WHERE DO I START?

Ask yourself: Am I or any campus community members in immediate danger?

No.

Just want someone to talk to confidentially?
The Center for Counseling and Consultation can provide confidential support.
Queens
718-990-6384
Staten Island
718-390-4451
Campus support advisor
718-990-8484
The Center and the advisor will inform you of your rights and options (see side panel).

Want to learn more about University resources? Please visit stjohns.edu/titleix

Off-campus resource
Sexual Assault Violence Intervention (SAVI) Program: 718-736-1238

Do you want an investigation to take place?
You may make a report to the Title IX coordinator at 718-990-2660 or titleix@stjohns.edu.
You may also report by informing Public Safety in person or at 718-990-5252.

The Title IX coordinator or designee will conduct a thorough investigation of the incident. The Office of Student Conduct will review all relevant information and determine if the matter should go through the student conduct process.

If you decide to tell any St. John’s staff or faculty (except for confidential services*), they are required to notify Public Safety.

Yes, or I’m not quite sure. Call 911.

Call Public Safety to activate campus support resources.
Queens
718-990-5252
Staten Island
718-390-4487
Available 24/7.

The Title IX coordinator leads the University response and will inform you of your rights and options (see side panel).

Interim remedies may be taken, including:
- A no-contact order
- Interim suspension of the perpetrator
- Building restrictions for the perpetrator

The students immediately involved in the incident will be notified of the outcome.

The Office of Student Conduct will determine how to adjudicate the incident. It may be done administratively or through the University Conduct Board.

YES, the incident may be a violation of the Code of Conduct and will be adjudicated through the Office of Student Conduct 718-990-5036.

NO, the incident did not violate the St. John’s University Code of Conduct.

The students immediately involved will be notified of the appeal outcome.

The students immediately involved have the opportunity to appeal the outcome if it meets appeal criteria.

Interim remedies may be taken, including:
- Adjustments to class schedule
- Room change requests
- Adjustments to your work schedule
- Transportation assistance
- Support for reporting to local law enforcement

YOU May choose to be connected with a campus support advisor. These are trained and confidential St. John’s administrators who will support you through this process.

YOU May choose to report to local law enforcement.

YOU May request specific remedies including:
- Adjustments to class schedule
- Room change requests
- Adjustments to your work schedule
- Transportation assistance
- Support for reporting to local law enforcement.

YOU May choose to either participate in the Title IX and student conduct investigation, or not. At any time, you may decide to no longer participate.

For more information and resources visit stjohns.edu/titleix/sexualassault

HAVE A CONCERN OR COMplaint?
Concerns or complaints regarding the University response may be filed with Yael Wepman, St. John’s Title IX coordinator at 718-990-2660 or titlex@stjohns.edu.

* On-campus confidential services include the Center for Counseling and Consultation, Student Health Services, and the campus support advisor.