1. Do not enter the United States with a B-1, B-2, OR B-1/B-2 visa

If you use a B visa to enter the United States, you are saying “I’m here as a visitor” ONLY. Since you have contacted St. John’s about study, this would be seen as a “fraudulent entry” and you could be refused permission to stay longer than six months or to extend or change your status. Do not listen to people who say it is easy to enter the country as a visitor and change your status. It is not true! B visitors are prohibited by U.S. law from pursuing a full course of study prior to obtaining a change of status to F-1 status.

2. Do not enter the United States without a visa (unless you are Canadian)

Never do this, even if you come from a country whose residents normally may show only a round-trip ticket to enter the United States as visitors. Remember, you want to enter as a student. If you enter without a visa, you will only be allowed to stay for 90 days. You will not be given more time or allowed to change to student status.
What is a Form I-20 and why do you need one?

• A Form I-20 is a U.S. government form that St. John’s University uses to certify that you are eligible for F-1 student status. This means that you (1) are or expect to be a “bona fide” student; (2) meet our admission requirements; (3) will pursue a full course of study; and (4) have proven that you have enough money to study and live in the United States without working illegally or suffering from poverty.

• You need a Form I-20 to obtain an F-1 student visa or status, or to keep lawful F-1 status when transferring or changing schools in the United States.

Does everybody need an I-20?

No, some international students do not need I-20s. J-1 students need a Form DS-2019 and should ask us for that application. F-2 dependents who want to study full time must obtain an I-20 and apply for a change of status to F-1 student. If you maintain another nonimmigrant status in the United States, you do not have to have an I-20 and may attend school full or part time if the law allows you to do so. Dependent children in E, H, I, J, L, M, N, O, P, R, or S status need to change status after their 21st birthday or if they marry.

Here are the rules for getting your Form I-20.

1) You must be a “bona fide” student accepted to a full-time program of study.

2) You must prove to us that you can support the costs of living and studying in the United States for every year of your program of study. This is required by U.S. law.

   Do not expect to work in the United States to help meet your annual costs! On-campus employment is limited and competitive; off-campus employment is strictly controlled by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

3) Carefully review St. John’s University’s “Estimated Annual Financial Requirements for International Students” on page four and figure out your annual costs in the workbox on page five. This gives the amount that you must prove you can support for every year of your program of study. (Estimate a minimum of two years for an associate degree; two to three years for a master’s; four for a bachelor’s; five for a doctorate; and six years for a pharmacy doctorate.)

   • These requirements are not negotiable. They represent a modest average budget that does not include luxuries of any kind. We strongly recommend that you budget at least 10 percent more if possible. Too little money causes pain and distress. We insist that students and their families look closely at the costs of living and studying in the United States and make careful plans to be sure your needs will be met.

   • Expect annual increases of about seven percent in tuition and living costs.

4) Read and follow these instructions very carefully. You cannot complete this process without following them step-by-step. We may have to ask you to give us more evidence of your financial ability—perhaps more than once. The U.S. government requires that we be absolutely sure, to the best of our ability, that you will have enough financial support to cover the full costs of your stay in the United States.
Sources of Financial Support

Your financial support can come from any combination of the following sources in the United States or abroad:

Funds from “sponsors“ (parents, relatives, friends, organizations)
You may have as many sponsors as you need. Sponsors may provide you with support in the form of cash and/or room and board. Free room and board is when you live with someone and don’t have to pay for your room or food.

Warning #1
We highly recommend that at least part of your financial support come from your country. This is important for getting your student visa!

Warning #2
A sponsor should promise only as much money as he or she is able to give you. Some sponsors believe that promising more money will make it easier to get your I-20. The most common reason for rejecting financial documents is that we do not believe the sponsor can afford to give what he or she is promising.

Personal funds that come from your own resources
Unless you have enough cash for your entire program of study, or can prove other sources of personal income, you will need a sponsor with an income sufficient to support you.

University funds such as a scholarship, assistantship or fellowship, may not cover the entire program of study or all expenses, so you may need added support to meet your minimum annual costs.

Documentary Evidence Requirements

Complete the application for the Form I-20 (attached) and submit it with copies of all necessary evidence of financial capability directly to the International Student and Scholar Services Office by mail or fax. Do not send original documents.

We strongly recommend that you do this at the same time you apply to the University. That way, once you are accepted, your Form I-20 can be issued quickly!

All documents you provide must be:

• Less than two months old
• In English (We cannot review documents that are not in English!)
• Photocopies or faxes, not originals. You will need originals of all the documents you have sent us to take to the American Embassy when we send you your I-20.

Evidence Required

Sponsors of cash support:
• Affidavit of Annual Cash Support. This form may be photocopied for each sponsor. All questions must be answered.
• Proof of income
Individual Sponsor (submit any of the following):

- Employer’s letter on letterhead stationery, indicating salary
- Income tax returns or receipts along with two current pay stubs
- Documentation of investments
- If self-employed, income estimate by a bank or private accountant

Warning #3

If there is no income source, bank statements must prove that there are sufficient funds to cover the first year of study.

Warning #4

A company’s income is not the income of the owner of the business, and will not be accepted as proof of income. You must provide an official statement of the salary paid to the owner/sponsor.

Bank statement in the name of the sponsor only

- Information must include the current balance and type of currency.

Warning #5

If a bank statement is in the name of more than one person, each individual must submit an affidavit of support.

Warning #6

We cannot accept statements that do not specify balances.

Company Sponsor

- Submit the most recent profit and loss statement for the company.

Sponsors of free room and board

- Affidavit of free room and board
- Proof of income (any of the following):
  - Employer’s letter indicating salary, written on letterhead stationery
  - Income tax returns or receipts along with two current pay stubs
  - Documentation of investments
  - If self-employed income estimate by a bank or private accountant
- Photocopy of lease, deed, rent receipts, phone bill, electric bill
- Bank statement

Personal Funds

Bank statement in your name

- Information must include the current balance and type of currency.

University Funds

- Copy of your award letter or contract stating exactly what you will be receiving and for how long.

Living Costs

Average living costs for a nine-month year are estimated below. This is a modest, “no-extras” budget. It does not include such items as telephone calls, for example. It is highly recommended that you bring at least 10 percent more. This estimate does not include the three summer months. If you plan to stay in the U.S. for the summer, estimated living costs will be $6,200 for those three months.

Housing and Utilities $10,260
This is based on the average cost of a shared room in a private home.

Food $6,130

Personal Items and Clothing $2,820

Transportation $1,150
This includes local transportation only. Travel to and from your country, or the costs of owning a car, are additional expenses.

Books and Supplies $1,045
Art majors must prove they can support the additional cost of art supplies, estimated at $3,000 annually.

Medical and Repatriation Insurance
This mandatory charge is included in the fees indicated under the tuition and fees section.

Total $21,405

Dependent Costs

If a spouse or child accompanies you, you must show an additional amount: $1,000 per month for a spouse, and $500/month per child. These costs do not include medical insurance, estimated at an additional $4,229 per year for your spouse and $1,531 for your child.

Your estimated annual costs
Expect annual increases of approximately five to seven percent in expenses.

What does this affidavit mean?
By completing this affidavit, you are swearing to the U.S. government that you will provide this student with a specific amount of money from your own financial resources for this first year he or she is going to study at St. John’s University and live in the United States. You are also proving with the documents you have attached that you can afford the support you are promising.
Before signing this affidavit, you must understand that you are making a financial commitment to the student that should not be broken. Sponsors who fail to provide the promised support force students to drop out of school and cause pain and suffering. Do not expect the student to be able to help support the costs through employment. Employment is strictly controlled by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services and is very limited.

How to complete this form:
• Fill out this form completely in English. Promise only the amount of money you are able to give. The most common reason we reject affidavits is that we do not believe a sponsor can afford to give as much as promised.
• Attach the documentary evidence of support explained below.
• Sign the affidavit.

Prove that you are financially capable of providing this cash support for first year of the student’s program by attaching all the following documents. (If all of these documents are not attached, your support will not be considered.)

Documents must be:
• Photocopies or faxes
• Current (less than two months old)
• In English

• Proof of income. This must be a letter on your employer’s business stationery, income tax returns or receipts along with two current pay stubs, or estimated by a bank or private accountant if you are self-employed. The income of a company will not be accepted as proof of income. You must provide an official statement of the salary paid to you or it must appear on tax returns.

• Bank statement in your name, which states the date the account was opened, current balance in U.S. dollars, average deposits and average balances. We cannot accept statements that do not specify balances. If another person’s name appears on your bank statement, that person must complete a separate affidavit or submit a notarized statement permitting those funds to be considered as financial support for the student.
This is my sworn promise of cash support.

I, _____________________________, promise that I can and will give no less than U.S. $______________ in cash for this year of the student’s program of study at St. John’s University to:

Sponsor’s Affidavit of Free Room and Board and Proof of Financial Capability

What does this affidavit mean?

By completing this affidavit, you are swearing to the U.S. government that this student will live with you free of any charge for room and food for this year he or she is studying at St. John’s University and living in the United States. (The student cannot be required to provide you with any services, such as babysitting, cleaning, etc., in exchange for the room and board, as that is employment.) You are also proving that you are the person who owns or rents the property and can afford the support you are promising with the documents you have attached.

Before signing this affidavit, you must understand that you are making a financial commitment to the student that should not be broken. Sponsors who fail to provide the promised support force students to drop out of school and cause pain and suffering. Do not expect the student to be able to support the costs through employment. Employment is strictly controlled by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services and is very limited.

How to complete this form:

• Complete this form in English
• Attach the documentary evidence of support as explained below
• Sign the affidavit

Prove that you are financially capable of providing this support for first year of the student’s program by attaching the following:

Documents must be:

• Photocopies or faxes
