

Internship Program

The News Department at SportsNet New York, a regional cable television sports network, has openings for interns for the upcoming semester.

The News Department is responsible for the day-to-day planning and general implementation of SNY's on-air schedule. Additionally, the department produces "Daily News Live," "The WheelHouse," "Loud Mouths" and "Geico SportsNite," plus handles external communications with various independent program suppliers as well as internal communications with various SportsNet New York departments.

Interns, who must be at least entering their junior year in college with a 2.5 GPA and receiving college credit for the internship, get hands-on experience assisting in a wide range of the station's operations and work approximately 20 hours per week; 1 shift during the week plus 1 over the weekend ---shifts are 10a-6p / 12-8p / 2-10p. Responsibilities include:

- Screening/logging taped programs & interviews to prepare for editing
- Helping Associate Producers in the edit rooms
- Working on the production of "Daily News Live," "The WheelHouse," "Loud Mouths," "SportsNite" and Mets programming
- Researching for the various graphic boards used in all shows
- Screening and logging games and press conferences
- Preparing, copying and distributing programming information
- Doing detail work to procure footage from external sources
- Working the Assignment Desk, answering the main phone line
- Sending faxes, writing letters, making phone calls, etc.
- All other duties needed in the station's everyday operation

Candidates should be concentrating in communications with a strong interest in televised sports and production, have some education or training in broadcasting, and proficiency in computers. They also should be familiar with the programming currently presented on SportsNet New York. This is an unpaid internship.
