besides term examinations, courses which carry three semester credits but which meet for only two hours a week require the submission of a research paper or some equivalent research project before credit may be given.

An "INC," incomplete grade, may be given if the student fails to submit a research paper on some equivalent research project. Students receiving an "INC" grade must submit all required materials no later than the deadline indicated in the Academic Calendar in this bulletin. If the "INC" is not removed within this time period, it remains "INC" on the permanent record, and the student who requires the credit for this course must repeat it. The student must request a grade of incomplete from the professor before the end of the semester.

Audit: Graduate students may audit courses with permission of their Dean. Students may not audit a course which they subsequently would be required to complete for their degree. Auditors are expected to attend class but are not responsible for examinations or written assignments. A grade of "AU" for the course will be noted on the records.

A student will be given the grade of "WD" if he withdraws from a course, with the permission of the appropriate Dean, any time up to the date indicated in the Academic Calendar.

Academic Standing

Students in the master's and advanced certificate programs must maintain a 3.0 quality point average to continue in graduate work. Students who fail to maintain this average, either in a particular semester or in their overall academic record, are subject to having their academic program terminated.

Students in the master's programs of the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences will automatically become subject to review by the appropriate college committee and Dean. Students are subject to academic dismissal as a result of such review.

Students in doctoral programs are required to receive at least a "B" grade in all courses. Grades of "B-" will not count as a "B" where required for doctoral courses. When a student receives a grade of less than a "B," his or her program will automatically become subject to review by the appropriate department, interdepartmental graduate committee and the Office of the Dean.

Residence

Residence requirements assure adequate contact between the University and the graduate student while providing necessary association with scholars in the student's area of specialization.

With the exception of the Master of Arts program in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology offered by St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the master's and advanced certificate programs offered by The School of Education, and the Master of Business Administration offered by The Peter J. Tobin College of Business, all master's degree students must successfully complete 12 semester hours of academic credit during two consecutive academic semesters. For regulations on satisfying the residence requirement of a particular master's or doctoral program, each student should consult the appropriate college/school and department/division section in this bulletin.

Continuous Enrollment—Maintaining Matriculation

Master's Degree and Advanced Certificate

Continuous enrollment for matriculation until the degree is awarded is obligatory for students enrolled in degree programs. Those who are not enrolled in coursework must maintain their active status each semester by enrolling in Maintaining Matriculation at the scheduled registration periods. Students who have not satisfied the continuous enrollment requirement for two or more semesters must

- 1) apply for re-admission,
- 2) meet the requirement in effect at that time,
- 3) be re-admitted,
- 4) pay appropriate maintaining matriculation fees for two semesters. In order to register for the proper Maintaining Matriculation course, students should consult their departmental/divisional course offerings.

Comprehensive Examination

Most degrees require the satisfactory completion of a comprehensive examination. This examination must be taken within a year after the satisfaction of all courses, language and residence requirements.

Students in The Peter J. Tobin College of Business and the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences should consult with the appropriate Dean's office for complete details and requirements regarding the comprehensive exam.

This examination may be oral or written or both, according to the regulations of a particular department/division. The matter for this examination is not limited to the courses taken by the student, but may cover general concepts as well as the whole area of the candidate's field of study. The comprehensive examinations may be held in the fall, spring or summer according to departmental/divisional regulations as noted in the Academic Calendar.

Applications for these examinations should be made in the office of the appropriate Dean no later than the dates assigned in the calendar. Late fees may apply. The individual examiners report the results of this examination in writing to the Dean, who communicates them to the individual candidates. In case of failure, one re-examination may be permitted upon the recommendation of the departmental/divisional Chair and the Dean.

Doctoral Degree

Before sitting for the comprehensive examination, students must be registered in coursework or be enrolled in the appropriate Maintaining Matriculation course. In order to register for the proper Maintaining Matriculation course, students should consult their departmental course offerings. After successful completion of the comprehensive examination, students must enroll in the appropriate three-credit Doctoral Research course each semester until the degree is awarded. In order to register for the proper course, students should consult their departmental/divisional course offerings.

Students who have not satisfied the continuous enrollment requirement for two or more semesters must

- 1) apply for re-admission,
- 2) meet the requirements in effect at that time,
- 3) be re-admitted,
- 4) pay the appropriate fees for two semesters.

Research Review Board

All research carried out by students, faculty or affiliates of St. John's University involving human subjects must be approved by the Institutional Review Board for use of Human Subjects (IRB).

All research involving animals must be approved by the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC). This requirement includes any thesis, dissertation, research project or research essay. Such approvals must be secured before research is begun, must be renewed each year and expires upon completion of degree.

Guidelines and application forms for both IRB and IACUC review are available on-line at: www.sju.stjohns.edu/grants/research.html.*

Master's Thesis

A department or division may require a thesis for the master's degree. Students should consult the appropriate department to ascertain if this is required or optional.

An original and one copy of every approved thesis for the master's degree must be submitted to the Dean. These will be bound and will become the property of the University Library. Thesis must be submitted in accordance with specifications provided by the Dean's office, and submitted in accordance with the date indicated in the Academic Calendar.

Doctoral Dissertation

In establishing a doctoral dissertation committee, preparing a dissertation proposal and submitting and defending the dissertation, the following guidelines apply:

1. Students have the responsibility for requesting a mentor from the doctoral core faculty.
2. The student and mentor work together to choose a committee adhering to the following procedures and guidelines:
 - a. The committee shall consist of the mentor and at least two other members.
 - b. The two members plus the mentor shall come from the department/division.
 - c. One additional member of the committee may come from outside the department or St. John's University.
 - d. The departmental/divisional Chair, Dean and mentor must unanimously approve any outside member.
 - e. Final approval of the committee composition rests with the Dean.

3. The dissertation proposal must be approved by the committee and then forwarded to the departmental Chair for his/her recommendations and then to the appropriate Dean for his/her approval.
4. A manuscript based upon the dissertation and properly prepared for submission to a refereed journal must be submitted to the mentor prior to the scheduling of the oral defense.
5. The oral defense shall be open to the University community.
6. The mentor acts as the Chair of the oral defense, unless otherwise determined by the Department GEPC or its equivalent. The Chair of the oral defense shall be responsible for conducting the defense according to parliamentary procedure.

Students must consult their respective Dean's office, as well as the Directors or Chairs of their doctoral programs, for the specific guidelines, timelines and stylistic formats which apply to the dissertation within their discipline.

After the completed dissertation has been formally accepted, an original and one copy must be submitted to the Dean. These will be bound and will become the property of the University Library. Dissertations must be submitted in accordance with specifications provided by the Dean's office, and submitted in accordance with the date indicated in the Academic Calendar. Original dissertations and abstracts will be sent to University Microfilms, Inc. (UMI) for microfilming; a fee, per bound copy, might be assessed each candidate for binding.

Each copy shall have a title page, bearing the subject, the author's name, the mentor's name, the date of presentation and the statement: "Submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (or Doctor of Education or Doctor of Arts) to the faculty of the department (or division) of (Psychology, Administrative and Instructional Leadership, Pharmaceutical Sciences, etc.) at St. John's University, New York."

Dissertations that are accepted for publication by commercial publishing houses should indicate that they were originally submitted as a doctoral degree requirement at St. John's University.

The original and one copy of the dissertation will then be sent to the Serials Department, University Library. The library retains one paper copy of each doctoral dissertation and two paper copies of each master's thesis. The paper for all library copies must be of high quality—20 lb., acid-free, non-corrasable bond paper with a minimum of 25% rag or cotton content. The paper must have a good opacity, that is, print on one page should not easily show through the page in front of it. The margins for all copies must be one and one-half inches on the left side of each page and one inch on each of the other three sides. Note that these margins must also be left on pages containing graphs, illustrations, appendices, etc. Print on all copies must be dark and even. Word processed copies must be of letter quality.

The original abstract of each dissertation (not more than 350 words) and two copies thereof must accompany the dissertation. The original dissertation and abstract will be sent to University Microfilms, Inc. (UMI) for microfilming. The paper original and microfilm are returned to the library, while the abstract remains at UMI.

The microfilm will be kept permanently at the library. The original with the abstract, as well as the copy and its abstract, will be bound and returned to the library. The original will remain at Circulation/Reserve and the second bound copy will be sent to the appropriate graduate school.

A fee, per bound copy, will be assessed each candidate for this binding service. Each candidate for the doctoral degree is required to fill out a special contract (obtainable in the Dean's office) for "University Microfilms, Inc."

Graduate Financial Aid Forms

St. John's University awards most of its financial assistance to graduate students based on academic ability and financial need, as assessed by means of the federally approved needs analysis known as the Federal Methodology. The Federal Methodology needs analysis assists colleges, universities and other agencies in determining a student's need for financial assistance.

Entering graduate students seeking financial assistance from any federal or institutional source of funding (including student loans) are required to submit a copy of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to the Federal Processing Center designating St. John's University, federal institution code number 002823, as one of the recipients. When the FAFSA is processed, the student receives a federal Student Aid Report (SAR). You may obtain and complete your FAFSA application online at www.fafsa.edu.gov.

Assistantships and Fellowships

Assistantships and Fellowships are awarded annually to academically qualified graduate students. Descriptions of the Award Categories are below.

Doctoral Fellows

Doctoral Fellows are awarded to doctoral students only; these assistantships reside only in academic departments. Doctoral Fellows teach and/or conduct research. Teaching activities might include lab supervision, serving as teacher of record for select undergraduate courses, tutoring, or in some other capacity. Research must be confined to the faculty and/or program needs of the student's department. Doctoral Fellows are expected to devote a specified number of hours per week engaged in the teaching or mentoring of students in some capacity. In addition, when Doctoral students are ABD ("all but dissertation"), a department might choose to hire them as adjuncts. The presumed limit for Doctoral Fellowship renewals is two years.

Graduate Assistantships

There are several types of Graduate Assistantships. Those assigned to their home departments are expected to teach and/or conduct research within those disciplines. The purpose of the Graduate Assistant program is to provide a graduate student the opportunity to supplement coursework with practical experience related to the student's educational course of study and career objectives. Assistantships are an extension to, and application of, classroom instruction through hands-on experience with guidance from experienced faculty, administrators, or staff.

Qualified faculty members directly support the student's assistantship experience by working closely with the student and the department supervisor. It is expected that a GA will gain hands-on experience and beneficial knowledge via their assistantship, which might be of help to them in finishing their degree or gaining employment upon graduation. The department is not the primary beneficiary of the GA's output but rather assists in preparing him or her to be successful in both present and future academic and career pursuits. Other types of Graduate Assistantships are assigned to offices and capacities throughout the University not directly affiliated with their home departments. The majority of Graduate Assistants in both categories will be master's students, although doctoral students are also eligible for these positions. The presumed limit for renewal of Graduate Assistantships is two years.

University Doctor of Arts Fellowships

UDAF's are tuition-remission-only fellowships (no stipend) awarded to working professionals in the Doctor of Arts programs in History and English. UDAFs are granted at the discretion of the Deans in consultation with chairs and supervisors. The criteria for selection of these awards is solely academic merit. Presently, students may be considered for Fellowship renewal up to two years.

Summer Graduate Assistants

A limited number of summer Graduate Assistantships are available. Most of these are tuition-remission only and come without stipends. Summer GAs can be for three or six credits but no more; credits can be taken over one or two sessions. Students must commit to seven hours per week for each three-credit course, or for fourteen hours if taking six credits. If agreeable to the chair or supervisor, and the student, students might opt to redistribute these hours throughout the summer as opposed to serving them all during the summer session during which they are enrolled. Dates of summer contracts are concurrent with the dates of the academic summer sessions unless otherwise specified by contract agreement. Teaching and tutoring expectations during the regular academic year do not apply during the summer.

Summer stipends are awarded to students in the follow departments: Biology, Chemistry, Psychology (St. John's College) and all departments in the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences.

For further information about these awards, see St. John's University website at <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/provost/overview/manual>.

Scholarships

Scholarship awards are made primarily on the basis of scholastic achievement and need. They are generally given to full-time students for a period of one year. Their annual renewal, contingent on satisfactory work, is at the discretion of the University Committee on Scholarships. Application for scholarships should be made to the academic Dean's office unless otherwise indicated. All credentials for scholarships should be submitted no later than April 1 unless otherwise stated.

Scholarships cover full tuition (but not fees) unless otherwise noted as partial awards in the following descriptions.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences M.A./J.D. Research Scholarships

These research scholarships are awarded to qualified students in the M.A./J.D. program offered by the St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the School of Law. The terms of the scholarship provide the recipient with tuition remission for those courses offered through the Department of Government and Politics. Tuition waivers are not given for any course offered by the School of Law. The scholarship recipient is obligated to engage in research work for 8–12 hours per week as assigned by the Chair of the Department of Government and Politics. All fees must be paid by the recipient. For a scholarship application and for further information, students should contact the Dean, Graduate Division of the St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

The School of Education Scholarships

Students interested in applying for any of the following scholarships offered by The School of Education are referred to the Office of the Dean.

Assistantships/Fellowships:

Awarded to full-time students yearly, based on academic achievement, assistantships offer a stipend of $4,000 plus full tuition remission for up to 12 credits a semester. Teaching Fellowships consist of a stipend of $7,500 plus tuition remission from September to May. Doctoral Fellowships offer a $10,000 stipend plus tuition remission from September to May. All may be renewed yearly. Students may not have another job while employed by the university in this program. This offer is not to be combined with any other scholarship.

Requirements for Consideration

Award is based on academic achievement.

How to Apply

Submit your completed application along with the application for the assistantships/fellowships. Deadline: None.

Assistantships/Fellowships are limited and are extremely competitive. Students are urged to apply as far in advance as possible.

Catholic Scholarship

An academic scholarship is awarded to select eligible graduates with a record of significant achievement from a Catholic college or university who have completed a major or minor in education. This scholarship is extremely competitive. Each scholarship provides for full-time study in one master's degree program in the Graduate Division of the School of Education. The scholarship commences with the fall term and is applicable to new students applying to a master's degree only. Students are responsible for all fees, books and other expenses.

Requirements for Consideration

You must be a graduate from a Catholic college or university, have completed a major or minor in education and have a proven track record of service to your college, university, and/or community. Submission of an application to the University, statement of professional goals, resume, and two letters of reference supporting your service activities to your college, university and/or community.

How to Apply

Simply submit your regular application and the Catholic Scholarship application along with your transcripts, resume, two letters of reference supporting your service activities to your college, university, and or community as well as your statement of goals.

Deadline April 1: ALL materials are due for enrollment in the following fall semester for a master's degree only.

Graduate Scholars in Education Program

Responding to the critical need for teachers, St. John's University announces the creation of tuition scholarships toward a full master's degree in education. This highly competitive one-time scholarship, worth $6,000 for the program of 33-60 credits, will be awarded to select eligible applicants commencing with the fall semester.

Requirements for Consideration

Submission of an application to the University for a master's degree for the fall semester, a minimum 3.5 grade point index (career changers and counseling majors must have a 3.6 GPA) - and passing scores on all required New York State Teacher Certification Examinations* For information on registering for the exams, go to: www.nystce.nesinc.com

*Not required for career change counseling majors.

How to Apply

Submit your regular application along with your transcripts showing your grade point average of 3.5 or higher 3.6 for career changers and counseling majors, your teaching certification examination scores* (not required for career changers and counseling majors) and a statement of goals.

Deadline June 1: ALL materials are due for enrollment in the following fall semester. This is an extremely competitive scholarship. Students are urged to apply as far in advance as possible.

Personnel in Catholic Schools Tuition Reduction:

As part of our mission as a Catholic university, St. John's awards full-time teachers and administrators in Catholic schools a 40% tuition reduction for one master's degree or one advanced certificate.

Requirements for Consideration

You must be a full-time teacher or administrator within a Catholic school.

How to Apply

Simply submit your application along with all other necessary materials. If accepted into the University, you must complete a written form each semester and submit it to the Office of Financial Aid.

Deadline: None

Excellence in Education Scholarship:

This scholarship acknowledges outstanding academic achievement and is based upon the recommendation of the faculty. The scholarship is awarded to three students from each department, entering in the fall semester for a master's degree. This highly competitive one-time scholarship, worth $10,000 for the program of 33-60 credits, will be awarded to select eligible applicants commencing with the fall semester.

Requirements for Consideration

Submission of an application to the University for a master's degree for the fall semester, a minimum 3.75 cumulative grade point index, and a reference letter from a faculty member, recommending you for this scholarship.

How to Apply

Submit your completed application showing a 3.75 cumulative grade point index or greater, along with a reference letter from a faculty member, recommending you for this scholarship.

Deadline: None. Due to the highly competitive nature of this scholarship, students are encouraged to apply as far in advance as possible.

Superintendent's Scholarship

This scholarship provides 25% tuition reduction for students applying to the Oakdale campus in any degree program who have a 3.0 GPA or greater.

How to Apply

Submit your completed application showing a 3.0 cumulative grade index or greater, along with two reference letters from your supervisors, recommending you for this scholarship.

Deadline: None. Due to the highly competitive nature of this scholarship, students are encouraged to apply as far in advance as possible.

Intensive Teaching Institute (I.T.I.)

Intensive Teaching Institute in Bilingual Education and English as a Second Language is funded by New York State Education Department (NYSED) in partnership with St. John's University, Graduate Programs in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages.

These programs were created to address the shortage of certified bilingual and English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) teachers in New York State, already employed New York State public school educators and counselors working in grades K-12.

The ITI-BE 15 credit course sequence programs offered at St. John's University are structured to prepare teachers and Pupil Personnel Service providers who are currently employed as NYS public school teachers and counselors with an advanced certificate from New York State Education Department. The unique New York State initiative, which St. John's University School of Education TESOL Program has embraced, prepares for certification, in-service teachers and Pupil Personnel Service (PPS) providers (school psychologists, counselors and social workers) who are currently working with English Language Learners (ELLs) in a variety of classroom settings and providing pupil personnel services to such students.

Special Graduate Scholarship Program for Public Employees

Each semester St. John's University awards a limited number of graduate scholarships to students who are Public Management employees pursuing a master's degree in the Graduate Division of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Department of Government and Politics. Applicants may inquire through the Department of Government and Politics.

Endowed Scholarships

The University offers students the opportunity to apply for numerous Endowed Scholarships, which have been made possible by the generosity of our donors who include trustee, alumni parents, and friends of St. John's University

Federal Financial Aid

A recipient of any type of federal financial aid must make appropriate satisfactory academic progress in order to continue to be eligible to receive federal financial aid. Students failing to make satisfactory academic progress lose eligibility for federal aid. Consult the Office of Financial Aid for details regarding the University's satisfactory academic progress requirements for federal aid recipients.

Federal Family Education Loan Programs

What is a Federal Direct Student loan?

Federal Direct Student loans are one form of student aid from the federal government. Under the Federal Direct Student loan program students borrow money for school from the federal government. The Office of Student Financial Services encourages students to evaluate loan options carefully, borrow only what is really needed and remember that loans must be repaid.

How much can I borrow?

$20,500 is the maximum annual amount a graduate student is eligible to borrow in the form of a Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan. Please note loan limits are set by federal regulation and determined by Congressional action.

What is the difference between a subsidized and an unsubsidized loan?

Federal Direct Unsubsidized Student Loan payments are deferred until after graduation, but interest on the loan accrues and is capitalized on the loan while you are enrolled in school and/or in deferment. Loan repayment must begin six months after you cease to be enrolled at least half-time (including leaves of absence or maintaining matriculation periods). The interest rate for Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans for all students is 6.8%.

Are there any other federal loans available to graduate students?

The Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan is a federal loan available to graduate students. The maximum amount you will be eligible to borrow for the 2012-2013 school year will be indicated on your St. John's award letter. Students often elect to limit the amount which they borrow to the difference between annual direct costs and other financial aid received. Direct costs are those paid directly to St. John's including tuition and fees, and room and board for resident students. Indirect costs consist of all other expenses that relate to attendance at St. John's University. Your entire estimated cost of attendance is available on your UIS account. The interest rate on Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loans is 7.9%. Please note the interest is set by the U.S. Department of Education and is subject to change on an annual basis.

What fees, if any, are associated with these loans?

For Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans, an origination fee of 1.0% of the total loan is assessed and is automatically deducted by the federal government. For Graduate PLUS loans, an origination fee of 4.0% is assessed and is automatically deducted. Since origination fees are deducted before the federal government disburses loans to St. John's, the amount credited to the student's account will be less than the loan amount borrowed. Origination fees are determined by the U.S. Department of Education and are subject to change on an annual basis.

How do I apply for a Federal Direct Student Loan?

Federal Direct Stafford Loan Process

Step 1: All students who wish to borrow a Federal Direct Stafford Loan must first accept their loans. Loans are accepted or declined on the student's personal UIS account by following the instructions below:

- Log in to UIS and click on the Financial Aid tab
- Click on My Award Information then Award by Aid Year
- Select the 2010–2011 aid year and submit
- Click on the Accept Award Offer tab
- Follow the on screen instructions to fully accept, partially accept, or decline your loan awards

Important Note: If you wish to reinstate a loan you have already declined or modify a loan you have already accepted, please print, complete and return a Student Loan Change Form available online at <http://www.stjohns.edu/services/financial>.

Step 2: First time Direct Loan borrowers only must complete a Federal Student Loan Entrance Counseling Session in accordance with federal regulations. Go to www.StudentLoans.gov and click on Entrance Counseling. (When selecting a school during entrance counseling, search for "Saint John's University" without using abbreviations.)

Step 3: First time Direct Loan borrowers only must complete a Direct Loan Master Promissory Note (MPN) at www.StudentLoans.gov. Borrowers will need their FAFSA Personal Identification Number (PIN) in order to complete the MPN. If you do not have a PIN or cannot recall it, you can request your PIN at www.pin.ed.gov.

Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan Process

All new Direct Grad PLUS Loan borrowers must complete a separate Grad PLUS Entrance Interview at www.StudentLoans.gov. All borrowers must have their credit history checked by the Department of Education. Approved borrowers will then have to complete a Master Promissory Note in order to obtain a loan. Students should go to www.StudentLoans.gov to complete the PLUS process.

New York State Financial Aid

Tuition Assistance Program (TAP)

The program provides grants varying from $75 to $550 a year, depending upon the family New York State net taxable income. The awards are made to New York State residents who enroll in a full-time degree program.

All students applying for state financial assistance, such as the TAP, must meet the minimum standards for satisfactory academic progress and program pursuit as listed on the previous page in order to comply with section 145-2.2 of the New York State Education Department's regulations and to continue their eligibility for state financial assistance.

The State Education Department's regulations concerning program pursuit are as follows: a student must achieve a passing or failing grade in the following percentages of a full-time program (which is a minimum of 12 credits a term) in each semester he/she receives TAP in order to continue to be eligible for TAP payments in the subsequent semester. The percentages are: first year of TAP payment—50% of full-time program must be completed; second year of TAP payment—75% of full-time program must be completed; third and fourth years of TAP payment—100% of full-time program must be completed. If the graduate TAP recipient received TAP as an undergraduate, the number of undergraduate TAP payments received determines what level of program pursuit the first-time graduate student must meet. For example, if the graduate recipient already received four or more undergraduate TAP payments, he/she would be at 100% program pursuit level through each semester of graduate study.

Please be advised that these outlined satisfactory progress standards are for the purposes of state aid eligibility; they are not the same as the University's own established standards for satisfactory progress.

Students must meet both the program pursuit requirements and the satisfactory academic progress requirements in each term of TAP payment in order to continue TAP eligibility. Students not complying with the state standards for program pursuit and satisfactory academic progress will have their eligibility re-established only after evidencing ability to successfully complete an approved program.

Regents Professional Opportunity Scholarships

New York State provides this scholarship program on both the undergraduate and graduate levels for certain professional programs of study. The approved graduate programs include Law (J.D.), psychology (Doctorate), social work (Master's) and speech-language and pathology/audiology (Master's). These scholarships require a service commitment after completion of the professional program.

Regents Professional Opportunity Scholarship applicants must plan to study full-time and, to receive top priority for scholarship selection, be both economically disadvantaged and belong to a group that is traditionally under-represented in the field. Scholarship recipients receive $1,000–$5,000 a year for up to four years of study, unless enrolled in a program recognized by the NYS Regents as requiring five years to complete. No award shall exceed the cost of attendance.

Further information and scholarship applications may be obtained from: the NYS Education Department, State and Federal Scholarships Unit, Cultural Education Center, Albany, NY 12230.

Student Support Services and Resources

Alumni Relations

The Office of Alumni Relations is dedicated to keeping our more than 166,000 graduates connected to each other and to St. John's University. It strives to continually enhance services and develop new programs that meet the needs of an ever-evolving alumni body. Realizing that today's students are tomorrow's alumni, it encourages alumni to mentor our current students by offering them opportunities to share their personal expertise and experiences.

The Office sponsors and oversees more than 20 constituent groups (organized by School/College/Campus and other affiliations) and Regional Chapters across the country. Alumni who make annual contributions to the University support high quality education for deserving students; in appreciation of their generosity, they are entitled to many discounts and services provided by St. John's corporate partners.

The Office of Alumni Relations:

- Coordinates social, educational and cultural functions throughout the year
- Sponsors professional networking and career development opportunities
- Sponsors the Alumni Insider's View... Programs and Student Alumni Association (SAA) to foster interaction between current students and alumni
- Collaborates with the University's Career Center on a variety of student engagement initiatives
- Hosts alumni receptions at both home and away athletic events
- Collaborates in publishing the St. John's University Magazine
- Creates events specifically for young alumni
- Hosts the Alumni Online Community at alumni.stjohns.edu to provide a variety of online services to graduates

For more information about the Office of Alumni Relations, please visit www.stjohns.edu/alumni.

Athletics

St. John's University offers 17 sports programs which compete at the highest level of intercollegiate athletics. The University participates at the Division I level of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and is a founding member of the BIG EAST Conference. Red Storm teams are also affiliated with the Eastern College Athletic Association (ECAC), the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletics of America (IC4A), the Metropolitan Track and Field Association (MTFA), the Intercollegiate Fencing Association (IFA) and the National Intercollegiate Fencing Association (NIFA).

The University has 10 intercollegiate offerings for women, including basketball (six NCAA Tournament appearances), cross country, fencing (2001 NCAA National Champions), golf (2011 BIG EAST individual champion), indoor and outdoor track and field (20 NCAA Championship appearances), soccer (2010 NCAA Tournament berth), volleyball (two NCAA Tournament berths), tennis and softball.

The seven men's intercollegiate team offerings consist of baseball (tied for eighth all-time with 33 NCAA Tournament appearances, six College World Series appearances), basketball (27 NCAA Tournament appearances, seventh-most wins in NCAA history), fencing (2001 NCAA National Champions), golf (five NCAA Regional appearances), lacrosse, tennis (2011 BIG EAST Coach of the Year) and soccer (1996 NCAA National Champions, four College Cups, 17 NCAA Tournament berths).

Campus Recreation

Campus Recreation is designed for the purpose of providing the entire university community with the opportunity to participate in a variety of leisure and recreational activities. These activities encompass team sports, individual and dual sports, as well as competitive and non-competitive activities. In addition to the obvious benefits of physical fitness, it is hoped the participants will also obtain improved skills, new and lifelong leisure time skills, along with social and ethical qualities (cooperation, trust, regard for others, etc.) from this program.

It is felt these objectives are consistent with the University's educational mission. A high level of skill is not a prerequisite to participate in any activities offered by this department. Therefore, all eligible students, faculty, staff and administrators are urged to take part in as many activities as time and interest permit.

Monday-Thursday 7 a.m.–11 p.m.
Friday 7 a.m.–9 p.m.
Saturday 10 a.m.–9 p.m.
Sunday 12 p.m.–9 p.m.

Special Events

The overall goal of Special Events and open recreation is to promote social interaction through providing outside activities. We also look for ways to provide visionary leadership and direction for a campus wide population.

If you have an idea or would like to see an event hosted by Campus Recreation please email us at recreation@stjohns.edu.

We host a variety of events focused on sports, fitness, wellness and social interaction.

Intramurals

Having the opportunity to participate in both formal and informal recreational activities is a vital part of everyday life. The Intramural program at St. John's University provides formal recreational sports opportunities to all students, faculty, staff and administrators by offering an opportunity for interesting and rewarding competition in men's, women's and co-recreational activities. The program offers a variety of activities that the entire university community can participate in regardless of preference or athletic ability.

Fitness

As part of our fitness programming we offer a wide variety of fitness classes throughout the week. All classes take place in the fitness center dance studio.

Personal Training

The Personal Training program offers you to have one-on-one sessions with a qualified personal trainer. The personal trainer will design a fitness program specifically designed to meet your needs and interests. This is the best way to receive high-quality instruction, motivation and support for your new fitness routine.

Club Sports

The objectives of Club Sports are to fulfill the recreational and extramural competitive needs of students. The program emphasizes Instruction and Competition.

Club Sports are special interest groups where by the students, with the Campus Recreation Department, accept the responsibility for the majority of the organization responsibilities of the club. Anyone interested in joining a club may contact the Campus Recreation Department in Taffner Field House or the club's coach or captain.

Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry at St. John's University is people, programs, places and most importantly, a presence. The staff of Vincentian priests, religious women and lay ministers are all actively engaged in the development of a vibrant Christian community on the Queens, Staten Island and Manhattan campuses.

Vincentian in tradition, Campus Ministry also seeks to instill in the University community a deep concern for the rights and dignity of the human person, especially the poor and most vulnerable. They hope to share with others the heritage of the Gospel, which is the source of life at the University and the very reason for its existence.

The weekend retreat experience is an important part of the Campus Ministry program, offering students time away from the pressure of classes and working to reflect, take stock, relax and give thanks. Retreats are conducted by student leaders and staff at the Vincentian Renewal Center in Princeton, NJ.

Campuses offer weeklong programs during the semester breaks with sites in Philadelphia, inner-city Brooklyn, Harlem and David, KY. This enables students to live and work among the poor with emphasis on prayer, service and community. On a weekly basis there are many opportunities to serve the needs of people in the metropolitan area through soup kitchens and shelters.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society is a student service organization sponsored by Campus Ministry. The members are involved in weekly service opportunities such as serving in soup kitchens, shelters and schools. They also sponsor service projects and fundraisers throughout the year.

The University community is served by students, staff, faculty and administrators through various ministries in the Chapel such as readers, Eucharistic Ministers, singers and musicians.

The RCIA program is available for those who are thinking of becoming Catholics and for Catholics who wish to receive First Communion or Confirmation or would like to be a sponsor for a candidate.

On the Queens campus, the Eucharist is celebrated daily at 8 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. in St. Thomas More Church. There is a Sunday celebration at 11 a.m. followed by a coffee hour. The opportunity for reconciliation is also available each day. A special mass for students is held on Sunday evenings at 6 p.m. Following liturgy, we gather as community for snacks and friendship.

On the Staten Island campus, the Eucharist is celebrated at noon on class days in St. Vincent de Paul Chapel. The opportunity for reconciliation is also available each day. Special masses for campus groups are arranged with the Campus Ministers. The Campus Ministry Advisory Council sponsors student activities for the poor and disabled.

The Campus Ministers are always available to help with any personal, moral or religious questions or concerns.

Career Center

Mission/Vision Statement

As a team of dedicated career educators we serve as a resource to internal and external constituents offering career advising, job-readiness skill training, internships, and employment services. The Career Center provides programs and services that create opportunities for students, alumni, faculty and employers to engage in mutually beneficial partnerships that meet the needs of an evolving and global workforce.

As a Career Center we will be known for leadership through our ability to anticipate and respond to changing student needs and the job market. We will be a target school of choice for NYC region employers seeking diverse and highly qualified interns and employees.

Services

St. John's CareerLink

St. John's CareerLink is your gateway to Career Center on-line resources and important updates! CareerLink includes access to job, internship and campus recruiting listings; registration for Career Center programs; workshop, information session, career fair and other event information; and additional career development and employment resources. To access CareerLink, log in to St. John's Central - Click on the 'Career/Internships' tab on the top of the screen.

On Campus Recruiting

Each year employers representing various fields visit St. John's University with hopes of meeting qualified candidates to fill their full-time and internship positions. The Career Center facilitates one-on-one meetings between candidates and employers through on-campus interviews. Interested students may meet with a career counselor to discuss the requirements for participation and/or attend a Campus Recruiting Orientation for more information.

Individual Advisement

Career advisors are available to meet one-on-one and will tailor appointments to meet your needs, including providing assistance in developing your professional objective, resume/cover letter writing, job search strategies, networking, evaluating job offers/salary negotiations and mock or videotaped interview practice.

COACH (Count on Alumni for Career Help)

Often the best, most inspiring advice comes from listening to the personal experiences of others. Communication with professionals can provide realistic information about career options, job responsibilities and employment conditions. The purpose of COACH is to provide you with a way to learn about potential career opportunities and meet people in your field.

Polished and Professional

The goal of this series is to provide you with the professional tools necessary to stand out in a social situation, particularly if the job for which you are interviewing requires a certain standard of conduct with clients and superiors. On a practical level, interviews that last for several hours may extend through meal-times. And in today's competitive job market being polished and professional is essential! Programs include business networking strategies; dining etiquette; creating a professional brand; mock interviewing; and more.

Internships and Employment

Are you looking for internships or job opportunities?

If your answer is yes, visit the Career Center to access resources and listings to assist you with identifying, researching and obtaining meaningful internships, part- and full-time employment. Access CareerLink through St. John's Central (Career/Internships tab).

Career Fairs and Special Events

Employers from various fields come to campus several times each year offering advice about careers in their organizations and seeking to meet qualified candidates to fill internships, part-time and full-time positions through participation in career fairs, facilitated panel discussions and information sessions. In addition to on campus fairs we also partner with the Big East Consortium to participate in additional job fairs in NYC and virtually.

On Site Employer Visits

On Site Employer Visits provide students with an opportunity to learn about industries and opportunities. Network with alumni, learn more about specific career fields and get experience interacting with potential employers at their company.

Center for Counseling and Consultation

The Center for Counseling and Consultation provides assessment, individual and group counseling, crisis intervention, consultation, and community referrals to students who may be experiencing personal or emotional difficulties that interfere with their ability to perform well academically. Psychiatric consultation is also available when appropriate.

The Center is staffed by professionally licensed and credentialed mental health providers including psychologists, mental health counselors, and a part-time psychiatrist.

Services are free, voluntary and confidential within the limits of legal and ethical restrictions.

Any student currently enrolled for a minimum of six credits is eligible to be seen for a consultation at the Center.

The Centers operate within a short-term counseling model and students with more long-term or specialized needs are helped to find more appropriate resources within the community.

Common problems include academic concerns, depression, anxiety, family issues, romantic relationships, alcohol and substance abuse, stress, shyness, sexual assault or harassment, loneliness, homesickness, etc.

As part of the Department of Student Wellness, counseling staff work closely with all members of the St. John's community to help create a healthy and positive living and learning environment.

Students at the Manhattan campus may use the services at the above campuses or be assisted with a referral to community practitioners.

Dining Service Facilities

St. John's Dining Services are proudly operated by Chartwells Higher Education. Offering a wide variety of meal options in more than a dozen dining locations on three campuses, you're sure to find something to satisfy your hunger.

St. John's Dining also features a full service catering department. From casual meetings to gala affairs, our catering staff is available to guide the way to a successful event. You can browse our menus and place an order, at <http://stjohns.catertrax.com>.

Should you have any questions regarding campus dining, please visit our website at www.DineOnCampus.com/StJohns or call us at (718) 990-1535, or stop by our offices in Marillac Hall B-6.

Student Health Services

On the Queens Campus, treatment for symptoms of flu, colds, allergies, GI upset, minor abrasions and burns together with health counseling are available from 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m. Monday–Thursday and 8:30 a.m.–3 p.m. on Friday in the Health office in DaSilva Hall, (718) 990-6360.

The Queens Student Health Services is staffed by two registered nurses. A physician is available to see St. John's University students exclusively Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons during the semester.

On the Staten Island campus, a nurse is available from 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m. Monday–Thursday and 8:30 a.m.–3 p.m. on Friday, in the Health Office, Room B17, Campus Center, (718) 390-4447.

Students at the Manhattan campus may be referred to nearby facilities or use the services of the Queens or Staten Island campus.

Immunization Requirements

NYS law 2165 requires that all students born on or after January 1, 1957 provide proof of immunity to measles, mumps and rubella disease. Immunization compliance is issued through the Health Office and allows for course registration and class attendance. All new students (freshmen, transfer, undergraduate/graduate, matriculated/non-matriculated, full or part-time) must have on file proof of TWO doses of measles vaccine and ONE dose of mumps and rubella vaccine. An immunization given before 1968 is acceptable only if the immunization record specifies that the vaccine was a live virus vaccine. A dose of live virus measles, mumps and rubella vaccine must be administered no more than four days prior to a child's first birthday and a second dose of live measles, mumps and rubella must be administered no less than 28 days after the first dose.

Failure to provide the completed medical forms 30 days from the beginning of class will result in exclusion from class.

In compliance with NYS law 2167, ALL students attending colleges and universities in New York State are required to be given information relating to immunization against meningococcal meningitis. By law you must respond to this notification within 30 days. Information can be obtained in the Office of Health Services. Failure to complete the required form 30 days from the beginning of class will result in exclusion from class.

Housing: Off-Campus

The Queens campus maintains an Off-Campus Housing Office, located in Donovan Hall. You can contact the Office of Residence Life at (718) 990-2417. The Staten Island campus maintains a listing of local realtors. The University does not inspect these facilities. The evaluation of suitability of any facility is the responsibility of the potential renter. Persons listing facilities with the University certify they will accept any student registered at the University regardless of race, color or creed. On the Queens campus, information is available in the Office of Residence Life, Donovan Hall–Garden Level, and on the Staten Island campus, in the Student Life Office, Campus Center, Room B-11.

International Student and Residence Scholar Services

The International Student and Scholar Services Office, located on the Queens campus in St. John Hall, Room 116 and on the Manhattan campus, Room 465, assists international students and scholars in all matters related to their life at St. John's University and in the community including: immigration assistance; orientation to life at St. John's; New York City and the American culture; counseling for financial, adjustment, personal, legal and other matters; advisement concerning medical insurance, Social Security, taxes, campus and community services; coordinating programs (social, travel, cultural, family visitation); documentation for foreign exchange, military waivers, enrollment certification; liaison with foreign consular offices, U.S. government agencies/ departments and University offices.

The Global Language and Culture Center

The Global Language and Culture Center, located on the first floor of St. John Hall, in rooms 104, 105 and 106, is a state-of-the-art language resource center where students, registered or not in a language class, can come to start learning one of the 14 languages currently offered at St. John's University, or to perfect their knowledge through immersion and interaction under the supervision of trained language specialists.

The Center offers large seating areas in a library-like setting for studying and group gathering, as well as individual language pods equipped with computers and large screen TVs for specific language instruction.

Students can engage in group activities under the supervision of a tutor or graduate assistant, receive individual tutoring, participate in round table conversations in the target language, attend grammar and pronunciation workshops, watch foreign TV channels, learn a language on a self-access basis with the center's audio and video resources, or attend lectures and cultural events held during the academic year at the center.

The Center also administers language placement testing and offers advisement on language courses at St. John's College.

The Professional Development Center for School Improvement

The PDC's mission is to provide educational assistance tailored specifically to individual school communities as well as to school districts and nonpublic central offices. This unique, customized approach is grounded in best practice and knowledge of the latest research in teaching and learning. Acknowledging that the educational process is multi-faceted, the PDC for School Improvement includes a wide variety of services including initiative in Curriculum Mapping, History, Technology, ESL, Guidance and Administrative Support.

In addition, the Nonpublic School Building Leadership Program (NPBL) was created to improve the quality of School Building Leadership. This program can lead to a Masters Degree in School Building Leadership including New York State Certification.

The uniqueness of the PDC and all of its programs is that St. John's faculty work directly with the participants out in the field. In so doing, the faculty bring not only their wide knowledge of the most current research in each field, but strategies for practical application of such theories across the spectrum of needs in the schools.

The Institute for Catholic Schools
This Institute was established in a desire to serve as a valuable resource, collaborating with local dioceses to support and enhance Catholic elementary and secondary education. To date, the Institute's programs include: the St. Vincent dePaul Program which is a two-year inservice program for principals, board chairs and board directors in the Diocese of Brooklyn focusing on the roll-out of the new governance structure for their elementary schools; Project TIE: Training Innovative Educators, a partnership with the Archdiocese of New York and the Brooklyn and Rockville Centre Dioceses, is designed to provide ongoing staff development and teacher coaching with a school-wide program in Literacy and math instruction for low-achieving schools; a partnership with the School Sisters of Notre Dame Educational Center for Women, providing academic screening and instructional workshops; Curriculum Leadership Team Program is a year-long initiative that creates and supports teams of elementary school educators in our three neighboring dioceses in their alignment with the new Common Core Standards; and the Not-For-Profit Management Program is in collaboration with the Tobin School of Business and provides seminars in key aspects of running a Catholic school effectively

The Reading and Writing Education Center

The School of Education maintains a Reading and Writing Education Center which provides diagnostic and corrective services to children and youth who are experiencing Literacy learning difficulties. Diagnosis and treatment services are provided by graduates of the school's own Master's Degree Programs in literacy education and/or by certified teachers of New York State. The Center's main location is presently at the University's Seton Complex, 152-11 Union Turnpike, Queens, N. Y. Services may also be arranged at other St. John's campuses. Fees apply for diagnostic evaluations (one time) and for the duration of treatment sessions ranging from 6 sessions to 12 sessions. Please call (718) 990-6358 for more information.

Speech and Hearing Center

The Speech and Hearing Center, under the direction of Donna Geffner, Ph.D., CCC-Sp/A, has offered diagnostic and therapeutic services for communication disorders since 1976. Located off the Queens campus on Union Turnpike, the Center serves Queens, Long Island and the metropolitan New York community. The population ranges from infants to adults. The Center's staff consists of ASHA certified and New York State licensed professionals who work with each client to completely evaluate and assess the communication disorder as well as design intervention strategies for a therapy program. Therapy sessions are scheduled on a semester basis according to the Academic Calendar. When indicated, referrals are made to other appropriate agencies.

The Center serves as a training site for St. John's University students enrolled in the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Program. Therapy is provided by professionals and by students under direct supervision. The Center is a fully equipped, modern facility, housing the latest diagnostic, therapeutic materials and instrumentation. Two complete audiometric suites are on site to provide audiological evaluation and hearing aid fitting.

Speech-Language Pathology Services include evaluation and therapy for articulation, voice, language, stuttering, apraxia, learning disabilities and neurological disorders; and improvement of voice and diction for speakers with foreign accent/ESL or regional speech patterns. Social skills training groups and adult aphasia group are offered. Consultation and referral sources as well as conference visits to schools/agencies are also available.

The Audiology Services include audiological evaluations, such as pure tone and speech audiometry, impedance and site of lesion testing; brainstem-evoked response testing; hearing aid evaluation and orientation; aural rehabilitation evaluation and training; early childhood testing; central auditory processing testing and otoacoustic emission testing. The Center provides free screenings on site and off-site for a reasonable fee and a free hearing aid help clinic on designated days. Call for fees (718) 990-6480.

Stormcard ID Cards

StormCards must be carried at all times on the University premises. Lending a Stormcard to anyone or failure to present it when required by a University faculty or staff member is a violation of the Code of Conduct and subjects the holder to disciplinary action. Loss of a StormCard should be reported to the StormCard Office in the Department of Public Safety, ROTC Building (Queens) or the Office of Public Safety, Spellman Hall, Room 116 (Staten Island) or the Office of Public Safety, Room 465 (Manhattan). There will be a fee for replacement.

Student Computing Facilities

St. John's University is committed to preparing its students with the technological skills necessary to meet the challenges of the 21st century marketplace. Under the leadership of the Information Technology Division, the University is equipped to meet the instructional needs of students and faculty through state-of-the-art academic computing facilities. Students have access to facilities that consist of seven microcomputer laboratories, over 250 multimedia classrooms, microcomputer classrooms, and Library patron computers. Deployment of desktop computers to these facilities now totals over 1000 Intel-based workstations and over 125 high-end Macintosh computers.

The University's state-of-the-art computer network enables each microcomputer to access a wide range of software, as well as electronic mail and the Internet through the World Wide Web. A variety of educational, business, statistical and other electronic information resources are accessible through the campus's high-speed GigaBit backbone with 100 Mbps Ethernet to each desktop computer. Internet connectivity is provided through a 400 MB link. Wireless connectivity is available at all five locations.

Microcomputer Laboratories

The microcomputer laboratories now contain more than 300 Intel workstations and over 30 high-end Macintosh computers. Two of these labs are located on the Queens campus. Additionally, each of the following locations has one lab, Staten Island, Manhattan, Oakdale, Rome Italy and Paris France.

Many of the desktop lab computers are Intel Core 2 Duo 3.2 GHz platforms, DVDRW and 4GB of RAM matched by LCD monitors, Windows 7 (OS), the MS Office 2007 suite as well as many other Windows-based applications. All the computers are connected to the STJ computer network, UNIX servers and Windows NT file servers.

Microlab / Classroom Macintosh computing resources consist of primarily MAC Pro's running Intel Xeon Quad core with 8 GB of RAM, and running MAC OS 10.6. Wired and wireless printing facilities for both platforms consist of shared high speed B&W as well color laser printers.

Multimedia Classrooms

Of the total 269 multimedia and seminar style classrooms, 177 are located on the Queens campus, 39 more are at the Staten Island campus and 28 are on the Manhattan campus. Each multimedia classroom is equipped with a podium, faculty computer, a sound system and projection equipment that can be viewed by all the students. Faculty has the option of connecting and projecting the image from their laptop computers in all multimedia classrooms as well. Multimedia equipped classrooms are available at the other campuses as well.

Although students do not have individual workstations, each multimedia presentation environment allows faculty to incorporate technology as a teaching tool to enhance the learning experience for their students. The Queens campus has 6 multimedia equipped/large capacity facilities. (The D'Angelo's Center Tiered Lecture Hall, D'Angelo Multipurpose Room, Marillac Auditorium, the two St. Albert Amphitheatres, and the Little Theatre.)

Microcomputer Classrooms

Further, the Queens campus has 13 microcomputer classrooms and Staten Island has 6 that house both Intel Pentium and Macintosh computers. The Oakdale campus has 2 computer classrooms, the Manhattan campus has 2 combination computer labs/classrooms with the latest Intel-based hardware and the Rome campus has one of the same. Each microcomputer classroom at all five locations provides students with individual computers through which they are able to participate in hands-on training, and a faculty station which enables demonstration of software. Individual instruction for how to use the equipment in both Multimedia and Microcomputer classrooms can be obtained through Information Technology.

Academic Computing Initiative

The Academic Computing Initiative has three primary components: The laptop program, campus wireless networks, and student portal (St. John's Central).

All incoming full-time first-time freshmen and transfer students receive a state-of-the-art laptop, software, and accessories from the University. Again, this year the University is offering Freshmen a choice from one of three laptops with two of them being Lenovo and the third a MacBook. The MAC is available for an additional $400 Program Fee. The Lenovo laptops run Microsoft Windows 7 with Office 2007 Professional and are covered by a 4-year warranty supported by repair centers on the Queens and Staten Island campuses.

The DaSilva Academic Center on the Staten Island Campus illustrates how IT facilities are being adapted for increased laptop usage. Podium classrooms have been designed with a desktop as well as the capability to use video and sound from a laptop for faculty demonstrations. The DaSilva 109 and 110 Laptop Classrooms include desks, electrical connections and network access that are optimized for student laptop usage.

St. John's Central is a one-stop web portal that makes University resources available to students from the Internet. It includes student productivity tools such as email and calendaring, communication tools like chats and discussion groups, and educational tools like course home pages, syllabi, library access, and course calendars.

The new architecturally attractive, striking and intimate D'Angelo Center features state-of-the-art technology, including the latest version of the technology podium, 14 multimedia classrooms and 6 multimedia seminar rooms. The building has been constructed according to LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) standards and includes many energy-saving mechanical and electrical systems. The Center is a wireless facility, allowing students to use their laptops wherever they choose. Every classroom is equipped with WallTalker, an innovative product that can be used as a projection screen and whiteboard at the same time. Every seminar room features a 65 inch high definition Video LCD display or a projector both with a DirecTV feed. There is also a large Multi-Function Room that can be subdivided into 3 full-size fully equipped classrooms or used as one massive banquet hall. Finally, the Tiered Lecture Hall, which seats 145, boasts two DirecTV ready 65-inch LCD displays besides a video projector and motorized projection screen. Both the Tiered Lecture Hall and Multi-Function Room are equipped with wireless microphones, allowing the speaker to freely move anywhere in the room.

University Libraries

The St. John's University Libraries further teaching and learning in the University by providing information resources, instructional services, research assistance and other information services for University programs, students and faculty. The libraries are comprised of three major libraries on three campuses (Queens, Staten Island, Manhattan), and additional collections at the Rome and Oakdale Campuses. St. John's University School of Law separately maintains the Rittenberg Law Library on the Queens Campus. Together these libraries contain nearly one million volume equivalents of books, periodicals, government publications, digital and visual media all of which support the undergraduate and graduate programs of the University. The Libraries provide onsite access to all resources and to study space, vast—and increasing numbers—of resources are available remotely to all authenticated members of the University community and in support of our global campuses and online learning programs. Cultural and recreational materials are also available.

The Main Library, completely renovated in the summer of 2008, is a selective depository for United States government documents, and houses Special Collections, the University Archives, and an Instructional Materials Center. The Main Library also oversees the Chin Ying Asian Library located in the Sun Yat Sen Center building.

The Loretto Memorial Library on the Staten Island Campus houses over 130,000 volumes including periodicals, microfilm materials and a collection of recorded music, poetry and plays.

The Davis Library on the Manhattan Campus maintains one of the finest collections of contemporary and historical insurance materials in the country.

An instructional program provides learning, in a variety of formats, for information literacy appropriate to undergraduate study and as preparation for lifelong learning.

Both wired and wireless access is available throughout the libraries, and cooperative arrangements with other libraries provide regional, national and international access to materials.

Objectives

In harmony with the general objectives of the University, the Graduate Division of St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences provides an opportunity for the development and maintenance of continuing scholarly growth for faculty and students in certain fields of academic specialization. To this end, it offers programs of advanced study in selected disciplines, provides adequate resources in support of these programs and establishes an atmosphere of creative scholarship. This fosters the acquisition of advanced knowledge, a thorough mastery of research methods and a spirit of searching inquiry.

The Graduate Division of St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is organized as an integral unit of the University administered by the Dean, who shall act in conformity with University statutes and the academic policies prescribed by the departments/division(s), Liberal Arts Faculty Council and the Graduate Council.

Academic Status

In addition to the general policies of the University set forth in this bulletin, the following information applies to the Graduate Division of St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Students are expected to meet all of the requirements of their academic programs. For specific information, students should refer to their respective departmental/divisional listings. Each student must conform to the policies stated in the Student Handbook which may be obtained from the office of the Dean of Student Life.

The Master of Philosophy (M.Phil.) degree is an intermediate degree between the academic master's and the Ph.D. To be eligible for the M.Phil., a student must be a "candidate" in a department which offers a doctorate of philosophy program. See definition of candidacy.

The Master of Science in School Psychology may be awarded to Psy.D. doctoral candidates who have successfully passed their comprehensive exam.

The Master of Arts in English may be awarded to D.A. candidates who have successfully passed their comprehensive exam.

The Master of Arts in History may be awarded to D.A. candidates who have successfully passed their comprehensive exam.

For doctoral students in the clinical psychology, school psychology, biology, history and English programs and each semester following the successful completion (passing) of the Doctoral Comprehensive Examination and including the semester of defense of dissertation/research essay, registration in doctoral research (i.e., 950, 951, 975) is mandatory for each semester until the candidate graduates.

Application for the degree is available in the graduate division office or registrar www.stjohns.edu/admission/graduate.

Combined Degree Programs

The Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences, in conjunction with the Undergraduate Division of St. John's College, Tobin College of Business and the College of Professional Studies, offers intense, accelerated combined degree programs for highly qualified, motivated undergraduate students in their junior year who demonstrate potential for graduate studies.

These students are given the opportunity to complete both the baccalaureate and master's degree in five years of full-time study by enrolling in four or more approved graduate courses while still an undergraduate student. By completing undergraduate requirements during the first four years, students are assured of the bachelor's degree if for any reason they decide not to complete the master's degree. Graduate level courses that are applied to the baccalaureate degree as part of the major may not be applied to a graduate degree should the student decide not to complete the combined degree program.

At the time of application, students must have a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or better and a minimum of 3.50 GPA in at least four undergraduate courses in the major.

For more information concerning this program, please contact your faculty advisor, academic Dean and department Chair.

Students must apply for the combined degree program in their sophomore year. Applicants for Government and Politics must have completed a minimum of 12 credits in Government and Politics to be considered. Applicants for Psychology must have completed a minimum of 12 credits in psychology to be considered for admission. Students must complete Introduction to Psychology, Statistics and Research Methods as one of the four courses. Students take 18 graduate credits (15 in Psychology and three outside the department). In addition, they must devote 12–15 hours per week to conducting supervised empirical research.

Academic Information

Admission Requirements

Applicants must submit the following credentials in conjunction with their applications for admission:

1) Grade Point Average:

Master's Programs: All applicants must present evidence of a 3.0 cumulative index and a 3.0 index in the major field of study.

Doctoral Programs: Doctoral programs have individual entrance requirements. See departmental entry.

2) Standardized Test Scores:

The following programs require submission of official scores of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) in support of applicants for admission:

- A) M.S. and Ph.D. in Biology: General Examination is required.
- B) M.A. in English: General Examination is required.
- C) D.A. in English: General Examination is required.
- D) Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology: General Examinations (Verbal and Quantitative) required of all applicants; subject (Psychology) Examination required of all applicants excepting those who majored in psychology or completed a graduate degree in psychology.
- E) M.S. in School Psychology: General Examinations (Verbal and Quantitative) required of all applicants; subject (Psychology) Examination required of all applicants excepting those who majored in psychology or completed a graduate degree in psychology.
- F) Psy.D. in School Psychology: General Examinations (Verbal and Quantitative) required of all applicants; subject (Psychology) Examination required of all applicants excepting those who majored in psychology or completed a graduate degree in psychology.

Applicants to other programs may strengthen their credentials by submitting GRE scores as well.

Those applicants to other programs who may be required to submit GRE scores will be so notified.

3) Letters of Recommendation:

Master's Programs: All applicants must submit at least two letters of recommendation, except the master's programs in general-experimental psychology, school psychology and speech-language pathology, which require three letters.

Doctoral Programs: All applicants must submit a minimum of three letters, at least one of which should attest to the research potential of the applicant.

4) Writing Samples/Personal Statements:

Applicants to all Psychology programs must submit two papers from psychology courses, one a laboratory paper and the other a term paper, as well as a personal statement of educational or career goals.

Applicants to the Doctor of Arts program in English and World History must submit a recent sample of written work and a personal statement of professional experience and career goals.

Applicants to the master's program in Library Science must submit a statement of professional purpose.

Applicants to the master's program in Speech-Language Pathology must submit a 300-word statement of career goals.

5) See specific entrance requirements listed in each departmental entry.

Applicants must have sufficient academic preparation to be eligible for matriculation.

Requirements for the Doctorate

1. Academic Credit Hours: Minimum of 32 beyond the master's degree.*
2. Research Tool: Foreign Language Reading Course or other appropriate research tool at the department's option. This requirement must be satisfied during the course of the program.
3. Quality Point Index: 3.0 or better for credit in each course.
4. Colloquia: See departmental listing.
5. Comprehensive Examination: Written, oral or both. See departmental entry.
6. Continuous Enrollment: Required.
7. Dissertation (Ph.D.) or Research Essay (D.A.): Procedures are available in the Graduate Dean's office.
8. Defense of Dissertation/Research Essay: Final oral examination.
9. Abstract: Original and three copies of an abstract of the dissertation—350 words maximum.
10. Submission of Approval Dissertation/Research Essay to the Dean's Office.

Requirements for the Master's Degree

1. Academic Hours: See departmental entry.
2. Research tool:
THESIS PROGRAM
Foreign Language Reading Course, or other appropriate research tool at the department's option.
NON-THESIS PROGRAM—See departmental entry. This requirement must be satisfied during the course of the program.
3. Quality point index: 3.0 or better (good academic standing).
4. Colloquia: See departmental listing.
5. Comprehensive Examination: Written, oral or both. See departmental entry.
6. Continuous Enrollment: Required.
7. Thesis:
THESIS PROGRAM—Procedures are available in the graduate Dean's office.
NON-THESIS PROGRAM—Not applicable.
8. Defense:
THESIS PROGRAM—
Departmental option.
NON-THESIS PROGRAM—Not applicable.

Requirements for the Advanced Certificates

1. Academic Hours: See departmental entry.
2. Quality point index: 3.0 or better (good academic standing)
3. Continuous Enrollment: Required

N.B. For specific requirements, see departmental entry.

N.B. There is a seven-year time-limit for the doctorate and a five-year time limit for the master's in which the student must complete ALL of the requirements for the degree. Those who for serious reasons may require additional time must provide the reasons in writing to the department and the Associate Dean. Forms for requesting an extension of time are available in the Graduate Division office.

Advisement and Registration Procedure

Upon matriculation, students will receive from the department an Advisement Information Form which will identify their advisor. Students must consult with the department to determine when the advisement period is scheduled and then make an appointment to see their advisor during this period in order that appropriate programming may be arranged. At this time, with the counsel and approval of the advisor, the Graduate Registration Form will be completed.

The University calendar stipulates the periods for REGISTRATION. During this period, students must register for their courses in the following semester since courses with small enrollments may be cancelled or courses with large enrollments may be closed. When registering, the student must present a Graduate Registration Form to his/her advisor in order to receive a priority code to be used with the Web registration systems. No registration priority codes will be issued without an approved Graduate Registration Form. The Dean's office reserves the right to withhold priority codes.

All non-degree students and students on academic probation must obtain a faculty advisor signature, Dean's signature and obtain the priority code from the Dean's office prior to registering for any courses. Any changes from the original (i.e., add/drop) registration form must have all signatures. Unauthorized registration may result in being withdrawn from the course. This might jeopardize your status with the Graduate Division.

Non-Matriculated and Special Students

A student who has not met all the admissions requirements but has, on the evaluation of the faculty and Dean, the potential to pursue graduate studies is considered a non-matriculated student. Non-matriculated students may, upon approval, take a maximum of six credits in a semester for a total of 12 credits, with a grade of "B" or better in each course. If a student, upon completion of 12 credits, is accepted into a degree program, the Committee on Admission will determine which credits will be applicable to the degree. In any case, no more than 12 credits completed as a non-matriculated student may be applied toward the degree. A non-matriculated student will not be evaluated for admission with any grade of Incomplete (INC) on his/her transcript.

A student who has met all the admissions requirements (i.e., GPA and solid academic preparation) but who wants to take graduate courses for professional development may request to take courses as a special student. A maximum of 12 credits is permitted as a special student. If a student wishes to be considered for matriculation into a degree program he/she must file the appropriate application. There is no guarantee that a special student will be matriculated into a degree program.

All students, whether non-matriculated or special, must submit transcripts of all prior academic work, undergraduate and graduate and complete the appropriate forms. Only those students who are qualified and possess the necessary background will be permitted to enroll in graduate courses.

Transfer of Credit

The general policy of the Graduate Division of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences pertaining to transfer of credit is as follows:

1. In graduate programs requiring the completion of 30–36 credits, a maximum of six credits may be transferred with the approval of the Chair and the Dean.
2. In programs leading to the master's or Doctor of Philosophy degree, requiring the completion of 37–54 credits, a maximum of nine credits may be transferred with the approval of the Chair and the Dean.
3. In programs leading to the master's or Doctor of Philosophy degree, requiring the completion of 55 or more credits, a maximum of 12 credits may be transferred with the approval of the Chair and the Dean. In the Doctor of Arts in English program, however, a maximum of 12 credits may be transferred with the approval of the Chair and the Associate Dean. In the Doctor of Arts in World History program, a maximum of 12 credits may be transferred with the approval of the Chair and the Associate Dean.

Requested transfer credits must not have already been used in fulfillment of another degree. The student must present catalog descriptions of the graduate courses for which transfer credit is requested. No credit will be allowed for courses in which the grade attained is below "B." Transfer grades do not affect cumulative quality points. In addition, no degree credit will be allowed for courses completed beyond the stipulated time limit ("Time Limit"). Students requesting transfer credit must have already completed at least 12 credits in their approved graduate program at St. John's University and must make their request no later than the semester before talking their comprehensive examination.

Incomplete ("INC") Grades

Students receiving an "INC" (Incomplete) grade must submit all required materials no later than the deadline indicated in the Academic Calendar in the front of this bulletin. All "INC" grades not removed by the deadline will become permanent on the transcript. In some cases, it may be necessary for the student to repeat the course involved. The student must request a grade of incomplete from the professor before the end of the semester. Requests for an extension of the grade INC must be filed in the Graduate Division office. Faculty hold the prerogative in establishing a date earlier than identified in this bulletin. All materials must be submitted to the Graduate Division office, by the set deadline. The materials submitted will be forwarded to the faculty member for review.

Scheduling of Courses

Departments strive for accuracy with regard to the scheduling of courses. They reserve the right, however, to alter the schedule as needs may dictate. Moreover, the Dean maintains the right to cancel courses when deemed necessary.

Certification of Full-time or Part-time Status

In conjunction with registration each semester, graduate students enrolling for only master's Research (900) or Doctoral Research (950 or 975) must complete appropriate certification regarding full-time or part-time status, provided by the Graduate Division of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Psychology students enrolling in an internship must also complete appropriate certification. All Graduate Assistants and Research Assistants must complete appropriate certification attesting to their full-time status. Those students needing to be certified full-time, must complete the necessary forms each semester.

Full-time 9 credits each semester.

Comprehensive Examination

Doctoral and master's students in all departments or divisions must pass a comprehensive examination, or submit a portfolio as specified by the Department. This examination may not be taken earlier than the last semester or session of coursework and must be taken within one year of the completion of all coursework, language and residency requirements. Students must be in good academic standing (3.0 or better) and must have completed language requirements before their applications to sit for comprehensive examinations will be approved.

Students in Speech Pathology must submit an Internal Review Board (IRB) application prior to sitting for a comprehensive exam.

The examination may be oral or written or both, according to the regulations of a particular department or division. The matter for this examination is not limited to the course taken by the student, but may cover general concepts as well as the whole area of the candidate's field of study. The comprehensive examinations may be held in the fall, spring or summer according to departmental regulations as noted in the Academic Calendar or otherwise noted by the department.

The individual examiners report the results of this examination in writing to the Associate Dean of The Graduate Division, who communicates them to the individual candidates.

Applications for these examinations should be made in the Graduate Division office no later than the dates designated in the Academic Calendar or as set by the department.

Candidacy

A doctoral student acquires the status of "candidate" after he or she has successfully completed: 1) all coursework excluding Doctoral Research (950 or 975) and Departmental Seminars (e.g., BIO 599) or Colloquia, 2) language and/or research tool requirements, 3) the comprehensive examination; and has received 4) approval of a dissertation topic by a department faculty committee and the Dean.

Doctoral Dissertation, Doctoral Research Essay and Master's Thesis

All students please read the "Academic Regulations" section of this bulletin for general University stipulations concerning the preparation and defense of dissertations and theses. Responsibility for a well-organized presentation of personal research as well as the details involved rests primarily upon the student. Some of these details are:

- 1) There is a procedure for the doctoral dissertation (Ph.D.), the doctoral research essay (D.A.) and the master's thesis which the student must follow. These directives can be obtained from the office of the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences.

- 2) Each Dissertation (Ph.D.) or Doctoral research essay (D.A.) requires a mentor and a minimum of two committee members.
- 3) Each master's thesis requires a mentor and at least one committee member.
- 4) Doctoral students or master's students in a thesis program must submit a proposal for their research to the appropriate department. Upon departmental approval, the proposal and a Dissertation Approval Form, Research Essay Approval Form, or master's Approval Form must be forwarded to the Associate Dean for approval and registration of the topic. The Associate Dean may request that additional members be appointed from outside the department to the research committee.
- 5) Research involving human subjects requires the permission of the University's Institutional Review Board (IRB). Such permission must be sought and obtained prior to ANY experimentation with human subjects. The IRB meets the first week of each month to review proposals submitted since the last meeting. Results of these reviews will be reported to the initiator immediately after.
- 6) Research to be conducted outside the University (in a hospital, laboratory or psychiatric center, for example) must have the approval of the Associate Dean. The Graduate Division office will provide forms which must be completed by the student.
- 7) Final copies of the Dissertation, research essay, or thesis, BEARING THE APPROVAL OF THE MENTOR, must be submitted to the Graduate Division office for final approval in accordance with the dates published in the Academic Calendar.

Insurance

Students enrolled in science laboratory courses or conducting research in which the use of a laboratory is required must be covered by insurance obtained through the University or present evidence of other coverage to the treasurer's office. For example, "other coverage" may be through the student's own health insurance plan or he/she may still be covered under a parent's policy after the calendar year following the 19th birthday. Those who apply for coverage through the University will receive an insurance identification card which must be presented upon request. The University requires all students holding an F-1 or J-1 visa to have Sickness Insurance. See the "Student Support Services and Resources" section for more information.

Institute of Asian Studies

The Institute of Asian Studies offers programs leading to the M.A. degree in East Asian Studies or Chinese Studies, the B.A./M.A. degrees in East Asian Studies and the advanced certificate.

Programs of Study:

M.A. in East Asian Studies

The program in East Asian Studies seeks to provide a comprehensive and critical study of the historical, social, economic, political and cultural developments of the Asian world, both as a whole and as individual societies. To attain these ends, language courses or linguistic studies in Chinese and Japanese are provided. The program also seeks to provide intensive knowledge of the field and experience in the critical use of sources and in the presentation of research.

Entrance Requirements

Acceptance into the program presupposes that the applicant has sufficient background in area studies and humanities. Foreign students must show proof of English proficiency by submitting results of the TOEFL examination. Students are expected to have an undergraduate preparation of at least 6 semester hours in the field. In lieu of this, subject to departmental review, students may be accepted provided that some of the above number of hours are in related fields.

Program Requirements

1. Two options are offered:
 - a. Thesis option: the program of study consists of a minimum of 33 semester hours of coursework, six of which include master's thesis research and a written thesis. Prescribed courses include: (i) one of the following two courses—ASC 102 (Great Books from China) or ASC 300 (Introduction to Source Materials on China); & (ii) ASC 900 (Master's Research) in the East Asian field. The remainder of the program will be arranged in consultation with the student's advisor.
 - b. Non-Thesis option: 33 credits. The program of study requires a minimum of 33 hours of coursework, including one of the following two courses: ASC 102 (Great Books from China) or ASC 300 (Introduction to Source Materials on China). The remainder of the program will be arranged in consultation with the student's advisor.

- c. The student matriculating for the M.A. degree will choose either of these two options. It is strongly recommended that the thesis option be pursued by those students who may continue their graduate studies beyond the M.A. degree and teach on the college or university level.

2. Language: At least one semester of Chinese or Japanese or any other language pertinent to the student's major field.
3. Comprehensive Examination: A written examination will test the student's knowledge of four selected fields, areas or problems of historical scholarship. The examination may not be taken earlier than the last semester or session of coursework and must be taken within one year of the completion of all coursework, language and residence requirements.

M.A. in Chinese Studies

The Institute of Asian Studies offers a program of graduate study in the language and civilization of China leading to the Master of Arts degree. The aim is to broaden the student's use of language skills and to provide a solid foundation in the history and culture of China. This specialized study and familiarity with research are intended to equip the student for a teaching career or for further scholarship.

Entrance Requirements

In addition to the entrance requirements for the M.A. Program in East Asian Studies, the minimum background preparation for graduate study leading to the degree in Chinese Studies should also include at least one year in the Chinese language studies.

Program Requirements

1. Two options leading to the M.A. in Chinese Studies are offered:
 - a. Thesis option: a minimum of 33 semester hours of coursework, six of which include master's thesis research and a written thesis. Prescribed courses include: (i) one of the following two courses—ASC 102 (Great Books from China) or ASC 300 (Introduction to Source Materials on China); & (ii) ASC 900 (Master's Research) in the Chinese Studies field. The remainder of the program will be arranged in consultation with the student's advisor.
 - b. Non-thesis option: a minimum of 33 hours of coursework, including one of the following two courses: ASC 102 (Great Books from China) or ASC 300 (Introduction to Source Materials on China). The remainder of the program will be arranged in consultation with the student's advisor.
 - c. The student matriculating for the M.A. will choose either of these two options. It is strongly recommended that the thesis option be pursued by those students who may continue their graduate studies beyond the Master of Arts degree and teach on the college or university level.

2. Language: The student is also required to take 12 semester hours in the Chinese language if he/she is a non-Chinese native speaker.
3. Comprehensive Examination: A written examination will test the student's knowledge of four selected fields, areas, or problems of historical scholarship. The examination may not be taken earlier than the last semester or session of coursework and must be taken within one year of the completion of all coursework, language and residence requirements.

Advanced Certificate Program

Along with the increasing importance of Asia, there is a corresponding increase of job demand in this area. To meet this need, the Institute also offers a 18-credit Certificate program.

B.A./M.A. in Asian Studies

Qualified students who have completed the first semester of their sophomore year with a general index of 3.0 and a major average of 3.3 are encouraged to enter this intensive accelerated five-year program leading to two degrees. Under this program, students matriculate for 147 undergraduate/graduate credits. Students are expected to maintain grade levels in undergraduate and graduate work according to the requirements set fourth in the existing B.A. and M.A. programs.

The Chin-Ying Scholarships for Graduate Asian Studies

Established in 2005, two scholarships will be awarded annually to two graduate students, preferably of Chinese descent, pursuing a master's degree in East Asian or Chinese Studies. These scholarships are provided by Prof. and Mrs. Chin Ling Wang. Prof. Wang had been a dedicated faculty member of St. John's for nearly thirty years until his retirement. Qualified applicants must possess a minimum average of a B+ or a 3.0 cumulative index. Recipients are selected with the recommendation of the Institute for Asian Studies as scholastic basis for the Office of Financial Aid to make decisions.

Courses

Required: choose one from the following two courses

ASC 102 Great Books from China

The major factor that has made China so powerful and lasting is its deep-rooted philosophical and humanistic tradition, embedded in several extraordinary classics, including Lao Tzu, The Confucian Analects, and Chuang Tzu. The purpose of this course is to introduce the essence of these three great books by discussing and analyzing selected chapters. All readings are in English. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 300 Introduction to Source Materials on China

A survey of essential bibliographies, periodicals, research aids, source materials and books about China from prehistoric times to the present. Emphasis is placed on English-language works. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Elective (I):

ASC 103 The Art of War by Sun Tzu

The Art of War, composed probably in the 4th century B.C., is the earliest treatise on the subject. It is forever current in its wisdom and insightful analysis of military strategy and tactics, and it teaches a winning philosophy and the strategies and tactics for winning, applicable to business as well as to politics and military. Therefore, recently many American and East Asian universities and business schools have also offered courses on this extraordinary classic. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 104 History of Chinese Painting

The course is an introduction to the history of Chinese painting from the Tang to the Qing period (9th to 19th century). The course introduces historical elements in the styles of Chinese painting from each period covered and explains how artists employed knowledge of art history in making their art. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 354 Women in Chinese Literature

Literary works are a major source for the study of the history of Chinese society in general and the Chinese women in particular; the lives and changing conditions of Chinese women are investigated through readings in poetry, fiction and drama from the earliest times to the present. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 359 Seminar on Chinese Literature

The course aims to examine major works of Chinese philosophy, history, poetry, prose, and fiction from ancient times to the pre-modern period. All readings are in English. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 360 China through Audio-visual Educational Materials

An examination of important educational films, tapes and CDs on China, with special attention to the recent decades. Emphasis is on how these materials can be used to complement classroom learning and individual study. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 553; 554 Classical Chinese Civilization

An introduction to the historical development of Chinese civilization from prehistoric times to the early 19th-century with emphasis on political and intellectual trends. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 563 Seminar: China in the Modern World

An analysis of China in the 19th- and 20th-centuries; the erosion of the traditional political and social systems and the various attempts to construct new political and social forms to meet the needs of the modern world. Emphasis is on political, economic, military, population and social developments, but some attention is also given to intellectual and cultural changes. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 582 Western Images of China

A survey of Westerners' impressions and perceptions of China from the earliest times to the present. Particular attention will be given to American descriptions of China and the Chinese in writings and films. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Elective (II):

CHI 118 Contemporary China

A study of the place of China in modern science, literature, architecture, the fine arts and music, and of the political, social and economic problems confronting China in our times. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 180 International Investment and Trade in China

China has become a top destination for foreign direct investment (FDI). The Chinese market is vital to the U.S. and to the world economy. The purpose of this course is to introduce students to opportunities and strategies for investments and trade in/with China. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 254 U.S.-China Relations

A survey of the cultural, economic, diplomatic, and military relations between the two countries, from the discovery of America to the present. The emphasis will be on contemporary developments, from the Nixon administration to the present. The Taiwan issue will also be discussed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 349 Women and Family in Modern China: Changing Patterns of Social Relations

An analysis of the changes in the status of modern Chinese women; women's status in traditional China and the changing social and political roles of Chinese women from the late 19th century to the present will be examined in the context of modern Chinese history.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 352 China after the Communist Revolution

The political culture and history of the People's Republic of China. Explores long-term social change and institutional development, and discusses China's current economic relations with the world. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 541; 542 Seminar—Taiwan in the Modern World

A study of historical changes in Taiwan in the context of major world trends; internal developments of Taiwan; the influence of external forces. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 572 Chinese Business Law

This course will explore main issues in Chinese business law since 1978. It will also discuss Chinese approaches to arbitration and dispute resolution, bankruptcy, corporate corruption, foreign investment, intellectual property, joint ventures, and taxation. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Elective (III)

ASC 121 Japan as an Economic Power

A study of political, economic and social factors which contributed to the unusually fast development of the Japanese economy during the post-war period and its domestic and international impacts. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 256 Banking in East Asia

Banking in East Asia: core banking functions, types of banks, diversification of banking activities, risk management issues, bank failure and financial crises, and competitive issues. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 320 Classical Japanese Literature

A study of Japanese literature from the Yamato period to 1868, concentrating mostly on poetry and drama. The main concern will be to perceive the values of Japan through its literature. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 321 Modern Japanese Literature

An examination of Japanese literature since the Meiji Restoration in 1868. This includes discussion of the peculiar social and cultural milieu in modern Japan, with primary focus on the major writers. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 347 The United States and East Asia

International and intercultural relations from the 18th century to the present. Emphasizes imperialism, nationalism, immigration, evangelization, modernization, globalization, and role of ideas and images. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Elective (IV): Asian American Studies

ASC 101 Asian American Cinema

This course introduces students to films made by and about Asian Americans. Using a chronological and thematic approach, various genres—including narrative dramas, documentaries, and experimental films—will be analyzed within the context of Asian American history and contemporary issues concerning the development of Asian American identities. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 257 Asian American History

The aim of this course is to provide a balanced survey of the history of the major Asian ethnic groups in the United States namely, Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Indian and Vietnamese. Primary evidence is on the developments during the past half-century. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 258 Asian American Art

This course is a survey of the achievements of Asian American artists, beginning with the early 20th century, but concentrating on more recent developments and trends. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 583 Asian American Literature

This course concentrates on some important Asian American novelists, short story writers and dramatists, their major themes and their connections with the literary traditions of Asia. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 584 Asian American Women

This course is a survey of three major groups of Asian American women—Chinese, Japanese and Korean. The focus is on the interplay between these women's cultural heritages and the changing social environment in the United States. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Electives (V):

CHI 108 Beginning Chinese

Practice in the acquisition of pronunciation, tones, vocabulary and grammar. For the students with little knowledge of Mandarin Chinese. No Prerequisite. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CHI 103; 104 Advanced Conversational Chinese

Prerequisite: Elementary level Chinese courses or equivalent. CHI 103 is a prerequisite for CHI 104. Drill in the audio-lingual skills; the learning of speech patterns, sounds, intonation and basic vocabulary. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CHI 111 Readings in Contemporary Prose

Materials selected from contemporary Chinese writings of general interest. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CHI 203; 204 Advanced Reading in Modern Chinese

Readings from modern/contemporary Chinese texts, such as newspapers and periodicals. Prerequisite: Intermediate level Chinese language courses or equivalent. CHI 203 is a prerequisite for CHI 204. Readings from modern Chinese texts, periodicals and newspapers. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CHI 210, 211 Chinese for Business Managers

This course aims to provide students with the commonly used vocabulary and idioms in doing business with the Chinese. It will also discuss social etiquette in doing business. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CHI 305, 306 Seminar on Chinese Literature, I & II

The course aims to examine major works of Chinese poetry, prose, and fiction from ancient times to the present. The first semester concentrates on the pre-modern period, while the second semester focuses on the 20th century. No Prerequisite. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 114 Chinese Calligraphy: Theory and Practice

The purpose of this course is to introduce students of the arts and cultures to the essential elements of this great art by describing and analyzing the theoretical structure and aesthetic values. In addition to classroom lectures, several professional and well-known calligraphers will give demonstrations of the uses of brushes and ink. No Prerequisite. Credit: 3 semester hours.

JPN 103; 104 Conversational Japanese

Prerequisite: Elementary level Japanese language courses or equivalent. JPN 103 is a prerequisite of JPN 104. The aim of this course is to give the student basic training in Japanese conversation based on the Japanese grammar and vocabulary that he/she has learned. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Research

ASC 900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the M.A. requirements. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ASC 901 Directed Readings

Supervised research on a single topic determined jointly by the student and a member of the faculty. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Maintaining Matriculation

ASC 925 Maintaining Matriculation

Master's students not registered for other courses must register for ASC 925 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. No credit.

Fee: $100 per semester.

For a complete inventory of approved courses, please contact the Dean's office.

Department of Biological Sciences (BIO)

General Entrance Requirements

Applicants should have successfully completed an undergraduate major in the biological sciences or a related field including one year each of inorganic and organic chemistry, physics and mathematics through introductory calculus with a "B" or better average. One semester of either genetics, molecular biology or biochemistry is required and a semester of each is highly recommended. Preferably an applicant will also have one or more courses in an area of biology in which he or she hopes to specialize.

All prerequisite courses should be completed prior to commencing graduate studies. The department may require a student to make up certain deficiencies during the first year of study. This may preclude the possibility of obtaining the master's degree within the usual two-year period.

Programs of Study

Master of Science

Entrance Requirements

The applicant must submit transcripts demonstrating that in completing the program described above under "General Entrance Requirements" he or she has achieved an overall cumulative index of "B", including a "B" or better average in biology and the cognate sciences. Acceptance into the M.S. program in Biological Sciences presupposes that the applicant is interested in a career in which the understanding of research objectives plays a substantial role.

All students will be required to present satisfactory scores on the GRE (general tests). Foreign-born students who have not received a US degree will also be required to present evidence of proficiency in English such as the TOEFL test.

Program Requirements

- Courses: The M.S. program requires a minimum of 33 credit hours of coursework including the core courses Biology 207, 208 and 212. Students may register for upper-level courses in accordance with their career goals and upon recommendation from their graduate advisor.
- Research: Research is emphasized at all levels of graduate study. M.S. candidates are strongly advised to take at least two semesters of special research (Biology 352, 353). A formal written report describing the results of this research is required for each semester. The thesis option requires six credits of Biology 900 and the submission of a research thesis, which documents a student's ability to conduct independent research.
- Seminars: Enrollment in and attendance at the Biological Sciences Department Seminars (Biology 599 or 599A) is required every semester. At these meetings research topics of current interest are discussed by distinguished outside speakers, faculty and advanced graduate students.
- Language: There is no specific language requirement for the master's degree in biology.
- Comprehensive Examination: All students must pass a written comprehensive examination covering current theory, application and research in areas appropriate to their training and interests. The rules governing the application and administration of this examination are found under "Comprehensive Examination" in the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences section of this bulletin.
- Time Limit: All academic requirements for the M.S. degree must be completed within five years.
- Academic Standing: A 3.0 quality point average must be maintained both in the core courses and in the overall academic record. Failure to do so may result in being placed on probation or lead to dismissal from the program.

M.S. in Biological Sciences, Biotechnology Concentration

St. John's University is embracing the biotechnology revolution through a collaborative, interdisciplinary effort between the College of Pharmacy's Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences and St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Department of Biological Sciences. The biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries are currently among the fastest-growing and most research-and-development intensive in America.

Biotechnology is a collection of techniques from the disciplines of microbiology, biochemistry and molecular and cellular biology. Biotechnology companies include the large pharmaceuticals, small start-ups, information technology firms, clinical and research laboratories and others. All of these companies are looking for skilled, self-motivated, proficient employees.

Program Requirements

The outlined curriculum provides a strong conceptual foundation upon which students can build the practical skills necessary to excel in this exciting field.

Students must complete 33 credits., 18 of which are satisfied by the completion of the required core courses, including an off-campus internship that the student takes in his/her final semester.

Core Courses (3 credits. each)

PHS 270	Introduction to Biotechnology
PHS 257	Gene Technology in the Pharmaceutical and Health Sciences
BIO 207	Biomolecules and Cell Structure
BIO 248	Laboratory Techniques and Applications I
BIO 249	Communication Skills in the Life Sciences
BIO 910	Internship in Biotechnology

With the remaining 15 credits, students must select at least one course from Section A and one from Section B (below) with additional courses from either section.

Section A

BIO 208	Molecular Biology
BIO 212	Cell Biology
PHS 203	Research Methods in Pharmacology
BIO 275	Principles of Electron, Microscopy
PHS 250	Biochemical and Biophysical Aspects of Cell Culture and
PHS 250	Alternative to Animal Testing

Section B

BIO 253	Laboratory Techniques and Applications II
PAS 215	Foundation of Regulatory Affairs
PAS 256	Principles of Drug Design
PAS 252	Biostatistics

B.S./M.S. in Biology

The Department of Biological Sciences offers an intensive, accelerated combined degree program leading to both the B.S. and M.S. degrees in five years of full-time study. Qualified undergraduate students who have completed their sophomore year with a 3.0 cumulative index and a 3.5 for 12 credits in Biology are encouraged to apply. Students in the B.S./M.S. program matriculate for a total of 144 credits, 33 of which are on the graduate level. Those electing the thesis option must complete six credits of Master's Research (BIO 900). Students choosing the non-thesis option complete six credits of coursework in lieu of BIO 900. After completion of the baccalaureate degree, students must enroll full time on the graduate level for the fifth year. For detailed information, students should consult the Director of Graduate Studies.

Doctor of Philosophy

Entrance Requirements

Acceptance into the Ph.D. program in Biological Sciences presupposes that the applicant is interested in and qualified for, a career directing research in an academic, medical or biotechnology setting. Students with a strong grounding in same combination of biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics and computer science are encouraged to apply.

Curriculum and Program Requirements

1. The academic curriculum consists of a minimum of 60 credits beyond the B.S. degree or 32 credits beyond the M.S. degree. The core curriculum consists of Biology 207, 208, 212 and research rotations through two research laboratories during the second semester of the first year and one more research laboratory during the first summer session of the first year. Students may elect a further rotation during the second summer session. In each of these rotations students are introduced to the specific techniques and the research approaches of individual faculty.
2. Qualifying Examination. Ph.D. students will generally register to take the qualifying exam in the spring semester of their second year, but no later than the fall semester of their third year. In this oral examination, students demonstrate a basic knowledge of material from the core courses and how it relates to their chosen area of research specialization, which should be established by this time. Acceptable performance on this examination by the Graduate Education Policy Committee and formal acceptance of the student by a faculty mentor confers acceptance to the doctoral research level.
3. Upper-Level Courses. Further training consists of a series of upper-level specialized courses, research courses leading to the development of a doctoral dissertation and advanced seminars in which specific research questions are examined through use of experimental literature. Courses are selected by the student in consultation with faculty advisors and reflect the specific career orientation of the student. The selection of upper-level courses to be taken will be recommended by the student's research advisor and other professors. Ordinarily, a plan will be established during the first year of study. The student's thesis committee will guide the student's research and will form the nucleus of examining committees.

4. Comprehensive Examination. The comprehensive examination should be scheduled by the student with their Ph.D. committee as early during the fourth year as possible. This oral examination is administered by the thesis committee (jointly chosen by student and thesis mentor) to review the thesis proposal, considering both the methodological soundness of the proposed research and its significance in the light of current developments in the field.
5. Research and Dissertation. All doctoral students are required to take a minimum of six credits of Doctoral Research (950) and to submit a dissertation. Not more than 15 credits of Doctoral Research (950) will be counted towards the completion of the degree. Upon recommendation of the student's advisor, Special Research (Biology 352 or 353) may be taken as a preparation for dissertation research. Each semester of Special Research requires a written report. The dissertation should embody the results of significant original research, which has been submitted for publication in a recognized scientific journal. Doctoral candidates must defend the dissertation in a final oral examination before a committee of the faculty. Doctoral level students will be expected to communicate in both oral and written presentations with clarity, organization and accuracy. The doctoral dissertation is a major document which is expected to demonstrate high-level skills in writing and presentation as well as in the scientific content. The public defense of the doctoral dissertation is not scheduled until the candidate submits evidence to the Departmental Chair that a manuscript derived from the dissertation has been submitted to a peer-reviewed journal for publication.
6. Seminars. Enrollment in and attendance at the Departmental Seminars (BIO 599) are required for credit during a total of three semesters and thereafter as a no-credit course (Bio 599A). Doctoral students will be asked to present the results of their research at these seminars.
7. Time Limit. Students must complete all requirements for the degree within seven years from the date of matriculation. Degree credit may be denied for courses more than seven years old.

8. Transfer Credit. Students may seek admission to the Ph.D. program after having successfully completed some graduate work at another accredited institution. Students may request transfer of credit for this work, provided it has not been offered in fulfillment of another graduate degree.
9. Academic Standing: A 3.0 quality point average must be maintained both in the core courses and in the overall academic record. Failure to do so may result in being placed on probation or lead to dismissal from the program.
10. Students must complete a research tool in computer competency either by appropriate coursework or by passing a departmental examination.

Special Requirements

1. All laboratory work must be done at the University unless special permission is granted by the Associate Dean of the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences to do research elsewhere.
2. Students may enroll for special research in the summer session as well as in the regular academic year.
3. It is strongly recommended that students plan for full-time attendance, since it is not advisable to attempt completion of a degree program by part-time study.

Candidacy

A student will be admitted into candidacy for the Ph.D. program upon the successful completion of all courses other than Doctoral Research (950), the doctoral qualifying examination, research tool requirements and acceptance of a thesis proposal by the Chair of the department.

Fellowships

All master's program students are eligible to apply for graduate assistantships which offer a stipend, provide tuition remission and require some service to the department. Doctoral program students are eligible to apply for University doctoral fellowships or doctoral fellowships which are awarded competitively based on criteria such as grades, GRE scores, effort and progress in research. Women doctoral students are eligible for the prestigious Clare Booth Luce Fellowships in Biology which are also awarded on the basis of academic merit. These Luce Fellowships are especially intended for women who expect to pursue careers in higher education.

Some of the biology faculty may have funds available from research grants for the support of student assistants; these awards are made by the faculty member. Interested students may consult the Chair for specific information and application procedures required for any of these assistantships or fellowships.

Courses

The core curriculum is an integrated series of three courses encompassing the fundamentals of biochemistry and molecular biology in the context of prokaryotic and eukaryotic cell biology. It is designed so that BIO 207 (Core A) is taken during the first semester; and BIO 208 (Core B) and BIO 212 (Core C) are taken concurrently during the second semester. All students will take BIO 599 (Departmental Seminars) for credit during the first three semesters and for 0 credit thereafter. Doctoral students are required to enroll in BIO 550 (Research Rotation I) in the spring semester of their first year and in BIO 551 (Research Rotation II) during the summer between their first and second years.

207A Core A Biochemistry

Structure and function of biomolecules; enzymes; introduction to the organization and chemical economy of the cell; an overview of metabolism. Credit: 3 semester hours.

208 Core B Molecular Biology

Prerequisite: 207. Structure and function of DNA; protein synthesis and the genetic code; mechanisms of genetic transfer; recombinant DNA; viruses; chromosomes; gene expression and its regulation. Credit: 3 semester hours.

209 Bioinformatics

Information technology and computational thinking applied to biological systems, including genomics, proteomics, biological networks and graphical display of complex data sets. Credit: 3 semester hours.

212 Core C Cell Biology

Prerequisite: 207. Integration of cellular systems through regulated transport, biological information processing and signal transduction, with an emphasis on the current literature. Credit: 3 semester hours.

215 Developmental and Systems Biology

Prerequisite: 207, 208, 212. Germ cells, fertilization, multicellular development and the determination and maintenance of tissue specificity; molecular biology of development, the immune and nervous systems. Credit: 3 semester hours.

234 Selected Topics in Medical Microbiology

The host-microbe interaction in health and disease; role of microbial agents as biological response modifiers; the molecular basis of chemotherapy and microbial resistance to antibiotics. Credit: 3 semester hours.

236 Microbial/Molecular Genetics

Prerequisite: 207. The focus of this course is on modes of genetic transfer, plasmids and mobile genetic elements. Molecular techniques used in prokaryotic research will be emphasized. Credit: 3 semesters hours.

240 Virology

The nature and molecular biology of viruses and their relationship to the host cell. Lecture. Credit: 3 semester hours.

248 Laboratory Techniques and Applications I

Project-based hands-on experience with a variety of modern cellular, biochemical and molecular techniques. Credit: 3 semester hours.

249 Introduction to Scientific Literature

Instruction in the reading of original research articles in a single area of interest to both the student and faculty member. Weekly presentations of two or three papers are required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

253 Laboratory Techniques and Applications II

Second part of BIO 248.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

275 Principles of Electron Microscopy

Corequisite: 275L. This course is intended to instruct the student in the basic techniques of electron microscopy. It will also describe the analytical methods used to identify various biological systems. Cf. PHS240. Credit: 4 semester hours.

275L Electron Microscopy

Corequisite: 275. This course will instruct the student in the preparation of tissue for electron microscopy and the interpretation and analysis of electron micrographs. Laboratory fee: $60 per semester. Credit: 3 semester hours.

278 Cytogenetics

Origin, chromosome behavior, transmission and genetic significance of chromosome aberrations; euploidy, aneuploidy and their practical usefulness. Credit: 3 semester hours.
Laboratory fee: $60.

299 Scientific Inquiry

This Online Learning course is designed to assist graduate students in the department of Biological Sciences in reading, considering, and discussing the responsible conduct of scientific research. Credit: 3 semester hours.

708 Topics in Molecular Biology

Organization, function, regulation and manipulation of genes at the molecular level. Applications of recombinant DNA technology to basic research medicine and biotechnology. Credit: 3 semester hours.

711 Cellular Signal Transduction

The biochemical pathways responsible for the activation of cell function in response to intercellular signals will be explored. Credit: 3 semester hours.

715 Yeast and Other Fungi as Experimental Organisms

The focus of the course is on molecular genetic manipulations of yeast and other fungi. Credit: 3 semester hours.

718 Topics in Developmental Biology

A single topic in the field of developmental biology will be explored in-depth beginning with the original observations leading to interest in the field and ending with the most recent developments in the area. Credit: 3 semester hours.

722 Biology of Aging

Current theories of aging. Emphasis will be on readings in one of the currently popular theories and its future development. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Research

352; 353 Special Research in Biological Sciences

Consists of conferences on specialized topics and accompanying laboratory work. A formal written report is required. May not be repeated. Credit: 3 semester hours per semester.
Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

550 Research Rotation I

Required of doctoral students. This course is given in the Spring semester and consists of sequential laboratory experiences in each of two separate research laboratories. Credit: 3 semester hours. Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

551 Research Rotation II

Required of doctoral students. This course is given in the first summer session and consists of a third laboratory experience in a research laboratory. Credit: 3 semester hours. Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

552 Research Rotation III

This course is an optional fourth laboratory experience. The project chosen is to give the student experience in the handling of equipment and in the research goals associated with the laboratory. Credit: 3 semester hours.
Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

599 Departmental Seminar

Enrollment and attendance at this weekly seminar is required of all students. Presentations by invited speakers from St. John's and other universities and research institutions. Credit: 1 semester hour per semester for first three semesters; 0 semester hours during subsequent semesters.

900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the master's degree requirements. Students enrolled in the thesis program are obliged to complete six credits of master's research. Credit: 3 semester hours per semester. Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

910 Internship in Biotechnology

Prerequisites: Completion of the core with at least a total of 21 credit hours with a minimum quality point average of 3.0. The performance of laboratory procedures utilizing techniques in biotechnology involved in product development will be practiced at an authorized internship site. Emphasis will be placed upon experiential learning of the multidisciplinary nature of contributing to research and development.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

950 Doctoral Research

Original research leading to the doctoral degree. Restricted to those students whose thesis proposal has been accepted by the Chair of the department. Doctoral students may register for 950 while completing degree requirements. However, upon the successful completion of all formal courses and comprehensive examination, doctoral candidates must register for 950 until the dissertation is completed and the degree is awarded. Not more than 15 credits of 950 will be counted towards the completion of the degree.
Credit: 3 semester hours per semester.
Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

Maintaining Matriculation

925 Maintaining Matriculation

M.S. students who do not register for other courses must register for BIO 925 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. No credit. Fees: $100 per semester, $60 laboratory; Total $160 per semester. (Students who do not use laboratory facilities may petition the Chair and the Dean to waive the laboratory fee.)

940 Maintaining Matriculation

Ph.D. students who have not registered for other courses, must register for BIO 940. May not be taken consecutively for more than two semesters. No credit. Fees: $100 per semester, $60 laboratory; Total: $160 per semester. (Students who do not use laboratory facilities may petition the Chair and the Dean to waive the laboratory fee.)

For a complete listing of approved courses, please contact the Dean's office.

Department of Chemistry (CHE)

Programs of Study

B.S./M.S. in Chemistry

The Department of Chemistry offers an intensive, accelerated, combined degree program leading to both the Bachelor of Science and the Master of Science degrees in five years of full-time study. Qualified undergraduates will have completed their sophomore year with a 3.0 cumulative index and a 3.5 index in chemistry applicable to the major. They are enrolled into the program upon application. Provisional acceptance into the program may be granted to exceptional first- and second-year students.

Students enrolled in the B.S./M.S. program matriculate for a total of 147/148 credits. A total of 126/127 credits must be completed by the end of the fourth year, at which time the B.S. degree is awarded. Completion of a thesis and the remaining hours of coursework in the fifth year fulfills the requirements for the M.S. degree. All graduate students must successfully complete CHE 101, 111, 121 and 141.

For more details and advisement about the B.S./M.S. program, students are encouraged to contact the department Chairman at the earliest possible date.

Master of Science

Entrance Requirements

The undergraduate preparation of the student who expects to undertake graduate work in chemistry is a B.S. in a chemical science. Alternately, a non-chemistry degree student may submit evidence of undergraduate preparation that normally includes courses of eight or more credit hours in each of the following: inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, analytical chemistry, physical chemistry, general physics. In addition, he/she should be equipped with 6 credits of mathematics, including differential and integral calculus. Where there is a deficiency, the department Chair will determine what basic courses the student must make up to matriculate for an advanced degree in chemistry.

This program affords an opportunity for original investigation in a specialized field.

Program Requirements

1. Program: The Master of Science degree can be fulfilled in either of two ways. Students who elect to undertake a thesis as partial fulfillment of the degree requirements must complete a total of 30 credits, comprised of 24 lecture credits and six research credits. Students who elect to meet degree requirements without undertaking a thesis must complete a total of 33 credit hours and pass a comprehensive exam.

2. Required Courses: All students must pass Chemistry 101, 111, 121 and 141.
3. Research: Students in the thesis program must take Chemistry 900, Master's Research (six credits). This sequence of courses requires the completion of a research problem by the student under the supervision of a staff member and the presentation of the results in the form of a written thesis. The topic of the research must be approved by the research advisor, the Chair and the Dean. All work must be done at the University. In rare cases, permission may be obtained from the Dean to carry out a portion of the work outside the University.
4. Comprehensive Examination: A written comprehensive examination is required of students in the non-thesis program. In the thesis program an oral comprehensive examination is given which includes defense of the thesis.

Assistantships

A limited number of graduate assistantships are available for qualified students. Graduate assistants supervise undergraduate laboratory activities. In return the graduate assistantships carry a stipend and provide tuition remission. All applicants for graduate assistantships must submit Graduate Record Examination GRE scores (for the general exam) with their applications.

Foreign-born students applying for assistantships who have not received a US degree are also required to present evidence of proficiency in English such as TOEFL test scores.

Courses

101 Instrumental Methods of Analysis*

A lecture and laboratory course on the application of modern physical and chemical techniques to chemical analysis. Emphasis is placed on the unifying principles underlying analog and digital data acquisition and evaluation.
Credit: 3 semester hours. Laboratory fee: $60.

103 Computer Applications in Science*

Designed to prepare graduate students to fully utilize computer technology through the understanding of commercial software, internet searching. Credit: 3 semester hours.

111 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry*

Descriptive chemistry of the representative elements and of some of the more common transition metals. Credit: 3 semester hours.

121 Advanced Organic Chemistry*

The structure, energetics and reactivity of organic compounds are discussed in detail and are explored through discussions of Molecular Orbital Theory, advanced conformational analysis and stereochemistry. Credit: 3 semester hours.

141 Chemical Thermodynamics*

The laws of thermodynamics with chemical applications. Heat work, thermochemistry, entropy, free energy, chemical potential, chemical equilibrium. Credit: 3 semester hours.

145 Physical Chemistry of Macromolecules*

Biophysical chemistry and physical polymer chemistry are united into a single course of study. Key concepts and principles of both fields will be investigated. Credit: 3 semester hours.

202 Separation Techniques in Chemistry

The underlying unity of differential migration techniques applicable in the fields of chemistry, biology and the pharmaceutical sciences, is the basis for this course. Current instrumentation and new trends in separations will be discussed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

214 Bioinorganic Chemistry

The role of inorganic elements in compounds found in living systems. Topics covered include the role of metals in the biological electron transfer reactions, oxygen transport, enzymes, metal uptake, toxicity of metals and chemotherapy. Credit: 3 semester hours.

224 Mechanisms of Organic Reactions

Aliphatic nucleophilic substitution, intramolecular cationic rearrangements, carbanions, carbenes, electrophilic aliphatic substitution, addition and elimination reactions, reactions of carbonyl compounds and radical reactions. Credit: 3 semester hours.

227 Organic Spectroscopy

The principles of infrared, nuclear magnetic resonance, ultraviolet and visible spectroscopy and mass spectrometry are presented. The primary emphasis is on spectral interpretation and structure determination. Credit: 3 semester hours.

231 Chemistry of Organometallic Compounds

The preparation, structure and reaction chemistry of transition metal organometallic compounds. The chemistry of ligands possessing a metal to carbon bond is examined. Mechanisms for achieving various organometallic transformations are also discussed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

233 Stereochemistry of Carbon Compounds

Chirality, optical activity, configurational and conformational stereoisomerism in acyclic and cyclic carbon compounds, geometrical isomerism, methods of determination of configuration and conformation are discussed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

236 Natural Products

The structure, synthesis, reactions and biosynthesis of the most important naturally occurring organic compounds are developed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

237 Bioorganic Chemistry

This course provides an understanding of biological systems at the molecular level by applying the principles of Organic Chemistry. Credit: 3 semester hours.

238 Advanced Organic Synthesis

An in-depth study of modern synthetic methodologies, incorporating the elements of functional group transforms, mechanism, stereochemistry, conformational control and strategy. Credit: 3 semester hours.

239 The Development of Modern Organic Chemistry

This course portrays the flow of events, those discoveries, theories and techniques of the last 200 years, which brought organic chemistry to its present-day dramatic vigor. Credit: 3 semester hours.

242 Reaction Kinetics

This course involves the detailed study of the rates of chemical reactions, treatment of experimental data, theories of simple reactions and mechanisms of complex reactions. Credit: 3 semester hours.

249 Quantum Chemistry

Exact solution to the Schrodinger equation for simple systems and methods of approximation for more complex systems. The application of wave mechanics to problems of chemical bonding. Credit: 3 semester hours.

250 Electronic Spectra and Group Theory

Theory of electronic and vibrational transitions in molecules and the spectra resulting from these transitions. Detailed discussion of group theory related to the determination of selection rules in molecular spectroscopy. Credit: 3 semester hours.

255 Chemical Bonding

Introduction to a quantitative understanding of chemical bonding with applications to atomic and molecular systems. The development and application of mathematical tools for classical and quantum mechanical description of molecular phenomena. Credit: 3 semester hours.

260 Independent Study

Experimental research is performed under the guidance of a faculty member. Permission of the Chairman required. Credit: 3 semester hours. Laboratory Fee $60.

900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the master's degree requirements. Students enrolled in the thesis program are obliged to complete six credits of master's research. An approved research plan is required prior to registration for this course. Credit: 3 semester hours per semester. Laboratory fee: $60 per semester.

925 Maintaining Matriculation

M.S. students who do not register for other courses must register for 925 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. No credit. Fees: $100.

OTHER COURSES TO BE OFFERED AS NEEDED*262, 263 Special Topics in Organic Chemistry*264, 265 Special Topics in Physical Chemistry*266, 267 Special Topics in Inorganic Chemistry*268, 269 Special Topics in Analytical Chemistry

 Students are encouraged to request the inclusion of any of the above topics in the departmental offerings.

For a complete listing of approved courses, please contact the Dean's office.

*Also open to qualified undergraduates.

Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD)

Program of Study

Master of Arts in Speech- Language Pathology

The 48-credit Master of Arts degree program is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation of the ASHA in Speech-Language Pathology, and is a New York State licensure qualifying program. The curriculum consists of three substantive divisions: a basic core curriculum, taken by all students, that includes advanced courses in research, basic communication processes and clinical studies; a major area concentration curriculum in speech language pathology, selected in consultation with one's advisor; and an advanced research course, or project or thesis. Each student must earn 42 course credits and either complete a master's thesis for six credits or 45 course credits and complete a three-credit research project or advanced research course. In addition, each student may demonstrate proficiency in at least one of three areas: instrumentation and microcomputers, statistics or language (including manual communication). Students must also complete a minimum of 400 hours of supervised clinical experience. All students must meet the knowledge and skills (KASA) requirements for ASHA certification and the NYS license.

Entrance Requirements

Admission into the program requires a B.A. degree (with a minimum cumulative index of 3.0), competence in oral and written communication, three letters of recommendation, a 300-word written statement of career goals, six credits of undergraduate coursework in biological/ physical sciences and three credits in mathematics, six credits of undergraduate coursework in behavioral and/or social sciences and 18–21 credits of undergraduate coursework (depending upon undergraduate background in speech-language pathology) in the speech and hearing sciences, anatomy and physiology of speech, phonetics, language acquisition or linguistics, audiology and speech-language pathology. In addition, courses in computer science and statistics are desired. An interview may be required. Provision is made through special courses for students deficient in coursework entrance requirements. Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores are required. Students applying for graduate assistantships or Doctoral Fellowships must submit GRE scores with their assistantship application materials.

Degree Requirements

A. Required Courses: All students must take a minimum of 15 credits of required coursework distributed in three areas: in the research core (201); the basic communication processes core (202, 203 and 204), and the clinical core (at least one course from among SPE 210, 211). In addition to meeting coursework requirements in Speech Language Pathology, students are expected to take at least one course in Audiology to meet the minor area of study requirements for ASHA certification. (Spe 214, 351, 354, 355, 364.)

B. Major Concentration: Students select professional courses in speech-language pathology, taking a minimum of 21 graduate credits in the major area of study, with the courses selected in consultation with the student's advisor. At least 6 credits must be in language disorders courses and 6 credits must be in speech disorders courses.

C. Residency: Each student must satisfy a full-time residence requirement (a minimum of 9 credits) during one academic semester, excluding summers.

D. Practicum: Students must complete a minimum of 400 hours of supervised clinical experience, distributed among several categories of communication disorders across the life span. A student may apply up to six credits of practicum toward the 48 credits required for the degree. One credit must be Spe 420: Clinical Practicum in Audiology for Speech Language Pathology.

E. Research: Students must complete a research project or a master's thesis, or enroll in 440 (Advanced Research Methods). Students in the non-thesis research project option select a special research course (three credits) in their area of interest and complete a supervised research project. The topic is chosen in consultation with one's mentor and must be approved by the mentor. Upon completion, the student must submit a written report to his/her mentor. Students in the thesis option, (this requires a minimum GPA of 3.5) earn six credits for Master's Thesis Research (900) completed under the supervision of a faculty member and committee and present their results in a written report.

F. Research Tools (optional): Students may demonstrate proficiency in at least one of three areas: statistics, language (including manual communication) or instrumentation and microcomputers. Proficiency may be demonstrated by completing designated courses or passing an examination in Spanish, French, German, Russian or Manual Communication. Credit will be given toward the degree for a course that fulfills the research tool requirement.

G. Comprehensive Examination: A written comprehensive examination taken during the last semester of coursework is required of all students electing either the research project or Advanced Research Methods course option. For students who have elected the thesis option, the examination is oral and centered on the thesis and related areas.

Certificate: Teacher of Students with Speech and Language Disabilities

Students will be eligible to obtain a Certificate as Teacher of Students with Speech and Language Disabilities issued by the New York State Department of Education provided that they meet the education, practicum (student teaching) and observation requirements as required by the New York State Dept. of Education. Practicum 407 (two credits) in an educational setting with a minimum of 150 contact hours may be taken. A special selection of pedagogy coursework to meet New York State Education requirements for the Teacher of Students with Speech and Language Disabilities will be provided to those students who are interested in this program. Upon completion of this program, endorsement to the state will be issued.

Program of Study

Doctor of Audiology

The Long Island Au.D. Consortium

Three academic institutions on Long Island, Adelphi, Hofstra, and St. John's Universities, have joined together to offer their combined resources for a ground-breaking Doctor of Audiology program, now available to qualified bachelor's graduates.

Students are able to utilize the resources of all three schools, including the laboratories, equipment, faculty, and externship sites.

The objective of this clinical program is to produce highly skilled practitioners who have the ability to perform the wide variety of diagnostic, remedial, and other critical services included within the scope of practice for audiologists to meet the ASHA requirements for certification.

Each audiology doctoral student selects a home university. The home institution maintains student transcripts, provides advisement, and monitors ASHA certification and New York State licensing requirements. The home institution awards the degree, noting that it was completed in conjunction with the two other universities. All coursework practicum are administered through the consortium. Prerequisites for admission into the Au.D. Consortium Program include completion of a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution. Applicants are admitted based on established admission criteria.

The curriculum includes advanced course work in vestibular assessment, hearing aid technology, early intervention, and electrophysiology. In addition to classes that are scheduled within traditional semesters, a variety of instructional formats, including intensive one-to-eight-week institutes, weekend workshops and distance courses are offered. The 4-year program includes a 2000 hour practicum in the final year. Through courses and clinical experience, students must attain the knowledge and skills (KASA) required for ASHA certification in Audiology.

One applies for the Au.D. program through Adelphi University.

Faculty Qualifications

The faculty are experienced professionals and those faculty members engaged in clinical supervision hold the appropriate NY State license and ASHA Certification. In addition, adjunct faculty are brought in to teach selected courses in specialized areas or supervise at the Speech and Hearing Center.

Facilities

Resources available to the student include the Computer Center and Microlabs, and Health Education Resource Center, as well as the Speech and Hearing Center and the Speech Laboratory. The Speech and Hearing Center, located off campus at 152-11 Union Turnpike, serves as a training facility for students while providing diagnostic and remediation services to the community. It has substantial resources, including tests, materials and instrumentation necessary to provide required practicum experiences. More than 100 outside facilities, including medical centers, hospitals, schools, day care centers and nursing homes, serve as externship sites for students, providing experience in a variety of settings. The center is open six days a week, including evenings.

Courses for M.A. in Speech Language Pathology

Intermediate Course

(Prepares students who lack required undergraduate courses to meet the undergraduate coursework entrance requirements.)

106 Introduction to Speech-Language Pathology

(Pre- or co-requisite SPE 1710, 1720, 1730 or equivalent). Principles of speech-language pathology, including classification, etiology, symptoms and physioanatomical correlates of neurologically, anatomically and functionally based disorders. Credit: 3 semester hours. May not count toward the degree.

Required Courses

1. Research Core (3 credits.)

201 Introduction to Research Methods

Prepares students to become well-informed consumers of research; principles and practices of scientific research, including experimental design, statistical methods, and application to clinical practice. (Cross-listed with AUD 502.) Credit: 3 semester hours. Every semester.

2. Basic Processes Core (9 Credits)

202 Acoustics and Perception of Speech

The acoustics of speech, including how differences in articulatory behavior are reflected in the acoustic signal; perception of the speech signal. Credit: 3 semester hours.

203 Models of Language Behavior

Psycholinguistic theories of language and speech development, including syntax, semantics and pragmatics. Relation between language and cognition, including attention, perception, storage and retrieval. Credit: 3 semester hours.

204 Advanced Anatomy and Physiology of Speech

The use of the speech mechanism, especially the muscular and neurological systems. Functional units of the speech system and their coordinated use to produce normal speech. For Speech-Language Pathology majors. Credit: 3 semester hours.

3. Clinical Core (3–12 credits)

210 Assessment of Speech-Language Problems

Assessment of speech and language disorders including developmental status, differential diagnosis, use and limitations of standardized instruments, scoring and interpretation and application of dynamic assessment procedures. Credit: 3 semester hours.

211 Assessment of Speech-Language Problems

Clinical examination of persons with oral communication problems. Emphasis on formal and informal assessment procedures of school-age children and adults with communication disorders. Advanced. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Professional Coursework

1. Speech-Language Pathology

310 Voice Disorders

Normal and abnormal adaptation of respiration, phonation and resonance in the production of voice; procedures, materials and instrumentation for voice diagnostics and therapy, as applicable to children and adults. Credit: 3 semester hours.

311 Fluency

Fluency and factors that may disrupt it; nature and development of stuttering across the life span; special consideration for pre-school and school-age children; interactions with children, parents and teachers. Credit: 3 semester hours.

312 Motor Speech Disorders

Nature, classification, neurology and pathologies associated with motor speech disorders. Descriptions of dysarthrias, apraxias, dysphagia and other respiratory/phonatory and motor speech disorders across the life span. Credit: 3 semester hours.

314 Disorders of Articulation

An analysis of development of articulatory skills, phonological processes and the patterns of articulatory and phonological disorders. Credit: 3 semester hours.

315 Augmentative Communication Systems

Alternate communication systems for individuals across the range of communication handicaps, including sign systems, Bliss symbols, communication boards, electrical-mechanical aids and other assistive technologies. Credit: 3 semester hours.

316 Communication Disorders Associated with Craniofacial Anomalies

Disorders of speech, language and hearing associated with the craniofacial anomalies including assessment and intervention, classification, anatomy and physiology and embryology. Credit: 3 semester hours.

317 Acquired Language Disorders

Syndromes of language impairments resulting from neurological damage. Includes differential diagnosis and rehabilitation of pathologies in the adult population (e.g., aphasia, traumatic brain injury, dementia). Credit: 3 semester hours.

318 Developmental Language Disorders

Characteristics, assessment and treatment of language disorders in children resulting from syndromes, autism, receptive/expressive language problems, cognitive deficits, and social/pragmatic deficits, using evidence-based criteria. Credit: 3 semester hours.

320 Language-Based Learning Disabilities

Linguistic theories of language and learning disabilities. Analysis, identification and differential diagnosis of children with language learning disabilities and their relation to language, reading, writing and literacy. Credit: 3 semester hours.

321 Speech-Language Assessment and Intervention for Infants, Toddlers and the Pre-School Child

Educational principles and procedures for infants, toddlers and pre-school children with language and learning disabilities and perceptual skill impairments. Credit: 3 semester hours.

322 Communication Problems of Geriatric Persons

Study of the speech, language and hearing difficulties affecting the geriatric population and the relationship of social adjustment and health concerns of this population to communication disorders. Credit: 3 semester hours.

323 Communication Problems of the Developmentally Disabled and Multiply Handicapped

The nature and causes of developmental disabilities, their impact on the family, community and school system. Credit: 3 semester hours.

324 Independent Study in Speech-Language Pathology

Study of current problems in speech-language pathology. Recommended for students selecting the thesis option, or other students wishing to investigate a particular problem in depth. Student must select a mentor to direct study. Credit: 3 semester hours.

325 Studies in Bilingualism

Theories of bilingualism will be described as the development of multi-lingual children is considered. Neurolinguistic considerations of brain-damaged multi-lingual speakers will also be considered. Credit: 3 semester hours.

328 Dysphagia: Theory and Practice

Anatomy and neurophysiology of normal swallowing in the aero-digestive tract. Pathophysiology of swallowing in children and adults; evaluation techniques and treatment procedures; identification of risks and precautions. Credit: 3 semester hours. May be taught off campus.

330 Speech-Language Pathology Practice in Educational Settings.

Implementing speech-language services in schools. Service delivery models; education law; due process, strategies for effective participation in services for speech- and language-impaired students. Required for students enrolled for the New York State TSSLD Credit: 3 semester hours. (30 hrs. and field Experience/observation).

331 Principles of Dysphagia

Swallowing physiology; behavioral and meal-time correlates of swallowing; associated diagnoses and conditions; evaluation methods; treatment and management; clinical decision-making and counseling. Credit: 3 semester hours.

340 Special Topics in Speech-Language Pathology

The course is devoted to the in-depth study of areas of speech-language pathology to which no standard course is dedicated and whose study is felt to be warranted at particular intervals. Credit: 3 semester hours.

341 Management of Pediatric Dysphagia in a Developing Country

Anatomy and neurophysiology of normal swallowing and pathophysiology in infants and children. Assessment, treatment, management and models of delivery in the USA and in a developing country. Credit: 1 semester hour.

342 Educating the Asperger's Student: Academic and Social-Emotional Concerns

An overview of the special learning and social-emotional issues involved in educating students with Asperger's Syndrome. Credit: 1 semester hour.

343 Global Perspectives on Communication Disorders

How societal expectations, parenting styles, social resources, access to information and educational/therapeutic services influence developmental outcomes when a communication disorder exists. Credit: 1 semester hour.

Clinical Practica in Speech-Language Pathology

405 Speech-Language Pathology Practicum

Clinical evaluation and remediation of disorders of speech and language; on-campus and off-campus sites; children and adults. Minimum 60 hours of direct clinical practice/credit. May be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits. Sufficient background in coursework required. Credit: 1-3 semester hours.

407 Practicum in Speech-Language Pathology in Educational Settings

Prerequisite: 330. School-based practicum (student teaching). Minimum 150 hours of direct contact/30 hours of observation. Authorization of Completion Letter must be filed with the NYS Department of Education for this experience to fulfill requirements for state teacher certification. Credit: 2 semester hours.

408 Speech Pathology Practicum in Adult Setting

Clinical evaluation and remediation of disorders of speech and language; off-campus site with adults. Minimum 60 hours of direct clinical practice/credit. May be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits. Sufficient background in coursework required. Must register with Clinical Coord. Credit: 1-3 semester hours.

2. Minor Area Courses in Audiology

214 Habilitative and Rehabilitative Procedures for the Hearing Impaired

Application of audiological findings and theory to rehabilitation and management of hearing impaired and deaf children and adults and selection of amplification for the hearing impaired. Credit: 3 semester hours.

351 Advanced Audiology

Advanced clinical and experimental methods of evaluating the peripheral and central auditory system. Knowledge of basic audiological techniques is presumed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

354 Habilitation of Children Who are Deaf or Hearing Impaired

Theories of language, speech production and perception of children with hearing loss. Current approaches to assessment, speech training and the use of sensory aids including computer-based devices and cochlear implants. Credit: 3 semester hours.

355 Rehabilitation of Adults Who are Deaf or Hearing Impaired

Current research and theory on speech production and perception in adults with hearing loss of various etiologies, including speech production, auditory feedback, cochlear implants and speechreading. Credit: 3 semester hours.

364 Central Auditory Processing

Anatomical and physiological processes and structures involved in processing acoustic information in the central auditory system. Disorders/pathologies associated with central auditory dysfunction. Management and treatment. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Clinical Practica in Audiology

420 Clinical Practicum in Audiology for the Speech-Language Pathologist

Clinical practicum in assessment of hearing disorders and rehabilitation management of hearing impaired persons. Minimum of 20 hours in the minor area appropriate to scope of practice. Credit: 1 semester hour.

3. Professional Issues Courses

380 Issues in the Profession

Legislative and professional issues affecting the speech and hearing profession and their effects on service provision and impact on the field. Legal rights of communicatively disordered persons, including provisions of the ADA, IDEA, RTI. Credit: 3 semester hours.

381 Cultural Diversity in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology

Understanding of diversity issues that impact on the assessment and intervention of language and speech abilities in both children and adults in multicultural and multilingual populations. Credit: 3 semester hours.

4. Research

A student must choose to complete either SPE 440 (Advanced Research Methods), or 452 (Special Research Project) or Spe 900 (Master's Thesis) to fulfill degree research requirements.

440 Advanced Research Methods

Prerequisite: 201. Students will examine and interpret research results using statistical techniques and graphic displays. Students will design a clinical efficacy study related to assessment or intervention. Credit: 3 semester hours.

452 Special Research in Speech-Language Pathology

A student will design and carry out an independent research project. A course seminar is to be scheduled to guide the students through the process. Credit: 3 semester hours.

900 Master's Thesis Research

Open to students whose GPA is at least 3.5. Guided development and conduct of a research program resulting in the completion and presentation of a Master's thesis
Credit: 3 semester hours for students continuing from Special Research; 6 semester hours for students beginning and completing a thesis in this course.

5. Research Clinical Tools (Optional)

Proficiency in one of the following research tool areas may be demonstrated either by examination or by successfully completing at least one of the courses or course sequences listed below.

450 Technology

Purpose and use of instrumentation and technology in the clinical, educational and research laboratory setting for analysis, assessment, treatment and study of normal and disordered speech, language and hearing processes.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

490 Manual Communication/Sign Language

Students will understand the history of ASL, the culture of the Deaf community, ASL and its relationship to other forms of sign language and sign systems and non-verbal communication techniques. Credits: 3 semester hours.

Courses for Doctor of Audiology Degree (Au.D.)501 Advanced Audiology

Integration of theoretical and practical aspects of audiologic assessment; standard audiometric battery preparing students with the skills necessary to administer these tests and to interpret test results. Credit: 3 semester hours.

502 Research Methods

Prepares students to become well-informed consumers of research; principles and practices of scientific research, including experimental design, statistical methods, and application to clinical practice. (Cross-listed with CSD 201.)
Credit: 3 semester hours.

503 Anatomy, Physiology & Neurology of the Auditory and Vestibular Mechanisms

Description of normal anatomy and neuroanatomy of the auditory and vestibular systems, as well as theories of physiology and the effects of certain pathological conditions on normal physiology. Credit: 3 semester hours.

504 Auditory Pathologies

Pathologies in the auditory system, their audiological and medical diagnosis and treatment. Emphasis on differential diagnosis of auditory, cortical, and vestibular pathologies using behavioral and electrophysiologic techniques.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

505 Psychoacoustics

Advanced level of study of the psychoacoustic principles involved in the practice of audiology. Laboratory exercises in the topic areas are required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

506 Genetics of Communication Disorders

Embryologic development and teratogenic agents affecting development, particularly those related to genetic mutations affecting speech, language, and/or hearing. Application of clinical and molecular genetics to diagnosis and treatment of communication disorders.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

507 Aural Rehabilitation Across the Life Span

Effects of hearing loss, noise, and reverberation on auditory (and auditory-visual) speech perception; factors involved in amplification selection (including cochlear implants); benefits of assistive listening devices and sensory aids; issues concerning the Deaf.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

508 Electronics & Instrumentation for Audiologists

Introduction to the fundamentals of electricity and electronics, and describes the clinical and research instrumentation used in audiology. Laboratory exercises are required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

509 Speech-Language Pathology for Audiologists

An appreciation of the diversity of speech and language disorders across the lifespan; cultural factors in communication and speech and language disorders; symptoms and behaviors associated with specific disorders; screening and appropriate referrals.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

510 Amplification I

Management of hearing loss using amplification; hearing aid design, electroacoustic characteristics, technology advances; State and Federal legislation, ASHA guidelines on amplification systems; circuit options and components of personal hearing aids. Laboratory exercises required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

511 Pediatric Audiology

Background on the etiologic factors, incidence, and impact of hearing loss in the pediatric population. Contemporary methods of pediatric audiologic management, evaluation and screening, including ABR and OAE.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

512 Electrophysiology I

Auditory evoked potential procedures for evaluating children and adults, including recording techniques, interpretation, clinical application, and synthesis of results including laboratory exercises. Credit: 3 semester hours.

513 Electrophysiology II

Otoacoustic emissions, principle, procedures and clinical applications, middle latency auditory evoked potentials and late cortical event related potentials; basic issues and potential applications. Credit: 3 semester hours.

514 Amplification II

Principles and practices of hearing aid dispensing, including assessment for candidacy, prescriptive fitting protocols, validating and verifying hearing aid outcomes, and considerations in special populations and audiometric configurations. Credit: 3 semester hours.

515 Deafness

Effects of hearing loss on spoken language, speech perception and production of children; effects of hearing loss on speech perception and production of adults who have sustained hearing loss; issues pertaining to the Deaf Culture and Community. Credit: 3 semester hours.

516 Central Auditory Processing

Anatomical and neurophysiological aspects of auditory processing; nature and causes of auditory processing disorders, including symptomatology, assessment, treatment, clinical management and referrals. Impact of CAPD on language and learning. Credit: 3 semester hours.

517 Advanced Research Seminar

Seminar to assist Level 3 Au.D. student in formulating, developing and executing a clinical research project. Concepts of research design and statistical analyses with regard to individual projects in seminar fashion.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

518 Electrophysiology III

This course will establish for students a theoretical understanding and practical knowledge of the vestibular system, and its objective diagnosis via electronystagmography (ENG).
Credit: 3 semester hours.

519 Cochlear Implants

Understanding the engineering, medical, surgical, and audiological aspects of cochlear implants, including speech processor programming, and the (re)habilitative programs and strategies used with infant, child, and adult implant recipients. Credit: 3 semester hours.

521 Amplification I and II

Advanced level of study of hearing aid design and selection. Expansion of concepts and procedures introduced in Amplification I and II; verification and validation methods associated with advanced technology. Laboratory exercises required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

522 Current Issues in Vestibular Assessment and Rehabilitation

Evaluation of balance function beyond electronystagmography including Rotational and Posturographic tests, and Vestibular Evoked Potentials; programs and protocols for vestibular rehabilitation will also be detailed.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

523 Leadership & Supervision of Clinical Audiology Programs

Leadership and its relationship to supervision of personnel; implementation and management of clinical programs; discussion of professional issues including ethics, quality management and competencies, often of concern to staff and related disciplines. Credit: 3 semester hours.

560 Clinical Practicum in Audiology

Introduction to basic principles and procedures in auditory assessment and rehabilitation. Interpretation, diagnostic statement and recommendations. Case histories for diverse populations and counseling. Professional and legal issues (e.g., Licensure and Certification). Credit: 2 semester hours.

561/562 Clinical Practicum in Audiology

Development of advanced clinical and rehabilitative audiology skills based on advanced coursework. Seminars: open discussion forums pertaining to specific clinical problems, disorders, situations, case resolutions and diagnoses at placement sites.

Credit: 2 semester hours each.

563/565 Clinical Practicum in Audiology

Development of the clinical application of theory and concepts obtained via advanced audiology coursework. Seminars: open discussion forums, discussions pertaining to specific clinical problems, disorders, situations, case resolutions and diagnoses at outside sites.

Credit: 2 semester hours each.

568 Clinical Practicum in SLP

Supervised clinical practice in speech-language pathology appropriate to Scope of Practice.

Credit: 1 semester hour.

570 Clinical Externship in Audiology

Seminar course (online) for clinical externship experience supplementing advanced principles and practices of diagnostic audiology, balance disorders, audiologic (re)habilitation, electrophysiological measures and audiological counseling. ASHA/NYS License requirements.

Credit: 3 semester hour.

Electives

541 Neurophysiologic Intraoperative Monitoring

Neurophysiologic intraoperative monitoring; anatomic and physiologic bases of monitoring for spine, neck, cranial, and cardiothoracic and peripheral nerve surgeries. Techniques used; evaluation of data; effects of anesthesia control on the interpretation of these data.

Credit: 1 semester hour.

542 Forensic Audiology

The legal, ethical, legislative, and forensic issues that may be encountered; the legal rights of communicatively disordered persons and provisions of the ADA; due process, federal and state mandates, educational entitlements. Credit: 1 semester hour.

544 Business Practices in Audiology

Planning and execution of a comprehensive, quality, cost-effective private practice in audiology; organization and marketing and the various aspects of quality improvement, jurisprudence, professional ethics, professional development and fiscal management.

Credit: 1 semester hour.

546 Pharmacology/Ototoxicity

Theories in pharmacology, including drug absorption, bioavailability, administration and treatment, mechanisms of interaction, and toxicity to the ear, hearing and the vestibular mechanism. Methodologies and technologies for monitoring use of ototoxic medications.

Credit: 3 semester hour.

547 Cerumen Management

Practical, supervised training in the use of hand-held, video, and pneumatic otoscopy, recognition of the external auditory canal (EAC) and tympanic membrane (TM) condition, and removal of cerumen in accordance with ASHA guidelines. Credit: 1 semester hour.

548 Communication Processes in Aging

Multidisciplinary perspectives on aging; normal aging vs pathological changes throughout the lifespan; psychological, medical, cognitive-linguistic, social, perceptual, and economic aspects of aging for diagnosis and treatment of hearing disorders in the elderly population.

Credit: 1 semester hour.

549 Counseling in Audiology

Knowledge and skills necessary to conduct effective audiologic counseling of patients and their families/caregivers based on individual patient need and cultural sensitivity. Counseling techniques tailored to specific audiologic diagnoses and services.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

601 Clinical Research Project

Additional guidance for the Level 3 or 4 Au.D. student in carrying the clinical research project to conclusion. Students maintain continuous matriculation in this class until the research project requirements are completed.

Credit: 1 semester hour.

Department of English (ENG)

Programs of Study

English graduate studies at St. John's features combined Bachelor of Arts / Master of Arts (B.A./M.A.), Master of Arts (M.A.), and Doctor of Arts (D.A.) degree programs. We offer courses in traditional and emerging fields of literature, cultural studies, critical theory, writing and composition studies. All English graduate courses are seminars taught by research faculty who are committed to teaching and mentoring graduate students. The M.A. and D.A. programs are designed for both full-time graduate students and for professional educators, administrators, and writers who want to pursue an advanced degree part-time. The English graduate curriculum offers students the flexibility to develop individualized programs of study that meet their intellectual and professional goals. Because the number of required courses for each program is limited, the curriculum appeals to students seeking either broad exposure to advanced English studies or more intensive concentrations in specific fields. Among the areas of study are British and American literary history, creative writing, composition studies, and interdisciplinary fields such as American studies, gender studies, and postcolonial studies. The department also sponsors a student-edited journal, The St. John's Humanities Review, and host an annual Graduate Student Conference.

B.A./M.A. in English

The department offers an intensive, accelerated combined degree program leading to both the B.A. and M.A. degrees in five years of full-time study. Students who have been accepted into the program take one graduate course each semester of their junior and senior years; this course counts toward both the B.A. and M.A. degrees. In the fifth year students may take the remaining seven graduate courses needed to complete the degree; in their final semester students fulfill the portfolio requirement, described below.

Entrance Requirements

Qualified undergraduates who have completed their sophomore year with a 3.0 cumulative index and a 3.5 for 12 credits in English are encouraged to apply. Two letters of recommendation from faculty who teach in the English graduate program are required.

Program Requirements

Students in the B.A./M.A. program matriculate for a total of 147 credits, 33 of which must be at the graduate level. After completion of the baccalaureate degree, students may enroll full-time on the graduate level for the fifth year. Students have the option of writing a Master's thesis in their final year of the program to fulfill three of their M.A. credits. Students who plan to write a thesis should register for ENG 900: Master's Research.

Master of Arts (M.A.)

The M.A. program in English is designed for students interested in a broad but intensive engagement with literary, cultural, and composition studies. Recent graduates of the M.A. program have received fellowships for doctoral study at some of the best graduate programs in the U.S. and abroad. Other graduates have been accepted at prestigious law schools, established careers in publishing and editing, and obtained tenure-track secondary school teaching positions.

The English Master's degree curriculum offers students the opportunity to develop programs of study that meet their intellectual and professional goals. Because there is only one required foundational course (Modern Critical Theories), the program provides flexibility for students seeking either broad exposure to advanced English studies or more intensive concentrations in specific fields. The Master's program offers seminars in the major periods of literary history (medieval, early modern, Restoration, Victorian, 19th-century American, modern, contemporary, and postcolonial) as well as many interdisciplinary courses. All students submit a portfolio of their graduate work in their final semester, containing representative essays and a critical synthesis of their work while in the program. Students also have the option of writing a Master's thesis to fulfill three of their M.A. credits. Students who plan to write a thesis should register for ENG 900 Master's Research.

Entrance Requirements

Students entering the M.A. program must present at least 24 credit hours of undergraduate preparation in English. All students must submit acceptable scores for the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE) General Test; the Subject Test is not required.

Assistantships

Graduate assistantships are available on a competitive basis through the English Department and the Institute for Writing Studies. These assistantships provide tuition support and a stipend in exchange for research support to faculty or tutoring in the institute. New students who are interested in an assistantship should indicate their interest on the application form. Current students should submit a full graduate school application, including a statement of purpose and two letters of recommendation, and a writing sample to the English Chair. The deadline for assistantship applications is March 1.

Program Requirements

Students must take a minimum of 33 credit hours. (Students receiving Graduate Assistantships can receive tuition support up to but not beyond 33 credits.) Students have the option of writing a Master's thesis in their final year of the program to fulfill three of their M.A. credits. Students who plan to write a thesis should register for ENG 900: Master's Research.

The only course required of all M.A. students is ENG 100: Modern Critical Theories, which should be taken during the student's first year of study. Otherwise, students are free to choose courses that suit their needs and interests. All courses in the English graduate curriculum are open to students in the M.A. program.

Students must submit a portfolio project in their last semester of study. This portfolio of written work serves as the non-credit capstone project for the Master's program. The portfolio consists of three representative papers from three different courses, one of which should be revised substantially according to the professor's instructions and suggestions. Accompanying the portfolio is a 10-page critical overview in which the student offers a critical synthesis of her work in the program, referring to the portfolio essays and their revision as indication of the student's growth as a reader, scholar and writer. A committee comprised of English faculty evaluates these portfolios.

Doctor of Arts (D.A.)

The D.A. program in English is a terminal degree that combines advanced study in literary, cultural, and composition studies with preparation for teaching. It offers courses and research opportunities in traditional and emerging fields of literature, cultural studies, critical theory, writing, and composition studies. At the same time, it emphasizes the theory and practice of pedagogy, especially writing pedagogy, to prepare students for English and interdisciplinary college teaching. The program is designed for both full-time graduate students and professional educators, administrators, and writers who want to pursue a doctoral degree part-time. While most recent graduates of the D.A. program are faculty at colleges and universities, other graduates have positions in publishing, editing, public relations, and administration in secondary and higher education.

The English D.A. degree emerged in the 1960s and 1970s to meet the growing need for faculty at four-year and two-year colleges. The D.A. program at St. John's has since evolved into a doctoral program that emphasizes the interrelatedness of pedagogy, theory, and literary and cultural studies. The opportunities for advanced research are comparable to those of English Ph.D. programs, but the English D.A. program is distinguished by its integration of research, writing and pedagogical practice.

The English D.A. curriculum provides a foundation in critical theory and writing pedagogy, while offering students the opportunity to develop programs of study that meet their intellectual and professional goals. The D.A. program offers seminars in the major periods of literary history (medieval, early modern, Restoration, Victorian, 19th-century American, modern, contemporary, and postcolonial) as well as many interdisciplinary courses. After completion of their coursework, D.A. students, in consultation with department faculty, design three exam areas in fields the student wishes to claim as areas of specialization. Following successful completion of the exams, the student works with a committee of three or more faculty on a dissertation, to be defended orally.

Entrance Requirements

1. Applicants must present verification of their completion of a bachelor's degree, with a minimum of 24 credits in English.
2. Applicants must possess at least a cumulative G.P.A. of 3.0 and a 3.5 in English courses.
3. Applicants must submit acceptable scores for the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE) General Test. The subject GRE Test is not required.
4. Applicants possessing a Master's Degree with at least 15 graduate credits in English and an index of at least 3.5 in these courses can receive advanced standing up to 24 credits, as determined by the Department's Admissions Committee and the Dean.
5. Applicants must submit three letters of recommendation, two of which need to be academic letters attesting to the applicant's work as a student.

Applicants must also submit a recent sample of written work, as well as a personal statement detailing the student's professional goals.

Fellowships

Doctoral fellowships are available on a competitive basis through the English Department and the Institute for Writing Studies. These assistantships offer a stipend and provide the experience of teaching one course per semester or the equivalent time tutoring in the writing center. New students who are interested in a fellowship should indicate their interest on the application form. Current students should submit a full graduate school application, including a statement of purpose and three letters of recommendation, to the English Chair.

Program Requirements

1. The D.A. degree entails 48 credits of coursework, 6 credits of Teaching Internship and 6 credits for writing the dissertation (Doctor of Arts Research). Applicants who apply with a M.A. or M.F.A. in English can receive up to 24 credits of advanced standing. Applicants with prior teaching experience can also have the Teaching Internship waived. Students in the program must maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0; courses for which the student receives a grade lower than a "B" will not count towards the degree.
2. Students must take ENG 100: Modern Critical Theories; ENG 105: Teaching Practicum; ENG 110: Introduction to the Profession, and the student determines all remaining courses.
3. All students must demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language prior to taking their comprehensive exams by one of the following: 1) a grade of "B" or better in an advanced college-level language class that requires reading proficiency in the language (3000-level or above at St. John's or the equivalent at another college or university, with the approval of the graduate program director); 2) successful completion of a translation exam administered by the English faculty.
4. A student will be evaluated at the completion of 24 credit hours of graduate work to determine whether or not he or she is qualified to continue in the program.
5. Upon successful completion of coursework, students must pass an oral comprehensive examination. The student selects three graduate faculty to serve on his or her exam committee, who then work closely with the student to design three areas of specialization determined by the student. The student, in consultation with his or her committee, assembles a reading list of approximately twenty-five books and critical essays for each of the three exam areas. In addition to serving as an opportunity for the student to demonstrate her mastery in these exam areas, the comprehensive exam serves as a means by which the student can begin preliminary research for the dissertation.
6. After successfully completing the comprehensive examination, the student will undertake the dissertation for a minimum of six credits (ENG 975) each semester until the dissertation is successfully defended. Students who register for ENG 975 are required to attend the Dissertation Research and Writing Workshop for at least two semesters. Students select a topic that will enable them to apply their learning to an original problem in contemporary scholarship, criticism, pedagogy or the profession in general. An academic mentor and a committee of readers are selected by the student to guide his or her research and review the progress of the dissertation. The completed dissertation must be defended in an oral examination before the committee and must be approved by the Dean.

Center for Global Development

The mission of the Center for Global Development (CGD) is to invest in educational programs and activities to promote the common good and the advancement of the human community where the dignity of the human person is at the foundation of every process of development.

The term "global" not only encompasses social, cultural and economic structures and processes that foster human progress, but also an awareness of interdependence between people and among nations. This interdependence comes with the responsibility of building a civil society based on a culture of solidarity and social justice. Development, to be authentic, as Pope Paul the Sixth emphasized, must foster human well being, but also each person's spiritual and moral development.

Human nature is relational, and our responsibility is to further educate people about the process of relational sharing. Building a global community, through projects of social intervention, welfare and development will not fail, if it is grounded on dialogical opening.

The CGD serves as a center for research on issues regarding international development. Drawing upon its network of international specialists as well as its own faculty, staff, and researchers, the activities promoted and offered by the Center include the M.A. in Global Development and Social Justice, conferences, internships, research projects, a comprehensive Resource Center, as well as joint ventures and projects with other organizations.

Programs of Study

M.A. in Global Development and Social Justice

The M.A. in Global Development and Social Justice aims at best practices and leadership in global development. Our mission of social justice and human rights advocacy, grounded on Catholic Social Teaching, is reflected through our innovative online methodology. We seek to provide education, especially to those lacking economic, and/or social means. Furthermore, through its committed faculty and support staff, the M.A. seeks to teach students how to search out the causes of poverty and social injustice and encourages them to explore and identify solutions which are adaptable, effective and concrete.

This innovative multidisciplinary program is coordinated by a Steering Committee chaired by the Director of the Center for Global Development. It combines classroom instruction with online methodology to offer students the flexibility to pursue in-depth research in a broad variety of critical areas related to development and social justice.

The M.A. includes 11 three-credit courses for a total of 33 credits, and is completed over the duration of two years. When students begin the program they are given a free laptop which they will keep after graduation. This program is unique in that the curriculum is primarily delivered via on-line online learning that can be accessed worldwide. Four courses in total are taught in a classroom setting. Four courses are to be taken in Rome in the summer, at outset (3 courses for the month of June) and at the close of program (one course, the Integrated Seminar, first two weeks of June), while the remainder of the curriculum is delivered via on-line Online Learning. Additionally, there is a required capstone project to be presented in the Integrated Seminar that summarizes the student's learning in the courses.

Entrance Requirements

- An accredited bachelor's degree or its equivalent
- Proficiency in English (written and spoken). Applicants whose native language is not English, or whose secondary and post-secondary education was not in English must take the (1) Test of English as a Foreign Language [TOEFL] or (2) International English Language Testing System [IELTS] - More information on the TOEFL or IELTS can be found on page 7 in the St. John's University Graduate Bulletin here. The TOEFL code for St. John's University is 2799.
- Two letters of recommendation from persons qualified to evaluate the applicant's ability to succeed in a graduate program of study
- A statement of personal and professional goals relevant to the applicant's interest in the concentration in Global Development and Social Justice
- The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is not required.

Assistantships:

Graduate assistantships are also available on a selective basis.

Transfer of Credit:

Because of the distinctive nature of the program, including in-person instruction during summer sessions in Rome and online learning courses during the Fall and Spring semesters, no transfer credits may be applied for this degree.

Courses:

Core Curriculum

Given the nature of the program, the curriculum offers significant training in Information Technology (The program provides each student with a laptop computer), and an optional internship related to the student's required capstone project. It also encompasses a broad range of topics related to development and social justice. Additionally, the capstone project is presented in the Integrated Seminar, summarizing the student's learning in the courses and his/her ability to undertake in-depth research and apply the knowledge and skills acquired. Finally, its dedicated and distinguished faculty and support staff participate together and individually in special training seminars and workshops to ensure excellence in instruction and program management.

Course Descriptions

100 Models of Intervention in Global Development

This course introduces students to the key concepts of Global Development in the context of social justice, combining concerns for international development with awareness of the human person, the common good, solidarity and subsidiarity. Contemporary development issues such as migration, environment, health, and conflict will be examined through common models and tools of intervention. Case studies referring to non-governmental organizations, inter-governmental organizations and national governments will also be emphasized. Credit: 3 semester hours.

110 Catholic Social Thought and Practices of Integral Human Development and Solidarity.

What should be the goals of global development? What constitutes sustainable prosperity for all? What models and practices of global development lead to human flourishing? How can practices of solidarity and peace building be cultivated to promote development and human wellbeing? Students will endeavor to answer these and other important questions in a manner that draws deeply upon the Catholic moral tradition in dialogue with other points of view. Credit: 3 semester hours.

120 Information Resources for Global development and Social Justice Practices

This course is an introduction to the scope, organization, evaluation, and use of print and electronic information sources. Particular emphasis will be placed on developing skills in using and creating digital information resources, and of the sharing these resources using electronic courseware social networking technologies, scholarly networking technologies, and information management techniques. All topics in this course are discussed within the context of the kinds of research and communication activities that are expected of development workers, thus information literacy skills, social science research methods, and professional and scholarly writing are also key areas of emphasis. Credit: 3 semester hours.

130 Impact of International Organizations in Global Development

This course examines the role of international organizations (IGOs) and nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) in global development. Organizations play an important role in the development of the economy, environment, health care issues, education and other social issues that plague developing countries in the global economy. At the conclusion of this course students will be able to 1) analyze the role of international and nongovernmental organization to development; 2) examine organizations and their policies toward developing countries; and 3) compare and contrast IGOs, NGOs, and other organizations in the context of globalization and development. Credit: 3 semester hours.

140 Economics of Development

An introduction to the field of economic growth and development from the perspective of Catholic Social Thought. This course covers: theories of economic growth; development and underdevelopment; role of ethics in policy formation; causes and consequences of poverty (national and international); international wealth and income inequality; and trade and globalization. Various theories and perspectives are presented, all contrasted with the approach to development found in the Catholic social thought tradition, especially in the Encyclicals related to development issues. Credit: 3 semester hours.

150 Sustainable Food Systems, Water and the Environment

This course will critically evaluate the political-economy of development policies to reduce global hunger, and assess the impact of fluctuating climate, biodiversity, and natural resources on agricultural production, food security, public health and poverty reduction strategies within a social justice framework. A review of methods for assessing the impact of climate change, biodiversity, and natural resources on agricultural production, food security and public health will include a focus on GIS (Geographic Information Systems) mapping and analysis, as well as examining participatory and community-based projects. In addition, the political, economic, and socio-cultural dimensions of global disparities and poverty and their impact on food and agricultural policy will be assessed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

160 Migration and Refugees in Development: Humanitarianism, Gender and Inequities

This course will address the political and social issue associated with the movement of people as they relate to the developing world. The course will familiarize students with the normative and legal issues of migrations and refugee movements, including the relevant international institutions and conventions. Students will examine such issues as the role of diaspora communities, remittances and development, forced migration and trafficking, as well as refugee crises and humanitarian responses. Theoretical frameworks will include issues of gender, inequality, and social justice. Credit: 3 semester hours.

172 Project Management for NGOs.

This course provides the theory and core methodology students will need to manage projects or participate effectively on project teams. The course uses the project life cycle as its organizing framework and topics cover the entire project management process, including project definition, planning, executing, and closing. Topics will include: basic project concepts and project selection, definition, organization structure, team building, communication and conflict management, planning methods and techniques, resource allocation, risk management, monitoring and control, and termination. Participants will complete a group project which involves preparing a project proposal for a "real-world" project of their choosing. Credit: 3 semester hours.

180 Media Strategy and the Politics of Peace Building

The first part of this course will focus on how communication and media are vehicles for human development, and communication as agent of social change; it will present various models of communication, and a particular emphasis will be on participatory model of communication. The second section of the course will seek apply the students' understanding of these models through a focus on the study of interactive methods for negotiation and mediation to resolve conflict. Students will be introduced to practical models of conflict resolution, such as workshops and multi-track mediation. The course will conclude by linking communications and development with broad approaches to social peace and community building. Credit: 3 semester hours.

190 Health Care Issues in Global Development

This course closely links health care with issues of culture, global development and social justice. Participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of global health problems and the state of health within their own countries. At the same time, they will get a comparative and global view of current applied solutions. Credit: 3 semester hours.

200: Integrating Seminar: The Art and Complexities of Development: Toward a new Model of Sustainability

This Integrating Seminar intends to focus on what students have learned during their studies, integrating what has been learned in each of the courses in the light of each student's own experiences, and the shared experiences of the entire class. During the Integrating Seminar, students will have the opportunity to present and discuss their capstone projects with each other, and with the professor who will be the Seminar leader. The goal is to arrive at an in-depth understanding of specific development issues researched and to identify strategic/structural solutions and alternative approaches. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Capstone Project

The goal of the required capstone project is to arrive an in-depth understanding of development issues or priorities a student has identified. That comprehensive understanding takes into account the data available on a specific issue or priority and the results of other studies that have been undertaken. Students are also expected to identify strategic / structural solutions or approaches to addressing the development issue or priority identified. Students may also choose to research in-depth and analyze one (or more) strategies that a nation, an international organization, or NGO has developed to address a development issue and priority, to assess that strategy, and to propose an alternate approach(es). Credit: 3 semester hours.

Department of Government and Politics (GOV)

Entrance Requirements

For admission to graduate studies in Government and Politics, students are expected to have an undergraduate preparation of at least 18 credits in Government and Politics (Political Science) and 3.0 G.P.A. Any deficiencies in preparation may require supplementary course work as a condition for admission, in the form of suitable graduate courses, as determined by the Department.

Programs of Study

Master of Arts

The department offers two options in the M.A. program:

- THESIS OPTION
- NON-THESIS OPTION

Program Requirements

Non-Thesis Option

- Gov 205
- 12 credits in the major concentration
- 3 credits. in Political Theory
- 6 credits in the minor concentration
- 9 credits in any field

Thesis Option

- Gov 205
- 12 credits in the major concentration
- 3 credits. in Political Theory
- 6 credits in the minor concentration
- 3 credits. in any field
- 6 credits of Masters Research (GOV 900)

Political Theory major and minor concentrations may substitute a course from any of the 4 other concentrations for the 3-credit Political Theory requirement.

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATIONS —

In order to register for the comprehensive examination, students must have completed a minimum of 24 credits with grades posted by the time of registering for the examination and be in the last semester of their program. Students pursuing a degree under either option are required to complete comprehensive examinations which test the student's knowledge in his/her field of concentration and in one minor field. To register for the exam, students must complete the Graduate Division application and meet with the Chair by the posted deadlines. Further information can be found under the section headed "comprehensive examination" in this bulletin.

Rome campus

The Department of Government and Politics offers students the opportunity to study for a semester or to complete their degree in International Relations and Comparative Politics in Rome, Italy. Students who apply to the Rome Campus will have to complete the same number of credits and requirements described in the International Relations concentration indicated in either the Non-Thesis or Thesis options above. The Rome Campus has quarters (7 weeks) instead of semesters (14 weeks) in Queens.

Certificate Programs

The department offers one certificate program in Public Administration (available only in Queens) and another in International Law and Diplomacy (available in Queens and Rome). Students may find one or both of these certificates useful in establishing evidence of completion of such courses for employment or other purposes. The certificates can be obtained independently or as a complement to the M.A. Students who have already completed their M.A. degree in the department may continue to study for the certificates.

Public Administration

Matriculated and special students who have successfully completed 18 semester hours in public administration (including GOV 215) will be issued a Certificate in Public Administration upon application to the department. GOV 215 is required for all students applying for the Certificate in Public Administration.

International Law and Diplomacy

Matriculated and special students who have successfully completed 18 semester hours of appropriate courses in international relations and comparative politics will be issued a Certificate in International Law and Diplomacy upon application to the department. A minimum of six of the 18 credit hours must be taken from International Law and Diplomacy courses (GOV 271, 341, 343, 344).

Combined Certificates

Students who desire to earn both the Certificate in Public Administration and the Certificate in International Law and Diplomacy may utilize six credits toward both certificates providing the courses are from among Government 188, 189, 290, 293 and 296. Thus, a total of 30 credits is the minimum needed to earn both certificates. Courses should be selected in consultation with an academic advisor.

Combined Degree Programs: Graduate

M.A./J.D. Program

In conjunction with the School of Law, the department offers a combined M.A./J.D. program. At the end of three years of graduate study, including at least one summer, students may graduate with both the Master of Arts and the Juris Doctor degree. To be eligible, students must apply for the combined degree program after having been accepted to both the Graduate and Law Schools.

Students must apply separately to the School of Law and the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences, and must meet all regular requirements for admission to both the School of Law and the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences as set forth in the respective school bulletins.

Students currently enrolled in the School of Law also may apply prior to completion of their second year of study. These students, however, may have to spend at least an additional semester of full-time M.A. study. Students currently enrolled in the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences may also apply for this combined degree program.

The Deans of both schools must approve the course of study for all students accepted to the M.A./J.D. program.

Students, in consultation with the M.A./J.D. Committee and the approval of the Dean of the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences, may apply up to nine credits taken as part of the Law School curriculum toward the M.A. degree. Alternately, in consultation with the M.A./J.D. Committee and the approval of the Dean of the School of Law, students may apply up to nine credits taken in the Department of Government and Politics toward credits required for the J.D. degree. These students, however, may have to spend at least one additional semester of full-time M.A. study.

In planning a course of study suitable for each student, the following shall apply:

1. Students will not enroll in any M.A. courses during their first year of study in the School of Law.
2. Satisfactory progress in the School of Law shall also satisfy the M.A. residency requirement.
3. Students will be obliged to take a total of at least three credits of government and Politics graduate study during each of the fall and spring semesters of their second year and third years of law school studies (12 credits minimum). Over two summers they may take 12 additional credits in Government.

4. All M.A./J.D. students must take the M.A. Comprehensive Examination in Government and Politics no earlier than the last semester of coursework and within one year of the completion of all coursework, language and residence requirements.

	J.D. Program	M.A. Program (Thesis)	M.A. Program (Non-thesis)
J.D. Credits	75	–	–
M.A. Credits	–	24	24
Credits toward both degrees	9 OR 9	9	9
Totals:	84	33	33

Students electing the thesis or non-thesis option will complete at least 108 semester hours for their combined degree program.

M.A./M.S. Program in Government and Politics/Library and Information Science

Under the administration of the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences, the Department of Government and Politics and the Division of Library and Information Science offer a joint program of study leading to the Master of Arts in Government and Politics and Master of Science in Library and Information Science degrees. Students complete a total of 57 credits (thesis or non-thesis) rather than the 66 credits (thesis or non-thesis) usually required.

The combination of the two masters programs will provide students with the opportunity to integrate two complementary bodies of knowledge: government and politics and library science. The graduate program in government and politics will supplement the graduate program in library science by broadening and deepening a student's understanding of the governmental structure, institutions, public administration and the political/legal processes, while at the same time mastering contemporary means of accessing and utilizing related information.

Admission Requirements

Students must meet the requirements of admission to both the Master of Arts in Government and Politics and the Master of Science in Library and Information Science programs as set forth in their respective sections of this bulletin.

Program

All M.A./M.S. students will complete curriculum requirements for each degree with four courses (12 credits) applying to both programs.

These exchange courses include:

GOV 205	Modern Political Research Concentration Course
LIS 251	Information Sources in the Social Sciences
LIS 265	Online Database Searching and Services

All students must complete written comprehensive examinations in both areas.

Department of History (HIS)

Faculty Advisor

Each student is assigned a faculty advisor who takes full charge of the student from admission to graduation. Students deal with the department through this faculty advisor in all matters. Program planning, registration for all courses, appointment of mentors, etc., must be made in consultation with this advisor in order to be approved by the department.

Programs of Study:

Master of Arts (M.A.)

Entrance Requirements

Acceptance into the M.A. program presupposes that the student has taken a minimum of 24 semester hours of appropriate undergraduate courses in history approved by the department and the Admissions Committee. Students lacking undergraduate preparation may correct this deficiency by taking additional courses approved by the department and the Committee. Students will not be accepted into the graduate program until all undergraduate deficiencies have been corrected.

Degree Requirements

- 1. Courses: A minimum of 33 semester hours in history. Prescribed courses include Modern Historical Research (HIS 401) and Global Historical Explanations (HIS 402). Students who elect to write a master's thesis must complete Master's Research (HIS 900, six credits). The remaining courses, to be arranged in consultation with the student's advisor, are to include a minimum of 18 credits in the area of concentration and for non-thesis students, a minimum of six credits of coursework taken in any one field outside of the area of concentration.
- 2. Language: A knowledge of a foreign language is required for students in the thesis program. This may be evidenced in a manner deemed appropriate by the department. The department may permit a substitution if it is pertinent to the field of research. Students in the non-thesis program are not required to demonstrate competency in a foreign language.
- 3. Comprehensive Examination: Master's comprehensive examinations may not be taken before the last semester of coursework. This test of the student's knowledge in the area of concentration consists of four hours of written and/or oral examination. In preparation, the student is directed to consult with the Graduate Director and his/her faculty advisor well in advance of the examination. The rules governing the application and administration of this examination are found in the section of this bulletin entitled "Comprehensive Examination."

* Some courses toward this degree may be offered on the Manhattan campus.

4. Thesis: Students electing to submit a thesis as part of the M.A. program must demonstrate an understanding and application of proper historical methods and present their findings clearly and in accordance with the University format.
5. Department Colloquia: As part of HIS 970 all students must attend scheduled departmental colloquia, where current historical topics are discussed by faculty, students, and outside guests.

Areas of Concentration

1. American History
2. European History
3. Global History
4. Women's and Gender History

Master of Arts (M.A.) in Public History

The two-year, 33-credit M.A. in Public History program consists of 24 credits in History, Museum Studies, and Archiv[al] Management, a 6-credit internship, and an additional 3-credit capstone project. Opportunities for service, internships or independent study are available at our New York campuses in Queens, Manhattan, and Staten Island as well as our locations in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France. Public History students may pursue coursework in both History and Library and Information Science through the interdisciplinary options offered through the innovative Public History, Archive and Museum Studies (PHMAS) program.

Acceptance into the M.A. in Public History program requires that a student has taken a minimum of 24 semester hours of appropriate undergraduate coursework in humanities and social science fields approved by the department and the Admissions Committee.

Students lacking undergraduate preparation may correct this deficiency by taking additional courses approved by the department and the Admissions Committee. Students will not be accepted into the graduate program until all undergraduate deficiencies have been corrected.

Degree Requirements

1. Courses: A minimum of 33 semester hours in History. A maximum of 12 credits may be substituted from Library and Information Science or another appropriate graduate program upon approval of the Graduate Director. Prescribed courses include Modern Historical Research (HIS 401), Introduction to Public History (HIS 500), Public History Internship (HIS 980), and Public History Final Project (HIS 981).

2. Portfolio: Submission and faculty review of a Digication Portfolio reflective of the capstone project.

3. Department Colloquia: All students must register and attend HIS 970.

Combined Degree Program

B.A./M.A. in History or Public History

The department offers an intensive, accelerated combined degree program leading to both the B.A. and M.A. degrees in five years of full-time study. Qualified undergraduate students who have completed their sophomore year with a 3.0 cumulative index and a 3.5 index for 12 credits in history are encouraged to apply. Students in the B.A./M.A. program matriculate for a total of 147 credits, 33 of which are on the graduate level. Students electing the thesis option must complete six credits of Master's Research. Students choosing the non-thesis option complete six credits in lieu of HIS 900. After completion of the B.A. requirements, students must enroll full time on the graduate level for the fifth year. For detailed information, consult the department Chair.

Doctor of Arts in Modern World History (D.A.)

The D.A. program in Modern World History is designed for teachers in four-year colleges, community colleges and secondary schools. It provides an interdisciplinary approach to the study of modern world history, focusing upon modernization and seeking to encourage global awareness in the teaching of history. This program emerged as a result of changes and problems encountered by higher education in the late 1960s, particularly because of the dissatisfaction with the training received by college teachers. In light of these considerations, a doctoral program with a different orientation emerged as an alternative for those who teach or planned to teach and oriented toward developing teaching competence in a broad subject area. The program includes a research component which has practical applicability in the classroom stressing academic and professional competence. The D.A. Program is solidly grounded in history and integrated with a variety of other disciplines, including anthropology, geography, philosophy, political science, religious studies and sociology. All courses in the academic areas have been designed to reflect this historical perspective.

Entrance Requirements

The following materials must be submitted with all applications:

1. Applicants must present evidence of successful completion of a B.A., with at least 24 credits in history. Applicants with graduate credits in history may apply for transfer credit or for advanced standing, as determined by the Admissions Committee. All academic transcripts should be submitted to provide verification of degree conferral, GPA and current coursework.
2. Applicants must present a cumulative index of 3.0 overall and a minimum of 3.5 in history courses.
3. Applicants must supply three letters of reference, at least one of which attests to the applicant's research ability, a recent sample of written work and a personal statement of professional experience and career goals.

Program Requirements

The D.A. requires completion of a minimum of 72 credits beyond the B.A. degree, distributed as follows:

1. Completion of 15 credits of 100–600 level history courses, including HIS 401. Students who enter the program with an M.A., including at least 15 graduate credits in history, are exempt from this requirement.
2. Completion of three required interdisciplinary seminars (nine credits), to be chosen from nine seminars (HIS 701-709).
3. Completion of 24 credits of 700 level courses.
4. Successful performance on a qualifying examination at the completion of 18 credits for those who enter with the M.A. and 33 credits. For those who enter with the B.A., to determine the student's eligibility to continue in the program. Students who elect or are advised to leave the program after satisfactory completion of this exam may request the M.A. be awarded upon completion of these credits and any other degree deficiencies.
5. Completion of 12 credits of professional skills courses (800s) in the teaching of history, including a three-credit Practicum (HIS 898 or 899). The Practicum is an occasion for discussion of current developments in teaching within the discipline, special classroom or curriculum issues and peer observation of classroom performance.
6. Completion of six credits of Teaching Internship (HIS 905; 906). The internship is a two-semester, six credit supervised teaching experience designed to enable the student to step confidently and competently into college-level teaching upon completion of the doctoral program. To this end, interns will receive intensive hands-on training under the close supervision of a faculty member from the department. No student will be permitted to register for the internship unless he/she has successfully passed the qualifying exam. Students who enter the program with permanent New York State certification (which requires two or more years of full-time teaching experience) are not required to take the six-credit internship, though they may elect to do so.

7. Demonstration of functional proficiency in a foreign language appropriate to the student's research. This proficiency may be demonstrated by 1) satisfactory scores on the ETS language exam, 2) completing successfully two semesters of reading courses in French or German offered by the Department of Languages and Literatures (French 0101-0102; German 0101-0102), or 3) a passing grade in a second-year college-level course in the appropriate language, as approved by the program advisor. This requirement must be satisfied before the student may apply for the comprehensive exam.
8. Successful completion of a comprehensive exam, to be taken only in the last semester of coursework and within one year of the completion of all coursework, language and residence requirements. This exam will cover the entire area of the candidate's field of study and consist of four hours of written examinations for each of the two sections of the principal academic area and four hours for the skills and methodology section – a total of 12 hours.
9. Completion of a minimum of six credits of Doctoral Research Essay (HIS 975) is required of all students until the research essay has been successfully defended. The Research Essay will include the successful writing and oral defense of a work of personal research on a historical topic preferably having an interdisciplinary dimension. The essay is designed to provide students the opportunity to display their competence in the historical/social science subject matter. In addition to evidence of knowledge of the subject matter, the research essay should manifest skills in teaching and evaluation and blend these either through original methods or novel instructional materials. Students are expected to select topics that applies their academic and practical learning to a specific problem related to their professional work. Doctoral candidates must defend the essay in a final oral exam before a faculty committee.

Other Requirements

1. Students working towards the D.A. must complete all requirements for the degree within seven years. Credit may be denied for courses completed more than seven years prior to the granting of the degree.
2. Students may seek admission to the program after having successfully completed some graduate work at another accredited institution. Students may request transfer of credit for this work provided it has not been offered in fulfillment of another degree. A maximum of six credits of graduate work, which meet degree requirements, will be accepted after the student has completed a minimum of 12 credits in the University. No credit will be allowed for courses in which the grade attained is below "B".
3. Before sitting for the comprehensive exam, students not registered in coursework or Doctoral Research must enroll in Maintaining Matriculation (HIS 930). After successful completion of the comprehensive examination, students must enroll in Doctoral Research Essay (HIS 975) until the research essay has been successfully defended.

Fellowships

University Doctor of Arts Fellowships, available to qualified part-time graduate students, provide tuition remission for two graduate courses in each semester of the academic year. Based on academic merit, recipients render no service and receive no stipend. Full-time students may also apply for University doctoral fellowships, which provide tuition remission, a stipend and require no service, or for doctoral fellowships which provide tuition remission, a stipend and require some weekly service to the department. To apply for these awards or to receive more information about them, prospective students should contact the Dean's office. Information concerning other types of financial aid and scholarships is contained in the portion of this bulletin entitled "Financial Aid."

Languages and Literatures

Programs of Study:

Master of Arts in Spanish

The Department of Languages and Literatures offers a program of graduate study in the literature, linguistics and civilization of the Hispanic world, taught entirely in Spanish, leading to the degree of Master of Arts. This specialized program is intended to prepare students for further scholarship, teaching at all levels or related careers. The department sponsors an ongoing series of lectures by prominent literary figures from both Spain and Latin America and the publication of the literary journal Anuario Medieval.

Epsilon Kappa, the St. John's Chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, the National Hispanic Honor Society, publishes a literary journal, Entre Rascacielos, to promote the creative works of students enrolled in the program.

In addition, the department offers reading courses in French and German for graduate students in other disciplines.

Entrance Requirements

At least 24 semester hours above the intermediate level of undergraduate work in languages, with 18 of these hours in Spanish. All classes are conducted in Spanish. All students must demonstrate proficiency in speaking, reading and writing Spanish. Any existing deficiency will subsequently have to be removed. In the case of foreign credentials, the 18-hour requirement will be met if the candidate holds a university degree from a Spanish-speaking country.

Program Requirements

Thesis: This option is a 33-credit program consisting of 27 credits of required coursework from among the five areas of concentration (a minimum of three credits in each area) listed below and six credits of Master's Research (SPA 900). Master's degree students with thesis option must demonstrate proficiency in a language other than Spanish. It is strongly recommended that such students have a reading knowledge of English, French, German, Italian, Portuguese or any other language pertinent to the topic of their thesis. The language of their choice must be approved by the thesis advisor and by the Graduate Director. This requirement may be satisfied by passing the Princeton ETS foreign-language examination or by an examination administered by the department. In lieu of the language examination, students may either take an undergraduate language course equivalent to a fourth semester (Language 4) or one of the department's graduate non-credit reading courses. It is suggested that this requirement be met in the semester prior to taking the comprehensive examination.

The thesis option is recommended for those students who wish to continue their graduate education beyond the master's degree and plan to enter a Ph.D. program.

Non-Thesis: This option is a 33-credit program consisting of coursework in all five areas of concentration listed below: a minimum of three credits from each division, plus 18 credits in course electives. However, it is strongly recommended that students take six credits from each of the five areas of concentration.

The non-thesis option is primarily designed for those students interested in teaching on the primary or secondary level or seeking immediate preparation for fields where a master's degree in Spanish is the recommended credential.

With appropriate counseling from the department, students should select their courses from the following five areas of concentration:

- (1) Linguistics (three/six credits)
- (2) Peninsular Literature before 1700 (three/six credits)
- (3) Peninsular Literature of the 18th, 19th and 20th Centuries (three/six credits)
- (4) Spanish-American Literature from Pre-Columbian through the 19th Century (three/six credits)
- (5) Spanish-American Literature from Modernismo to the Present (three/six credits)

The comprehensive examination required of all students must be taken within a year of the completion of all course requirements. This four-hour written examination will test their knowledge of the literature, linguistics and culture of Spain and Spanish America. The rules governing the application and administration of this examination are found under "Comprehensive Examination" in the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences section in this bulletin. The comprehensive examination may be given during the summer.

Combined Degree Program

B.A./M.A. in Spanish

The Department of Languages and Literatures offers an intensive, accelerated, combined degree program leading to both the B.A. and M.A. degrees in Spanish in five years of full-time study. Sophomores who have completed 12 credits in Spanish with a 3.5 or above index and with a minimum of 3.0 cumulative index, are encouraged to apply. After completion of the baccalaureate degree, the student must enroll full-time on the graduate level for the fifth year. For specific information, students may contact Marie-Lise Gazarian, Ph.D., Graduate Director, Master's Degree Program in Spanish at (718) 990-5209 or e-mail gazariam@stjohns.edu.

Financial Aid

Research assistantships, which include full tuition and a stipend, are available to qualified graduate students. In addition, New York State residents may be eligible for Tuition Assistance Program (TAP). State and Federal Loan Programs are also available.

Advanced Interdisciplinary Certificate on Latin American and Caribbean Studies

St. John's University's Committee on Latin American and Caribbean Studies (CLACS) offers a graduate-level interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary certificate for those students interested in disciplines and careers that deal with Latin America, the Caribbean, or Latinos in the U.S. Those careers include: diplomacy and international relations; banking; business; literature; education; health services and journalism.

Entrance and Program Requirements

An undergraduate degree from an accredited university with a minimum 3.0 GPA and two letters of recommendation are required.

A student can enroll in the multidisciplinary Certificate program by itself or in conjunction with another graduate program (e.g. M.A. in Spanish, Government, History, English, Sociology, Liberal Arts, MBA).

Students need 15 credits in three different disciplines or areas; a minimum of nine credits must be from those courses classified as core. A student could meet some of the credit requirements by taking courses in Latin American and Caribbean universities with which we have established agreements or in a Study Abroad program in a Latin American or Caribbean nation, with prior approval from the appropriate Dean or Chair.

Language proficiency in Spanish, Portuguese, or French must be demonstrated before completion of the program.

Upon completion of all coursework, as a final condition for receiving the Certificate, a student must submit to the Chair of CLACS a portfolio with the accumulated work accomplished during the program.

Students who complete the Certificate can go on to careers in government, NGOs, banking, business, journalism, teaching, and Ph.D. programs, among others.

Graduate research assistantships are available. For more information about the program, please contact: Dr. Alina Camacho-Gingerich, Chair of CLACS, at camachoa@stjohns.edu; tel (718) 990-1932 / 5829; or visit St. John Hall, Room B3A1 and 9.

For a complete listing of current courses applicable to the Certificate, please go to: www.stjohns.edu/clacs

Liberal Studies

Program of Study

The Master of Arts in Liberal Studies (M.A.L.S.) provides a multidisciplinary graduate opportunity to the intellectually curious through the study of interdisciplinary themes that draw from various academic disciplines.

There are four tracks in the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies:

1. Humanities
2. Social Science
3. Cultural Studies (includes the Concentration in Women's and Gender Studies)
4. Interdisciplinary Studies

The program is designed to provide a basis for a number of professional goals; it is not designed to duplicate or replace the specialized disciplinary training required for earning a Ph.D., though it is an excellent preparation for such training. This interdisciplinary program is designed to meet the needs of working professionals and others seeking entrance into doctoral programs.

Entrance Requirements

1. A Bachelor's Degree in any area, with an overall GPA of 3.0
2. A brief personal essay describing the student's academic goals and areas of intellectual interest
3. Six credit hours in the area of concentration
4. For the Humanities track, a total of 18 credits from English or history; for the Social Science track, a total of 18 credit hours from anthropology, economics, history, government and politics, psychology, or sociology; for the Cultural Studies track, a total of 18 credit hours from anthropology, sociology, English, Area Studies (Latin America, Asian, Middle Eastern, African, etc.) history, philosophy and ethnic/gender studies; see below; for Interdisciplinary Studies, a sufficient number of credits in the relevant disciplines, as determined by the Director.
5. Two letters of recommendations from persons who can attest to the student's ability to undertake graduate studies.

Program Requirements

Each student selects an interdisciplinary track: Humanities, Social Science, Cultural Studies, or Innovative Research.

If Humanities is selected, the student chooses an area of concentration—either history or literature. The student completes five courses in his or her area of concentration and two courses each from the two cognate disciplines. The student also takes introductory and integrating seminars in the humanities. A total of 11 courses is taken.

If Social Science is selected, the student chooses an area of concentration—either economics, history, government and politics, psychology or sociology. The student takes five courses in his or her area of concentration and two courses from any two cognate disciplines. The student also takes introductory and integrating seminars in the social sciences. A total of 11 courses is taken.

If Cultural Studies is selected, the student takes five courses from a list of courses dealing with the anthropological and cultural themes and four courses in cultural areas and topics. These include but are not limited to Latin America, Far Eastern Cultures, Eastern Europe, Africa and the Middle East. The student also takes introductory and integrating seminars in Cultural Studies. A total of 11 courses is taken.

If Interdisciplinary Studies is selected, the student consults with the program Director about the theme of the proposed program (as well as faculty in the relevant areas). The program Director must approve the proposed program. The student takes courses from his or her area of concentration and courses from at least two other areas of determined to be relevant to the proposed research project. The student also takes an introductory and integrating seminar in the appropriate area.

Every student must complete a Capstone project in the M.A.L.S. track he/she has selected.

Special Students

Special students, enrolling for the first time, must submit transcripts of all prior academic work, undergraduate and graduate and complete the appropriate forms. Only those students who are qualified and possess the necessary background are permitted to enroll in graduate courses. Special students must have the permission of the department/division and the Dean to register. Special students may enroll for no more than six credits of coursework each semester for a maximum total of 12 credits. If an applicant who has taken courses as a special student is accepted for matriculation, the Dean determines which credits taken as special students are credited toward the program. In any case, no more than 12 credits completed as a special student may be applied toward a degree program

Transfer of Credit

In graduate programs requiring the completion of 30–36 credits, a maximum of six credits may be transferred with the approval of the Dean. No transfer credits are permitted for students in the Global Development and Social Justice track.

Requested transfer credits must not have already been used in fulfillment of another degree. The student must present catalog descriptions of the graduate courses for which transfer credit is requested. No credit is allowed for courses in which the grade attained is below "B". Transfer grades do not affect cumulative quality points. In addition, no degree credit is allowed for courses completed beyond the stipulated time limit ("Time Limit"). Students requesting transfer credit must have already completed at least 12 credits in their approved graduate program at St. John's University.

Courses

Departments strive for accuracy with regard to the scheduling of courses. They reserve the right, however, to alter the schedule as needs may dictate. Moreover, the Dean maintains the right to cancel courses when deemed necessary.

MLS 100 Introductory Seminar in Liberal Studies

Directed reading and discussion of representative works which have had a significant influence in the various areas in liberal studies. This course introduces issues in the humanities, social sciences and cultural studies.

MLS 200 Integrating Seminar in Liberal Studies

The capstone project is the focus of this seminar, taught by faculty members from one of the liberal studies tracks. The capstone project proposal must be approved by the student's faculty mentor and the Program Director.

MLS 204 Independent Research in Liberal Arts

Under the supervision of a faculty mentor, the student will prepare a research proposal, and submit it to the program director for approval. All proposals must be approved by the Director.

For a complete listing of current courses applicable to the M.A. in Liberal Studies, please go to:

www.stjohns.edu/liberalstudies/masters

Division of Library and Information Science (DLIS)

The Division of Library and Information Science (DLIS) offers programs of study leading to the Master of Science in Library Science and Information Science degree, double master's programs with the Departments of Government and Politics and Pharmaceutical Sciences and the Advanced Certificate in Library and Information Studies.

Accreditation

The graduate program in library and information science leading to the M.S. degree is accredited by the American Library Association and the curriculum has been registered and approved by the New York State Education Department.

Programs of Study

Master of Library Science

The M.S. degree program is suitable for students interested in many different types of libraries, including law, public, academic, school and special libraries as well as archives and information centers. There are six core courses and other requirements which must be selected in consultation with the student's advisor. The student completes the program by completing 12 courses, and passing a comprehensive exam and presenting a successful e-portfolio.

Persons who have the M.S. degree and wish to update their professional education may pursue an Advanced Certificate. The program is custom-designed for each student's specific needs.

Entrance Requirements

Applicants seeking admission to the M.S. program must submit the following evidence of their ability to pursue graduate study in library and information science:

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. Their undergraduate scholastic achievement must be such as to give reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally, this will be a "B" (3.0) both in the general average and in the major field.

Applicants intending to meet New York State Education Department requirements for certification as School Librarian must also present evidence of having completed a mandated sequence of coursework in the liberal arts and sciences and in pedagogy. Students not fulfilling all of these prerequisites may be required to complete additional courses in order to meet the qualifications for certification. A list of these courses will be provided to interested applicants.

2. Two letters of recommendation from instructors, librarians or equivalent.
3. A personal interview with the Director or a designated member of the faculty.
4. A statement of professional goals must be submitted by the applicant.
5. Applicants with degrees from foreign academic institutions may be admitted into the Library and Information Science program provided they meet the University and Division admission requirements.

Even after admission, students may not commence coursework toward the degree until the university determines that they are ready to handle writing and discussion in English at a graduate level.

General Degree Requirements

The M.S. degree program requires all students to satisfy the following:

1. Completion of 36 credits with a minimum of a "B" (3.0) average.
2. Continuous enrollment and completion of all requirements within a period not to exceed five years.
3. Successful completion of a written comprehensive examination and defense of a digital portfolio. The rules governing the application and administration of the examination are found under "Comprehensive Examination" in the Graduate Division of Arts and Sciences section in this bulletin.

Note: Up to six credits may be taken outside the Division with the permission of the Director (Not applicable to students seeking School Librarian certification.)

Course Requirements

1. Completion of all courses: 203, 204, 205, 211, 239 and 240.
2. In collaboration with their advisor, students are required to select a concentration after the completion of 6 graduate credits in Library and Information Science. A list of concentrations and required coursework is available on the Division of Library and Information Science web site.

School Librarianship Requirements

The M.S. with a concentration in School Librarianship prepares qualified professionals to teach, research, analyze, produce and supervise the teaching/learning process of a school's library program. It qualifies students for New York State School Librarian certification.

In order to qualify for New York State initial and professional certification as a School Librarian, the student will complete the following:

1. The 36-credit School Librarianship Program of the Division of Library and Information Science, approved by the New York State Department of Education;
2. Observation of school libraries (100) hours;
3. Supervised internship (LIS 269A; 269C);
4. Successfully pass the state-mandated competency test;
5. Complete a two-hour course in each of the following areas: a) recognition and reporting of child abuse and b) school violence intervention and prevention; and
6. Submit to fingerprinting and criminal history background check as required by the Safe Schools Against Violence in Education Act.

The School Librarianship program consists of core courses, specialization and internship.

1. The core consists of 203, 204, 205, 211 and 239 (15 credits).
2. Specialization courses include 121, 126, 217, 234 and 261 (15 credits).
3. The six credits of internship are completed at the adolescent/secondary (LIS 269A) and childhood/elementary (LIS 269C) levels.

Combined Degrees

M.A./M.S. Program in Government and Politics/Library and Information Science

Under the administration of the Graduate Division of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the Department of Government and Politics and the Division of Library and Information Science offer a joint program of study leading to the Master of Arts in Government and Politics and Master of Science in Library and Information Science degrees. Students complete a total of 57 credits rather than 66 credits required if both degrees are pursued separately.

The combination of the two graduate programs provides students with the opportunity to integrate two complementary bodies of knowledge: government and politics and library science. The graduate program in government and politics supplements the graduate program in library science by broadening and deepening a student's understanding of the governmental structure, institutions, public administration and the political/legal processes, while at the same time mastering contemporary means of accessing and utilizing related information.

Entrance Requirements

Students must meet the requirements of admission to both the Master of Arts in Government and Politics and the Master of Library Science programs as set forth in their respective sections of this bulletin.

Program Requirements

All M.A./M.S. students will complete curriculum requirements for each degree with four courses (12 credits) applying to both programs. These exchange courses include:

GOV 205	Modern Political Research
GOV	Concentration Course
LIS 210	Government Information Sources
LIS 265	Online Database Searching and Services

All students must complete written comprehensive examinations in both areas.

M.S./M.S. Pharmaceutical Sciences/ Library Information Science

The Division of Library and Information Science and the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences offer a joint program of study leading to the M.S. and the M.S. degrees. Students complete a total of 57 credits including 24 semester hours in Library and Information Science, 21 semester hours in Pharmaceutical Sciences and 12 exchange credits. The recipient of the M.S. Pharmaceutical Sciences/M.S. degree will acquire expertise necessary for a career in pharmaceutical/health science libraries and information centers located in research facilities, hospitals and pharmaceutical companies. Students must meet the requirements of admission to both M.S. programs as set forth in their respective sections of this bulletin. Due to curriculum revisions, prospective students are encouraged to contact the division for information.

Advanced Certificate: Library and Information Science

The Advanced Certificate program provides an opportunity for practicing librarians and information specialists to update their skills by completing advanced coursework tailored to their professional interests and needs. In consultation with an advisor, professionals select courses in areas as diverse as digital libraries, information ethics, language structure and thesaurus development, legal information, telecommunications technology and policy, preservation technology and metadata for information professionals. The program offers a multidisciplinary approach geared to the individual student by drawing upon related courses from other units of the University. Credits may be elected from outside the division but within the University in a related subject area.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must submit evidence of having completed the M.S. degree, from an ALA-accredited program or its equivalent in other countries, a personal statement and two letters of recommendation.

Certifications

School Librarian

In order to qualify for certification as a School Librarian (K–12) from the New York State Education Department (NYSED), a student must complete the M.S. degree following the School Librarianship Program outlined in this bulletin. This includes all academic coursework, field-experience, internship, testing, external courses and background check/fingerprinting mandates. With the completion of all requirements, the application to NYSED may be submitted.

Librarians seeking NYSED School Librarian certification who have received the M.S. degree either from St. John's or from another ALA-accredited institution but who have not completed the approved program should contact the department for information and credentials analysis.

Certification for Public Librarians in New York State

The Professional Certificate will be issued by New York State to St. John's graduates who provide proof of completion of the M.S. degree. There is a fee for the certificate which must be included with application. For details visit the New York State Library web site at <http://www.nysl.nysed.gov/libdev/cert/>

Experiential Learning

The M.S. program faculty encourage students to explore the profession in an experiential, hands-on approach that complements the theoretical base fostered through readings, research and class discussion. To that end, service-learning activities, field trips and individually arranged site visits are required components of many courses and are expected of all students.

Internships

Field experience is available as part of non-credit or credit-bearing internships. A student may elect to complete an informal, voluntary position within a library, archive, or information center in order to observe and/or participate in the activities of the profession. A paid, compensated position may not double as an internship. Credit-bearing internships are encouraged of all students and are required of those pursuing a concentration leading to School Librarian certification.

Students who complete an internship experience for academic credit register for respective course(s) according to their interest and area of concentration.

Interested students are required to meet with the Internship Coordinator the semester prior to registering for an internship course in order for the field site to be approved and the paperwork completed. The student must be academically eligible in order for the placement to be approved (i.e., all prerequisites must have been satisfied prior to registration). The internship must be completed under the direction of a certified, professionally qualified site supervisor whose credentials have been approved by the Internship Coordinator. All interns are required to complete course paperwork as assigned and attend on-campus meetings as scheduled.

Financial Aid

Qualified graduate library and Information Science students are eligible for assistantships which include tuition remission and a stipend; these assistantships are awarded for service to the division and the libraries of the University, including the Law Library, the Loretto Memorial Library in Staten Island and the main Library on the Queens campus. The Division also offers the Rev. Brian O'Connell Scholarship to all students who received a 3.4 or higher GPA on a 4.0 scale for their most recently completed degree program.

Student Assistance

Advising

Each graduate student admitted to the division is assigned an academic advisor from the full-time faculty who should be retained by the student unless he/she elects to change advisors because of professional interest. The advisor must be consulted at least once a semester (prior to pre-registration) to ensure the most effective choice of courses.

Placement

The division regularly provides information on employment opportunities via the student listserv and postings in the department.

Types of placement opportunities include:

- Information Industry
- Information Organization
- Legal Information Services
- Children's Services
- Administration and Management
- College and University Librarianship
- Library Systems and Automation
- Community Information Services
- Library Technical Services
- Corporate Information Services
- Online Searching and Services
- Public Library Services
- Health Information Services
- Publishing
- Indexing and Abstracting
- Young Adult Services

Alumni Organizations

Graduates of the Division of Library and Information Science are automatically eligible for membership in the Alumni Association. Alumni serve on division committees and may sponsor such activities as the William A. Gillard lecture.

Beta Phi Mu

Graduates of the Division of Library and Information Science with a superior record and recommended by the Director are eligible for membership in Beta Phi Mu.

Courses

Detailed course descriptions are available on the Division of Library and Information Science web site: www.stjohns.edu/dlis.

Required Core Courses

203 Information Organization

Theories, systems, and practices of information organization. Emphasis is on understanding the basic function of library catalogs, indexes, metadata, finding aids and internet search engines. Credit: 3 semester hours.

204 Introduction to Library & Information Science

A survey of the field including theory and practice, historical trends/developments, computer-based and other information systems and societal concerns. Must be taken as one of the first two courses. Credit: 3 semester hours.

205 Information Sources & Services

Scope, organization and evaluation of reference sources and services, with emphasis on information use and retrieval in a virtual environment and contemporary models of service delivery. Credit: 3 semester hours.

211 Collection Development & Management of Knowledge Resources

Prerequisite: LIS 204. Philosophy and methods of managing collections in physical and virtual libraries, with emphasis on assessing and meeting information needs. May include a service learning requirement. Credit: 3 semester hours.

239 Research & Evaluation Methods

Social science research methods applicable to program evaluation and library and information science research; topics include research ethics, research design, literature reviews, data analysis, and reporting research to general and specialized users. Credit: 3 semester hours.

240 Management of Libraries & Information Centers

Leadership and management principles relating to the operation of libraries and other information enterprises. Leading, planning, evaluating, staffing, housing, equipping, and financing. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Elective Courses

121 Literature & Related Resources for Children

A survey of books and other materials for children, with emphasis on selection criteria, developing evaluation skills, familiarity with award-winning titles and book presentation. Requires fieldwork. Credit: 3 semester hours.

125 Library Materials & Services for Young Children

Materials and services for the young child (infant through preschool), Theories underlying services. Selection, analysis and presentation of books, and other appropriate materials. Requires fieldwork. Credit: 3 semester hours.

126 Literature & Related Resources for Young Adults

A survey of books and other materials for young adults, with emphasis on selection criteria, developing evaluation skills, familiarity with award-winning titles and book presentation. Requires fieldwork. Credit: 3 semester hours.

127 Library Services for Children and Young Adults

Serving children in the public library, with emphasis on user needs, storytelling and book talk skills, programming, information services, policies and guidelines, and maintaining collections. Requires fieldwork. Credit: 3 semester hours.

153 Information Sources in Religion

Reference works, Internet sources, publishing, and libraries in the field of religion. Treatment of religion in general information sources; specialized concordances, bibliographies, indexes. Credit: 3 semester hours.

210 Government Information Sources

Prerequisite: LIS 205. Government information resources at the local, state, national, and international levels. Selection, organization, and dissemination; changes in distribution policies and format. Credit: 3 semester hours.

213 Popular Culture and the Young Adult

An exploration of contemporary, popular entertainment media oriented toward and accepted by adolescents, with emphasis on film, television, music, magazines, and the Internet. Credit: 3 semester hours.

217 Multimedia & Technology Resources for School Media Centers

Prerequisites: LIS 204, 205, 261. The knowledge and skills to select, plan, produce, and implement various forms of multimedia and technology in the educational process in order to deliver effective academic programs K-12. Credit: 3 semester hours.

220 Law and Libraries

Explores the legal issues affecting libraries, the relevant law and its sources, the implications for libraries and others, and how to research and analyze them. Credit: 3 semester hours.

221 Planning and Delivering Information Literacy Programs

Theory and practice of user education with emphasis on developing information literacy programs. Standards, guidelines, instructional models, effective pedagogical techniques, collaboration and assessment. Planning, delivery and evaluation of instructional programs designed to develop lifelong information literacy skills. Credit: 3 semester hours.

222 Materials & Services to Diverse Populations

Information needs of diverse populations, including the aged, illiterate, individuals with disabilities, and racial, ethnic, and linguistic minorities. Credit: 3 semester hours.

223 Preservation Technology in Library & Information Science

Preservation techniques for materials in collections; basic structure and weaknesses; diagnostic and treatment practices; application of appropriate and creative solutions to preservation problems. Credit: 3 semester hours.

224 Language Structure & Thesaurus Development

Applied linguistics for information organization and retrieval, with focus on the design of structured controlled vocabularies (thesauri) for indexing and searching. Credit: 3 semester hours.

225 Classification Schemes & Information Architecture

Classification schemes for arrangement of physical and virtual collections; distinctions between classification and categorization and folk taxonomies. Analysis and design of information architecture of Web sites. Credit: 3 semester hours.

226 Literature and Related Resources for Young Adults

A survey of books and other materials for young adults, with emphasis on applying selection criteria and developing evaluation skills. Credit: 3 semester hours.

228 Indexing and Abstracting

Prerequisites: LIS 203 or 204. Theory/methods of information analysis for retrieval. Subject analysis, abstract preparation, vocabulary control methods/devices, specialized systems, machine-aided and automated indexing. Credit: 3 semester hours.

229 Computer Programming Applications for Library and Information Science

The fundamentals of designing 'large' computing applications are discussed. The application design topics included are requirements analysis, business rules, design models, and user interface design. An introduction to computer programming concepts is p
Credit: 3 semester hours.

230 Introduction to Digital Libraries

The contextual framework for digital libraries including the creation, structure, access and use of digital information. Analysis of digital library projects. Credit: 3 semester hours.

231 College & University Libraries

Academic library administration, planning, staffing, and evaluation. The history of higher education and the college library in the U.S. The impact of demographic and social changes on the provision of service. Credit: 3 semester hours.

232 Special Libraries & Information Centers

The goals, organization, operation, environment, functions, and services of special libraries/information centers; collection issues, user services, management, and marketing. Credit: 3 semester hours.

233 Public Libraries & Community Information Centers

The objectives, organization, and services of contemporary public libraries, including the ways in which they serve diverse communities and reach underserved populations Field trips may be required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

234 School Library Management

Prerequisites: LIS 204, 205, 211. Administration of the academic program, services, collection, staff, and budget of the school library media center. Planning, research, and evaluation methods for compliance with state and national standards. Credit: 3 semester hours.

236 Systems Analysis & Library Automation

Design, selection, implementation and management of automated library systems, including integrated systems for acquisitions, cataloging, circulation, and management of information resources. Credit: 3 semester hours.

237 Metadata for Information Professionals

Metadata applications in a variety of information environments, libraries, archives, museums, and information centers. Major metadata schemes, encoding standards, and structures. Credit: 3 semester hours.

238 Web Design for Libraries & Information Centers

An information architecture approach to the design of web sites for large enterprises. Topics include information content, organization, labeling, navigation, searching, usability, and accessibility. Credit: 3 semester hours.

243 Law Library Administration

Law library administration from strategic and short-term planning to budgeting, personnel management, facilities planning, CLE and record management, organizational structures and technology integration. Issues will be examined from academic, corporate and private law firm perspectives. Credit: 3 semester hours.

245 Special Collections Librarianship & History of the Book: Principles and Practices

The organization, administration, service, and care of special collections, with an emphasis on rare books. The history of books and printing, non-book formats, donor relations and collecting, conservation and preservation, ethics, access, security, exhibitions and digitization. Requires fieldwork. Credit: 3 semester hours.

246 Practical Conservation & Preservation of Library Materials

A practical approach to the principles and applications of conservation and preservation of library materials as daily functions of library management, including digital techniques. Credit: 3 semester hours.

247 Networks in Library & Information Science

Introduction to the tools, resources, and information systems available through networks linked by the Internet. Network architecture, local area networks and bibliographical utilities are explored. Credit: 3 semester hours.

248 Database Applications, Modeling & Design

The fundamental concepts and issues of database management systems. Topics include entity and relationship modeling, SQL, relational database design, data integrity, and XML. Credit: 3 semester hours.

249 Archives & Manuscripts: Basic Functions & Current Issues

Management of archives and manuscript repositories, including basic functions and skills required of an archivist or curator of manuscripts as well as current issues and topics. Credit: 3 semester hours.

250 Information Sources in the Arts & Humanities

Prerequisite: 205. Evaluation, selection and use of print and electronic (esp. digitized) resources in the arts and humanities (philosophy, religion, literature, the fine arts, the performing arts, and film). Credit: 3 semester hours.

251 Information Sources in the Social & Behavioral Sciences

Prerequisite: 205. Evaluation, selection, and use of print and electronic resources in the social and behavioral sciences (sociology, history, government, education, psychology, anthropology, business, economics). Credit: 3 semester hours.

252 Information Sources in Science & Technology

Prerequisite: 205. The structure and literature of scientific and technical communication. Print and electronic references are examined. A background in the sciences is not required or assumed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

253 Oral History

Introduction to the theory and practice of oral history. Major topics include the ideological content of speech and storytelling, the role of class and ethnicity, the ethics of scholarly intrusion, and the use of technology. Credit: 3 semester hours.

254 Legal Research

Prerequisite: LIS 205. Basic tools and techniques of legal research using electronic and print sources. Primary and secondary sources of law; deciphering of citations; finding legal and business-related materials with cost-efficient techniques. Credit: 3 semester hours.

255 Advanced Legal Research

Prerequisite: LIS 254. Complex legal research problems such as corporate research; patent prosecution, international and foreign law research; coordinated approaches to tax research, labor and employment law. Advanced WESTLAW, LEXIS and BLOOMBERG LAW training. Credit: 3 semester hours.

256 Medical Information & Librarianship

Prerequisite: LIS 205. Major reference works and Internet resources in health sciences as well the administration and organization of medical libraries, with emphasis on the databases of the National Library of Medicine. Credit: 3 semester hours.

260 Information Use and Users

Prerequisite: LIS 204. Survey/seminar on how LIS practitioners and researchers seek to understand user information needs/behaviors. Emphasis on theories of user needs and information use. Populations discussed include children, business managers, attorneys, scientists, university students, general researchers, and consumers. Credit: 3 semester hours.

261 Information Sources and Services for Children & Young Adults

Non-fiction and reference sources and services in school and public libraries as they relate to curriculum support and information literacy. Focus on the child as reference interview participant/learner. Credit: 3 semester hours.

262 Advanced Information Sources & Services

Prerequisite: 205. In-depth examination of reference sources and services. Emphasis on the historical and continuing role of print resources; e-reference; impact of Google; information behavior, and information literacy. Credit: 3 semester hours.

263 Information Ethics

The ethical challenges experienced by information providers in the past and present: possible ethical dilemmas of the digital future. How information providers make choices in a variety of contexts. Credit: 3 semester hours.

265 Online Database Searching

Prerequisite: 205. Study and use of online bibliographic databases in a wide variety of subject areas. Emphasis is on appropriate database selection, search strategies, and information delivery modes. Credit: 3 semester hours.

267 Information Sources in Business & Economics

Prerequisite: LIS 205. Print and electronic information resources and services in business, economics, finance, and related literature. Organization, administration, and services of business libraries/ information centers. Credit: 3 semester hours.

269 Internship

Prerequisites: All required courses and preferably all courses in the concentration. A supervised professional experience combining theory and practice in a library or information center. Meetings and reports required; may be taken for a total of six credits. Credit: 1, 2, or 3 semester hours.

269A School Media Center Internship: Adolescent

Prerequisites: All courses and field experience A supervised professional experience combining theory and practice in a 7-12 school library media center. Meetings of participants are held and reports required. Credit: 3 semester hours. each semester.

269C School Media Center Internship: Childhood

Prerequisites: All courses and field experience A supervised professional experience combining theory and practice in a K-6 school library media center. Meetings of participants are held and reports required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

270 Colloquia

Current issues and trends in library and information science as well as other topics of current interest are presented by prominent outside speakers, alumni, and members of the faculty. No credit.

271 Special Topics in Library & Information Studies

A special topic on an issue not normally covered in the MLS curriculum will be examined in-depth. The format will depend upon the topic to be covered. Offered occasionally. Credit: 3 semester hours.

272 Exploring New York Libraries

Field trips to outstanding libraries of the New York metropolitan area that embody exceptional service, architecture, technology, and collections. Final project is required. Summer course. Credit: 3 semester hours.

280 Telecommunications Technology and Policy

An introduction to telecommunications applicable to library and information studies emphasizing such topics as communications hardware, data transmission, and network policies (including federal regulation of the industry). Credit: 3 semester hours.

281 Competitive Intelligence

Monitoring the external environment to obtain and use primary and secondary information that is relevant for the institutional decision-making process. Identification, selection, collection, interpretation and distribution of information with strategic importance. Credit: 3 semester hours.

282 Knowledge Management

The process and practice of facilitating the generation, sharing, acquisition and application of knowledge in an organization; dissemination according to needs and preferences of stakeholders. Credit: 3 semester hours.

283 Social Justice in the Information Professions

Graduate seminar. Topics focus on the relationship between information access and human development. Emphasis placed on critically examining information policies and services (i.e., reference, cataloging, collection development, information access, user studies, e-citizenship, evaluation) in light of relevant elements of the the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (United Nations, 1948), multiple social justice theories, and social activism trends in the information professions. Credit: 3 semester hours.

901 Special Research & Projects I902 Special Research & Projects II

The formal presentation of a research paper or project (survey, history, bibliographic essay, etc.) resulting from investigation of a problem under the direction of a member of the faculty. Credit: 3 semester hours.

925 Maintaining Matriculation

Master's students who are not registered for other courses must register for 925 until degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. Fall-Spring only. No credit. Fee: $100

300 Field Experience

Prerequisites: All required courses and preferably all courses in the concentration. Fieldwork involving observation of professional activities in a library, information center, or archive setting. Resulting in a project that addresses an issue in the field. Credit: 1 semester hour.

302 Genealogical Sources & Services

Prerequisite: 205. Sources and services to assist patrons with genealogical research. Research methodology, conducting the reference interview, and the use and evaluation of print and electronic resources. Credit: 1 semester hour. 3 semester hours.

303 Dublin Core Metadata

Prerequisite: LIS 203. Goals, major concepts, and elements relating to the application of Dublin Core Metadata for information organization. Schemes, encoding standards, functions, syntax, content, and structure. Credit: 1 semester hour.

304 Librarian as Teacher

Prerequisite: LIS 205. The role of the librarian as teacher; knowledge and skills necessary for instruction and training in library and information settings. Issues and strategies for effective instruction. Credit: 3 semester hours.

305 Online Reference Service

Prerequisite: LIS 205. Electronic reference: email and chat services. Special circumstances, policies/practices, copyright concerns, development of online training modules Participation in mock chat and email reference required. Credit: 1 semester hour.

308 Book Index Structures: In Print & on the Web

Prerequisite: LIS 204 or 203. Preparation of book indexes, covering indexable matter, structure of index entries, cross references, filing, format, and indexer-publisher relations. Manual and computer-assisted techniques. Credit: 1 semester hour.

309 Case Studies in Librarianship

Prerequisites: LIS 204, 205, 211, and a management course. Problem-solving and decision-making strategies through the use of case studies addressing issues germane to public, academic and special libraries as well as archives and other information centers. Credit: 1 semester hour.

999A School Library Media Field Experience: Adolescent
999C School Library Media Field Experience: Childhood

Individual and group supervised observation and participation in approved school settings providing interaction with students, parents, teachers and other school personnel under the guidance of certified school media specialists. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Department of Psychology (PSY)

The Department of Psychology offers a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) program in Clinical Psychology, a Master of Arts (M.A.) program in General-Experimental Psychology and Master of Science (M.S.) and Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) programs in School Psychology. The Ph.D. program in Clinical Psychology is fully accredited by the American Psychological Association. The Ph.D. program in Clinical Psychology offers two tracks of study: a general course of study in clinical psychology (General track) and a subspecialty track which offers advanced training in clinical child psychology (Clinical Child track). The M.S. and Psy.D. programs in School Psychology also offer two tracks of study: a general course of study in School Psychology (General track) and a subspecialty track in bilingual school psychology (Bilingual track).

General Admission Requirements

Admissions to the Ph.D., Psy.D. and M.S. programs are for the Fall semester only. Applications for Fall admissions must be completed as follows:

Ph.D., January 15

Psy.D., January 15

M.S., May 1

Applications to the M.A. program are accepted throughout the year. Admissions to the M.A. program are for the fall and spring semesters. Students admitted in the Spring semester are limited to six credits for that semester because most subject areas are covered in one-year course sequences.

Applicants for all degree programs must:

1. Possess a baccalaureate degree.
2. Satisfy the department that his or her undergraduate preparation indicates a high potential for successful advanced study in psychology.
3. Submit transcripts of undergraduate and any prior graduate work.
4. Have completed a minimum of 24 undergraduate credits in psychology, including courses in Introductory Psychology, Statistics and a laboratory course.
5. Submit three to five letters of recommendation, one of which must be from an individual who will address the matter of the applicant's research potential.
6. Submit two papers from psychology courses: one a laboratory paper and one a term paper.
7. Provide a clearly written statement of educational and professional goals.

Applicants for the Ph.D., Psy.D. and M.S. programs must submit acceptable scores from the Graduate Record Examinations (Verbal and Quantitative). Applicants who did not either major in psychology or complete a graduate degree in psychology must also submit acceptable scores on the subject (Psychology) section of the Graduate Record Examination. In addition, one or more interviews by the departmental admissions committee may be requested of applicants to the Ph.D., Psy.D. and M.S. programs.

Those students currently matriculated for a master's degree at St. John's University who are interested in the University's doctoral programs must follow the procedure outlined for new applicants. Students accepted for admission to a doctoral program with any course deficiencies must remove these deficiencies prior to matriculation. Students accepted for admission to a master's program with any course deficiencies should attempt to make up these deficiencies prior to starting the program; however, it is possible to make up certain deficiencies within the first year of graduate work. Deficiencies may be completed during the summer preceding matriculation by enrolling in appropriate undergraduate or 100-level courses. Credit toward the degree will not be awarded for any courses used to remove deficiencies.

The Ph.D. program in Clinical Psychology requires that students maintain full-time status for the duration of the program. Although full-time status is preferred for all other programs, the Psy.D., M.S. and M.A. program may be undertaken on a part-time basis with a minimum of six credits per semester.

Programs of Study

Clinical Psychology Doctoral Program

General Program Requirements

The Doctoral Program in Clinical Psychology requires four years of full-time coursework and practicum experience in addition to successful completion of a comprehensive examination, clinical internship, Master's thesis and dissertation (PSY 950, Doctoral Research). Students are evaluated after completing each level to determine their eligibility to progress to the next level.

The program is designed to provide a logical progression of coursework over year I-IV. The first two levels are directed at imparting the basic principles and skills in assessment, statistics, foundations, psychotherapy and research methodology. The student is expected to submit a dissertation proposal for approval during year III; mentor approval of the proposal is required prior to submission of internship applications. The student's progress toward completion of the dissertation requirement will be evaluated each semester; failure to make satisfactory progress may result in termination from the program.

Students begin their clinical practicum training during Levels I-II at our training clinic, the St. John's University Center for Psychological Services. During Levels III and IV there is further development of various clinical skills through concentrated work in clinical externship settings and related coursework and continuation of clinic practicum work at our training clinic. The comprehensive examination must be taken in the Summer preceding Level IV. Students will be afforded two opportunities to pass the examination and successful completion of the exam is required for continuation in the program. Upon passing the exam, the student must register for Doctoral Research (PSY 950, 3 credits.) in the spring of Level IV and each semester thereafter.

The fifth year of the program is normally devoted to a full-time clinical internship which has been approved by the department. During the internship year, the student must register for PSY 903 and PSY 904 (which carry no academic credit) and PSY 950 (1 credit). There is a charge of $100 per semester for PSY 903 and PSY 904. Instead of embarking on an internship during the fifth year, students may elect to work toward completing their dissertation research and defer their internships for a year. Clinical child track students must complete an approved internship that has a substantial concentration in clinical work with children, adolescents or families.

Students elect, at the point of application to the program, one of two tracks of study within the Clinical Psychology program in which they can pursue more concentrated training opportunities: (1) the general track; or (2) the clinical child track. Students in either track of study may take additional (elective) coursework from among the required courses offered in the other track.

The Master of Arts (M.A.) in Clinical Psychology will be awarded upon successful completion of the Master's thesis, as well as successful completion of all course work required during the first two years of the program of study, and meeting all established deadlines set by the Graduate Division of St. John's College. Students meeting these requirements must apply to the Graduate Division of St. John's College for information regarding the conferral of the M.A. degree.

Program Requirements

Courses are divided into five areas of specialization:

- a. Foundations
- b. Research and Methodology
- c. Personality, Social Behavior and Abnormal Behavior
- d. Assessment
- e. Psychotherapy

These areas are progressively developed over the five levels of the program. The following is a breakdown, by area of specialization, of the required courses in the program.

a) Foundations: These offerings are designed to transmit a basic fund of knowledge relating to the history and science of the discipline.

617 Cognitive & Affective Basis of Behavior
648 Physiological Psychology
650 History and Systems of Psychology

b) Research and Methodology: These courses provide instruction in research and methodology with the aim of understanding basic research, designing investigation procedures and applying research to help solve personal and social problems.

608 Statistical Design in Research
609 Research in Clinical Psychology
614 Multivariate Design and Analysis for Psychological Research
659 Psychological Measurement and Scaling 908 Master's Research

c) Personality, Social Behavior and Abnormal Behavior

622 Social Psychology
624 Developmental Basis of Human Behavior
627 Cultural Diversity in Psychological Services
726 Psychopathology Across the Lifespan I
727 Psychopathology II

d) Assessment: Evaluation of people using the skills of observation, interviewing and psychological testing; the theory, development, reliability, validity, appropriate usage, administration, scoring, interpretation and reporting of the results of the assessment techniques.

635 Objective Personality Assessment, or 835 Neuropsychological Assessment
660 Assessment I (Intelligence Testing)
663 Assessment II (Personality Assessment)
668 Assessment Lab I
670 Assessment Lab II

e) Psychotherapy: Theory, research, techniques and supervised experience in various psychotherapeutic methods.

631 Psychoanalytical Psychotherapy
658 Professional and Ethical Issues
741 Assessment and Intervention Practicum I, III
742 Assessment and Intervention Practicum II, IV

School Psychology Doctoral Program

Admission Requirements

The Doctoral Program in School Psychology requires four years of full-time coursework and practicum experiences, the successful completion of Professional Competency Comprehension exam, a full-time, one year School Psychology internship, and a dissertation Project for 105 credits.

The program is designed to provide a logical progression of coursework over years one to four. Students are expected to submit a dissertation proposal during year four. In the fifth year of the program, students complete their full-time internship and continue to enroll in PSY 950, the dissertation course. If their dissertation is not completed, students must remain enrolled in PSY 950 until the dissertation is completed, however only three credits count towards the 105 credits regardless of how many semesters they enroll in PSY 950. In addition to the general admission requirements for the department's doctoral programs, the faculty seek applicants to the Psy.D. program who possess (a) excellent interpersonal skills and the ability to get along with others; (b) excellent ability to handle scientific and professional disagreements in a respectful manner; (c) interest in providing psychological services to children, adolescents and their families; (d) intellectual curiosity and a commitment to lifelong learning; and (e) a commitment to building psychological practice on empirically verified scientific principles.

The School Psychology Doctoral Program has two tracks: the General track and the Bilingual track. The Bilingual track trains psychologists who are fluent in a language in addition to English to deliver psychological services to children of linguistically and culturally diverse groups. Students may be admitted with a master's in school psychology and either permanent or provisional New York State certification in school psychology for advanced standing. These students will be required to take a minimum of 50 credits. If the student's masters degree did not include courses that are required for licensure as a psychologist in New York State, the student must substitute these courses for his or her electives.

In addition, their elective courses may be used to take courses that the program Director deems were deficient or absent in their School certification education. They must take courses that exist in our program if they did not have equivalent courses in their masters/certification program. Courses required for licensure include: Social (PSY 722); Learning (PSY 616) Cognition (PSY 617); Physiological (PSY 648) or Biological bases; Scaling and Measurement (PSY 659); and Research Methods (PSY 615).

For further information about the Advanced Standing program and course sequence, please contact the program Director. Advanced standing students must have completed 48 credits prior to externship (PSY 905/906), as per New York State Regulations.

Electives

Students can take up to three electives outside of the psychology department with the program director's approval. A list of courses outside of the psychology department that have been approved as electives are listed on the program's Web page.

Elective Concentrations

Students can use three of their electives to develop a concentration in an area of study. These elective concentrations will appear as such on students' transcripts.

A) Psychological Interventions – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- PSY 631 Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy I
- PSY 632 Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy II
- PSY 717 Instructional Assessment and Academic Interventions
- PSY 751 Interventions with Developmental Disabilities
- PSY 760 Marital and Family Therapy
- PSY 843 Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy
- PSY 845 Group Therapy
- PSY 850 Cognitive Psychotherapies

B) Juvenile Delinquency – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- SOC 117 Family Violence
- SOC 119 Juvenile Delinquency
- SOC 131 Sociology of Youth
- SOC 147 Personality, Culture and Society
- SOC 227 Criminology

C) Child Language Disorders – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- SPE 203 Models of Language Acquisition
- SPE 318 Developmental Language Disorders
- SPE 320 Language-Based Learning Disabilities
- SPE 321 Communication Assessment and Intervention of Infants and Toddlers

D) Educational Administration and Law – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- EDU 5415 Introduction to Educational Administration
- EDU 5418 Administrative Theory
- EDU 5420 Politics of Education
- EDU 5471 Leadership in Instructional Supervision
- EDU 5571 Administrative Leadership

- EDU 5651 School Community Relations in Education
- EDU 5741 Economics and Financing of Education
- EDU 5791 Legal Aspects in Management and Administration of Schools
- EDU 5795 Student and Teacher Rights in Administration of Schools
- EDU 5810 Administrative Principles and Practices in the Implementation of P.L. 94–142
- EDU 5811 Administration and Supervision of Special Education Services
- EDU 7273 Individualization: Prescribing for Student Learning Styles

E) Reading – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- EDU 3230 Diagnosis and Remediation of Reading and Language Disabilities
- EDU 3240 Methods of Teaching the Language Different
- EDU 3264 Using Literature to Teach Reading and Writing
- EDU 3270 Strategies for Teaching Reading in Content Areas for Grades 3–12
- EDU 3274 Reading Strategies for the Gifted Learner
- EDU 3278 Teaching Literacy Strategies to Students with Special Needs
- EDU 3280 Technology Applications in Reading and Writing

F) Organizational Behavior – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- MGT 223 Human Resource Management
- MGT 232 Innovations in Organizational Behavior
- MGT 280 Organizational Development: Managing for Change
- MGT 285 Managing and Staffing Virtual Organizations
- MGT 290 E-Commerce Impacts on Organizations
- MGT 295 Seminar in Human Factors in MIS Development, Diffusion and Use

G) Psychological Research – Students who choose this concentration will take the second research methods course in the clinical program (PSY 613). They will also register for PSY 862 for two semesters. This will yield nine credits. For the two semesters of PSY 862 the student will be required to write up a contract with a sponsoring faculty member specifying the activities which will be performed in each of the independent study courses. A paper, suitable for submission to an academic journal, must result from students who take this research concentration. The research topic investigated in this concentration must be sufficiently different from the student's dissertation topic. Students can enroll in this concentration only with the approval of the program director.

H) Neuropsychology – Neuropsychology is the study of brain-behavior relationships. Students interested in this concentration should discuss with a faculty member the requirements for diplomate certification from the American Board of professional Psychology (ABPP) in neuropsychology. Student can enroll in this concentration only with the approval of the Program Director. Students who choose this concentration must take the specific courses listed and have less choice than other concentrations. These courses help students meet the academic requirements set by the American Board of Professional Psychology for the Diplomate in Clinical Neuropsychology.

- PHS 239 Functional Neuroanatomy and Neuropathology (Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences; This course has prerequisites of undergraduate courses in anatomy and physiology.)
- SPE 329 Neuroanatomy and Neuropathology of the Speech System
- PSY 835 Neuropsychological Assessment
- PSY 840 School/Child Neuropsychology: Principles and Assessment
- PSY 861 Psychopharmacology or CPP 216 Psychotherapeutics (Department of Clinical Pharmacy Practice)

I) Family Studies

- PSY 760 Marital and Family Therapy
- SOC 121 Sociology of the Family
- SOC 117 Family Violence

J) Bilingual/Multicultural Education

- EDU 9003 Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages: Reading and Language Arts
- EDU 9005 Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages: Theory and Practice
- EDU 9007 Teaching Strategies in the Bilingual Classroom: Reading and Language Arts

K) Management and Organizational Development – Students who choose this concentration should select three courses from the following:

- MGT 223 Human Resource Management
- MGT 232 Innovations in Organizational Behavior
- MGT 280 Organizational Development: Managing for Change
- MGT 285 Managing and Staffing Virtual Organizations
- MGT 290 E-Commerce Impacts on Organizations
- MGT 295 Seminar in Human Factors in MIS Development, Diffusion and Use

Cultural Diversity in the Curriculum

The University maintains the goal of serving all of the people of the New York metropolitan area. Consistent with this goal, the psychology faculty developed a doctoral program that will train School Psychologists to work with the culturally diverse populations that reflect the changing demographics in this region and most other major urban areas. To infuse a multicultural perspective into the curriculum, we created new courses, some of which are required and some of which can be chosen as electives. First, we created a specific course, PSY 627 – Cultural Diversity in Psychological Services, which is required by all students in the bilingual and monolingual tracks. Second, we created alternative courses that emphasize a multicultural/ bilingual perspective. Third, we have infused a multicultural perspective into the syllabi of many courses. A fourth arena that reflects the infusion of cultural diversity into the program is the practica. Students must complete their practica in the Center for Psychological Services, which serves many minority children. The Center for Psychological Services services a local population from Queens and Nassau Counties which include people of all racial, ethnic and economic backgrounds. Internship placements also provide an opportunity to infuse a multicultural perspective. Some of our students are placed in the New York City Board of Education schools.

Professional Practice Competency Examination

Students prepare a professional practice case study for this examination. The case study can be (1) an assessment case; (2) a consultation case with teachers, parents or administrators concerning a classroom, a school-wide or a district-wide consultation; (3) an individual counseling, a group counseling or a crisis intervention case; or (4) the development of a psycho-educational intervention program, a token economy, a crisis intervention program, an on-going support group, an in-service training program for school staff, or a special education or alternative education program.

Doctoral Dissertation Project

The Psy.D. program is not designed to train researchers. The goal of this program is to train psychologists who can deliver psychological services and review research to help guide their professional practice. The preamble to the 1989 New York State Doctoral Project indicates that a Psy.D. program "includes training in research, but the research emphasis is on the evaluation of professional techniques and service outcomes and other applied activities." The doctoral dissertation in a Psy.D. program should reflect these goals. A wide range of acceptable standards for dissertations in Psy.D. programs appears across the nation. Some programs require only a literature review, others have a dissertation that is indistinguishable from a Ph.D. All Psy.D. programs in New York State require some data collection as part of the doctoral dissertation.

Dissertation Options

- Empirical Research (development of a measure, correlational design, treatment outcome)
- Ethnographic Research
- Clinical Case Study
- Program Evaluation
- Test Review
- ALL MUST HAVE: Implications for the practice of school psychology.

Empirical Research Dissertations

- Introduction: Should include a theoretical rationale for the study, a review of the literature and a critique of the existing literature relevant to the topic. The hypotheses, which flow logically from this critique, complete the introduction.
- Implications for the practice of school psychology.
- Method: Should thoroughly outline the methodology of the study and discuss relevant methodological issues (e.g., subjects and sample size, the reliability and validity of the measures/materials being used and the procedures employed). The methods section should be detailed enough to allow a person to duplicate your methods.
- Results: This is generally the briefest chapter of the school dissertation. It should describe the statistical analyses performed, as well as the relevance of these analyses. This section should be succinct and include no more than four to five statistical tables and/or figures. Detailed commentaries on the results should be left for the discussion section.
- Discussion: As a general rule, the discussion includes at least (a) a presentation of the findings, (b) implications of the results for the theoretical issues raised in the introduction, (c) statistical, methodological and/or theoretical explanations for any unexpected findings, (d) an analysis of the methodological weaknesses of the study and how they should be addressed by future research and (e) suggestion for future research.
- References: The reference section is done in APA style, except that the title Reference at the top of the page is treated as a chapter heading.

Ethnographic Research Dissertations

- A type of research that involves studying different groups of people or cultures and investigates social organization, group interactions and behaviors.
- Typically, this type of study involves learning about small groups of people in their own environment through naturalistic observation over a long period of time.
- The study is descriptive in nature and the researcher is required to interpret events and their significance.

- An advantage to this type of study is that the research question is not easily identified by participants. A clear objective is necessary for the researcher to effectively observe and interpret the environment and social organization. Other research techniques include focus groups and interviews.

Clinical Case Study Dissertations

Case presentation of how interesting and challenging cases were assessed and conceptualized and how treatment followed such conceptualization. A highly practical format should allow other school psychologists to replicate in their own practices.

Sections should include

- Theoretical and research basis for treatment
- Case study summary
- Presenting Problem (academic or behavioral)
- History
- Assessment (what tools you used; why?)
- Case Assessment (conceptualization of data)
- Course of treatment and assessment of progress
- Complicating factors
- Follow-up
- Treatment implications of the case
- Recommendations to school psychologists/clinicians
- References

Program Evaluation Dissertations

- Seeks to evaluate effectiveness or viability of existing programs or policies.
- Ultimately want to know whether the program/policy is working as intended and meeting stated goals and objective.
- Data can be from a variety of sources, but should be "outcome-based" in order to gauge success or failure of program.
- Data may be survey, numerical or archival and may include pre- and post- data as appropriate.
- Format of dissertation includes introduction, description and purpose of program/policy, goals and objectives of program/policy, rationale for evaluation of program, description of methods used to evaluate, description of results and findings, conclusions and recommendations.
- Overall, the dissertation should determine relative success or failure of the program/policy and provide specific recommendations for improvement or alternatives.

Test Review Dissertation

- Following the joint standards for test development as well as other existing and widely accepted criteria for evaluating tests, critically review a new or recently revised instrument.
- Joint standards focus on forms of validity evidence that are expected to be provided in all test manuals. Quality of the evidence provided in the manual must be discussed.

- Other criteria focus on psychometric characteristics, such as reliability, floors/ceilings, item gradients, standardization characteristics and so forth.
- Literature review: overview of the test, its history, how it is used; summary of the literature available on the instrument; review the joint standards and present criteria that will be used to evaluate the instrument.
- Discussion: would you recommend the test be used for its intended purpose? Why? Why not?

School Psychology (M.S.)

Completion of the 66-credit M.S. in School Psychology allows the student to qualify for a provisional New York State Certificate which authorizes practice as a school psychologist. This certificate is valid for five years from the date of issuance; with the accumulation of two years of experience as a school psychologist, a permanent certificate is issued in the field of pupil personnel services.

Although the M.S. has been designated to train the student for professional practice, it is academically oriented as well and provides sound preparation for further graduate work.

Advanced standing may be awarded to those applicants who have already earned a master's degree or its equivalent in psychology from St. John's University or another accredited institution.

Students who are bilingual may choose to enroll in the Bilingual Track. Applicants must demonstrate fluency in a language by passing the New York State Language Proficiency Examination. Foreign-educated or ESL students must also take the English Proficiency exam. This program leads to certification as a Bilingual School Psychologist. The coursework, practicum and internship training in this track prepare students to deliver school psychological services to bilingual children.

Program Requirements

The program requires the satisfactory completion of 66 credits and a comprehensive examination which is offered in the spring semester of the third year. The student must maintain a "B" average and is given two opportunities to pass the comprehensive examination. Students must also achieve a grade of at least "B" in Psy 761 or 761B, 762 or 762B, 752 or 752B and 753.

General-Experimental Psychology (M.A.)

The Master of Arts degree in General-Experimental Psychology provides the student with a broad background of psychological knowledge and tools as preparation for more advanced work. The course requirements can serve also as a solid foundation for those who want a psychological background as support for other fields of study.

Classes are offered after 4:40 p.m. Part-time attendance is permitted. Students may take courses in the program on a nonmatriculated basis, in accord with the regulations set forth by the Graduate Division. Such students may gain admission into the M.A. program upon the completion of four graduate courses, with a minimum grade of "B" in each course.

Program Requirements

The M.A. program requires the satisfactory completion of 42 credits. Students choosing the THESIS OPTION must complete two semesters of Master's Research (PSY 900) and successfully defend their proposed and completed thesis research before a faculty committee. Students choosing the NON-THESIS OPTION must pass a comprehensive examination which is offered in the spring semester of the second year. Non-thesis students are given two opportunities to pass the comprehensive examination. All students must maintain a "B" average in the program. The required course sequence is given below.

Combined Degrees: B.A./M.A.

The Department offers an intensive, accelerated combined degree program leading to both the B.A. and M.A. degrees in Psychology in five years of full-time study. Qualified undergraduates who have completed their sophomore year with a 3.5 cumulative index and a 3.50 index for 12 credits in Psychology are encouraged to apply. For specific information, students should consult with the Program Director or the Director of the MA in General Experimental Psychology program.

Center for Psychological Services

The St. John's University Center for Psychological Services serves as a primary training site for the Clinical and School Psychology programs in providing comprehensive psychological services to community residents at modest cost. Located conveniently near the St. John's campus, it provides students with opportunities to develop clinical and assessment skills under faculty supervision. The Center provides training in psychoeducational and personality assessment at Level II (PSY 668-670). The Center also provides training in assessment for school psychology students at the master's level (PSY 761-762) and in therapy for advanced Psy. D. students (PSY 763-764). Opportunities for assessment and intervention experiences in local schools are also available via the Center's School Affiliate Program. The research component of the Center includes collection of clinical data, faculty sponsored research projects and doctoral dissertation research.

Departmental Policy

All students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the ethical standards established by the American Psychological Association and the New York State Department of Education. In addition, all research with human subjects must be performed in accordance with the policies and procedures promulgated by the Institutional Review Board (IRB) of the University. Research with animals must conform to the guidelines established by the Animal Care Advisory Committee (ACAC) of the University. Failure to comply with these standards may result in a departmental recommendation for dismissal.

Institutional Affiliations

The University has developed formal affiliations with a number of clinical facilities in the New York area for purposes of clinical training and research. The Clinical Psychology program has developed a wide network of participating clinical and research practicum placements for its students including Long Island Jewish/Hillside Medical Center, North Shore University Hospital, Queens Hospital Center, Nassau County Medical Center, Bronx Children's Psychiatric Center, Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital, Creedmoor Psychiatric Center, North Shore Child Guidance Center, Beth Israel Medical Center, Pederson-Krag Center, NYS Psychiatric Institute and Queens Children's Psychiatric Center, among others (see listing of Affiliate Clinical Professors).

Courses

103 Basic Psychology Laboratory*

Methods and techniques of laboratory research for students without undergraduate laboratory training. Fee: $60. Credit: 3 semester hours. (No credit if used to remove deficiency.)

603 Statistical Design in Research

This course provides students who will be primarily consumers of research with a review of basic concepts in statistics and an introduction to the methods used in contemporary research to enable them to evaluate the results and conclusions of scholarly work in psychology. Topics include analysis of variance, correlation, and regression. Credit: 3 semester hours.

604 Psychology Laboratory

The student is required to conduct extensive literature searches, collect and analyze data and generate manuscripts. Laboratory fee: $60. Credit: 3 semester hours.

606 Perception I*

A survey course emphasizing the historical development of various models aimed at understanding visual experience, such as origins of form, distance and depth perception. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Also open to qualified undergraduates.*

607 Perception II*

Department of Sociology and Anthropology (SOC)

The Department offers graduate training leading to an M.A. degree in Sociology and an M.A. degree in Criminology and Justice. The department's mission is to educate its graduate students about the social forces that influence human behavior. The programs' faculty seeks to train students to develop the necessary skills in sociological research and analysis of inequality, organizations and communities. These experiences lead to careers in criminal justice, health care, non-profits and business, as well as provide exceptional preparation for further training at the doctoral level and or/law school.

Program of Study Master of Arts (M.A.)

The department offers 2 options:

Department of Theology and Religious Studies (THE)

In keeping with the mission of St. John's University as Catholic, Vincentian, and metropolitan, the Graduate Program of the Department of Theology and Religious Studies seeks to examine the rich theological heritage of the Catholic faith in light of modern human experience and concerns, with due respect for the values of other sciences, other religions, and other cultures.

As such, our program provides a supportive and challenging environment of educational excellence flexible enough to serve those interested in pursuing further theological study, professional ministry, parish service, or their own personal enrichment.

To encourage such scholarly achievement, along with keen sensitivity to the need for social justice and peace in our world, the Department offers the Father Richard Kugelman Scholarship, to honor the memory of this eminent biblical theologian and former Chair, particularly in his great love for biblical studies and concern for the poor. This award opens the study of Theology, especially Sacred Scripture, to students who otherwise could not afford it. Each semester the Department also offers several Graduate Research Assistant positions to cover tuition costs. Interested students should contact the Department Chair for more information.

Programs of Study

Master of Arts in Theology (M.A.)

Entrance Requirements

Applicants for the M.A. in Theology and Religious Studies normally must have a bachelor's degree which includes 24 credits in theology, philosophy, or related subjects, and an overall "B" average in their college studies. Any deficiencies in preparation may require supplementary course work as a condition for admission, in the form of suitable 100-level graduate courses, as determined by the Department.

Program Requirements

Following a mandatory introductory workshop, students will consult with a faculty advisor to pursue 33 credits of course work, chosen mainly from one of three tracks: (1) Biblical Studies (includes Old Testament and New Testament literature and languages); (2) Historical/Theological Studies (includes Historical Theology, Systematic Theology, Moral Theology, Interfaith Studies, and Spirituality); (3) Pastoral Theology (includes Catechetical, Liturgical, and Ministerial Studies).

On completing their studies, students will prepare a portfolio of academic writing, consisting of three major, final papers from their course work, one of which must also be included in revised form, and a ten-page professional self-assessment of their scholarly development during their time in the program. Students will submit this academic portfolio to the Department for reading and approval by two graduate Theology faculty, one from the student's main track, and one from a different track.

Course Requirements

All students will take at least one introductory-level course or its equivalent in each track, five more courses in their chosen track of concentration, and three electives, maintaining a "B" average.

Please note that students who pursue Biblical Studies must take a two-course sequence in either Biblical Hebrew (=THE 111 and 112), or Biblical Greek (=THE 121 and 122). The other tracks have no language requirement. Students who elect to write a Master's Thesis must take THE 900 as one of their elective courses, and may substitute this thesis for their final academic portfolio.

Combined B.A./M.A. Program

In addition to the Master of Arts program, the Department offers an intensive, accelerated program enabling students to earn both their B.A. and M.A. Theology degrees in only five years of full-time study.

Entrance Requirements

Qualified undergraduate students who have completed their sophomore year with a 3.0 cumulative index for 12 credits in Theology are encouraged to apply for this program.

Program Requirements

Students in the B.A./M.A. program matriculate for a total of 144 credits, 33 of which are on the graduate level (see the M.A. Program requirements above). Under the guidance of a faculty advisor, students take the first three graduate Theology courses in their junior and senior years, and the remaining courses in the following year of full-time graduate study. For specific information, students should check the undergraduate bulletin and contact the Director of the Graduate Theology Program.

Other Course Sequences

For interested applicants, the Department offers two non-degree course sequences for introductory and advanced graduate study in Theology. Applicants must have an undergraduate degree with an overall "B" average from an accredited college or university, and submit a corresponding transcript for Department approval.

Each sequence includes six courses. The Basic Sequence, designed for those beginning their study of Theology at the graduate level, begins with one introductory-level course in each of the three main program tracks, followed by three elective courses. The Advanced Sequence allows those who already have a graduate degree in Theology to refresh and sharpen their skills by choosing, in consultation with the Program Director, any six courses that suit their interests and needs. On successfully completing either sequence with a "B" average, students will receive a formal letter of recognition from the Department Chair detailing their course work and confirming their achievement. All credits earned are regular graduate credits, 12 of which may be used by qualified applicants from the Basic Sequence who choose to pursue their M.A. in Theology.

Courses

Examines religious spirituality (mysticism) as a global phenomenon, and includes topics such as human spiritual connection with the Transcendent, mystic consciousness and experience, introversive and extroversive paths to spiritual awareness and growth. Credit: 3 semester hours.

660 Dialogue Among Christians

The history and structures of the ecumenical dialogue among Christians, with particular attention to the concepts of the unity of the Christian Church which have been advanced by several of the Christian communions. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Track 3: Pastoral Theology

Catechetical Studies

702 Introduction to Catechesis

An historical survey of catechetical theory and practice. This course examines the social situation of the Church, the theology used, and the resulting catechesis, for their outcomes in the life of particular communities. Credit: 3 semester hours.

703 Catechesis for Teens and Adults

This course surveys current theory and practice of catechetical efforts to involve both teens and adults, stressing the developmental tasks of each group respectively, and practical issues of creating programs to meet their needs. Credit: 3 semester hours.

704 Liturgical Catechesis and Worship

Explores catechetical issues within the context of Christian communal worship, examining the earliest evidence of Christian liturgy as a matrix for shaping Christian faith and belief. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Liturgical Studies

150 Introduction to Liturgy

(See Systematic Theology)
Analyzes certain tensions in liturgical thought and celebration today, in light of the liturgy's ancient and recent past, exploring possible future liturgical trends based on present theory and practice. Credit: 3 semester hours.

155 The Roman Missal

This course examines the genesis, history, and nature of the "Roman Rite," especially as embodied in the most recent English revision of the Roman Missal, in light of previous translations, their associated dynamics, controversies, and impact on other rites as well as catechesis. Credit: 3 semester hours.

200 The Liturgical Year and Liturgy of the Hours (see Historical Theology)

This course explores the nature, historical evolution, theology, as well as pastoral and canonical aspects of the Church's cycle of seasons and feasts, examining time and commemoration from a theological and liturgical viewpoint, along with the daily Liturgy of the Hours and popular devotions, mainly from a Roman Catholic perspective, but with attention to comparable practices in other cultures. Credit: 3 semester hours.

405 Introduction to Sacramental Theology (See Systematic Theology)

Explores new approaches to sacramental theology, with special attention to the sociological setting and anthropological dimension of the sacraments in their Christian context. Credit: 3 semester hours.

406 The Eucharist

(See Systematic Theology)

An anthropology of symbol and the phenomenology of meal as a basis for understanding the Eucharist. Meals in the Old Testament are examined, along with selected Eucharistic themes in the New Testament.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

407 The Healing Ministry of the Church

(See Systematic Theology)

The history, theology, and pastoral practice of the sacrament of reconciliation, including a comparison with psychological counseling and practical demonstrations. The art of spiritual direction. Caring for the sick and ministry to the grieving. The history and pastoral practice of the anointing of the sick.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

408 The Sacraments of Initiation

(See Systematic Theology)

Anthropological dimensions of initiation. Initiation in the early Church. The breakdown in the unity of the initiation sacraments, and Christian Initiation today.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

823 Liturgical Celebration: Theory and Practice

Using discussion and practical exercises, this course explores the attitudes and style of an effective worshiping community, along with the context, options, and rites of the sacraments of initiation, Eucharist, reconciliation, matrimony, anointing of the sick, and children's liturgies. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Ministerial Studies801 Introduction to Pastoral Care and Counseling

Introduces the basic concepts and fundamental skills of counseling in a pastoral setting. It requires active participation in course discussions, a research paper on a counseling philosophy or other approved topic, counseling role play, and use of counseling transcripts as learning tools. Credit: 3 semester hours.

802 The Church as a Community of Ministers

Explores the biblical roots and historical evolution of ministry structures, present pastoral ministry concerns, issues, and resources in specific areas of ministry, and practical strategies for engaging in ministry in today's Church.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

803 Pastoral Ministry in Loss and Grief

Theoretical foundations for understanding the nature and universality of loss and grief. General principles of intervention and pastoral resources for healing and growth as found in community, ritual, faith, and belief.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

831 Pastoral Perspectives on Marriage and Family

An in-depth exploration of Vatican II and post-Vatican II theological treatments of marriage and family life, which evaluates pastoral strategies for a variety of contemporary marriage and family issues. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Research Courses900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the master's degree requirements.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

901; 902; 903 Independent Research

Individual study under the direction of a selected faculty member. The area of research must be approved in advance by the Chair and in consultation with the supervising faculty member. Credit: 3 semester hours.

925 Maintaining Matriculation

Master's students who are not registered for other courses must register for THE 925 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted.

No credit. Fee: $100.00 per semester.

For a complete listing of approved courses, please contact the Graduate Dean's office.

Asian Studies

Bernadette Li, Professor and Director, B.A., National Taiwan University; M.A., University of Washington (Seattle); Ph.D. in History, Columbia University. Political and Intellectual History of Modern China; Chinese Women's History and Literature; Asian American Studies in History, Literature and Women.

Wen-Shan Shih, Adjunct Assistant Professor, B.A., Nat'l Taiwan University; M.A., University of Minnesota; Ph.D., University of Toronto.

Johnson L. Tseng, Adjunct Associate Professor, B.A., M.B.A., Nat'l Chengchi University; M.A., Ph.D., SUNY, Albany.

Biological Sciences

Christopher W. Bazinet, Graduate Director and Associate Professor, B.A., University of Wisconsin; Ph.D., Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Genetics of biological assemblies. Evolution of gametogenesis.

Frank R. Cantelmo, Associate Professor, B.S., Fairleigh Dickinson University; Ph.D., CUNY. Physiological ecology of estuarine invertebrates.

Timothy H. Carter, Professor, A.B., Harvard University; Ph.D., Princeton University. Regulation of mammalian gene expression. Cell response to injury. Nutritional chemoprevention and therapy of cancer.

Anne M. Dranginis, Assistant Chair and Professor, B.S., University of Massachusetts; Ph.D. University of Michigan. Regulation of gene transcription. Molecular control of development in yeast.

Irvin N. Hirshfield, Associate Professor, B.S., University of Delaware; Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh. Molecular microbiology and microbial physiology and genetics. Regulation of gene expression in prokaryotes in response to environmental stress with special emphasis on acid stress responses. Microbial pathogenesis.

Dianella G. Howarth, Assistant Professor, B.A., University of Pennsylvania; Ph.D., Harvard University. Evolution and development of plant lineages.

Yue J. Lin, Associate Professor, B.S., National Taiwan University; M.S., Ph.D., Ohio State University. Cytology and Cytogenetics. Spontaneous and induced abnormalities in chromosomes. Sister chromatid exchange.

Simon Geir Moller, Professor and EMBO Young Investigator, B.S., University of Leeds, UK; M.S., The University of London; Ph.D., University of Leeds, U.K. Molecular and cellular mechanisms associated with Parkinson's Disease. Iron-sulfur cluster biogenesis and organelle biology.

Laura M. Schramm, Associate Dean and Associate Professor, B.S., SUNY, Stony Brook; M.S., St. John's University; Ph.D., SUNY, Stony Brook. Regulation of the cell cycle. Gene expression in eukaryotes, mechanisms of transcriptional regulation in human cells.

Richard Stalter, Professor, M.S., University of Rhode Island; Ph.D., University of South Carolina. Ecology of coastal plant communities. Rare and endangered plants.

Louis Trombetta, Professor, B.S., M.S., Ph.D., Fordham University. Electron microscopy cytology, pathology, and cytochemistry. The effects of drugs in metabolism and cell degeneration, particularly in the CNS.

Ales Vancura, Chair and Professor, B.S./M.S., Ph.D., Prague Institute of Chemical Technology. Chromatin structure and regulation of transcription. Signal transduction.

Ivana Vancurova, Professor, B.S./M.S., Prague Institute of Chemical Technology; Ph.D., Institute of Microbiology, Czech Academy of Sciences. Molecular mechanisms of inflammation.

Jay A. Zimmerman, Professor, A.B., Franklin and Marshall College; Ph.D., Rutgers University. Experimental gerontology. Nutritional aspects of lifespan extension.

Rachel Zufferey, Associate Professor, B.S./M.S. and Ph.D., Swiss Federal Institute of Technology. Characterization of the glycerolipid metabolic pathways of the vertebrate protozoan parasites Leishmania and trypanosomes to determine their importance in parasite development, differentiation and virulence.

Objectives

The School of Education has four major goals consistent with the mission and distinctive purposes of the University. The goals focus on a global view of our profession as the world changes. The programs of The School of Education will prepare you to deal with the urgency of knowing how technology affects both the learning of students and the assessment of their work and your own. These purposes include: (1) to prepare you to be competent in your subject area; (2) to provide you with the pedagogical knowledge, understanding and skills necessary, as caring and qualified professionals, to meet the rising academic standards expected of children and teachers; (3) to enable you to acquire professional knowledge of the rights and responsibilities of teachers and their implications for productive relationships with other professional staff, students, and community members; and (4) to introduce you to essential concepts of leadership in K-12 schools or as faculty and administrators in higher education, projected into the future.

The School of Education's objectives are:

1. To provide a vibrant learning environment for the intellectual, professional and moral development of students.
2. To provide programs to meet students' and societal needs, in order; to function effectively as professionals in a dynamic multicultural, multi-ethnic University as a prototype of our society, that can lead to greater world-wide partnerships.
3. To encourage students to develop a personal philosophy of education consistent with the University's mission.
4. To foster basic and applied research in education and human services involving students and faculty.
5. To serve as a resource center to the educational community by: providing leadership and supportive services for local, state and national associations; sponsoring professional meetings and seminars; and offering consultative services for schools and community agencies.

Organization and Administration

The School of Education consists of three departments. The Department of Administrative and Instructional Leadership offers programs in curriculum and instruction, gifted education, instructional leadership and educational administration.

The Department of Human Services and Counseling offers programs in bilingual/multicultural education, clinical mental health counseling and school counseling, literacy, special education, and TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages).

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction offers programs in teacher education covering all the developmental areas.

Affiliations

St. John's University Teacher Education Program, which is designed to prepare teachers who are trained and nurtured to develop a strong command of content and pedagogical knowledge, knowledge of multicultural perspectives, and instructional skills appropriate in addressing the social, cultural and educational needs of their students, is granted Accreditation by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC) for a period of ten years, from September 30, 2011 – September 30, 2021. This accreditation certifies that the forenamed professional education program has provided evidence that the program adheres to TEAC's quality principles.

The School Counseling program is fully accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). The Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is designed to meet the CACREP requirements for accreditation and is anticipating accreditation in July 2012.

Student Responsibilities

In addition to the general policies of the University set forth in this bulletin, students are responsible for becoming knowledgeable about New York State Certification requirements and regulations for teachers and school counselors, New York State license requirements and regulations for mental health counselors, for adhering to the academic calendar and for meeting all of the requirements of their respective academic programs.

Classification of Students

Matriculated Students

A matriculated student is one who has been accepted for and is actively engaged in a degree or diploma program in The School of Education at St. John's University.

Maintaining Matriculation

Master's Degree and Advanced Certificate

Continuous enrollment from date of matriculation until the degree is awarded is mandatory for students enrolled in degree programs.

Students not enrolled in course work must maintain their active status each semester by enrolling in MAINTAINING MATRICULATION at the scheduled registration period. Those who have not satisfied the continuous enrollment requirement for two or more semesters must: 1) apply for readmission; 2) be readmitted.

ted; 3) meet the program requirements in effect at that time; 4) pay appropriate matriculating fees for two semesters. Please note: No federal aid is available for certificates of less than 15 credits.

See program listings: Master's level (EDU 3925, 5925, 6925, 7925, or 9925) Advanced Certificate (EDU 5935, 6935, or 7935).

Doctoral Degrees

The School of Education offers three doctoral degree programs, the Ed.D. in Educational Administration and Supervision, the Ed.D. in Instructional Leadership, both in the Department of Administration and Instructional Leadership, and the Ph.D. in Literacy in the Department of Human Services and Counseling. All programs require a course of study up to 60 credits, and successful completion of a comprehensive examination or portfolio assessment.

After successful completion of the comprehensive examination, or portfolio evaluation, students must enroll in Doctoral Research, either EDU 5990, EDU 7990, EDU 3292 or EDU 3293 until the degree is awarded. Students must enroll in Doctoral Research, either EDU 5990, EDU 7990, EDU 3292 or EDU 3293 until the degree is awarded. Students who have not satisfied the continuous enrollment requirement for two or more semesters must: 1) apply for readmission; 2) be readmitted; 3) meet the program requirements in effect at that time; and 4) pay the appropriate fees for two semesters.

All requirements must be completed within eight years of the date of matriculation. All degree requirements must be completed no later than three years from the successful completion of the comprehensive examination requirement. When there is sufficiently serious reason, students may petition for an extension of one year at a time, not to exceed three additional years.

Non-Matriculated Students

A non-matriculated student is one who is not actively engaged in a degree or advanced certificate program in the Graduate School of Education at St. John's University. As a non-matriculated student, you may take up to 12 credits, after which you must matriculate into a degree program. In order to be considered for non-matriculated status, you must submit a non-matriculated application each semester and submit proof of a minimum grade point average of 2.8 in the appropriate degree program to the Office of Graduate Admissions for the School of Education. There is no application fee for non-matriculated students and non-matriculated students are not eligible for any sort of financial aid.

Our Campuses

Students have great flexibility to choose the campus where they will take their courses to complete their degree program. Students may take courses online, at the Queens or Staten Island campuses, or at the Manhattan, or Oakdale locations. Students may complete an entire degree online as a Online Learning student depending on appropriate program registration (see Programs of Study on next page) and course availability.

Queens

The park-like Queens campus is readily accessible by car, bus, subway, or air. Located between JFK and LaGuardia Airports, the campus is just off the Grand Central Parkway, which connects Nassau and Suffolk Counties to Queens, Manhattan and upstate New York.

Online Learning/Online (D)

Accredited by Middle States and the New York State Education Department, online learning programs are equivalent with on-campus programs. Courses are taught by the same faculty who teach on-campus courses. Classes are small and actively engage students in asynchronous online collaboration with other students and communication with faculty members, so they are not isolated in their studies. They follow the same academic calendar as on-campus courses, and students have access to the vast electronic resources of the University library, academic and student services including student advising, counseling and career services. St. John's now makes it possible for students to earn their degrees without leaving their home or work. Several of our graduate degrees are available entirely online and designed for busy professionals balancing both work and family, and need the flexibility of non-campus based programs. Log-on to www.stjohns.edu/onlinelearning for more details, or contact:

Education Options

The School of Education offers many graduate level program options. Students should carefully select a course of study, based on their professional teaching aspirations or career goals, in consultation with a faculty advisor.

- Students who enter with initial teaching certification will be eligible for additional certification endorsement(s) upon program completion.
- Students, including those with international credentials, possessing a bachelors or masters degree in a field outside of teacher education, who wish to obtain initial New York State certification, should pursue a 48-credit career change masters program.
- Students, including those with international credentials, possessing a bachelors or masters degree in any field, may choose a non-certification program option if their career goals are outside the traditional K-12 classroom or if they do not plan to teach in New York public schools.

Programs of Study

Graduate programs are registered with New York State Department of Education to be offered on the Queens and Staten Island campuses, as well as via Online Learning. Additionally, selected courses leading to many of our degree programs, but not entire degrees, are offered at our Oakdale and Manhattan locations. Students interested in taking courses offered at any of these locations are advised that at least one course in their program must be taken on the Queens campus in compliance with New York State regulations.

The location at which a particular program is offered is indicated as follows: Queens, Staten Island (SI), Online Learning (D), Oakdale (O), Manhattan (M).

Academic Information

Admission Requirements

Applicants seeking admission to graduate degree programs should consult specific program descriptions for admission requirements.

All students interested in applying for a program at any location should apply online at www.stjohns.edu/admission/graduate/apply

Deadlines for completed applications:

Non-Counseling Programs: Fall-August 17; Summer-May 15; Spring-January 5 and Counseling Programs: Fall and Summer-June 1; Spring-November 1.

Ed.D. doctoral applications, together with supporting credentials, must be filed by June 15 for the subsequent year.

The Ph.D. program in Literacy operates on a cohort model. Submission of applications for each new cohort occurs prior to even-numbered years, with a deadline of June 15 of the even-numbered year. Coursework begins each Fall semester of even-numbered years.

General Program Requirements

Students enrolled in classes which carry three semester credits but which meet only two hours per week are required to submit a research paper or some equivalent research project before credit may be given.

Requirements for the Master's Degree

1. Minimum of 33 or more semester hours in appropriate graduate course work as noted in each program description. This course work is planned under the direction of an assigned advisor. The number of transfer credits varies by program.
2. A minimum of a "B" (3.0) average in all course work.
3. Residency requirements are set according to the requirements of each individual Master's program.
4. Continuous enrollment and completion of all requirements within a five-year period.
5. For information on advanced and/or transfer credit, please consult the "Academic Information" section.
6. Passing a thesis/comprehensive exam/portfolio national exam is required as per each designated program.

Requirements for the Advanced Certificate

1. The number of required credits beyond an appropriate master's degree is specific to each program. This course work is planned under the direction of an assigned advisor. The number of transfer credits varies by program.

2. A minimum of a "B" (3.0) average in all course work.
3. Residency requirements are set according to the requirements of each individual Advanced Certificate program.
4. Continuous enrollment and completion of all requirements within a five-year period.
5. For information on advanced and/or transfer credit, please consult the "Academic Information" section.

Requirements for the Doctoral Degrees

Ed.D Department of Administrative and Instructional Leadership

Programs of study for this degree require coursework distributed among areas of specialization related fields and research. The programs require the successful completion of a comprehensive examination (Q) or a portfolio review (O). The degree requirements also include the preparation and submission of an acceptable professional problem-oriented doctoral dissertation and its oral defense. The residency requirement can be met through various approaches, approved by the advisor and Department Chair.

1. A minimum of 60 semester hours beyond the Master's degree in approved graduate course work planned under the direction of an assigned advisor. Fulfillment of a full-time residency requirement as specified in the Academic Regulations of the University and the completion of a minimum of 45 degree credits at St. John's University.
2. A minimum of a "B" (3.0) average in every course.
3. Successful completion of a comprehensive written examination. The student must make written application to take the comprehensive examination. Normally, this examination may not be taken earlier than the last semester of course work and must be taken within one year of the completion of all course work. Successful completion of this examination is a prerequisite for the submission of a topic for a doctoral dissertation. In case of failure, one re-examination may be permitted upon the recommendation of the Department Chair and approval of the Dean.
4. Passage to Candidacy: A doctoral student acquires the status of "candidate" after he/she has successfully completed all course work, has taken and passed the doctoral comprehensive examination and has received approval of a dissertation proposal by the Dissertation Committee and the Dean.
5. Continuous enrollment and completion of all requirements within eight years. All degree requirements must also be completed no later than three years after the successful completion of the comprehensive examination.

6. Once students have passed the doctoral comprehensive examination and completed all course work requirements, enrollment in three credits of Doctoral Research each semester (EDU 5990 or 7990) is mandatory until the degree is awarded.
7. A dissertation, approved by the Doctoral Committee and Dean of the School of Education, presenting evidence of a substantial contribution to existing knowledge as a result of personal research and its oral defense.

The doctoral degree in the Department of Administrative and Instructional Leadership requires matriculation for participation.

Ph.D. in Literacy in the Department of Human Services and Counseling

The program is grounded in the study of theory, of the nature of at-risk and diverse populations, and of sophisticated research methodologies. The study of theory will encompass various and diverse models of literacy acquisition and the nature and complexity of the essential components of reading (i.e., phonemic awareness, phonics, comprehension, fluency, vocabulary, and writing process interactions with differing populations). The study of at-risk and diverse populations will occur throughout doctoral level coursework. Within the research course offerings, candidates study design and method within both qualitative and quantitative research.

The degree requires successful completion of the annual digital portfolio which constitutes the Comprehensive Examination. The residency requirement may be fulfilled in a variety of ways by consulting with an academic advisor. The degree requirements also include the preparation and submission of an acceptable research-based doctoral dissertation and its oral defense.

1. The curriculum is offered in two tracks. One track serves those candidates who have completed a master's level program in literacy (or reading) or who have earned State literacy certification through other degree programs. This track requires a minimum of 42 semester hours of doctoral-level course work completed at St. John's University (approximately 75 graduate credits in the cognate/professional and doctoral domains beyond the baccalaureate). Continuous enrollment must be maintained and enrollment in a minimum of three semester hours of dissertation credits is required after the Dissertation Seminar (EDU 3292) until the study is completed and presented.

Track two serves those candidates who have completed a master's level program in another educational field but who lack the prerequisite literacy foundational knowledge as stipulated in the standards of the International Reading Association. These students complete a minimum of 42 semester hours of doctoral course work (approximately 75 graduate credits in the cognate/professional and doctoral domains beyond the baccalaureate). Up to 24 credits in literacy foundations may be required depending on faculty review of transcripts (the option for New York state certification may be considered).

2. A minimum of a "B" (3.0) average is required in all coursework to maintain academic status.
3. Successful completion of the digital portfolio annual review for three consecutive years allows the student to present the Dissertation Proposal to the faculty. At this point the student should have begun formation of a committee.
4. Passage of Candidacy. A doctoral student requires a status of Candidate after he/she has successfully completed all coursework, has successfully completed three years of Digital Portfolio Reviews, and has received the approval of the dissertation proposal by the faculty committee, the IRB and the Dean. At this point each student has selected a faculty mentor who serves as the student's advisor through the dissertation process. The student and his/her mentor request the appointment of a dissertation research committee. This committee, composed of the mentor and from two to five committee members, will have primary responsibility to guide the student in the preparation of the dissertation.
5. All degree requirements must also be completed no later than three years after the Dissertation Seminar.
6. Enrollment in Dissertation Seminar (EDU 3292/3293) is mandatory until the degree is awarded. Students must register for three credits for each semester until graduation.
7. An approved dissertation offering a substantial contribution to the professional literature and to existing knowledge is accomplished as a result of the student's personal research.
8. A successful oral defense of the dissertation generally results in its approval by the faculty. At this point final corrections are made and the dissertation is prepared for printing. The student files application for graduation.

Advisement and Statement of Degree Requirements

When an applicant has been accepted into a degree or diploma program, he/she is assigned an advisor. The student's letter of acceptance will specify the advisor's name. As soon as possible after receiving the letter of acceptance but no later than the end of the first semester of course work, the student must meet with his/her advisor and secure an approved program of study which meets the needs and interests of the student and satisfies the degree or diploma requirements of The School of Education and the State of New York.

Academic Standing

A student is in good academic standing if he or she is enrolled as a matriculated student in a program of study leading to a degree, diploma, or certificate and is making satisfactory progress toward the completion of the program of study. Satisfactory progress is divided into two categories:

- A. Nonprobationary: All students who maintain at least a 3.0 cumulative point average.
- B. Probationary: All students whose cumulative grade point average is below 3.0, but who in the judgment of the Dean are considered to be making acceptable progress toward a 3.0 cumulative grade point average and are permitted to continue on a matriculated basis.
- C. Students are not eligible to graduate unless they have earned a 3.0 GPA.

Attendance Policy

Regular and prompt attendance is expected of all students.

Absence from class does not excuse a student from work missed. Students are, therefore, responsible for all announced tests and for submitting all assignments at the proper times.

Full-Time Study

Full-time study shall mean enrollment for at least 9 credits (or the equivalent) each semester (cf. Admissions: Full-Time Study). In The School of Education, independent or individualized study, practice teaching, graduate assistantships or fellowships, dissertation research and language proficiency courses may all be considered as contributing appropriately toward full-time study on a credit hour equivalent basis, if required or approved by the Dean in a plan developed in conjunction with the advisor and prefiled by each student. Independent or individualized study may include such items as participation in internships, research projects, writing journal articles or other scholarly activities undertaken with the approval of the Chair and Dean, under the supervision of a member of the faculty.

Residence

Each student pursuing the master's degree or Advanced Certificate must complete 18 semester hours in a two-year period.

Each student pursuing the Doctor of Education degree must satisfy a residency requirement. The residency requirement can be met through various approaches, approved by the advisor and Department Chair.

The residence requirement for the doctoral degree insures that students become immersed in the scholarly activity of their area of specialization. This immersion plays a vital role in the development of students as scholars, and although important in relation to the courses required for the degree, it is also quite distinct from them. Since degree course credit requirements are always expressed in terms of minimums, a student may at times, in order to fulfill the residence requirement, find it necessary to enroll in course work beyond the minimum listed for the degree.

Comprehensive Examination Requirements

Students in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction are required to complete a thesis/project as part of their program.* Students in the School and Clinical Mental Health Counseling programs are required to pass the national Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE). This examination may be taken after students have completed a minimum of 30 credits in the program with approval of their advisor. All other master's students and all doctoral students must take and pass a comprehensive examination requirement. This examination MAY NOT BE TAKEN EARLIER THAN the last year of course work provided that all core courses have been taken and passed and with the approval of the student's advisor. This examination requirement MUST BE SATISFIED WITHIN ONE YEAR of the completion of all course work. Students must apply for and receive permission to take the comprehensive examination in accordance with the Graduate Academic Calendar. The doctoral program in Literacy and Educational Administration and Supervision (Oakdale) satisfy the comprehensive examination requirement through portfolio assessment.

School Building Leadership has no comprehensive examination.*

New York State Certification and New York City Licensure of Teachers, Administrators and Counselors

The School of Education offers professional preparation programs that meet the requirements for institutional endorsement for New York State certification in teaching, counseling and administration. Students are expected to assume responsibility for ascertaining their eligibility for certification and/or licensure, and are urged to confer with their advisors early in their programs to ascertain their status, since completion of the degree or diploma does not mean automatic fulfillment of New York State certification and New York City licensure requirements. Students who complete all program requirements must apply online at the TEACH website at <http://www.highered.nysed.gov/tcert/teach/>. Institutional endorsement is automatic once all requirements are fulfilled.

Effective September 2, 1993, the New York State Education Department requires passing scores on the NYSTCE, Liberal Arts and Sciences Test (LAST), the Assessment of Teaching Skills-Written (ATS-W) and Content

Specialty Test (CST) per major area for Elementary and Secondary initial certification.

For all students graduating after January 2014, the New York State Education Department will require passing scores on the Academic Literacy Skills Test (replacing the LAST), Educating All Students Test (replacing the ATS-W), a Teacher Performance Assessment Portfolio, and a redesigned Content Specialty Test.

New York State currently requires two separate certifications for educational administrators. School Building Leader Certification (SBL) replaces what was formerly called SAS certification. The School District Leader Certification (SDL) replaces the certification formerly called SDA. Both certifications require a separate New York State Certification Examination. Each exam requires a fee paid to New York State and attainment of passing scores. The New York State regulations are in transition. Please see the New York State Department of Education website for the most up-to-date SBL and SDL certification requirements.

New York State Certification requirements for teaching, counseling and administration mandate that applicants furnish evidence that they have completed the New York State approved module on the identification and reporting of child abuse, maltreatment, violence prevention and autism (Special Ed students only).

Instructional Materials Center

The Instructional Materials Center (IMC) is a unique part of the University libraries that supports and enriches the programs of The School of Education. The IMC collects and disseminates specialized information for the students with the nationwide assemblage of curriculum guides, textbooks and accompanying materials, audio-visual teaching aids and hardware, three-dimensional learning tools, publisher and distributor catalogues, educational and psychological tests, computers and software.

The existence of the IMC should enable pre-service and in-service teachers to examine the latest curriculum materials available in order to develop competency and familiarity. It is located on the fourth floor of the Queens main library.

Note: The School of Education reserves the right to make adjustments on a case-by-case basis.

Department of Administrative and Instructional Leadership

The Department of Administrative and Instructional Leadership offers programs in Administration and Supervision, as well as Instructional Leadership.

Programs of study offered in Administration include the School Building Leader (SBL) Master's Degree, the School Building Leader (SBL) Advanced Certificate, the School District Leader (SDL) Advanced Certificate, the Dual (SBL/SDL) Advanced Certificate, and the Doctoral Degree (Ed.D.) in Administration and Supervision. Instructional Leadership Programs include an Advanced Certificate in Instructional Leadership and a Doctoral Degree (Ed.D.) in Instructional Leadership.

The Advanced Certificate programs in SBL and SDL are certified by New York State since September 1, 2004.

The SBL Master's degree and Advanced Certificates, are offered through Online Learning as well as in the traditional classroom setting.

The Department offers 12 credits in Educational Issues in Gifted/Talented. These courses assist teachers in securing the NYS DOE extension in the teaching of the gifted. These courses are offered through Online Learning as well as in the traditional classroom setting. This extension to the teaching license can be secured with 12 credits in gifted education courses and a passing score on the Content Specialty Test (CST).

Administrative and Supervision Programs (M.S., A.C., Ed.D.)

Objectives

Programs offered lead to the Master of Science in Education degree, the Advanced Certificate and the Doctor of Education degree. The School Building Leader Master of Science program is designed to prepare students for New York State Certification as a School Building Leader (SBL). The School District Leader Advanced Certificate program is designed to prepare students for New York State Certification as a School District Leader (SDL). New York State has mandated exams for these certifications. Each student seeking SBL and/or SDL certification must take and pass the appropriate State exams in order to receive certification. Please check the New York State Department of Education website for the most up-to-date information on certification.

Department of Curriculum and Instruction

The programs in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction lead to the Master of Science Degree in Education and provide opportunities for graduate students to prepare for a teaching career. In view of recent changes in the requirements for New York State professional teaching certification, students must consult with their advisor concerning eligibility for teaching certification.

Admission Requirements: Master Degree Programs

Applicants seeking admission to graduate degree programs must submit the following evidence of their ability to pursue graduate study:

A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. Undergraduate scholastic achievement must be such as to give reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally this will be a "B," both in the general average and in the major field.

Students seeking professional certification are expected to have received or to have qualified for the New York State initial teaching certificate. Students who do not possess the certificate at the time they seek admission will be accepted with the understanding that they must receive this teaching certification to be eligible for institutional endorsement for the New York State professional teaching certification.

Programs of Study

Department of Curriculum and Instruction provides eight programs of study (Adolescent: Career Change, Field Change and Continuing; Childhood: Career Change, Field Change and Continuing; Early Childhood: Career Change and Field Change; plus an additional three Career Change programs of study in collaboration with the Department of Human Services and Counseling; Childhood and Childhood Special Education; Early Childhood and Teaching Students with Disabilities (Early Childhood); and Childhood Education & T.E.S.O.L. These programs encompass a range of teaching and learning experiences through relevant pedagogical methods and a broad knowledge of strategies for devising, implementing and assessing learning experiences for all learners. Each of these programs leads to a Master of Science degree.

Middle School Extension

Extension for Adolescent Education certificate holders: After successfully completing EDU 7106 and 7107 courses, students will be eligible to extend their eligibility to teach grades 5 and 6 in the same content area as their original certificate.

Extension for Childhood Education certificate holders: This extension will allow students to teach grades 7, 8, and 9 in a subject area. In addition to successfully completing EDU 7106 and 7107, students must have 30 credits completed (C or better) in one content area and must pass the New York State Content Specialty Test (CST) in the same subject area to complete the extension. The School of Education's Certification Officer will review all transcripts during the application process to assess whether or not the content area coursework has been satisfied for the extension.

Eligibility for the Programs

Applicants to each program should possess an undergraduate grade point average of B or better.

Students must possess New York State initial or professional teacher certification in either Adolescent or Childhood Education, or be in the process of attaining that credential. The Middle School Extension can only be granted to individuals who attain certification.

Application Procedure

Students not currently enrolled at St. John's University can request an application and information about the program at each of the four campuses.

Students currently enrolled at St. John's University as undergraduate seniors or graduate students should meet with their advisor to determine how to qualify for the Middle School Extension.

Required Courses in Both Certificate Programs

EDU 7106	Understanding Socio-Emotional, Cultural and Cognitive Aspects of Middle School/Adolescent Learners in General and Inclusive Settings (3 credits.)
EDU 7107	Methods and Strategies for Teaching Middle School/Adolescent Learners in General and Inclusive Settings*

Certification:

Adolescent Education Certificate Extension to Grades 5 and 6: Students satisfactorily completing the two requisite courses will be eligible to apply for certification, grades 5 and 6, in their initial content certification area. Students can apply through the School of Education for certification endorsement upon completion of the course work.

Childhood Education Certificate Extension to Grades 7, 8, and 9: Students satisfying the 30 credits in a content area with a minimum grade of C, passing the CST in that subject area, and satisfactorily completing the two requisite courses will be eligible to apply for certification, grades 7, 8, and 9 in their content area. Upon completion of the course work students can apply through The School of Education for certification endorsement in the following content areas: English, Mathematics, Spanish, Social Studies, Physics and Biology. Students who hold Childhood certification outside of those areas mentioned above can apply to the State Education Department via the "Individual Evaluation" pathway to receive the Middle School Extension in their subject area if they have met all requirements and provide appropriate documentation.

Department of Human Services and Counseling

The Department of Human Services and Counseling offers programs and coursework in professional teacher and counseling preparation.

The department offers programs in five major areas

- Bilingual Education
- Counseling
- Literacy
- Special Education
- TESOL (Teaching English to Students of Other Languages)

In most instances, candidates require an initial or base certificate for entry into the teacher preparation programs in Literacy, Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and Special Education. The professional preparation coursework of 18 credits for entry into the Counseling programs varies depending on the specialization. Two dual certification career change programs in TESOL and Special Education allow candidates to earn the initial and professional coursework simultaneously. These programs, and related coursework support the University Mission as articulated by St. Vincent de Paul and carried out through academic rigor and service to the community.

At the present time at the Queens campus, the department offers five graduate programs including Literacy, Counseling, Special Education, TESOL and Bilingual Education. Within the Literacy program, there are Ph.D.

and three graduate level programs and coursework in teaching literacy from birth through 12th grade. TESOL (plus a bilingual extension course sequence of 15 credits which can be added onto most base certificates); teaching students with disabilities, childhood and adolescence (special education); Also a 48-credit Childhood and Childhood Special Education (internship) program and a 48-credit Childhood Education and TESOL program are offered for those eligible candidates lacking initial teacher certification. There are also three 48-credit dual masters programs in Literacy B-6/TESOL K-12, Literacy 5-12/TESOL K-12 and Literacy B-6/Teaching Children with Disabilities (Childhood).

The School Counseling and School Counseling with Bilingual Extension Programs are both 48 credits. The Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is 60 credits.

At present, two new degree programs are now offered on Queens and Staten Island campuses with some coursework offered on Oakdale and Manhattan campuses: Teaching Students with Disabilities 7-12 Generalist for high school teachers and Teaching Students with Disabilities Childhood - Online Masters Degree for elementary teachers. Both 33 credit degree programs are available for those with initial certification in elementary or adolescence.

At the Staten Island campus, the department offers graduate level programs and coursework in Teaching Literacy at levels B-6 and in grades 5-12 and B-12; Advanced Certificates in Teaching Literacy, B-6; 5-12 and Literacy Leadership; a career change program in Childhood and Childhood Special Education (internship); Teaching Children with Disabilities: Childhood and Adolescent; Clinical Mental Health Counseling; and School Counseling.

At the Oakdale, Long Island location, special graduate level programs and coursework are offered in Literacy, TESOL, Bilingual Education and Teaching Students with Disabilities, Childhood. A 15-credit bilingual course sequence, which may be added to most base teaching certificates, is offered as well. Coursework in Literacy, TESOL and Special Education is offered on the Manhattan campus. Some of the department's course offerings may be taken online. "D" indicates those courses that are offered through online learning.

Counselor Education Program Master Degree

The programs in counselor education provide opportunities for graduate students to prepare themselves for counseling and leadership positions in counseling in a variety of settings. The programs provide an integrated approach to theory and practice and aim at meeting the professional educational needs of both full-time and part-time students in the urban and suburban environments that the University serves.

Counselor education programs of study are available at the master's degree level in three different specialization areas: School Counseling, School Counseling with a Bilingual Extension and Clinical Mental Health Counseling. In addition, there is an Advanced Certificate offered in the area of School Counseling.

Students in each masters program are required to pass the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) given by the Center for Credentialing & Education.

The three master's degree programs have been designed to meet the national standards specified by the Council on Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), as well as, the requirements of the New York State Department of Education and Office of Professions. The School Counseling and Clinical Mental Health Counseling programs are fully accredited by CACREP.

Some of the required and elective courses are also offered online.

School Counseling Programs

The School Counseling programs require 48-credit hours for the master's level including courses in a core body of knowledge, in the unique area of specialization, and appropriate field-based clinical experiences. The core courses focus on developing competencies in four areas: professional orientation, helping relationships, group methods and assessment. The specialization courses focus on developing competencies in human growth and development, cultural foundations, career development, research, consultation and evaluation, developmental school counseling, and organizing and administering comprehensive counseling programs in schools. The field-based clinical experiences include both a one-semester practicum and a two-semester internship in school settings. The field-based courses focus on integrating theoretical and practical knowledge in order to effectively deliver professional counseling services to students, and their families and school personnel in K-12 settings.

The School Counseling Programs are Fully Accredited by The Counsel for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP)

The program in School Counseling is designed to prepare students to counsel children and youth in traditional and alternative programs in public and private elementary and secondary schools. The Bilingual Extension is intended for students fluent in English and a second language who want to counsel culturally and linguistically different youth in a variety of multiethnic/multicultural school settings.

Both programs meet the academic requirements in New York State for permanent certification for Professional School Counselor and for Professional School Counselor with bilingual extension, respectively. In both cases, permanent certification also requires two years of full-time paid employment as a School Counselor or as a Bilingual School Counselor, as appropriate. However, both programs allow students to obtain provisional certification upon the completion of thirty credits of specified course work, that includes the practicum in School Counseling or Bilingual School Counseling. The Master's in School Counseling requires the completion of twelve credits of core counseling courses, 33 credits of specialization courses and three credits in counseling or related area electives. The Bilingual Extension requires the completion of 12 credits of core courses and 36 credits of specialization courses. Students seeking Professional School Counselor certification in states other than New York State should become informed regarding certification requirements in those states and meet with their advisors to plan accordingly. Students in New York State must attend two seminars (Child Abuse and Violence Prevention), as well as, be fingerprinted before applying for provisional or permanent certification in New York.

Admission requirements:

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university with undergraduate scholastic achievement indicating reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally this will be a "B" (3.0) both in the general average and in the major field.
2. A minimum of 18 credits in the behavioral and social sciences and/or professional education courses. Students who do not fully meet this requirement will need to make up deficit credits by completing course work in those areas, before beginning their third semester of study. These deficit credits are in addition to the usual program requirements.
3. Two letters of recommendation from college instructors or field supervisors.
4. Applicants are expected to submit a score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) but it should be noted that there is no specific score requirement for admission to the program.
5. An interview with counseling faculty.
6. The interest, ability and personality to function successfully in the field of counseling.
7. In addition to the above, applicants to the bilingual school counseling program must demonstrate language proficiency in both English and the target language by passing the New York State Bilingual Assessment (BEA) that is administered by the New York State Education Department. The BEA is required of candidates seeking a bilingual extension to a certificate.

Programs of Study in School Counseling and Bilingual Extension

All master's degree programs require the completion of a 48-credit hour program and the successful completion of the required national examination. Since programs of study are designed to meet the unique needs of every student, students in all programs must meet with their assigned program advisor before beginning course work to identify program requirements and complete program advisement forms. Counseling students are required to have liability insurance for the duration of their studies. Typical 48-semester hour programs are indicated below:

Advanced Certificate in School Counseling

Admission requirements:

In order to be eligible for the advanced certificate in school counseling, applicants must have successfully completed a master's program in school counseling or its equivalent and have adequate experience in the field. Applicants should have a minimum of a 3.2 grade point average in graduate course work and must submit two letters of recommendation with their application. An interview with the counseling faculty is also required.

Program of study:

Students who have completed a master's degree in counseling and have relevant experience in the field have the opportunity to earn an Advanced Certificate in school counseling. The program is designed to provide additional professional preparation for advanced graduate students. The specific courses required including EDU 6606 (Supervision in Counseling) and EDU 6607 (Practicum in Supervision of School Counselors) and the additional courses depend upon a student's area of specialization and must be approved by the individual's faculty advisor. Candidates for the Advanced Certificate in school counseling will have their credentials evaluated by the faculty to determine which courses will be taken. The total number of credits required for the Advanced Certificate, including the master's degree, is 60 credits.

Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program

The program in Clinical Mental Health Counseling is designed to prepare students to become professionals who use assessment instruments and mental health counseling and psychotherapy to identify, evaluate and treat dysfunctions and disorders of individuals, couples, their families or groups in private practice, group or organized settings. The program has been approved by the New York State Education Department as license qualifying and it is also designed to meet the requirements for accreditation from the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP – anticipated July 2012).

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling program requires sixty-credit hours for the master's degree consisting of a core body of knowledge (45 credits), three field-based experience courses (one practicum and two internships totaling 9 credits) and 6 credits of elective coursework. Students who are seeking licensure in New York are also required to complete coursework or training in the identification and reporting of child abuse offered by a New York State approved provider.

As a license qualifying program the master's degree in Clinical Mental Health Counseling fulfills the educational requirement for licensure. There are two additional requirements that must be fulfilled before individuals can obtain the license as a "mental health counselor." They must complete a minimum of three thousand hours of post-master's supervised experience relevant to the practice of mental health counseling and pass a State examination. Additional information can be found on this website: <http://www.op.nysed.gov/prof/mhp/mhclhc.htm>

Admission requirements:

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university with undergraduate scholastic achievement indicating reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally this will be a "B" (3.0) both in the general average and in the major field.
2. A minimum of 18 credits in psychology including courses in statistics and research. Students who do not fully meet these requirements will need to make up deficit credits by completing course work in those areas before beginning their third semester of study. These deficit credits are in addition to the usual program requirements.
3. Two letters of recommendation from college instructors or field supervisors.
4. Applicants are expected to submit a score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) but it should be noted that there is no specific score requirement for admission to the program.
5. An interview with counseling faculty.

6. The interest, ability and personality to function successfully in the field of counseling.

Program of study:

The master's degree program requires the completion of a 60-credit hour program and the successful completion of the required national examination. Since programs of study are designed to meet the unique needs of every student, students must meet with their assigned program advisor before beginning course work to identify program requirements and complete program advisement forms. Counseling students are required to have liability insurance for the duration of their studies. Typical 60-semester hour programs are indicated below:

Core Courses (45 credits)

- 6121 Orientation to Mental Health Counseling
- 6205 Group Dynamics
- 6206 Psychosocial Development Across the Lifespan
- 6208 Counseling and Personality Theory

Field work Courses (9 credits)

- 6310 Practicum in Clinical Mental Health Counseling
- 6311 Internship in Clinical Mental Health Counseling I
- 6312 Internship in Clinical Mental Health Counseling II

Elective Courses (6 credits)

Students in the Mental Health Counseling program may select six credits in elective courses related to the student's needs, interests and career goals but these must be approved by the program coordinator or advisor. Courses may be chosen from within the counseling program or from select courses within the psychology department. The courses from within the counseling department include:

- 6125 Brief Counseling of Children and Adolescents
- 6211 Crisis Prevention and Intervention
- 6364 Counseling the Substance Abuser
- 6610 Spiritual Issues in Counseling and Psychotherapy

The courses from within the psychology department include:

- 760 Marital and Family Therapy
- 850 Cognitive Psychotherapy

Literacy Programs

The department offers a Ph.D. in Literacy and three Master's level graduate programs with specialization in the teaching of literacy. These graduate programs lead to initial or professional certification in Teaching Literacy, Birth through Grade 6; Teaching Literacy, Grades 5 through 12; or Teaching Literacy, Birth through Grade 12.

The department also offers: a dual master's degree in Literacy B-6/Special Education: Childhood and Literacy B-6 and 5-12/Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (T.E.S.O.L.) K-12, each 48 credits and three advanced certificates in literacy.

Completion of these programs qualifies students for New York State initial or professional certification in the literacy certifying areas, provided they have met prerequisite requirements; they have successfully completed all State mandated external tests, training modules and field experiences, and they have met citizenship requirements.

Requirements for the Advanced Certificate in Literacy B-6 or 5-12. (21 credits)

Must possess a Master's Degree in Education and initial certification. Must maintain a "B" (3.0) average in all course work. Must complete 50 hour practicum. Must pass Content Specialty Test in Literacy to obtain State Certification

Description:

The Advanced Certificate in Literacy Programs, B-6 or 5-12 requires 21 credits of literacy courses. This certificate enables the initially certified teacher to acquire the skills to teach reading, writing, and related language arts to students from early childhood to high school levels. In addition, the student will acquire skills to become a reading specialist capable of assessing reading and writing ability and providing instruction to help children and adolescents with literacy-related problems. The Content Specialty Exam (CST in Literacy) must be passed to obtain NYS certification in Literacy. This program will be offered on the Queens, Staten Island, Oakdale and Manhattan sites. Literacy courses (6 credits) taken as part of a previously earned career change Master's in Education may be counted for this Advanced Certificate. There is also a 15-credit Advanced Certificate in Literacy Leadership which can be added to a Master's in Literacy. Courses in the Advanced Certificate in Literacy Leadership may be applied to the Ph.D. program in Literacy. This advanced certificate prepares literacy coaches for leadership positions.

Admission Requirements for M.S.Ed. Degree Programs

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. Undergraduate scholastic achievement must be such as to give reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree, normally, a "B," both in general average and in the major field.
2. The teaching literacy programs service students who already hold initial certification in either childhood education, early childhood education, adolescence education, teaching students with disabilities, teaching students who are deaf or hard of hearing, teaching students who are blind or visually impaired, teaching students with speech and language disabilities, teaching English to speakers of other languages and library media specialists. Candidates seeking admission shall normally have achieved a B average, or 3.0 or better cumulative grade point average in the program leading to the degree of their existing initial certificate.
3. Applications of those individuals who meet the program requirements but whose GPAs fall below 3.0 in their initial certified area, will be reviewed by a committee of designated faculty members to assess applicants' potential to successfully complete the program. In such cases the committee may also request an interview with the candidate. Upon committee recommendation, those applicants will be accepted conditionally with the proviso that they achieve at least a 3.0 (B or better) in each of their first four program courses.

Admission Requirements for Ph.D. Degree in Literacy

Applicants seeking admission to the doctoral program (Ph.D.) must submit evidence of their ability to pursue advanced graduate study:

A master's degree in an education field from an accredited college or university is required. Graduate scholastic achievement must be such as to give reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally this will be a 3.2 GPA or better in prior graduate work.

Application Process:

- 1) Submit a complete application to the Office of Graduate Admission for the School of Education. Supporting documents include:
 - a. Official transcripts of all previous course work (undergraduate and graduate) that document a minimum GPA of 3.2 in a master's level program,
 - b. At least two letters of recommendation from professors and/or supervisors,
 - c. A statement of goals for doctoral study,
 - d. A professional resume or curriculum vitae,
 - e. Documentation of full-time teaching experience,
 - f. A score at or above the 50th percentile on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT), and
 - g. A score of at least 4 on the Analytical Writing section of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). (You need not take the other sections of the GRE).
- 2) A successful interview with members of the Literacy core faculty and the department chairperson.

Notification of the decision will be sent by mail. If accepted, the student will be assigned an advisor who will assist in developing a program of study.

Ph.D. in Literacy: Program of Study

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) program in Literacy focusing on Diverse and At Risk Learners prepares professionals for these role options:

Teacher Educator (College or University Faculty for Teacher Preparation, Research and Service)

School Literacy Specialist (Reading or Writing Specialist or Literacy Coach Developing Literacy for All Learners)

Literacy Leader Advocate (Agency, Community, or School District Curriculum Specialist–Developing, Organizing and Supervising Literacy Programs)

The Ph.D. program was approved by the New York State Education Department in January 2008.

Students holding a master’s degree or certificate in literacy and/or New York State certification in literacy may proceed to doctoral level course work. Those with background in other educational disciplines will need to take prerequisite literacy courses at the master’s level in conjunction with doctoral level course work.

Students take a minimum of two evening courses a semester (fall, spring, summer) as a cohort while maintaining their professional positions during the day. Course work is completed in three years leaving the fourth year and beyond for the dissertation.

Digital Portfolio (Introduced in EDU 3281):

A portfolio system is used to ensure successful completion of the program. It includes Comprehensive Examination through Domain Essays. Artifacts for Expertise, Professionalism, Scholarship, Teaching, and Service. Doctoral faculty evaluates the portfolio annually.

Special Education Programs

The Department of Human Services and Counseling offers graduate level programs leading to a professional state certificate valid for teaching students with disabilities: Teaching

Students with Disabilities in Childhood (33 credits); Teaching Students with Disabilities in Childhood-Online Learning; Teaching Students with Disabilities 7–12 Generalists; and Childhood and Childhood Special Education Internship (48 credits). The 33-credit programs lead to state certification valid for teaching students with disabilities at the childhood level (Grades 1–6) or adolescent level (Grades 7–12). The 48-credit internship program, offered in collaboration with the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, is intended for students who have not received initial certification in childhood or elementary education and who wish to obtain additional certification in teaching students with disabilities at the childhood level. Programs are offered at the Queens and Staten Island campuses. A combination TESOL/Special Education program is offered at the Oakdale location.

Elementary teachers can now enroll in the first completely online graduate degree program in teaching children with disabilities at the childhood level (Grades 1–6) recognized by New York State for certification. Teachers who complete this online degree will be eligible for a professional state certificate valid for teaching students with disabilities at the childhood level (Grades 1–6). A “D” indicates those courses that are offered online. Students have the option of enrolling in this 33-credit program online through online learning or live on the Queens campus. In addition, the new 33 credit 7–12 Generalist degree for high school teachers is now offered on both Queens and Staten Island campuses with some courses offered on the Oakdale and Manhattan campuses.

The 48-credit program is offered on both the Queens and Staten Island campuses with some coursework available on the Manhattan and Oakdale campuses. Students enrolled in the 48-credit program on Staten Island may need to take courses at the Queens campus or online.

The Special Education Program for teaching students with disabilities at the childhood and adolescent levels are designed to foster the development of skills, attitudes, and abilities needed to identify and remediate major learning and behavior disorders including autism. They also prepare teachers to instruct children and youth who manifest learning and behavioral problems ranging from mild to profound, regardless of etiology. Attention is paid to diagnosis, intervention, program planning and program evaluation. Completion of the special education master’s programs qualifies students for New York State initial or professional certification as a teacher of students with disabilities at the childhood and adolescent levels, provided students have successfully completed all State mandated external tests, training modules, workshops and teaching experiences.

The graduate level program leading to Dual Certification in Early Childhood and Teaching Students with Disabilities (Birth to Grade 2) is offered in collaboration with The Department of Curriculum and Instruction. Advanced Certificates in Early Childhood, Childhood, and Adolescence and Autism will be offered in 2013. Please look on the web for more information on these new programs.

Admission Requirements for Master’s Program in Special Education

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. Undergraduate scholastic achievement must be such as to give reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally this will be a “B,” both in the general average and in the major field.
2. The special education program serves students who have received or who have qualified for the New York State initial teaching certificate. Students who do not possess the certificate at the time they seek admission will be accepted into the 48-credit program with the understanding that they must receive this teaching certification to be eligible for institutional endorsement for the New York State professional teaching certification.
3. Applications for those individuals who meet program requirements but whose GPAs fall below 3.0 in their initial certification area will be reviewed by a committee of designated faculty members to assess applicants’ potential to successfully complete the program. In such cases the committee may also request an interview with the candidate. Upon committee recommendation, those applicants will be accepted conditionally with the provision that they achieve at least a 3.0 in each of the first four courses in the program.
4. In addition to meeting all academic prerequisites, prospective online students must interview with program faculty prior to admittance to determine if they meet rudimentary computer proficiency requirements, such as Internet experience, logging on, cutting and pasting text using word processing software and attaching documents as e-mail attachments.
5. Applicants for the Teaching Students with Disabilities 7-12 Generalist Masters must enter with a total of twenty four credits, either at the undergraduate or graduate levels, in the following content areas: Social Studies (6 credits); Math (6 credits); English (6 credits) and Science (6 credits). Candidates must have received initial teaching certification prior to entering the program.

Career Change

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction, In collaboration with the Department of Human Services and Counseling, offers a 48 credit Career Change Program leading to certification in both Early Education (B-2) and Teaching Students with Disabilities (early childhood). This program is intended for students who have not received initial certification in early childhood education and who wish to obtain additional certification in teaching students with disabilities at the early childhood level.

The program is intended for students whose academic background is outside the field of education and who do not presently hold a teaching certificate.

This program is designed to foster the development of skills, attitudes and knowledge needed to teach diverse populations of young children, birth to grade 2, in general education, early intervention, "inclusion," and self-contained special education settings. The program prepares teachers in methods of developmental assessment and of curriculum development, modification and implementation. It also promotes skills for working with interdisciplinary teams and culturally diverse families to support the learning and development of children across the range of abilities. Completion of this Career Change Master's program qualifies students for New York State initial/professional dual certification as a teacher of students in general education programs, birth to grade 2 and of students with disabilities at the early childhood level, provided students have successfully completed all state mandated external tests, training modules and teaching experiences.

Upon completion of the first half of the program (eight courses), meeting the liberal arts requirements as set by the Department of Education and successfully passing the New York State Teacher's Certification Examinations, you may be eligible for internship certification by the State Education Department and full-time employment in public and private schools within New York as a salaried employee. Please see your advisor for specific information. Semester hour: 48 credits.

TEACHING ENGLISH TO SPEAKERS OF OTHER LANGUAGES (TESOL) AND BILINGUAL EDUCATION (K-12) PROGRAMS

The department offers several advanced degree programs in TESOL, and Bilingual Education. These programs prepare qualified individuals to meet the educational needs of English Language Learners (ELLs) who are children, adolescents and youth. There are seven graduate programs presently offered in TESOL and Bilingual Education. There are seven graduate programs presently offered in TESOL and Bilingual Education. All programs involve students in a rich array of field experiences in schools.

Programs Leading to New York State Certification:

- Masters in TESOL, K-12 (students holding initial certification)
- Dual Certification Masters: Childhood Education (1-6) and TESOL (K-12)
- Advanced Certificate in TESOL (K-12) (students holding a Master's degree)
- Bilingual Extension which extends most base certification
- Intensive Teacher Institute (ITI) Program .

Accelerated weekend classes and online courses are available for our programs.

Program Options

- All TESOL and Bilingual Education programs prepare students to become exemplary educators at K-12 levels, including "non-certification" track programs.
- International students who wish to obtain New York State certification should pursue the 48-credit career change program.
- Students, including international students or those whose career goals are outside teaching in the traditional New York State K-12 classroom and, who do not wish New York State certification should opt for non-certification track program.
- Students who enroll in a TESOL program already possessing initial New York State certification will receive endorsement for NYS professional certification upon program completion.

Study Abroad Opportunities

The TESOL and Bilingual Programs offer expanding, cultural study-abroad opportunities where students have the opportunity to take TESOL courses. Currently, we offer short-term programs in Italy, France, Spain and Vietnam.

APPLICANTS SEEKING NEW YORK STATE CERTIFICATION

Admission Requirements: TESOL (K-12) Master of Science Programs

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university, which includes a concentration or major in one of the liberal arts and sciences and no fewer than six semester hours in each of the following academic areas: English, mathematics, science, social studies and a language other than English. Undergraduate scholastic achievement must be such as to give reasonable assurance of success in work for an advanced degree. Normally, this will be a "B," both in the general average and in the major field.
2. New York State initial teacher certification or eligibility for teaching certification. Entry into the TESOL program is open to those students who hold initial certification in early childhood, elementary or childhood, middle childhood, secondary or adolescent education, literacy or special education. Students who do not hold initial certification should apply to the dual Childhood Education and TESOL Program.
3. International students are not required to hold initial certification for acceptance into one of the programs. However, international students who are interested in possibly qualifying to apply for NY State teaching certification should consider the 48-credit career change program option.
4. Proficiency in English. Students who have foreign academic credentials must demonstrate proficiency in English at the start of the program by passing oral language and written reading and writing proficiency tests in English administered by the University's ESL Department. Students who do not demonstrate adequate English language proficiency will be required to take ESL course work to bring their English language proficiency up to the required level, as recommended by the ESL Director. Such coursework will be used to meet a program prerequisite and will not count towards meeting the credits required for the TESOL degree.
5. Although not a prerequisite, all TESOL students must have 12 credits of a language other than English before applying for state certification. TESOL students must take the CST in TESOL for certification. International students are exempt from these requirements.
6. A comprehensive exam must be taken during the last semester of coursework.

Program of Study:Master of Science in TESOL

The master's program in TESOL Grades K-12 is a 33-credit program which includes course work in three areas: foundations, TESOL professional core and technology. Intensive Teaching Institute (ITI) -
Advanced Certificate Program
(15 credits)

Advanced Certificate in TESOL and Bilingual Extension programs

Intensive Teaching Institute in Bilingual Education and English as a Second Language is funded by New York State Education Department (NYSED) in partnership with St John's University, Graduate Programs in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages.

These programs were created to address the shortage of certified bilingual and English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) teachers in New York State already employed New York State public school educators and counselors working in grades K-12. The ITI-BE 15 credit course sequence programs offered at St John's University are structured to prepare teachers and Pupil Personnel Service providers who are currently employed as NYS public school teachers and counselors with an advanced certificate from New York State Education Department.

For further information, please contact the Program Coordinator at (718) 990-6407 or refer to www.stjohns.edu.

Applicants with International Credentials

All credentials in support of an application to a graduate program must be evaluated by World Education Services, Inc. (WES) or GLOBE Language Services, Inc.

The TESOL Program requires all graduate applicants who are nonnative speakers of English, as indicated on the admissions application, or who do not hold a prior degree from an accredited American college or university, to submit scores from the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) examination. Successful candidates present a score of 500 on the paper-based test; 173 on the computerized test; 61 on the internet-based test; or 5.0 on the IELTS (International English Language Testing System).

Students with foreign credentials who wish to teach in New York State will need to satisfy the requirements for entry into the initial TESOL certificate program, including passing the appropriate New York State certification examinations.

Students should also refer to the International Students and Scholar Services Office.

EDU 7128 Integrated Curriculum in Early Childhood

Students learn to design and implement integrated curriculum including both teacher-planned and child-initiated learning experience to address state learning standards in social studies, language arts, mathematics, science, and technology. Field work required.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7129 Mathematics and Science in Early Childhood

In this course, students explore the teaching and learning of scientific and mathematical concepts and processes through content of relevance and interest to children, Pre-K through second grade. Includes evaluating and integrating technology resources into lesson planning for inquiry-based learning. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7135 Current Trends, Research and Assessment in Social Studies

Current practices and trends; an examination of selected innovative programs and the development of skills and techniques for social studies instruction. Field work required.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7136 Current Trends, Research and Assessment in Science

Current practices, trends and examination of selected innovative programs and the development of skills and techniques for instruction in science. Field work required.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7137 Current Trends, Research and Assessment in Mathematics

An examination of the present-day curriculum in elementary school mathematics in addition to current practices and trends with emphasis on the content of modern mathematics. Field work required.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7138 Current Trends and Research in the Teaching of Language Arts

Current practices and trends; examination of selected innovative programs and the development of skills and techniques for language arts instruction. Field work required.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7195 Teaching and Learning: Childhood

This course is designed to provide prospective teachers of elementary school students with focused knowledge of learning and development as they relate to teaching strategies and techniques. Field work required.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7211 Educational Research and Data Analysis II

Prerequisite: EDU 5655. This course develops knowledge and applications of advanced univariate and multivariate inferential statistical methods, multiple correlation and regression, principles of measurement, internal validity, power analysis and effect size. Students will have hands-on use of statistical software such as SPSS to organize and analyze data and engage in critical analyses of published research that exemplifies a variety of statistical techniques. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7217 Creating Basic Audiovisual Media (CF.LIS 217)

Creation and evaluation of multi-media programs for all libraries. Independent projects will require additional laboratory time.

Credit: 3 semester hours. Field trip may be required. Library Science fee: $25.

EDU 7222 Historical Perspectives and Current Trends in Curriculum Development

This course focuses upon current issues and problems within the field of curriculum. The course examines conceptions of curriculum as well as historical, philosophical, social, and intellectual foundations of those conceptions.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7266 Technology for Teaching Literacy Applications in Regular and Special Education Settings

Technology utilization for literacy-based instruction. Emphasis is placed on the ways that technology can be used in the classroom to acquire information, communicate, and enhance learning in grades Pre K-5.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7267 Technology for Literacy-Based Applications in Content Area Learning in Regular and Special Education Settings

Technology utilization for literacy-based instruction in the content areas. Emphasis is placed on the ways that technology can be used to acquire information, communicate, and enhance learning in grades 6-12.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7270 Research Seminar: Investigating and Evaluating Research in the Field of Instructional Technology

This course will focus on investigating and evaluating current research findings and methodologies in the field of instructional technology. Students will explore how theories, research methodologies and technology research tools are being used to study teaching and learning with emerging technologies. Upon completion of the course, students will develop a literature review and research plan in an area of interest for their dissertation proposal.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7290 Human Relations in Multicultural and Inclusive Settings

The course will focus on improving communication skills and relationships with parents, students, administrators and members of the community in a multicultural society.

EDU 7291 Innovative Strategies in Secondary Settings: Social Studies

This course examines issues, perspectives and strategies related to developing a critical pedagogy of reflective practice in secondary social studies education, and is designed around four interrelated themes: 1. Exploring the theoretical and historical underpinnings of history education; 2. Understanding best practices related to methods of social studies education at the adolescent level; 3. Examining planning and assessment practice and purpose through reflective self-evaluation, and 4. Developing pedagogical practices that are responsive to the context of urban schools and inclusive of the multifaceted identities of metropolitan adolescents and their families.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7292 Innovative Strategies in Secondary Settings: Science

This course examines issues, perspectives and strategies related to developing a critical pedagogy of reflective practice in secondary science education, and is designed around four interrelated themes:

1. Exploring models and theories related to methods of science teaching and learning;
2. Understanding current research on best practices related to methods of science education at the adolescent level;
3. Examining planning and assessment practice and purpose through reflective self-evaluation, and
4. Developing pedagogical practices that are responsive to the context of urban schools and inclusive of the multifaceted identities of metropolitan adolescents and their families.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7293 Innovative Strategies in Secondary Settings: Mathematics

This course examines issues, perspectives and strategies related to developing a critical pedagogy of reflective practice in secondary mathematics education, and is designed around four interrelated themes: 1. Exploring models and theories related to methods of mathematics teaching and learning; 2. Understanding current research on best practices related to methods of mathematics education at the adolescent level; 3. Examining planning and assessment practice and purpose through reflective self-evaluation, and 4. Developing pedagogical practices that are responsive to the context of urban schools and inclusive of the multifaceted identities of metropolitan adolescents and their families. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7294 Innovative Strategies in Secondary Settings: Foreign Language

This course examines issues, perspectives and strategies related to developing a critical pedagogy of reflective practice in secondary foreign language education, and is designed around four interrelated themes: 1. Exploring models and theories related to methods of foreign language teaching and learning; 2. Understanding current research on best practice related to methods of foreign language education at the adolescent level; 3. Examining planning and assessment practice and purpose through reflective self-evaluation, and 4. Developing pedagogical practices that are responsive to the context of urban schools, and inclusive of the multifaceted identities of metropolitan adolescents and their families. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7295 Teaching and Learning Adolescent

This course involves planning for instruction with a view toward differentiated instructional strategies for all students in the several content areas, paying special attention to current standards. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7296 Innovative Strategies in Secondary Settings: ELA

This course examines issues, perspectives and strategies related to developing a critical pedagogy of reflective practice in secondary ELA education, and is designed around four interrelated themes: 1. Exploring models and theories related to methods of ELA teaching and learning; 2. Understanding current research on best practices related to methods of ELA education at the adolescent level; 3. Examining planning and assessment practice and purpose through reflective self-evaluation, and 4. Developing pedagogical practice that is responsive to the context of urban schools and inclusive of the multifaceted identities of metropolitan adolescents and their families. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7297 Integrative Research Seminar in Education

Surveys methods of qualitative and quantitative inquiry into educational issues from Grade B–12 in mainstream and inclusive settings marked by racial, ethnic, linguistic, and cultural diversity. Students will analyze and synthesize research relevant to selected topics in literacy, home-school-community relations and other program-related areas of interest in early childhood, childhood, adolescent education or education for inclusive, educationally disadvantaged students. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7300 Educational Assessment of Young Children with Exceptionalities (cf. EDU 9733)

Prerequisites: EDU 9737 and EDU 7126. Use of formal and informal strategies for assessment and evaluation of young children with exceptionalities. Emphasis in interdisciplinary and family collaborator in collection and analysis of assessment data for formulation of interventions. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7301 Curriculum Modifications for Teaching Students with Disabilities in Diverse Early Childhood Setting (cf. EDU 9734)

Focuses on adapting general education curriculum, methods, technology, resources and materials to support students over a wide range of disabilities and cultural/linguistic backgrounds in meeting state learning standards. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7302 Early Intervention and Provision of Services for Preschoolers with Special Needs (cf. EDU 9736)

Highlights needs of infants, toddlers and preschoolers with or at risk for developmental delays or disabilities. Examines assessment and intervention processes and strategies in a variety of natural environments and issues in the transition to preschool environments. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7303 Research on Issues in Early Childhood Special Education

Focus on relationships between research, theory and practice in providing appropriate services for infants, toddlers and young children with special needs. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7304 Practicum in Special Education-Early Childhood (cf. EDU 9739)

Prerequisites: EDU 7114, Core Special Education courses and permission of instructor.

Applications of instructional strategies for students with disabilities in inclusive or special education settings, under university supervision. Students will learn the means for identifying and reporting suspected child abuse, and maltreatment and the prevention and intervention of child abduction, school violence and alcohol, tobacco and other drug abuse. A minimum of 25 days or 150 hours of field work required. Seminar attendance required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7319 Approaches, Strategies and Materials for Literacy Development

Study of various approaches to reading instruction; analysis of strengths and weaknesses of each mode; classroom grouping and management procedures for reading instruction. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7334 School Media Centers (Cf. LIS 234)

Introduction to the organization and functions of school media centers. Discussion of the educational setting, program relationships within the school and the community, finances and budgeting, staffing, services and program planning. Emphasized are operations of the building level media program. Credit: 3 semester hours. Field trip required.

EDU 7399 Field Research in Reading and Learning

This course serves as a combined seminar and practicum in which a variety of approaches to teaching students to read are explored and field-tested. Students are required to use previous research as the basis for the development of experimental study focuses on the application of varied reading ideologies for students with diverse learning styles and to submit their findings in a manuscript for publication. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7410 Identification of the Gifted and Talented (cf. EDU 5410)

This course examines the identification of gifted/ talented and high ability students and factors involved with the development of their talents. Multiple criteria are illustrated in the identification process and special emphasis is placed on diverse students. This course is designed to satisfy NY State license extensions for teaching gifted students, for which an Internship will be required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7411 Introduction to Designing Programs, Curriculum and Materials for the Gifted and Talented (cf. EDU 5411)

This course develops ability in the design of appropriate programs, curriculum and materials for gifted/ talented and high ability students groups along with a critical review of relevant research and contrasts of alternative models and perspectives within gifted education. This course is designed to satisfy NY State license extensions for teaching gifted students for which an Internship will be required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7412 Teaching Creative Thinking and Problem Solving to Gifted and Talented Students (cf. EDU 5412)

This course responds to immediate and long-range needs of gifted/talented and high ability students by promoting the achievement of basic skills and experience in creative thinking and problem solving both globally, and within various subject areas, along with critical review of relevant research. This course is designed to satisfy NY State license extensions for teaching gifted students for which an Internship will be required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7413 Professional Collaboration and Leadership in Gifted Education (cf. EDU 5413)

This course will cover collaborative models of professional development and program evaluation for gifted/talented and high ability students' education, major issues and leadership concerns in the field, e.g., including underrepresented populations and integrated gifted practices school wide and system wide. Students will investigate how to network and disseminate information on gifted education. This course is designed to satisfy NY State license extensions for teaching gifted students for which an Internship will be required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7440 Designing, Implementing and Evaluating In-Service Programs

This course examines, through reading and discussion of current research and literature, characteristics as well as theoretical frameworks of effective in-service design processes. Models of effective in-service programs are analyzed and adapted to address students' educational needs and settings. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7550 Internship Seminar in Instructional Leadership

The internship application form and proposed program must be submitted to the Coordinator of the Internship Program, Division of Administrative and Instructional Leadership, St. John's University at least two months prior to the session in which the applicant plans to carry out his/her internship. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7555 Planning for Curriculum Development in Elementary and Secondary Schools

Theories of learning and relevant research; study of the curriculum decision-making process; research evaluation and practice concerning operational aspect of educational objectives; behavioral analysis of educational tasks. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7579 Observational Analysis for Teachers

Macro-and micro-analyses of teaching through the use of affective, cognitive, verbal and non-verbal observational systems are discussed, along with a critical analysis of current research on teaching approaches and practices. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7580 Analysis of Teaching and Educational Process

The relationships that exist between instructional objectives and teaching behavior; applications of human development and learning concepts as they relate to specialized teaching methods and materials. Research results and selected generic theories of teaching behavior are used to extend the teacher's concept of the teaching-learning process. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7585 Assessment and Evaluation in the Teaching/Learning Process (formerly 7298)

This course focuses on formal and informal means of assessing students' learning and the teacher's analysis and improvement of his/her own practice through connecting this process with the relevant research. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7590 Communications and Human Relations

The educational implications of prejudice and sexism are examined as well as the development of skills necessary to identify needs of adolescents; training for group facilitating related to the classroom and the development of communication skills are also discussed. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7663 Using Technology in the Study of Qualitative Research Methodology

Students in this course will learn how qualitative data analysis software can be used as a tool to enhance the research analysis process. This course will integrate theory with applications, as well as provide instruction on how to use the software. Students will use both text analysis and qualitative analysis software programs in a study where they design the instruments, collect the data, and analyze the results. Credits: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7664 Foundations of Online Learning

This course provides an introduction to the field of e-learning and distance education. The course provides learning opportunities to understand the foundations, theories, research, and delivery technologies of distance education. Learners explore current e-learning tools used in online and blended instruction. The emphasis is on pedagogy and the learner, rather than the technology itself. Learners also engage in activities that involve applying effective design and teaching strategies to a course module appropriate for their teaching. Credits: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7665 Leadership in Technology I (cf. EDU 5665)

This course develops leadership abilities at the school building and school district levels to understand the administrative and instructional uses of technology; validate improvements in curriculum development and instructional practices through the integration of technology; to make decisions about future hardware and software enhancement, consistent with the National Technology Standards, as they pertain to classroom, school, and district goals for students, including students with diverse learning needs; and to make decisions about future technology for professional development at all levels. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7666 Developing Curriculum Materials for the Web

Recent advances in technology are examined in terms of research implications and classroom applications. Contemporary conceptions of curriculum theory, design, and development are studied and applied to the development of web based curriculum materials. The course includes the study and creation of inquiry based curriculum webs. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7667 Foundations of Instructional Design for Technology-Supported Learning

This course provides an introduction to instructional design for technology-supported learning. The purpose is that students gain an understanding of the field, learn to analyze a subject domain and to design, develop, implement, and evaluate technology-supported learning experiences to facilitate student construction of knowledge in that domain. Students will apply knowledge of approaches to teaching and learning of cognitive, psychomotor and affective goals, approaches to formative evaluation of instructional design and communication and collaboration technologies in the design of a learning experience.

Credits: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7668 Computer Technology in Education

This course considers the three ways in which computers can be used in instruction; as tutors, tools, or tutees. Examples of each of these uses are examined in terms of the theories of learning and curriculum implicit in each. Authoring systems, which allow teachers to design computer-assisted instruction, are used. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7669 Leadership in Technology II (cf. EDU 5669)

Prerequisite: EDU 5665/7665. This course focuses on using technology to make data driven decisions for effective school leadership. It explores the role of data in making effective instructional, financial, and administrative decisions in schools. Development and application of data-management and data-driven decision making processes are emphasized. Current research on technology in educational settings is critically examined. Credits: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7703 Analysis of Alternative Innovative Strategies

The purpose of this course is to examine educational alternatives through historical, sociological and philosophical analyses of schools and education. Study of the origin, the characteristics and the current directions of educational alternatives provide the framework for this course. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7708 Trends and Techniques in the Evaluation of Programs

This course will provide information about approaches to formative and summative program evaluation. It will include the establishment of evaluation criteria and standards, data gathering and analysis techniques, utilization of evaluation data, criteria for judging evaluations, and ethical issues in program evaluation. Case studies will be used to illustrate application of theoretical issues in evaluation to practical situations. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7712 Change Theory and the Curriculum

The purpose of this course is to help students to better understand the organization of school systems and to suggest ways in which curriculum specialists can bring about educational change in a systematic and planned way. Curriculum change strategies and tactics based upon recently developed scientific knowledge, concepts and theory are considered. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7715 Issues in Curriculum: Theory and Development

This course reviews the historical evolution of curriculum as a field as well as the works of those who have contributed to this evolution. Traditional as well as contemporary conceptions of curriculum theory, design and development are compared. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7800 Multivariate Data Analysis

Prerequisite: EDU 5655 and 7211. This course examines advanced research and statistical design approaches, including multiple and logistic regression, discriminant analysis, MANOVA, HLM, causal modeling, factor analysis and validity and reliability assessment. Students will have hands-on use of computer technology and statistical software such as SPSS to organize and analyze data.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7890 Independent Study– Instructional Leadership

Prerequisite: Permission and approval of Chairperson is required. Open to only qualified students who wish to pursue an advanced research project in a curriculum or teaching area along with a faculty mentor.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7900 Qualitative Research– Methods in Education

This course focuses on a variety of qualitative approaches to discipline and inquiry that can be brought to bear on the problems in education and also examines underlying theoretical frameworks of these approaches. The course provides opportunities for students to develop knowledge and skills in the various qualitative techniques and methods.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7901 Educational Research and Data Analysis III

Prerequisites: 5655 and 7211. This course advances the principles and concepts developed in earlier research courses through practical applications and field-based studies. The course will include instrument development, data collection strategies and advanced data analysis techniques using statistical software.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 7925 Maintaining Matriculation– Master’s Degree

Master’s degree students not registered for other courses must register for 7925 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. No credit. Fee required.

EDU 7935 Maintaining Matriculation– Advanced Certificate

Advanced Certificate students not registered for other courses must register for 7935 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. No credit. Fee required.

EDU 7940 Maintaining Matriculation– Doctoral Degree

Doctoral students not registered for other courses must register for 7940 until all degree requirements are completed and the degree is granted. No credit. Fee required.

EDU 7990 Doctoral Research Seminar

Original research leading to the doctoral dissertation is the focus on this seminar. Students who have passed the doctoral comprehensive examination and completed all course work requirement register for Research Seminar for 3 credits. for each semester until the dissertation is completed and the degree is awarded.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9001 Foundations of Bilingual and Second Language Education

History, and legal/political underpinnings of American education with an emphasis on programs for linguistically diverse learners; examination of exemplary principles, policies, educational models, research, assessment and technology. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9002 Psychology and Sociology of Language and Bilingualism

Social and psychological aspects of bilingualism in the context of current theory and research on first- and second-language acquisition and use from birth through adolescence. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9003 Literacy Development for First and Second Language Learners

Provides students with theory and practice and necessary knowledge and skills for teaching literacy and language arts to monolingual and linguistically/culturally diverse learners. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9004 Content Area Instruction for Linguistically/Culturally Diverse Learners

Prepares students with the necessary skills for teaching science, mathematics, and social studies through English as a second language and, as a means for improving English language skills. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9005 Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages and Dual Language Instruction

Theoretical and practical aspects of teaching English to speakers of other languages and dual language instruction for all age groups and language proficiency levels.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9006 Human Development in Cross-Cultural Perspective

Presents a cross-cultural framework for the study of birth through adolescent development. Emphasis is placed on the effects of cultural, heritage characteristics and socioeconomic levels. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9009 Teaching Strategies in the ESL and Bilingual Classroom: Science, Mathematics and Social Studies

Prepares students with the necessary skills for teaching science, mathematics and social studies through English as a second language and as a means for improving English language skills. Field work required. Credit: 3 semester hours.

EDU 9010 Linguistics for Teachers of English Language (ELL) and Exceptional Learners (cf. EDU 9710)

An introduction to the fundamental principles of descriptive and theoretical linguistics and the application of linguistic analyses to the teaching of language. (Field work of five hours required.)

Objectives

The Peter J. Tobin College of Business prepares graduates for rewarding managerial and professional careers.

Its educational programs combined with progressive technology provide the practical experience, solid knowledge base, strong ethical foundation and global perspective graduates need to make immediate and valuable contributions as business professionals.

The Tobin College of Business faculty carry out its responsibility for this preparation through excellence in teaching, supported by a commitment to applied business research.

Professional Accreditation

This College is a professional school concerned with education in the theory and practice of business administration. It is accredited by AACSB International—The Association To Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. AACSB International is recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation and by the U.S. Department of Education as the sole accrediting agency for bachelor's and master's degree programs in business administration. The Tobin College of Business is one of the fewer than 20% of business programs in the world that have attained this prestigious accreditation. The programs in accounting and taxation at the Tobin College of Business are separately accredited by AACSB International.

Accreditation standards have evolved to meet the contemporary needs of business, the professions, government, and graduate and professional schools. By meeting and maintaining the required level of quality for accreditation in professional education for accounting, business and management, the Masters of Business Administration program of the Tobin College of Business constitutes a sound choice for both the prospective student and for those persons responsible for recruiting students with professional preparation in business administration. AACSB International standards include an evaluation of faculty adequacy and competence, admissions standards and caliber of the student body, library facilities, computer equipment, financial support of the institution, and the content and breadth of both the professional and non-professional curricular requirements. The professional curriculum in an AACSB International accredited school stresses a working knowledge of the major areas of business activity, proficiencies in the use of analytical techniques in arriving at logical solutions to management problems, and an appreciation for and dedication to the social and ethical responsibilities of the business manager.

Honor Societies and Programs

M.B.A. HONORS

An M.B.A. with honors is awarded to students who have an overall cumulative graduate index of 3.5, and in addition write an acceptable research-oriented thesis.

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi is the national honor society for financial information students and professionals. The primary objective of Beta Alpha Psi is to encourage and give recognition to scholastic and professional excellence in the business information field. This includes promoting the study and practice of accounting, finance and information systems providing opportunities for self development, service and association among members and practicing professionals and encouraging a sense of ethical, social and public responsibility.

Beta Gamma Sigma

The Tobin College of Business hosts the Iota chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, the officially designated honor society of AACSB International. This chapter has been in existence since 1968. To be considered for membership, a student must have graduated or be a candidate for graduation in the current academic year. The election to membership during the spring semester is from the upper 20 percent of the group described above but in no instance will the overall cumulative index be allowed to fall below a 3.75 on the 4.0 scale.

Gamma Iota Sigma

The School of Risk Management hosts the Alpha Iota Chapter of this fraternal society, which was established in 1965 to promote, encourage, and sustain student interest in insurance, risk management, and actuarial science as professions; to encourage the high moral and scholastic attainments of its members; and to facilitate interaction of educational institutions and industry by fostering research activities, scholarship, and improved public relations. The Alpha Iota Chapter has been in existence since 1991. The Chapter offers multiple opportunities for members to interact with and learn from industry leaders, to make contacts with students in other chapters, and to offer community services.

Omicron Delta Epsilon

The Theta Chapter of Omicron Delta Epsilon, the International honor society in economics, was established at St. John's in 1958. The Theta Chapter is an active honor society, striving to broaden the student's professional interest in economics. Several times each year, Omicron invites working specialists from the business and financial community to speak on topical problems in their fields of interest. New members are formally inducted in the spring semester of each academic year.

Sigma Iota Epsilon

Sigma Iota Epsilon is the national scholastic honor society in management. Its general purpose is two-fold: to encourage and recognize scholarly excellence and to promote cooperation between the academic and practical aspects of management.

Graduate Executive-in-Residence Program

Larry W. Boone, Ph.D.

Associate Professor and Director

The Executive-in-Residence Program substitutes for Management 700 which is required of all M.B.A. students. Admission to the program is by invitation only. Students who wish to participate in the program must meet the following criteria:

1. The requirements for enrollment in Management 700.
2. A minimum grade point index of 3.5.
3. Successfully complete an interview with the Program Director.

The Executive-in-Residence Program is designed to provide a forum for interaction between practicing executives and the business student in order to:

- Improve student analytical skills
- Improve student written and oral communication skills
- Provide additional practical insights into the issues which were examined in previous coursework
- Provide students with the ability to develop effective strategic and business plans

Students, after meeting with organizational executives, work in teams to develop strategic and/or business plans which are then presented to company executives. Participating organizations have included PricewaterhouseCoopers, The Thompson Corporation (a large British conglomerate), KPMG Consulting, Standard & Poors, Deloitte, Keyspan Energy and ADP, Inc. Participating executives have included the chief executive officers, chief financial officers, senior partners, marketing vice presidents, etc.

The Executive-in-Residence Program (EIRP) offers the challenge of independent and cooperative research and analysis as well as providing for the development of individual initiative. Further details may be obtained at the web site <http://www.sju.stjohns.edu/eirp>.

Asset Management Program (FIN 684)

John Neumann, Ph.D.
Economics and Finance

The Student Managed Investment Fund was established as part of the graduate curriculum in Fall 2002. In this program funds are invested by students in listed securities of their choosing under the supervision of faculty and advisory alumni. This program provides students with practical experience in asset and portfolio management, equipping them to become immediate contributors to trading or portfolio management activities upon completion of their degree program.

Students interested in taking this course should contact the Chair of the Economics and Finance department to schedule an interview.

Global Destination Courses

Global Destination Courses (GDCs) are designed to provide students with international travel opportunities that expose them to global business practices. The courses combine a rigorous educational component, usually delivered through online learning, with an experiential field trip to a global destination. The course component typically runs during the Fall or Spring semester with travel during the Winter (January) or Spring (May) Intersessions or during Spring Break. Course destinations have included Chile, Romania, the UK and Peru and are designed to match a location with the academic course content. The travel component includes a number of site visits to meet with and discuss practical business operations with senior executives as well as cultural activities to all the students to understand and appreciate different cultures.

GDCs are open to students from all campuses who must submit an application for approval prior to registration.

London Seminar (FIN 700)

Each May a group of selected students have the opportunity to study finance and interact with financial executives from various financial houses in London, England. For further information please contact the finance department. A description of this course is located in this bulletin under the finance section of course descriptions.

Financial Lab

The Financial Information Lab is a facility whose goal is to enhance the educational and research missions of the Tobin College of Business. The room is equipped with state-of-the-art databases and analytical software tools including Bloomberg and FactSet, 3 LCD screens, a securities markets tracker, 3 overhead projectors, a six time-zone clock, a fully-functional audio-visual podium and a room-length whiteboard projection surface. Its dual-purpose design allows the Lab to serve either as a classroom or as a business research worklab. Professors can bring their students in for selected class sessions which are enhanced by the Lab's features, or they can leverage the Lab's tools to create coursework that provides students with real-world problems and situations to better develop their business critical-thinking skills.

Internship Program

Approval for internship must be sought prior to the start of the semester. Only new internship opportunities qualify for internship credit. In addition a research project is required. The equivalent of a full semester's coursework must be completed prior to enrolling in an internship.

Thesis Alternative

The master's thesis integrates academic knowledge and technical skills by employing them in a research task. It aims to widen and deepen the student's understanding of the broad problems of business by systematic investigation and explanation. The thesis itself takes the form of a written report on a faculty-supervised research undertaking. It provides an opportunity to plan and execute a research study while responding creatively to an intellectual challenge determined by the student's own interest.

The six-credit thesis option (901/902) is strongly recommended by the Tobin College of Business for students with a cumulative graduate index of 3.5 or better or who seek to explore select subject matter of their specialization in great length. The student choosing the thesis option should contact the Chairperson of his/her major department to develop academic program specifics once he/she has gained a commitment from a full-time faculty member to act as his/her mentor. Any credit awarded for Thesis 901 will not be applicable towards M.B.A./M.S. degree requirements without the completion of Thesis 902.

Time Limitation

In general, courses are on a cycle of two years for the master's degree. Students who are unable to devote their full time to graduate study may extend the time for completing the degree beyond this two-year span. However, all requirements for the degree must be completed within five years.

Maintaining Matriculation

Graduate students not registered for courses during a semester must maintain matriculation in order to return to the program for their remaining courses. A fee of $100 per semester is required to maintain matriculation. A student may only maintain matriculation for two consecutive semesters. Thereafter, a student must reapply to the program.

Enrollment

The college expects full attendance from all enrolled students and as such the college does not have an allowable excuse policy. International students must be enrolled in a minimum of nine credits. Students receiving government loans must be enrolled in a minimum of six credits.

Incomplete Grades

All "INC" grades must be completed without exception by the drop date of the next semester. If a student receives an "INC" in their last course then conferral date of degree will be the next conferral after the INC has been completed. Unresolved INC grades permanently remain on transcripts as INC, but do not impact students GPA.

Graduate Assistantships

The College offers a number of highly competitive graduate assistantships to new incoming students whose applications display high levels of academic achievement.

SRM Apprenticeship Program

The Ellen Thrower Center for Career Services at The School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science (SRM) administers the SRM Apprenticeship Program, providing a structured experience that allows students to apply their classroom knowledge to paid professional work with major employers in the insurance and financial services industry. The program affords students the opportunity to build their industry knowledge, develop workplace competencies, explore careers, increase their marketability and make a valuable contribution to an organization through consecutive semesters of meaningful work assignments. The program incorporates collaboration among SRM, the student and the employer. Each assumes distinct responsibilities for the purpose of enhancing the student's learning experience. Learning objectives are employed and periodic reviews are conducted, providing important assessment and feedback to the participating student. The SRM Apprenticeship Program is open to graduate students in Risk Management with a minimum cumulative index of 3.0. Participants are required to attend a pre-placement seminar prior to employer referrals. Students complete work periods of not less than two consecutive semesters. Work schedules may include full-time (35 hours/week) employment during summer and part-time (15-20 hours/week) during spring and fall semesters. Upon successful conclusion of the Apprenticeship Program, participation is noted on the student's academic transcript.

Curriculum Practical Training (CPT) for F-1 International Students

Students enrolling in internship courses have the opportunity to do for-credit internships in their areas of concentration. These internships enable our graduate students to apply the skills and knowledge developed through rigorous study in challenging positions offered by several multi-national corporations headquartered in New York City. CPT is only available prior to the completion of your degree program and you must have an internship offer at the time of application. For further information, international students should contact the International Student and Scholar Services Office (ISSSO), St. John Hall, Room 116.

Optional Practical Training (OPT) for F-1 International Students

International Students in F1 status can apply for OPT three months prior to degree conferral and up to two months after. This allows students to stay and work in the United States for a period of one year. Further information is available from the International Student & Scholar Services Office (ISSSO), St. John Hall, Room 116.

Academic Warning and Probation

A student in the Tobin College of Business is expected to achieve an index of at least 3.0 ("B") grade point average for all work carried each semester and to maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average for all work completed/carried in the Tobin College of Business.

A graduate student in the Tobin College of Business will be placed on academic probation if his/her cumulative grade point average falls below the 3.0 GPA requirement. Failure to show adequate progress toward good academic standing may result in academic dismissal.

Academic Information

Application

In order for an application to be considered, the applicant should submit the following to the Office of Graduate Admissions:

- A completed application form
- Official transcripts from all colleges and universities previously attended (foreign documents must be accompanied by a certified English translation)
- Results of the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT)
- Two letters of recommendation
- A written statement outlining the applicant's objectives for seeking admission and future plans in relation to graduate business study
- Résumé
- An official TOEFL or IELTS score report is required of all applicants whose native language is not English. Students found to be deficient in the English language may be required to complete a University sponsored English placement exam prior to the start of their studies and may be required to take English classes while they begin their graduate studies.

Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT)

As part of the admission requirements, all applicants for the M.B.A. program or M.S. programs in Accounting or Taxation are required to submit official Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) results.

Applicants to the M.S. programs in Enterprise Risk Management, Investment Management, or Management of Risk must submit results from either the GMAT or GRE.

Information regarding the GMAT may be obtained from the website www.mba.com

English Language Requirements

Foreign students entering The Peter J. Tobin College of Business with an F-1 or J-1 visa not meeting minimum required scores for the TOEFL or IELTS must take the English Language Placement Test. If they are found to be deficient in the above, they must successfully complete the ESL (written and speech) program prior to beginning the second year of their graduate program. The exam is administered by The Language Connection.

Master of Business Administration

The Master of Business Administration degree requires the completion of a minimum of 36 credits to a maximum of 54 credits either taken in full-time residence or on a part-time basis.

These credits are divided into:

8 required (some courses may be eligible for waiver based on undergraduate course work)

1 required non-waivable courses

4 concentration elective courses

1 international elective course

1 required capstone course

2 related non-field courses

1 free elective course

The thesis alternative, 901/902, is available upon consultation with an academic advisor.

The total number of credits required is determined on an individual basis depending on the applicant's undergraduate background. Additional credits may be required for students majoring in accounting or taxation.

It is required that the student request an appointment with a graduate advisor to outline course requirements as soon as possible after admission.

In order to qualify for the M.B.A. degree, a student must complete all courses with a "B" average (3.0/4.0). Each student's progress is regularly monitored according to the procedures and criteria established by the Graduate Committee on Academic Standing. Students may request consideration for a maximum of six transfer credits, with a grade of "B" or higher, from an AACSB International-accredited college or school, provided the courses have equivalent course offerings at St. John's and have been completed within a five-year period from the date of conferral for the M.B.A. degree. Once matriculated, students cannot take courses at other institutions for transfer credit except under unusual circumstances and for not more than six credit hours.

No student may enroll in a course without the proper course prerequisites. All material submitted for waiver of courses must be received for consideration during the student's first semester of study. No consideration is given to material submitted after the completion of the student's first semester of study. Consideration for waiver is only given to courses taken at accredited universities and colleges. A student may satisfy course requirements by passing proficiency examinations administered by the Tobin College of Business. A student may take each proficiency examination only once.

Students are obligated to make themselves familiar with the rules of the Tobin College of Business contained in this bulletin.

The time demands are substantial to successfully complete courses, gain the required knowledge and skills, do library research and be available for team meetings and other projects that students are assigned. Therefore Tobin College of Business graduate students who are employed full-time should register for no more than two classes (six credits) per semester and no more than one class (three credits) in each summer session. The Dean's Office reserves the right to require students to withdraw from a class if there is an overload.

Admission Requirements:

M.B.A. Program

Admission to the M.B.A. program is open only to applicants holding a bachelor's degree from accredited institutions who show promise of success in graduate business studies. Among the criteria used for admission are (1) undergraduate grade point average; (2) performance on the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT); (3) junior-senior grade point average; (4) rank in collegiate graduating class; (5) letters of recommendation; (6) statement of professional goals; and (7) résumé.

Accounting

The goal of the accounting concentration is to supplement the M.B.A. with a level of technical competence that permits entry into the profession of public accountancy or to enter corporate management in the accounting area. At the same time, the basic philosophy of the Tobin College of Business is preserved by utilizing the M.B.A. curriculum to give the student a deeper understanding of management problems and the business firm's position in the economic structure of society. The Peter J. Tobin College of Business was one of the first colleges in the region to gain specialized accreditation for its accounting and taxation programs by AACSB International.

The course of study for Certified Public Accountants is governed by New York State laws and regulations issued by the New York State Education Department. In addition to stipulating the number of credits in accounting (33), the State Education Department requires candidates to have sufficient credits in general business (36). The accounting program presented below specifies the courses which the C.P.A. candidate must take to meet the standards for New York State certification. Therefore, students interested in obtaining the C.P.A. license should consult with an accounting advisor to have a course of study arranged which meets the standards for New York State certification.

Students who have majored at the undergraduate level in fields other than accounting may be required to take certain core courses in accounting and/or other fields of business specialization. Such students should consult their accounting advisor for an approved course of study.

Accounting Scholarships

Accounting and taxation students who have completed all prerequisite courses may apply for the following scholarships:

- Bridie and Charles Fitzsimons Endowed and Expendable Scholarships
- Deloitte Endowed and Expendable Scholarships
- Ernst & Young Expendable Scholarships
- PricewaterhouseCoopers Endowed and Expendable Scholarships

Executive Management

This concentration takes an integrated approach to business management and is aimed at those students interested in the general management of the enterprise. The program is designed to provide students with the flexibility to meet their individual needs. Specifically, by choosing an appropriate course from the list of courses listed below, students can acquire expertise in such specialized areas as:

- E-Business Management
- Entrepreneurship
- Human Resource Management
- International Management
- Management Information Systems
- Operations/Supply Management

Or, students can choose a general approach to executive management.

This program synthesizes the following general and specific aspects of modern management: strategic management, global management, managerial problem-solving and decision-making, management information systems, entrepreneurial management, organizational behavior, human relations, corporate social responsibility and management of change. The goal of this program is to expand the learning experience of our students beyond traditional problem-solving and decision-making methods, to include the examination of the impact of the global business environment, information technology and the social system on the operations of the business firm.

Marketing Management

The objective of the graduate marketing program is to develop professional marketing executives by equipping current and prospective practitioners with a broad, integrated understanding of the role of marketing within a business firm, the economy, society and the world. Emphasis is placed on creating sensitivity to the rapidly changing demands of a marketing manager's environment. The role of marketing in the strategic interpretation and management of demand has become more crucial to the profitable operation and growth of business firms. A broad offering of courses, covering in depth a substantial range of marketing functions and activities, provides the student with a number of alternatives in this specialization.

The Department of Marketing recommends that students majoring in marketing join the American Marketing Association and subscribe to its professional publications.

The curriculum shown below focuses on the role of the marketing executive. This curriculum emphasizes organization, planning, evaluation and control of all aspects of the firm's marketing activities. The student is exposed to new product development, management of advertising, distribution and sales administration. In addition, the student is expected to become familiar with the assembly of marketing data, analysis and quantitative marketing models. The student, in assuming the role of the marketing manager, is subjected to typical marketing problems that require solutions.

Taxation (Non-CPA Program)

The goal of the taxation program is to provide a course of study which enables the student to either enter the profession of public accountancy as a tax specialist or enter corporate management in the tax area.

Accounting and business decisions must be evaluated in terms of possible tax implications and consequences. Tax specialization has developed in both the accounting and legal professions to facilitate this assessment. Public accounting firms have organized separate tax departments staffed by accountants with special training in the understanding and application of the Internal Revenue Code. Major business corporations have adopted a similar approach by attaching increasing importance to the function of the internal tax manager. The taxation concentration is designed to qualify students seeking advancement in the area of tax specialization.

The taxation curriculum is open to students who have majored in accounting at the undergraduate level and for law school students or graduates seeking an M.B.A. with a taxation concentration. Other students wishing to enroll in the program are required to complete necessary courses in accounting as a prerequisite for registration in the taxation program. Such students should consult their M.B.A. advisor for an approved course of study.

Risk Management

The School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science (SRM) is an academic department within the Peter J. Tobin College of Business. In 2001 the School of Risk Management was created from a consolidation of St. John's University and the 100-year old College of Insurance. The School of Risk Management's program enables students to gain a thorough understanding of the theory and practice of risk management and insurance. Students are exposed to the actuarial, financial, legal and economic principles underlying corporate risk management. Available courses explore in depth the functional areas of financial service company management (such as investments, pricing, and underwriting). Thus the Tobin College of Business is able to expand its historically strong business related offerings to the critical area of risk management and insurance.

M.S. Programs

M.S. Accountancy (CPA program)

Admission Requirements

To be admitted into the M.S. Accounting or Taxation programs, candidates must satisfy the following requirements:

- Possess an undergraduate or graduate degree in business or a related field. Students must have completed core business courses or must take such courses before completing the degree.
- Successful completion of the GMAT. The successful completion of the uniform Certified Public Accountants examination (CPA license), may be used in lieu of the GMAT examination for admission to the M.S. Taxation programs.
- Students with degrees in accounting, that were obtained from foreign universities, would be required to have their coursework reviewed by a faculty member involved in the program and/or specified external reviewer to ensure that the contents covered in such coursework is appropriate.
- Professional experience in business, government, or not-for-profit is recommended but not required.

The Master of Science degree program in Accounting is intended to provide students with the specialized technical knowledge in accounting, tax and auditing that will enable them to enter or advance their careers in the profession of public accountancy or in managerial positions in industry, government and not-for-profit organizations. Students in the M.S. Accounting program are expected to have an undergraduate or graduate degree in business or a related field and thus they must have already completed 36 credits of business courses.

If a student intends to sit for the Certified Public Accountancy examination and become licensed in the State of New York in public accountancy, he or she may be required to satisfy further education requirements which should be discussed with his or her accounting advisor.

Programs of Study

J.D./M.B.A. Public Accounting Program

The J.D./M.B.A. program is a dual degree program for exceptional students in law and business leading to a Juris Doctor (J.D.) and the Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) degrees offered by the School of Law and the Tobin College of Business, respectively.

Its purpose is to prepare students for careers in the areas of law and business, which require both legal expertise and a knowledge of the theory and practice of business and, in particular, public accounting.

Applicants for admission to this joint degree program must meet criteria for admission to the School of Law and the Graduate Division of the Tobin College of Business.

For further information on this program, an appointment should be made to meet with an academic advisor.

J.D./M.S. Accounting Program

The J.D./M.S. program is a dual degree program for exceptional students in law and accounting leading to the Juris Doctor (J.D.) and the Master of Science (M.S.) in Accounting offered by the School of Law and the Tobin College of Business, respectively. Its purpose is to prepare students for careers in the areas of law and accounting, which require both legal expertise and an in-depth knowledge of the theory and practice of accounting.

Applicants for admission to this joint degree program must meet criteria for admission to the School of Law and the Graduate Division of the Tobin College of Business.

For further information on this program, an appointment should be made to meet with an academic advisor.

M.B.A. Public Accounting/ M.S. Taxation

The Department offers a combined program leading to an M.B.A. in Public Accounting and a Master of Science in Taxation. The combination allows the student to complete both programs with a cost savings and fewer credits. Please contact the Department Chair or designee for further details.

B.S./M.B.A. and B.S./M.S. Accounting or Taxation Programs

The Graduate Division of the Tobin College of Business in conjunction with a number of undergraduate colleges within St. John's University offers 5-year combined degree programs leading to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) and the Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) or Master of Science (M.S.) in Accounting or Taxation. The combination allows the student to complete both programs with a cost saving and fewer credits.

Applicants for admission to these combined degree programs apply to the Tobin College of Business Graduate Division in the second half of their junior year and must meet criteria for admission to the Graduate Division of the Tobin college of Business. Applicants must have a 3.25 undergraduate grade point average and must submit results from the GMAT. The student must also meet other eligibility requirements to progress to the fifth year of study as a graduate student.

For more information on these programs, see the undergraduate bulletin at www.stjohns.edu/academics/undergraduate/bulletin. For the current combined degree offerings, see www.stjohns.edu/admission/undergraduate/programs/fiveyear.stj

Advanced Certificate

After having completed the M.B.A. degree, the professional business person may find that his/her career pattern has been altered to the extent that knowledge is now required in a totally new field requiring an expertise in more than one discipline. For example, a graduate of the M.B.A. program whose specialization was marketing and who had successfully performed in a sales administrative position may be assigned to the area of finance. Such a student might very well apply for the Advanced Certificate Program in Finance.

The admission requirements for the Advanced Certificate require the satisfactory completion and awarding of the M.B.A. degree or its equivalent. Specifically, the student must have completed the required core level courses, the required courses in the M.B.A. curriculum and the initial major specialization.

The requirement for awarding the Advanced Certificate is the satisfactory completion of at least 18 credits with a cumulative G.P.A. of 3.0. In some majors, a certificate candidate may be required to take core courses to qualify for a new concentration. The number of additional courses depends upon the applicant's academic background.

Please note, certificate programs are not eligible for financial aid.

Investigates how insurance firms can create economic value for their shareholders and the efficacy of shareholder value creation subject to the demands of other stakeholders. Results in students able to articulate the nuances of a 'good' company given the demands of shareholders. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 607 Operational Finance for Insurers

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Ratemaking, reserving, investing, allocating capital and asset-liability management. Results in students able to arrange the finances of (re)insurers to meet policyholder obligations and create economic value for owners. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 608 Microinsurance

This course examines the underlying issues that give rise to the need for microinsurance, and critically evaluates the development and operation of the global microinsurance market. Students understand the microinsurance product development process and the evolving microinsurance models and products. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 609 Property and Liability (Re)Insurance

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Underwriting, claims administration, financial reporting and rate-making for insurable property and liability risks. Results in students able to structure (re)insurance programs to finance risk. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 610 Life-Health Insurance and Employee Benefits

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Funding premature death, medical care costs, unexpected loss of income and retirement. Results in students able to identify, measure, and fund the consequences of personal risks. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 611. Cases in Risk, Insurance and Banking

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601 and RMI 602. Students gain experience and detailed knowledge in areas that are largely an individual choice through the production of at least four significant papers. Students investigate, form potential solutions, and produce detailed research proposals stressing an innovation to risk-related managerial challenges. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 612 Applied Risk Research & Writing

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Students, monitored by the instructor, apply the analysis tools they have already acquired to complete a series of large sample empirical research projects of applied interest to the risk, insurance or banking industry. Students are responsible for all aspects of the research project including data collection, data analysis and the presentation of their results. At the end of the course students have a first hand experience in resolving the practical issues involved in conducting large sample empirical research. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 613 Graduate Risk Seminar

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Students collaborate to examine in detail and depth topical issues in risk and insurance. Results in students able to articulate the nuanced impact of the topics examined for the practice of risk management or the formulation of social policy. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 614. Risk Funding Tools

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Derivatives, swaps, hybrid securities, indexed debt, contingent financing and insurance. Results in students able to hedge pure and financial risk singularly or jointly. (Calendar coordinated with RMI 604) Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 621 Risk Project

Pre/co-requisite: RMI 601. Students apply their knowledge and skills to complete a project of practical use to the banking, risk or insurance industry. The project, however, requires the student to apply critical thinking skills and a systematic problem-solving approach within professional contexts. The requirements and scope of the project is less than the scope of a thesis. Requires permission of department. An international student on a student visa may apply for the CPT (Curriculum Practical Training), if the student identifies an appropriate project. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 699 Risk Management Internship

This internship program provides students with the opportunity to develop research and analytical skills in the area of risk management within an actual work setting environment. Concepts already considered during coursework are expected to be applied and built upon to gain a deeper understanding of the industry of risk and insurance. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 901; RMI 902 Methodology of Business Research

Prerequisites: (1) The student must have completed at least nine credits (600 level) in a major area. (2) The student is expected to have explored possible thesis subjects with the department Chair well in advance of taking the course. (3) The student must bring to the first class a completed Thesis Proposal Form, defining the thesis project. (These forms may be obtained from the Graduate Dean's office.)

The purpose of this course is three-fold: (1) to give the student an appreciation and understanding of research and scholarship; (2) to develop skills in research and in analysis and evaluation of problems important to the business profession; and (3) to give experience in writing clearly and convincingly on subjects in the business field.

In RMI 901 the student is required to develop a thesis subject, obtain approval of the subject from the department Chair, draw up an outline of the thesis, complete a major portion of the research and write the introduction and first chapter of the thesis.

In RMI 902 the student is required to complete the master's thesis. Hours to be arranged by the professor. Credit: 3 semester hours.

RMI 925 Maintaining Matriculation

M.B.A. and M.S. students not registered for courses during a semester must register for RMI 925 in order to maintain matriculation and return to the program for the remaining courses. No Credit. Fee: $100 per semester.

*For a complete listing of approved courses, please contact the Dean's office.

Statement

The College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences commits to academic excellence, scholarship and service to humanity through the discovery and application of biomedical knowledge.

We facilitate and advance scholarship by offering innovative programs of study utilizing active learning approaches that are student centered, outcomes-oriented and that inspire lifelong learning.

As compassionate health care professionals and scientists, we serve humanity through our dedication to excellence in health care and biomedical research. Building on a commitment to cultural diversity and benefiting from our metropolitan location and strategic alliances with the leading health care institutions, we strive to serve as effective leaders, good citizens and moral and ethical individuals.

We commit ourselves to the discovery, communication and application of biomedical knowledge as a critical component for the development of health care professionals and scientists. Through innovative basic, social and clinical research initiatives, we contribute to scientific knowledge, address contemporary health care issues and seek solutions to health care problems.

Our mission embodies the principles of the University's mission statement: to provide a quality education in an environment that is Catholic, Vincentian and metropolitan.

Objectives

The Graduate Division of the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, in harmony with the mission of the University, prepares students for positions in industry, health care facilities, pharmacy practice, governmental agencies and education. The College provides an opportunity for students to develop and maintain scholarly growth in the pharmaceutical, industrial, biomedical and administrative sciences. In order to meet these objectives, the College offers programs at the master's level in pharmaceutical sciences, toxicology and pharmacy administration. Thesis and non-thesis options are available in all programs leading to the Master of Science degree except the specialty track in biopharmaceutical technology and regulatory affairs/quality assurance.

The College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences also offers a program of study in pharmaceutical sciences leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Master of Science Degrees

Programs of Study

The programs leading to the Master of Science degree are designed to enable individuals to be skilled in the areas of pharmaceutical sciences, toxicology, basic and applied biomedical sciences and pharmacy administration. Graduates are prepared for positions in industry, research, education and health care settings. Master's students are equipped with the skills to interpret and critically review research and integrate theoretical knowledge to provide solutions to practical problems.

The Graduate Division of the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences offers the following programs of study leading to the Master of Science degree:

Pharmaceutical Sciences

Specialization in: Industrial Pharmacy;
Medicinal Chemistry; Pharmacology;
Pharmacotherapeutics

Pharmacy Administration

Specialization in: Pharmaceutical Marketing;
Regulatory Affairs/Quality Assurance

Toxicology

Double Master's Degree Program

This leads to an M.S. in Pharmaceutical Sciences and an M.L.S. in Library Science. This dual master's program is offered in conjunction with the Division of Library and Information Sciences of the St. John's College Graduate Division of Liberal Arts and Science.

Entrance and Degree Requirements

Applicants with strong credentials in the sciences are considered for admission to the master's programs. All applicants to the master's programs must submit scores from the Graduate Record Examination, two letters of recommendation and a statement of goals in support of their application. Other specific requirements depend on the particular degree program chosen by the student. Graduate students who have certain deficiencies in their undergraduate curriculum may be required to enroll in graduate or undergraduate courses to remedy these deficiencies. These remedial courses provide no credit towards the master's degree. Students are notified of the specific requirements upon acceptance into the program.

Program Requirements

Pharmaceutical Sciences

Students who plan to undertake graduate work in the master's programs in pharmaceutical sciences must hold an appropriate baccalaureate degree with a major in pharmacy or in one of the physical, chemical or biological sciences. For graduate study in pharmaceutical sciences with a specialization in pharmacotherapeutics, a baccalaureate degree with a major in pharmacy, nursing, or physician's assistant is required.

Pharmacy Administration

For graduate study in pharmacy administration with a specialization in pharmaceutical marketing, applicants should possess a baccalaureate degree in pharmacy; however, those possessing a bachelor's degree in other areas are considered. The latter may be required to take certain undergraduate pharmacy administration courses in order to rectify any deficiencies.

The Regulatory Affairs/Quality Assurance Specialization provides comprehensive knowledge for Regulatory Affairs (RA) and Quality Assurance (QA) professionals seeking employment or career advancement in pharmaceutical companies, hospitals, governmental agencies, health care organizations and academia.

Toxicology

Students who plan to undertake graduate work in the master's program in toxicology must hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree with a major in pharmacy or in one of the physical, chemical or biological sciences.

Double Master's Degree Program in Pharmaceutical Sciences and Library Science

Students with an appropriate bioscience background may apply for admission to the double master's program. The M.S. in pharmaceutical sciences is awarded with a specialization in pharmacology.

Degree Options

Two options are offered within most programs leading to the Master of Science degree. The thesis option requires 24 semester hours of coursework (exclusive of prerequisites) and a thesis project for which a minimum of six semester hours of credit are required. Students that are accepted under the thesis option are permitted to take more than 24 semester hours of coursework subject to approval. The non-thesis option requires additional coursework in lieu of the thesis (a minimum total of 33 semester hours of coursework, exclusive of prerequisites). Students are typically required to complete the degree program option (thesis or non-thesis) for which they have been accepted.

Degree Requirements

Master of Science Programs

Residency*	One Year
Time Limit on Credit	Five Years
Minimum Credit in Semester Hours: Thesis Option	30 (24 Coursework; 6 Thesis Research)
Minimum Credit in Semester Hours: Non-Thesis Option	33 to 36 (Coursework)
Comprehensive Examination	Required (for Plan B)
Graduate Record Examination	Required

* Residency for the Master of Science degree requires completing six credits per semester for two consecutive semesters.

Double Master's Degree Program

Library Science	24 semester hours of credit
Pharmaceutical Sciences (Pharmacology)	21 semester hours
Exchange of credits applied toward the completion of both degrees	12 semester hours
Total	57 semester hours

Doctor of Philosophy Degree

The program in pharmaceutical sciences leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree prepares graduates for leadership roles in meeting the evolving needs in pharmaceutical and biomedical education, research and industry. The Doctor of Philosophy degree program is offered with areas of specialization in:

- Industrial Pharmacy
- Pharmacology
- Toxicology
- Medicinal Chemistry

Entrance Requirements

An applicant seeking acceptance in the Doctor of Philosophy program must have completed an appropriate baccalaureate or master's degree program. This degree must be in the natural or physical sciences and may include degrees in the pharmaceutical sciences, toxicology, biology or chemistry. Other degree areas are considered on a case by case basis by the Admissions Committee.

- Basic minimum requirements for a student with an undergraduate degree include:
 - a) An undergraduate grade point average of 3.5 or better
 - b) Suitable Graduate Record Examination (General Exam) scores
 - c) Two letters of recommendation
- Basic minimum requirements for a student with a suitable master's degree include:

- a) A graduate grade point average of 3.0 or better
- b) Suitable Graduate Record Examination (General Exam) scores
- c) Two letters of recommendation

Prior to registration, the student must receive written confirmation from the Office of Admission as to the approval of matriculation in the doctoral program. Post-M.S. courses completed prior to acceptance in the Ph.D. program may not be applied toward the Ph.D. degree requirements. The admissions committee may require that certain deficiencies be remedied during the first year of the Ph.D. program. Admission to the doctoral program does not imply advancement to candidacy for the degree. Additional requirements, including satisfactory completion of the core curriculum, passing the comprehensive examination, passing the oral presentation of the research proposal and the establishment of the Ph.D. research committee must be fulfilled before a graduate student may be considered a candidate for a degree. The Ph.D. research committee is responsible for assisting the candidate in his/her research, but the primary responsibility for successfully completing the research and dissertation rests with the candidate.

Students must take PAS 265 Scientific Inquiry: Regulation and Ethical Challenges on a Pass/Fail basis. These credits do not apply toward degree.

Program of Study

The program of study consists of a minimum of 60 semester hours beyond the bachelor's degree or a minimum of 30 semester hours beyond the master's degree, exclusive of prerequisites but inclusive of dissertation research. The coursework for each student consists of a core curriculum and a specialization curriculum that is determined in consultation with the faculty mentor. In some cases, students may be required to complete more than the minimum number of credits in their area of specialization or a minor field of study in order to make up any deficiencies which may exist.

Curriculum

Core Curriculum:	Credits
PHS 212 Applied Biopharmaceutical Chemistry	3 cr.
or
IPP 241 Advanced Biopharmaceutics	3 cr.
PAS 252 Biostatistics (industrial pharmacy only)	3 cr.
PHS 251 Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences	0 cr.
PHS 253 Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences	0 cr.
PHS 254 Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences	1 cr.
PAS 256 Pharmaceutical Analysis Laboratory	3 cr.
Total	10 cr.

All core requirements must be completed within the first two years of study. The specific curriculum for a specialization area will be determined in consultation with the doctoral student's faculty mentor.

Degree Requirements

Residency	24 credits or equivalent in a 24-month period (including summer)
Time Limit on Credit	Seven years
Minimum Credit in Semester Hours	15 credits of coursework beyond the M.S. degree plus basic requirements in area of specialty subject to the Doctoral Committee; 45 credits of course work beyond the baccalaureate degree.
Qualifying/Comprehensive Examination	Required
Graduate Record Examination	Required
Dissertation Research	Minimum of 15 credits of Dissertation Research (PHS 950)

The Research Tool consists of:
FRE 0101, 0102
GER 0101, 0102
MTH 165, 166
or
PAS 265.

Thesis and Dissertation Research

All candidates for the Ph.D. degree must conduct an original laboratory investigation. All master's students electing the thesis option, must conduct an original laboratory, administrative or clinical investigation. The results are reported in the form of a written dissertation that must be presented and defended at an oral examination. All thesis and dissertation candidates must take the appropriate 900 level research course each semester from completion of comprehensive examination requirements up to and including the semester in which the thesis or dissertation is defended. All laboratory research must be conducted at the University, unless explicitly authorized by the Ph.D. or master's committee.

Examinations and Grading

Graduate degree requirements for all programs include a required number of course credits with satisfactory grades indicative of scholarship. All master's students must take and pass a comprehensive examination. However, master's students that are enrolled in the thesis option (Plan A) must satisfy the comprehensive examination requirement by completing a research project and submitting and orally defending the written thesis.*

Ph.D. students are required to take and pass a comprehensive examination. Ph.D. students must also complete a research project and submit and successfully orally defend a written dissertation. (Ph.D. students should consult the College Doctoral Handbook for details concerning degree requirements.)

*M.S. students should consult the M.S. candidate handbook for further details.

Academic Standing

Students in the graduate programs are required to receive at least a "B" grade in all courses. If a student receives a grade of less than a "B", or their G.P.A. falls below 3.0, the student's program will automatically become subject to review. Such a review may result in academic dismissal. Master's students who receive more than two grades less than "B" are typically considered for academic dismissal. Ph.D. students who receive more than one grade less than "B" are typically considered for academic dismissal. Ph.D. students should consult the College doctoral handbook for details concerning academic status review and dismissal.

The Health Education Resource Center

Jaclyn Violet, M.L.S., Director

HERC is open weekdays in the Sister Jane M. Durgin Pharmacy Education Center of St. Augustine Hall, Room B22. This instructional resource center provides educational and technical services to support the course objectives of the College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences. The center features a specialized collection consisting of books, periodicals, media, and electronic resources in the primary subject specialties of pharmacy and health sciences. The students, faculty, alumni, and practitioners of the college are also provided with a number of services at the center, which include: reference and research support, document delivery, public work stations, and quiet study areas. The center also sponsors educational programs, led by leaders from the fields of pharmacy and health sciences, which focus on contemporary healthcare issues.

Department of Pharmacy Administration and Allied Health Sciences (PAH)

Wenchen Wu, Ph.D., Chair

Program of Study

The objective of the Department of Pharmacy Administration and Allied Health Sciences is to prepare a student who is interested in specializing in the area of Pharmaceutical Marketing or Regulatory Affairs/Quality Assurance to demonstrate and communicate the quality and value of pharmaceutical/health care products and services in a competitive environment, while building the foundations for a career track in marketing, outcomes research, pharmaceutical regulations, and quality assurance. A successful student is then able to pursue employment in his or her chosen field and become a leader or seek career advancement in pharmaceutical industry, hospital, academia, government, research, and health care organization.

Courses

PAS 204 Health Care Systems and its Financing

This course will provide an overview of those factors affecting the access disparity, efficiency and quality of the U.S. health care system. These factors include: demographic changes, demand for services, cost shifting, use of health technology, health care workforce distribution, financing of services by public and private payers, the rise of cost containment, Medicare and Medicaid, the evolution of the managed care market, and health care reform initiatives. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 211 Introduction to Pharmaceutical Marketing

This course covers topics including the modern pharmaceutical industry; the nature of pharmaceutical products; ad factors affecting marketing of pharmaceutical products. The U.S. pharmaceutical market is the focus for studying the above aspects. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 212 Pharmaceutical Promotion

This course deals with the theoretical, practical and unique aspects and issues in pharmaceutical promotion. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 213 Research Methods in Health Care Marketing

Prerequisite: PAS 252 or equivalent. This required course allows the student to understand the fundamental nature of the scientific approach to conducting research. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 214 Management in the Health Care Industries

Management policies and procedures of those institutions organized to deliver health care services and related products to the consumer. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 215 Foundations of Regulatory Affairs

This course provides the student with an understanding of the laws, regulations and procedures of federal and state regulations that affect drugs and medical devices during their development, production and distribution stages. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 216 Consumer Behavior in Purchasing Drug Products

Sociological, psychological and anthropological factors affecting consumer buying tendencies. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 217 Retail Pharmacy Management

This course deals with the theoretical and practical aspects of the activities involved in the retailing of pharmaceutical goods and services—specifically with respect to the places, times, prices and quantities that enable a retailer to reach its goals. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 218 Contemporary Administrative Principles

The evaluation of contemporary administrative concepts; the essentials of the planning, organizing, coordinating and controlling processes; and the techniques of interviewing, communicating, motivating and establishing performance criteria are explored in this course. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 219 Health Care Outcomes Assessment

This course is designed to provide a comprehensive review of economic analysis and health status assessment in the appraisal of health outcomes and program effectiveness in health service research. Major economic evaluation methods such as: cost effectiveness analysis, cost benefit analysis and cost utility analysis are introduced in the context of current health care service system. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 220 Global Pharmaceutical Marketing

Prerequisite: PAS 211 or equivalent. This course covers the global pharmaceutical market and the economic, legal, cultural, political and competitive environment in which the global pharmaceutical market operates. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 252 Biostatistics

This course will allow the student to conceptualize the different statistical methods used to evaluate drugs and health care protocols used in clinical and non-clinical public health settings. While the principal emphasis will be placed on data analyses involving animal and humans in preclinical and clinical studies, case studies will involve the application of the concepts learned in the course to other health related fields including but not limited to public health. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 256 Principles of Experimental Design

Prerequisite: Undergraduate courses in biological and chemical sciences. This course is designed to develop competencies necessary to solve complex biological problems with efficient experiments using small sample size. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 260 Basic Concepts of Drug Development

This course is designed to study the modern drug development process in the pharmaceutical industry from drug discovery up to the Submission of NDA for FDA approval. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 261 Foundations of GXP

This course introduces the fundamental concepts of GLP, GCO and GMP. It explores basic regulatory and quality assurance issues pertinent to pre-clinical safety research. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 262 Regulatory Submissions and the Drug Approval Process

This course covers the development of IND and NDA submissions or FDA review. In addition, the most recently revised regulations governing IND, NDA, SNDA and ANDA are discussed as they relate to facilitation of the review process. Credit: 3 semester hours.

PAS 263 Generic Drug Regulation

Prerequisite: PAS 215. This course studies the FDA's regulations on generic drug manufacturing, clinical trial, application preparation and submission and marketing. It covers related guidance documents, policies, requirements and general procedures. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 264 Advanced Food and Drug Law Regulation

Prerequisite: PAS 215. This course develops an in-depth understanding of the laws governing food and drugs. This course focuses on the laws and regulations promulgated by the federal government, especially the Food and Drug Administration, related to drug development, manufacturing marketing and distribution. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 265 Scientific Inquiry: Regulation and Ethical Challenges

This course considers the nature of the scientific enterprise and both the legal and ethical restrictions placed on its methods and products by the government through imposition of regulation and society at large through moral suasion. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 266 Bio-Pharmaceutical Statistics-II

Prerequisites: PAS 252 or equivalent. This course will provide the student with explanation of the approaches and solutions to commonly encountered statistical problems, with examples that are relevant to scientists involved in pharmaceutical and related research. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 267 Post Approval Affairs

This course reviews FDA guidelines for Scale Up Post Approval changes (SUPAC) developed by the Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER). The FDA guidelines, published workshop reports and applicable scientific literature will be discussed. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 268 Good Manufacturing Practices

This course will provide the students with a comprehensive understanding of the requirements described in the Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) regulations on GMPs as they pertain to pharmaceutical drugs and medical devices. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 269 Good Laboratory Practices

Prerequisite: PAS 261 This course is designed to provide an understanding of the regulatory requirements for designing, conducting, auditing, and reporting pre-clinical laboratory studies in support of research or marketing applications. It will explore the regulations and guidelines set forth by the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the European Union (EU) and other significant national regulations. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 272 Process Validation

This course will provide the students with an understanding of the scientific principles and regulatory requirements for pharmaceutical companies that are legally mandated to validate their manufacturing processes. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 275 Good Clinical Practices

Prerequisite: PAS 261 This course is designed to provide an understanding of the quality standards for designing, conducting, recording, and reporting clinical trials. It will explore the regulations and guidelines set forth by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration (FDA) and the International Conference on Harmonization (ICH) and briefly cover the impact of the European Union (EU) Clinical Trial Directive. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 276 International Drug Regulatory Affairs

This course provides a detailed analysis of the regulatory processes for new drug and device approvals outside of the United States. Students will gain experience in comparing the European, Canadian, Japanese, Asian and South American registration trends with those of the United States. Future regulatory structures in the major world markets will also be explored. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 277 Product Labeling

This course will examine strategies for creating drug labels and product labeling for new drugs and for dealing with labeling issues generated by post-marketing surveillance activities and alterations in federal Regulation or guidance. Students will gain insight into the regulatory process and the enforcement process of the FDA for drug, biologic, device, dietary supplement and cosmetic labeling. International labeling issues will be addressed as they impact on harmonization. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 301 Social and Behavioral Health

This course is designed to introduce the student to social concepts and processes that influence health status and public health interventions. The course will provide an introductory background to the kinds of social and behavioral theories that guide our understanding of health related behavior and explore some of the ways in which these theories and approaches may be used in public health practice. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 302 Health Care Data Analysis and Management

This course is designed to develop effective data management skills in clinical and health care research. The course will provide graduate students with an overview of the SAS software and provide technical skills for data management, data analysis, and producing graphs and reports. Hands-on experiences and assignments with real world data from a wide variety of sources such as health care administrative files and Health Survey databases from National Center for Health Statistics will be offered to enable students to master the skills learned in the course. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PAS 900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the master's degree requirements. All master's candidates must register for this course until thesis is completed in order to satisfy research requirements. Although students may register for more than six hours, no more than six credits may be applied towards the degree. 3-6 hours per semester, 3-6 credits. Current fee.

PAS 925 Maintaining Matriculation – Master's

All master's students who are not registered for any other courses must maintain enrollment in the University by registering for this course. Eligibility for thesis option students is typically limited to students who have satisfied all research and degree requirements but have not completed the written and oral components of the thesis. Thesis option students must have written approval from their advisor, department chairman and permission from the graduate dean to register for this course. No credit. Current fee.

Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences (PHS)

Louis D. Trombetta, Ph.D., Chair

Program of Study

The Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences is committed to educating research scientists for academic, governmental and industrial institutions. The program is designed to provide the student with critical learning skills, research expertise and a fundamental knowledge base that enables scientists to remain current with scientific literature, to carry out laboratory investigations and to analyze research findings. Students will acquire the necessary skills in a chosen area of concentration (industrial pharmacy, medicinal chemistry, pharmacology, and toxicology) that are essential to enable them to assume leadership positions in the pharmaceutical and biomedical sciences.

160

IPP 101 Special Problems in Industrial Pharmacy

Laboratory and/or fieldwork in area of specialization in institutional, hospital, cosmetic or industrial pharmacy. 3 semester hours, 3 credits. Current laboratory fee.

IPP 224 Microbiological Aspects of Pharmaceuticals and Cosmetics

The course starts with a review of the classification of microorganisms including structure, physiology, variability and immunological phenomena. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 231 Principles of Manufacturing Pharmacy I

Corequisite IPP 231L. A study of the process and equipment employed in the manufacture of solid pharmaceuticals. Operations on a pilot plant scale are utilized to demonstrate the common types of industrial equipment. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 231L Laboratory for Principles of Manufacturing Pharmacy I

Credit: 3 semester hours; 1 credit hour. Current laboratory fee.

IPP 232 Pharmaceutical Engineering

Considerations of the working mechanisms of manufacturing equipment used in the production of pharmaceutical drug products. Particular emphasis is placed on what quality assurance personnel should check during pharmaceutical manufacturing. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 233; Industrial Pharmacy Journal Club

This course is composed of research seminars for graduate students pursuing a M.S./Ph.D. degree in Industrial Pharmacy in which discussion will focus on interpretation, analysis and critical evaluation of research data in published research articles and unpublished research data generated by the graduate students during their dissertation research. 2 semester hours, 2 credits.

IPP 234 Pharmaceutical Materials

A study of the raw materials employed in the preparation of dosage forms. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 235 Product Formulation

Corequisite IPP 235L. A study of the formulation and stability testing of dosage forms. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP235L Laboratory for Product Formulation

Corequisite IPP 235. Laboratory. 3 semester hours, 1 credit. Current laboratory fee.

IPP 236 Evaluation of Pharmaceutical Dosage Forms

Physical and physicochemical procedures used to evaluate pharmaceutical dosage forms are discussed. Factors affecting drug release from pharmaceutical products are covered along with in vitro and in vivo procedures for assessing drug absorption efficiency. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 237 Industrial Pharmacy

The basics of pharmaceutical processing and unit operations including both theory and practice of all the major operations underlying pharmaceutical production. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 238 Principles of Quality Assurance

Control and Government Regulations This course reviews the scope and function of quality in the pharmaceutical industry. Important legislation and the regulatory aspects of the Food and Drug Administration are considered with respect to quality control. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 239 Homogeneous Pharmaceutical Systems

Application of selected physicochemical principles to homogeneous pharmaceutical systems. Credit: 3 semester hours.

IPP 240 Heterogeneous Pharmaceutical Systems

Application of selected physicochemical properties to heterogeneous pharmaceutical systems. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 241; 242 Advanced Biopharmaceutics I; II

A study is made of optimized drug delivery systems for various routes of administration based on biopharmaceutical and pharmacokinetic considerations. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 245 Evaluation of Solid and Semi-Solid Dosage Forms and Processes

Physical and physicochemical procedures used in the evaluation of powders, tablets, lozenges, capsules, ointments, pastes, creams, gels and suppositories are covered along with in vitro and in vivo procedures for assessing drug absorption efficacy. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 246 Evaluation of Liquid Dosage Forms and Processes

Physical and physicochemical procedures used in the evaluation of sterile products, emulsions, suspensions, solutions and aerosols are covered. Principles of good manufacturing practices are discussed. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 247 Special Drug Delivery Systems

Considerations involved in the development and formulation of sustained and controlled release drug delivery systems are discussed. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 248 Principles of Manufacturing Pharmacy II

A study of the process and equipment employed in the manufacture of liquid pharmaceuticals. Operations on a pilot plant scale are utilized to demonstrate the common types of industrial equipment. Lecture and Laboratory. 4 semester hours, 4 credits. Current laboratory fee.

IPP 250 Targeted Drug Delivery Systems

This elective is designed to focus on different concepts and strategies involved in the design and development of targeted drug delivery systems to different organs and/or sites. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 251 Ocular Drug Delivery

This elective is designed to introduce the student to anatomy and physiology of the eye with a review of the current status of ophthalmic drugs followed by the considerations involved in the design, development, formulation and evaluation of ophthalmic drug delivery systems. Credit: 3 semester hours.

IPP 255 Biotechnological Drug Delivery Systems

This course is designed to focus on various physicochemical, biological and pharmaceutical concepts and strategies involved in the design and development of invasive (parenteral) and noninvasive drug delivery systems for biotechnological drug molecules such as proteins and peptides. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

IPP 271 Degradation and Stability of Pharmaceutical Systems

This course involves study of physical and chemical factors affecting stability of drugs in pharmaceutical dosage forms and approaches to enhance their stability and shelf-life. Credit: 3 semester hours.

IPP 273 Pharmacokinetic and Pharmacodynamic Data Analysis

Recommended: IPP 241 or equivalent. This course is designed to develop a basic understanding of the pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamics concepts and their model applications governing the time course of drug absorption, distribution and elimination as well as drug action. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 101 Special Problems

Laboratory and/or fieldwork in Medicinal Chemistry. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 205 Amino Acids, Peptides and Proteins

Synthesis of biologically active peptides, molecular modification and biologically active relationship of peptide hormones. Secondary structure of proteins and modes of substrate binding. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 206 Antibiotics and Steroidal Drugs

Structurally active relationships and biogenetic origins of important categories of antibiotics are considered. Nomenclature, biosynthesis, partial synthesis and structurally active relationships of cholesterol, gluco, mineralo-corticoids, sex hormones, oral antifertility agents and cardiac glycosides are considered. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 223 Design of Nucleoside Analogs

The chemistry of nucleic acids, nucleotides, nucleosides, purine and pyrimidines is discussed with respect to their structures, syntheses and properties. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 224 Design of Enzyme Inhibitors

The modification of proteins or protein activity by irreversible binding of drugs and other small chemical molecules is discussed. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 231 Medicinal Chemistry Journal Club

Seminar for graduate students in pharmaceutical sciences in which discussions focus on published experimental results with a view toward evaluation of methodology and a presentation of data. Participation by graduate faculty and students. 2 semester hours, 2 credits.

MCM 245 Laboratory Use of Radiotracers

A course designed to present the fundamentals of the use of radiotracers in the modern laboratory. Emphasis is placed on safety, experimental design and the variety of special techniques in use today in pharmaceutical research. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 248 Receptors and Mechanism of Drug Action

Discussion is focused on the concept and theories of receptors as an explanation for drug action and design of new therapeutic agents. Special emphasis is placed on the mechanism of action and drug interaction with important categories of drugs. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 255 Chemical Aspects of Drug Metabolism

A detailed discussion of drug metabolizing enzyme systems and reactions. The relationship between chemical structure and drug metabolism is particularly emphasized. Drug metabolism related toxicity is also considered. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 263 Laboratory in Analysis of Biomacromolecules

A course designed to present the fundamentals of the use of modern analytical techniques for the identification and isolation of biomacromolecules. Emphasis is placed on protein purification methods. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

MCM 265; 266 Principles of Drug Design I; II

Required course designed to present an overview of the basic principles involved in medicinal chemistry. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 101 Special Problems

Conferences on specialized topics accompanied by laboratory work in pharmacology, medicinal chemistry. 3 semester hours, 3 credits. Current laboratory fee:

PHM 102; 103 Principles of Pharmacology I; II

Introduction to the science of pharmacology with emphasis on the basic principles. There is in-depth consideration of the factors modifying drug responses and dose-response relationships. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits. (No credit applied toward graduate degree.) Cf. PHS 4301 and 4303.

PHM 201 Pharmacology of the Autonomic Nervous System

An overview of the established pharmacology of the autonomic nervous system is presented as well as a comparison with the pharmacology of the somatic nervous system. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 202 Advanced Pharmacology

A detailed discussion of therapeutic uses and drug mechanisms in pharmacology therapeutics, excluding the nervous system. Emphasis is placed on the clinical use of selected classes of drugs. Credit: 3 semester hours.

PHM 203 Research Methods in Pharmacology

This course intends to introduce the student to select in vivo and in vitro techniques used in quantitative evaluation of pharmacological agents. 3 semester hours, 3 credits. Current laboratory fee.

PHM 209 Pharmacological Aspects of Respiratory Disease

Pulmonary physiology will be reviewed; anatomy and the process of respiration, gas exchange, control of respiration and acid base balance will be included. The anatomical, physiological and biochemical basis of respiratory disease (or pathology) will be discussed. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 211 Biochemical Neuropharmacology

The biochemical bases of the action of drugs in the nervous system are examined. The molecular and biochemical pharmacology of the acute and chronic effects of a wide range of pharmacologic agents are examined and new techniques and findings are discussed. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 216 Applied Psychopharmacology

This course provides an introduction to the neuro-pharmacological bases of behavior and drugs used to treat behavior disorders. The role that specific neurochemical systems play in regulating behavior is considered and discussed. The molecular, biochemical and behavioral mechanism of action of many psychotropic drugs is covered. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 221 Clinical Pharmacology

Discussion and demonstration of the clinical basis for the therapeutic application of drugs. Toxicity and adverse reactions are considered. Case material from actual patient populations is used to illustrate and support this information. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 232 Pharmacology Journal Club

Seminar for graduate students in pharmaceutical sciences in which discussions focus on published experimental results with a view toward evaluation of methodology and a presentation of data. Participation by graduate faculty and students. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 240 Pharmacology of Anticancer Drugs

This course is designed to instruct the students in the area of Pharmacology of anticancer drugs. This course covers the following aspects of anticancer drugs: mechanisms of action; critical pharmacokinetic parameters and drug-drug interactions; adverse reactions and toxicity. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 246 Pharmacology of Drug Abuse

A study of the various chemical agents of dependence with in-depth consideration of the mechanisms and nature of the chemical agents involved in this phenomenon. Credit: 3 semester hours.

PHM 247 Reproductive Pharmacology

A consideration of the effect of drugs on the reproductive system during the periods of development, maturation and aging. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHM 249 Cardiovascular Pharmacology

The course considers the mechanism of action of myocardial stimulants and depressants as well as anti-arrhythmic drugs. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 212; 213 Applied Biochemistry I; II

A course dealing with those aspects of biochemistry of special relevance to students of the health sciences. Emphasis is placed on fundamental metabolic cycles and processes and on biochemical concepts needed to understand drug action and metabolism, biogenetic pathways and various disease states. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 239 Functional Neuroanatomy and Neuropathology

This course instructs the student in the anatomy and physiology of the central and peripheral nervous systems and describes the processes by which these systems undergo pathological change. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 240 Principles of Electron Microscopy

Corequisite: PHS 240L. This course is intended to instruct the student in the basic techniques of electron microscopy. It also describes the analytical methods used to identify various biological systems. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 240L Electron Microscopy Laboratory

Corequisite: PHS 240. This course instructs the student in the preparation of tissue for electron microscopy and the interpretation and analysis of electron micrographs. 3 semester hours; 1 credit hour. Current laboratory fee.

PHS 250 Cell and Tissue Culture

Student is acquainted with cell culture technology as well as biochemical and biophysical characteristics and capabilities of mammalian cells in culture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 250L Cell and Tissue Culture Laboratory

Corequisite: PHS 250. This course is the laboratory component of PHS 250. Hands-on laboratory experiments in cell culture technology are performed by the students. The objective of the laboratory assignments is to expose the student to the biological, biophysical, and toxicological characteristics of mammalian cells in culture. 3 semester hours, 1 credit Current laboratory fee.

PHS 251 Doctoral Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences I

A monthly seminar of two hours for all students pursuing the Ph.D. The seminar consists of scheduled presentations given by scholars in the pharmaceutical sciences. 8 hours per semester. No credit.

PHS 252 Doctoral Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences II

A monthly seminar of two hours for all students pursuing the Ph.D. The seminar consists of scheduled presentations given by scholars in the pharmaceutical sciences. 8 hours per semester. No credit.

PHS 253 Doctoral Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences III

A monthly seminar of two hours for all students pursuing the Ph.D. The seminar consists of scheduled presentations given by scholars in the pharmaceutical sciences. 8 hours per semester. No credit.

PHS 254 Doctoral Seminar in the Pharmaceutical Sciences IV

A monthly seminar of two hours for all students pursuing the Ph.D. The seminar consists of scheduled presentations given by scholars in the pharmaceutical sciences. 8 hours per semester. 1 credit will be given upon submission of an acceptable paper to the seminar Chair.

PHS 256 Pharmaceutical Analysis Laboratory

A detailed discussion of the basic principles of pharmaceutical analysis. Special emphasis is placed on the selection and development of qualitative and quantitative methodology for the analysis of drug molecules in a variety of sample environments. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 257 Gene Technology in the Pharmaceutical and Health Sciences

Corequisite: PHS 261L. Course presents the basic mechanism underlying the expression of the information encoded in the DNA: transcription, translation and replication. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 259 Cell Signals and Regulatory Systems

A course covering the elements of regulation at the level of the cell. The intracellular events of signaling, i.e., post-receptor events, are the focus. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 260 Clinical Immunology

A detailed discussion of the basic concepts of immunology, immunity and immuno-pathology. Special emphasis is placed on the aspects of clinical immunology with reference to the theory which underlies laboratory tests and methods of procedure. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 261 Laboratory in Gene Technology for the Pharmaceutical and Allied Health Professions

Corequisite: PHS 257. The use of modern databases to mine known information and synthesize new conclusions from combined resources is used as a starting point. The class is divided into groups, each working with a different protein or a mutant of the target protein. 3 semester hours, 1 credit. Current laboratory fee.

PHS 264 Analysis of Cell Structure and Function

Corequisite: PHS 264L. A study of cell structure and function including discussions of membrane transport, respiration, cell division and cell motility. Additional topics include enzyme function. DNA, RNA and protein synthesis and their control. Discussion of methods of cell study will be incorporated in specific lecture topics, i.e., membranes, and in laboratory sessions. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 264L Analysis of Cell Structure and Function Laboratory

Co-requisite: PHS 263. Laboratory component of PHS 264. 3 semester hours. Credit: 1 credit hour. Current laboratory fee.

PHS 270 Introduction to Biotechnology

This course discusses the basic mechanisms underlying the expression of information encoded in the DNA, i.e., transcription, translation and replication. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 271 Oxidants, Antioxidants and Free Radicals

The involvement of free radicals/reactive oxygen species (ROS) in the pathogenesis of a wide variety of human diseases has been increasingly recognized over the last two decades. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 278 Human Physiology

An examination of the principles of human physiology, starting with cellular physiology principles such as membrane transporters and action potentials, and covering several of the key topics of physiology: endocrine, neural, muscle, cardiovascular, respiratory, gastrointestinal, and renal. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 280 Regulation of Intermediary Metabolism

The basis for understanding how pathways of intermediary metabolism relate to energy and to one another is presented. Methods for identification of control points, means of control of pathway flow, and how homeostasis is achieved from a biochemical viewpoint are presented. The classical basis of metabolism and current advances are presented.

3 semester hours, 3 credits.

PHS 900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the master's degree requirements. All master's candidates must register for this course until research is completed in order to satisfy research requirements. Although students may register for more than six hours, no more than six credits may be applied toward the degree.
Credit: 3–6 hours per semester. Current laboratory fee.

PHS 925 Maintaining Matriculation—Master's

All master's students who are not registered for any other courses must maintain enrollment in the University by registering for this course. Eligibility for thesis option students is limited to students who have satisfied all research and degree requirements but have not completed the written and oral components of the thesis. Thesis option students must have written approval from their advisor, department chairman and permission from the graduate dean to register for this course. No credit. Current fee.

PHS 940 Maintaining Matriculation—Ph.D.

Ph.D. students must maintain matriculation if they are not registered for courses or have not yet passed their comprehensives.
Limit: 2 semesters. No credit. Current fee.

PHS 950 Doctoral Research

Original research leading to the doctoral degree. Doctoral students may register for 950 while completing degree requirements; however, upon the successful completion of formal courses, language requirement and comprehensive examination, doctoral candidates must register for PHS 950 until the dissertation is completed and the degree is awarded.
3 semester hours, 3 credits. Current laboratory fee.

TOX 101 Special Problems

Conferences on specialized topics accompanied by laboratory work in toxicology. 3 semester hours, 3 credits. Current laboratory fee.

TOX 102; 103 Toxicology I; II

The source, chemical composition action, tests and antidotes of toxic substances. First semester consideration is given to materials of inorganic origin; second semester is devoted to substances of organic nature, both natural and synthetic in origin. Lecture. 3 semester hours, 3 credits. No credits applied toward graduate degree. Cf. PHS 2401; 2402.

TOX 201 Methods in Toxicologic Evaluation

Experimental toxicology and pathology deals with the variety of experimental methods utilized to determine the safety and toxicity of materials administered by mouth, applied topically to the skin or mucous membranes, or administered by inhalation of gasses or aerosols. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 205 Neurotoxicology

This course examines the various classes of neurotoxins, their mechanism of toxicity and experimental models used to assess neurotoxic mechanisms. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 207 Recent Advances in Forensic Toxicology

A survey emphasizing recent developments in the field of forensic toxicology. Emphasis is placed on documentation and interpretation of analytical results. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 209 Recent Advances in Clinical Toxicology

A survey of current literature, emphasizing recent advances in clinical toxicology. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 210 Biochemical Toxicology

An advanced study of the biochemical principles and mechanisms underlying the toxicity of xenobiotics at the cellular level. Biotransformation pathways and the subcellular toxicity of selected toxicants are examined in depth. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 215 Analytical Methods in Toxicology

This course considers methods of specimen and sample preparations and extraction and analytical chemical techniques used to solve problems confronting the analytical toxicologist.
3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 216 Environmental and Occupational Toxicology

The chemical and regulatory aspects of environmental and occupational hazards are presented, with an overview of methods in epidemiology and risk assessment.
Credit: 3 semester hours.

TOX 217 Toxicology of the Hematopoietic and Immune System

Focuses upon the effects of toxic substances on hematologic and immunologic function.
3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 218 Pathophysiology of Organ Systems (CPP 304)

This course is designed to explain the abnormal physiological processes which result when normal metabolic functions are disturbed. Mechanisms of normal function are described as well as the resulting effect of altered homeostasis. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 219 Molecular Toxicology

This is an advanced study of the specific molecular, biochemical and cellular mechanisms of toxic injury. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 221 Hematologic Pathology

A study of the hematopoietic system. Topics covered include anemias, leukemias, coagulation defects with consideration of etiology, physiologic and cellular manifestations and therapeutic modalities. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 222 Cellular Pathophysiology

This course is designed to explain the cellular response to injury. Molecular, biochemical and organelle pathology is discussed in relation to normal cell function. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 230 Toxicology Journal Club

Seminar for graduate students in pharmaceutical sciences in which discussions focus on published experimental results with a view toward evaluation of methodology and a presentation of data. Participation by graduate faculty and students. 2 semester hours, 2 credits.

TOX 250 Product Safety and Risk Management

This course is designed to provide toxicology graduate students with practical knowledge of applied product safety and risk assessment in the pharmaceutical and consumer products industry. 3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 285 Environmental Health Sciences

Environmental health sciences represents the study of environmental factors including biological, physical and chemical factors that affect the health of a community. The casual links between chemical, physical, and biological agents in the environment and their impact on human health will be satisfied.
3 semester hours, 3 credits.

TOX 900 Master's Research

Supervised research leading to the preparation and completion of a thesis in partial fulfillment of the master's degree requirements. All master's candidates must register for this course until research is completed in order to satisfy research requirements. Although students may register for more than six hours, no more than six credits may be applied towards the degree. Credits: 3–6 semester hours. Current laboratory fee.

TOX 925 Maintaining Matriculation

All master's students who are not registered for any other courses must maintain enrollment in the University by registering for this course. Eligibility for thesis-option students is limited to students who have satisfied all research and degree requirements but have not completed the written and oral components of the thesis. Thesis-option students must have written approval from their advisor, department chairman and permission from the graduate dean to register for this course. Current fee.

For complete listing of approved courses, please contact your Dean's office.

Director, Graduate Program in Criminal Justice Leadership

Objective

The Graduate Division of the College of Professional Studies is a uniquely structured unit within the University offering academic degree programs in professional fields. The College is committed to offering each student an education that prepares that individual to make significant contributions to society, to the local community and to his/her chosen profession. The mission is accomplished by providing an education which is value-oriented and consistent with the historical relationship of St. John's University to the Catholic community. The uniqueness of the College comes from its blend of a strong liberal arts model of education combined with a highly respected professionally oriented curriculum. Throughout each of the college's programs, an enriched intellectual and academic environment is provided, enabling the student to explore and develop an appreciation for truth and within which the value and dignity of the human person is understood and respected.

Master of Professional Studies (M.P.S.) in Criminal Justice Leadership

Program of Study

The Graduate Division of the College of Professional Studies offers the Master of Professional Studies in Criminal Justice Leadership which prepares students for management and executive positions by examining critical leadership issues confronting the criminal justice system. The program employs an integrative approach linking theory with professional practice. As a result, criminal justice practitioners gain the advanced knowledge and leadership skills that are essential for executive positions in policing, courts, correctional services, corporate and homeland security.

Students benefit from the superb resources and faculty of St. John's University, one of the largest Catholic universities in the U.S. St. John's has a long record of excellence in educating criminal justice professionals. This distinguished record—and the University's close ties to the criminal justice community—add luster to this outstanding learning experience.

The master's degree in Criminal Justice Leadership is a 36-credit program of study.

Applied Research Project: The Capstone

The Capstone project is a comprehensive analysis of a significant incident, case problem or policy dilemma related to an agency with which the student is familiar. Students are required to develop a proposal identifying the problem they will address, the data to be collected and analyzed, a list of viable alternatives and a set of evaluation criteria to be used in selecting the best course of action to resolve the problem. The objective of The Capstone project is to produce a comprehensive analytical report that could be used in solving an actual organizational or policy-related problem in the agency considered.

Completion Requirements

All candidates admitted to the Master of Professional Studies in Criminal Justice Leadership must complete the degree requirements within five years of commencing studies. Students must complete the 36-credit program with an average of "B" (3.0 GPA).

Admission Requirements

Applicants must submit the following evidence of their ability to pursue graduate study:

1. A baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university
2. A record of scholarly achievement at the undergraduate level. In general, applicants are expected to have an overall undergraduate average of "B" (3.0/4.0).
3. Two letters of recommendation from individuals who can comment on the candidate's academic abilities and potential to succeed in an academically rigorous graduate program. An academician who has taught and evaluated the candidate at the undergraduate level should submit one of these references. A supervisor or manager at the agency where an applicant is employed may submit a letter that addresses the applicant's leadership potential.
4. An essay of approximately 300 words describing the candidate's reason for pursuing graduate study and his or her leadership objectives must be included with the admission application.

Program Requirements

The M.P.S. in Criminal Justice Leadership is a 36-credit program that offers a comprehensive program of study to ensure that students meet specific learning objectives. Students may choose up to four courses from the "Selected Topics" offerings, which feature different topics on a number of pressing issues facing the criminal justice system. All courses in the M.P.S. Program are three-credit offerings.

Core Courses

CJL 101	Police Administration in the 21st Century
CJL 102	Critical Issues In Correctional Administration
CJL 103	U.S. Constitution and Criminal Justice Administration
CJL 201	Criminal Justice Policy Formation and Analysis
CJL 202	Public Administration and the Criminal Justice Agency
CJL 203	Ethical Issues in Criminal Justice Administration

Research Courses

CJL 401	Methods of Research in Criminal Justice
CJL 501	Applied Research: The Capstone

Electives

CJL 301	Selected Topics in Criminal Justice I and II
CJL 500	Seminar in Applied Leadership Practices
MGT 232	Organizational Behavior
MGT 280	Organizational Development

Courses from the College of Professional Studies

CJL 101 Police Administration in the 21st Century

This course traces the history of American policing and examines organizational models used to deliver police services to communities. Students review the literature and research on policing in a democratic society.

Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 102 Critical Issues in Correctional Administration

This course addresses the most pressing issues facing correctional managers and executives and traces the history of correctional theories, with particular emphasis placed on care, custody and control issues. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 103 the U.S. Constitution and Criminal Justice Administration

Students analyze landmark decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court to explore the tension between the goals of public safety and individual liberty in a democratic society, and how these competing interests currently have been balanced in the U.S. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 201 Criminal Justice Policy Formation and Analysis

This course provides an advanced examination of the development, implementation and evaluation of criminal justice policy in the United States and elsewhere. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 202 Public Administration and the Criminal Justice Agency.

This course examines the field of public administration with specific emphasis placed on the executive and leadership responsibilities of the criminal justice administrator. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 203 Ethical Issues in Criminal Justice Administration

This course analyzes the most pressing ethical issues facing the criminal justice executive. Case studies are reviewed to determine more effective integrity control policies and procedures. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 301 Selected Topics Series in Criminal Justice

These courses feature an in-depth analysis of a selected topic in criminal justice. A different topic will be examined each semester, enabling students to explore a pressing contemporary issue in criminal justice. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 401 Methods of Research in Criminal Justice

Students will be exposed to major research studies in policing, the courts and corrections, and encouraged to identify their relative strengths and weaknesses based on accepted research concepts and techniques. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 500 Seminar in Applied Leadership Practices

This course is designed to provide graduate students with the supervised observation and/or application of the professional practices of leadership. This practical perspective (field work), when coupled with readings and graduate seminars, will provide students with a rich, integrated understanding of the most current leadership practices. The seminar in Applied Leadership Practices is an elective. Credit: 3 semester hours.

CJL 501 Applied Research Project: The Capstone

The Capstone project is a comprehensive analysis of a significant incident, case problem or policy dilemma related to an agency with which the criminal justice practitioner is familiar. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Management Courses

MGT 232 Organizational Behavior

Prerequisite: CJL 202. This course examines the contributions of behavioral science to the management process and the organization as a social-political system. Credit: 3 semester hours.

MGT 280 Organizational Development

Prerequisite: MGT 232. This course examines planned change for improving the performance of individuals, groups and organizations emphasizing the structure and behavioral factors that interact to influence organizational effectiveness and productivity. Credit: 3 semester hours.

Master of Science (M.S.) in International Communication

General Requirements:

Entrance Requirements for M.S. in International Communication

For admission to the graduate studies program in International Communication, students are expected to have an undergraduate degree from an accredited institution. All applications are subject to departmental review to assess the appropriateness of the applicant; students may be accepted with Special Student status, provided that the applicants have, in the judgment of the department, necessary preparation to take on the graduate studies in the International Communication program.

Admission M.S. in International Communication

Admission MS in International Communication is contingent upon an assessment of the candidate's ability to successfully pursue graduate study.

Ability is demonstrated by previous academic performance, satisfactory achievement on appropriate standardized tests (GRE), letters of recommendation and other factors that suggest academic potential and motivation.

Degree candidate must provide the following for admission consideration:

1. Evidence of a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university including official transcripts from each institution attended.
2. Two letters of recommendation from instructors/professors or other qualified individuals.
3. Official results of performance on standardized tests (GRE).
4. Demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language (this requirement may be fulfilled during the course of studies in the program, but before graduation).

Degree Requirements:

To be considered as a degree candidate the student must meet the following requirements.

1. Must complete 18 credits of core required courses, and 9 electives courses
2. Must maintain a minimum of 3.0 overall average
3. Those opting for thesis must follow the guidelines in consultation with the Director of the Program
4. Demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language (this requirement may be fulfilled during the course of studies in the program, but before graduation).

Course Description

ICM 800 Theories and Processes of Communication

This course is designed to give the students a working map of important theories in communication. It will take a close, critical look at some of the most important contemporary theories of human communication, emphasizing their practical applications for society, for public policy, and our everyday lives. The course has the additional pedagogic intention to help students preparing for thesis work and scholarly investigation. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 801 International Communication

This course will focus on ideological-humanistic, economic and political aspects of communication in selected European and developing countries. An emphasis will be on the impact it has had on the mass media and on information exchange, economics and national identity. It will also examine various aspects of world telecommunication and media systems from historical, political and legal points of view. The international communications networks are far from homogeneous; they are full of contradictions and they are subject to powerful social, political, and cultural forces. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 802 Media and Communication Research Methods

Research in communication is a necessary tool in the search for answers. This course in mass media and communication research will investigate methods used in collecting and analyzing information and communication data, and study scientific methods of qualitative and quantitative research. Students will learn to critically evaluate published research, design instruments for research and exercise them within the classroom set up. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 810 Media, Communication, and Public Policy

This course will explore the role of media in influencing domestic and foreign policy. We will particularly examine the role of elite media in initiating and shaping public discourse and public policy. We will study the processes of public policy and how media mediate the outcomes of policy. We will closely examine the processes and theories of public opinion and persuasion. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 811 Media, Culture, and Society

This course is an exploration of the role of media in popular culture and society. The media's role in reflecting society and, in turn, the role of society in shaping of media practice will be explored. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 812 International Communication and Global Development

This course will explore and propose communication as a vehicle for promoting justice and human rights in a pluralistic society. The course will encompass a broad range of theoretical and historical studies of communication, media and development. A particular attention will be paid to the trends of globalization and economic upheavals. Learn the development of global communication structures and world information and communication order; a particular focus will be paid to development media and the inter-relationship between communication and development, advocacy communication, communication as an instrument of integration, and to the issues of peace, war, and communication. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 820 Communication and New Media: Building Communities

This course is designed to explore the application of new and converging media, and demonstrate through various class projects their proficiency in using them comfortably and effectively. This course will focus on the theories of a new media applications, and on the creative and developmental dimensions of new media and building community within various cultural contexts. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 821 International Public Relations

An interdisciplinary approach will draw case studies from a range of study, including international public relations, integrated marketing communication (international advertising), international social marketing, development and participatory communication, public diplomacy and propaganda, international non-governmental organizations (NGOs), and international responses to humanitarian crisis. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 822 International Advertising

This course focuses on the basic principles of international marketing communication in the 21st century with an emphasis on global advertising. These principles will include global versus local creative strategies and executions, international media opportunities, and global research methods. The course does not provide a country-by-country analysis of the global marketplace. Given how quickly our world changes, this would be a futile effort. Rather, it equips the student with an understanding of the basic principles of global marketing and advertising, including the differing cultural, economic, and political factors that have an impact on international marketing communications. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 830 Crisis Communication

Crisis communication is an advanced level of public relations course. In view of the fact that crises are becoming more and more frequent, there is a need to understand crisis communication from an academic and practitioner point-of-view. The purpose of this course is to develop a theoretical conceptualization of the process of crisis communication and an understanding of crisis communication practices. It focuses on the issues relevant to the planning, development and execution of crisis communications programs for businesses, governments, organizations and with stakeholders during a crisis. A particular emphasis will be placed on covering the advent of new media technologies, the rise of consumer power, the growing development of international public relations, and the need for an audience orientation to studying and practicing crisis communication. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 831 International Film Studies

A chronological review of the development of international cinema as an answer to the Hollywood industry—decade by decade, for more than 100 years. Students learn critical and technical vocabulary of the subject and study important films in weekly screenings. The course combines readings in theories of globalization and cosmopolitanism of international cinema with case studies about the formation of a global consciousness through cinema and other audiovisual media. Credit: 3 semester hours.

ICM 832 Design for Print and Web in Global Media

This course exposes students to concepts and procedures in preparing art and designs for professional printing and Web design and development. Topics will include layout, file preparation, color selection, digital proofing and output, and print technology. The course focuses on effective print design, planning a publications program, budgeting and working with printers and suppliers. This course also features instruction in the principles and techniques of web page creation and design. Master of Professional Studies (M.P.S.) in Sport Management

Objective

New York City is called "the sports capital of the world." A St. John's graduate degree in sport management offers students in this large metropolitan sport community an opportunity to pursue advanced education in this field. The coaching and international specializations serve both college graduates who wish to pursue careers in sport management and current practitioners who wish to enhance their knowledge and skills. The program provides access to education in coaching/administration and sport management founded on Vincentian principles of ethics and social justice. Professionals grounded in these principles can have a positive effect on the climate of sport, both amateur and professional.

Program of Study

The 39-credit program curriculum is based on the guidelines of the Commission on Sport Management Accreditation (COSMA) and the National Council for Accreditation of Coaching Education (NCACE). Specializations are available in the international dimensions of sport and coaching leadership. Students must complete either an internship or a master's thesis to complete their program of study.

Coaching Leadership Specialization

This specialization meets the demand for professionally trained coaches and program administrators of school-based sport at all educational levels, as well as positions in league and community-centered programs. Well trained, ethically grounded professionals in these areas are increasingly important for the physical and emotional well being of young athletes. Graduates with the coaching leadership specialization are well equipped for careers in both educational and professional sport areas.

International Dimensions of Sport Specialization

This specialization is designed to meet the need for managers in the increasingly complex global sport industry which extends well beyond the Olympics, Grand Slam tennis and World Cup soccer. Not only do individual college and professional athletes participate in sport outside their home countries, but also, many American college and professional teams compete with teams throughout the globe. Graduates with a specialization in the international dimensions of sport are prepared to meet the needs of both national and international sport organizations.

Electronic Portfolio

Students compile an e-portfolio throughout the program as evidence of their developing mastery of the subject matter. These portfolios include completed coursework as well as students' reflections on what they have learned and how it will help in their career. Portfolios can also be used as an "electronic resume" when students begin their job search.

Internship

The sport management internship is an in-depth field experience in which students work more than 400 hours in a professional setting. The internship experience provides the student with some practical experience needed for success in the competitive job market. Understanding that many of the applications of sport management are service-oriented professions, serving various clients, learning is enhanced by the opportunities for hands-on experience and maximized when qualified professionals provide supervision. The internship experience is also designed to allow the student to grow professionally, to identify strengths and weaknesses, to apply learned theory to practical situations, and to gain an appreciation of the role, duties, responsibilities, and nature of the work that has been chosen as a career.

It is expected that students specializing in coaching leadership will pursue internship opportunities that include a coaching component in their daily activities as an intern. To the extent practical, students specializing in the international dimensions of sport should pursue internship opportunities that include an exposure to international business as part of their internship activities.

Thesis Option

Students who choose not to do a graduate internship are required to write a master's thesis as a requirement for the conferral of the MPS in Sports Management degree. The proposal, data collection, and final draft will be prepared under the supervision of a member of the sport management faculty and must conform to the style guidelines of the American Psychological Association and the St. John's University Libraries. The master's thesis is expected to offer evidence of sound research and adequate treatment of well-defined subject.

Completion Requirements

All candidates admitted to the MPS in Sport Management degree program must complete all degree requirements (including the internship or thesis) within five years of commencing study and must complete the 39-credit program with a minimum average of "B" (3.0 GPA).

Admission Requirements

Admission to the program contingent upon an assessment of the candidate's ability to successfully pursue graduate study. This assessment will be made by examining previous academic performance, letters of recommendation, the applicant's essay, work experience, performance on standardized exams (such as the GRE or GMAT), and any other evidence that the admissions committee believes to be relevant. Applicants must submit the following for admission consideration:

1. Evidence of the conferral of a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Transcripts from each institution attended must be submitted even if a degree was not conferred. Applicants are expected to have an overall undergraduate average of at least 3.0 (B) on a 4.0 scale.
2. Two letters of recommendation from individuals who can comment on the applicant's academic abilities and potential to succeed in an academically rigorous graduate program. At least one of these letters must be from an instructor who has taught and evaluated the applicant in an academic setting.
3. An essay of approximately 300 words describing the applicant's reason for pursuing graduate study and his or her leadership objectives.

The GRE or GMAT is not required to be considered for admission, but the admissions committee will consider scores on standardized exams if they are submitted with the application. The admissions committee may request to interview the applicant either in person or by telephone. The final approval of admission will rest with the graduate admissions committee of the Division of Hospitality, Tourism, and Sport Management.

University Libraries

The St. John's University Libraries engage in the teaching and learning processes by providing information resources, instructional services and other support in the most effective formats for University programs and student and faculty research. Major libraries on three campuses (Queens, Staten Island and Manhattan) support additional collections at the Rome and Oakdale Campuses. St. John's University School of Law separately maintains the Rittenberg Law Library on the Queens campus. Together these libraries contain the equivalent of nearly 1 million volumes (books, periodicals, government publications, digital and other media materials) which support the undergraduate and graduate programs of the University. Cultural and recreational materials are also available.

The Main Library, renovated in 2008, is a selective depository for United States government documents, and houses Special Collections, the University Archives, Instructional Materials and Media Centers, and a teaching technology center. The Main Library also oversees the Chin Ying Asian Library located in the Sun Yat Sen Center building.

The Loretto Memorial Library on the Staten Island campus houses over 130,000 volumes, a digital teaching lab, and collaborative learning space.

The Davis Library on the Manhattan campus is internationally recognized as one of the finest collections of contemporary and historical insurance and risk management materials.

The Libraries provide onsite access to study space and to books and journals in traditional formats. Ever increasing numbers of digital resources, including e-books and mobile applications, are available locally and remotely to authenticated University users, including those at our global campuses and in our online learning programs. On campus and virtually, subject specialist librarians provide discipline specific research support and instruction appropriate to graduate study. Cooperative arrangements with other libraries guarantee regional, national and international access to materials.

Academic Service-Learning

As an added means of fulfilling its Mission The Office of Academic Service-Learning (AS-L) was founded in 1995. It is now a part of the Vincentian Institute for Social Action (VISA). VISA was launched by the University to more visibly embed St. John's Catholic and Vincentian mission into the educational experience of its students. VISA provides an organizational focus for a variety of new and ongoing programs through which faculty and students can work together to explore the causes of and develop solutions for poverty and social injustice throughout the world. Using Academic Service-Learning, faculty engage students in serving in the community to fulfill the learning goals and objectives of their courses. The service is used as a means for students to better understand course concepts. Reflection activities tie together what is learned in the classroom to the service performed in the community. While reflecting on their service experience, students are also able to gain insight into how their service in the community fulfills the St. John's mission as a Catholic and Vincentian university.

Academic Service-Learning can be incorporated in both graduate and undergraduate courses across all disciplines and at all campuses, as well as in courses taught globally and online. For further information on Academic Service-Learning contact Lynn Stravino, Director, at (718) 990-7902 or stravinl@stjohns.edu.

Student Consumer Information

The following is a summary of the Student Consumer Information that is available to students. Please refer to www.stjohns.edu/about/general/consumer_information.stj for additional and the most up to date student consumer information.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. They include the right to: (1) inspect and review educational records; (2) request an amendment to these records; (3) consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information in these records; (4) restrict disclosure of information designated as directory information that may be released without consent of the student; and (5) file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education for alleged failure by St. John's University to comply with FERPA requirements. Information regarding FERPA is located at www.stjohns.edu/campus/handbook/chapter6/requirements/files.stj.

FERPA provides that "Directory Information" may be released to any person without the written consent of the student, unless the student has requested that such information not be disclosed. For further information go to www.stjohns.edu/campus/handbook/chapter6/requirements/information.stj

Guidelines Determining Eligibility for Students with Disabilities

- St. John's University students requesting accommodations for a disability must present documentation of the disability to the Student Life Administrator on the appropriate campus for verification of eligibility.
- The evaluation must have been completed by a qualified, certified and/or licensed professional (physician, health care provider, psychologist/psychiatrist) who has experience with an adolescent and adult population. The professional's credentials must appear on the documentation and the documentation must be dated within three years of the request for accommodation.
- The Evaluator must include in the test report evidence that instruments selected are reliable and valid for use with an adolescent or adult. Documentation of an impairment alone may not be sufficient to require that the student be provided a reasonable accommodation. It must be demonstrated that the impairment rises to the level of a disability according to the Americans with Disabilities Act. For example, the impairment must substantially limit or restrict a major life activity as compared to the average person in the general population.

- The Student Life Administrator will review the documentation and the request for accommodation will be determined. When necessary, specific academic units will be consulted regarding the accommodation requested. If the presented documentation is sufficient the student will meet with the Student Life Administrator regarding appropriate accommodations at St. John's University.
- A student having dissatisfaction with the decision for accommodation granted, has the right to appeal the decision in accordance with the University's "Policy Against Discrimination and Sexual Harassment and Related Grievance Procedures."
- The Student Life Administrator may be contacted regarding specific documentation required or for explanation of this policy.

All documentation will be kept confidential in accordance with legal requirements and should be submitted directly to:
