

Staten Island Academic Task Force

The Academic Task Force was created in September to work with the community during this transition.

The committee was charged with the following:

- To create a timeline reflecting the steps that should be taken over the two year teach out plan
- To act in response to student academic matters that may arise over the course of the two-year teach out period and work with the dean's to appropriately advise students.
- To work on establishing classes to be offered in the Summer of 2023 and communicate those offerings to students.
- To establish a working group that can focus on students services and report back to the task force on what students require for the next two years
- To prioritize and elevate concerns from faculty, administrators and staff to the group for resolutions
- To plan the transition of Staten Island students to the Queens campus at the end of the two year teach out period and continue to be a resource to the students and faculty members, administrators, and staff once settled at the Queens campus

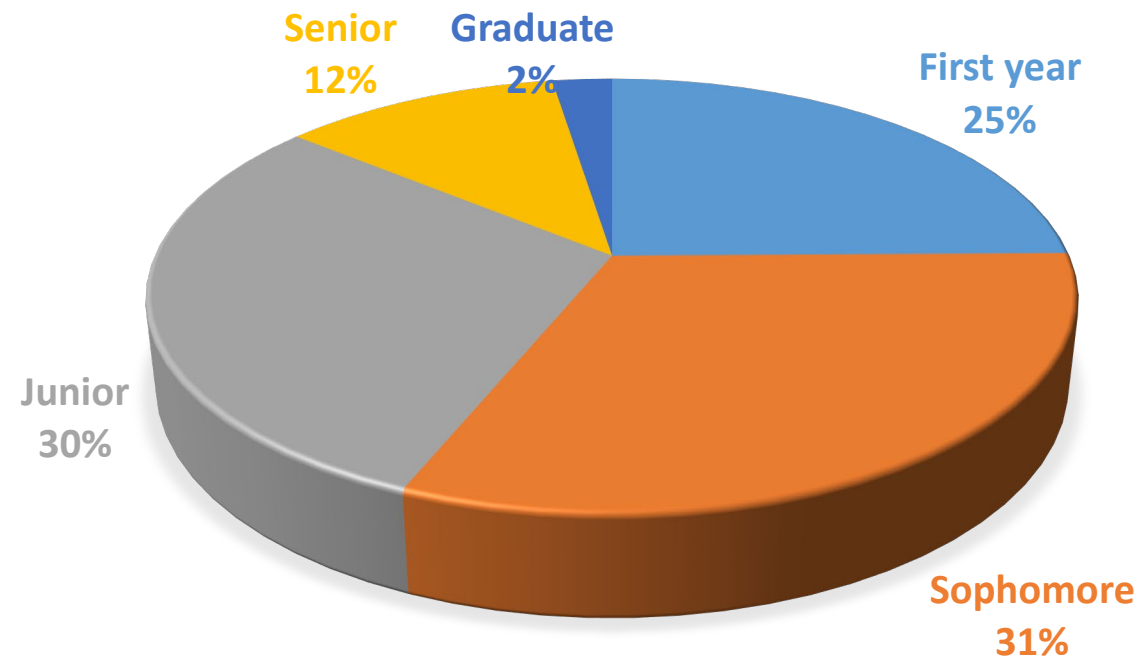

Survey to Students at the start of the Spring term.

- Email sent to all Staten Island students on Thursday, January 26
 - 737 total recipients
 - 46 survey responses by February 12
 - Sent a request to the faculty from the Provost's to remind students to take the survey - sent on Monday, February 13
 - Additional 75 responses
-

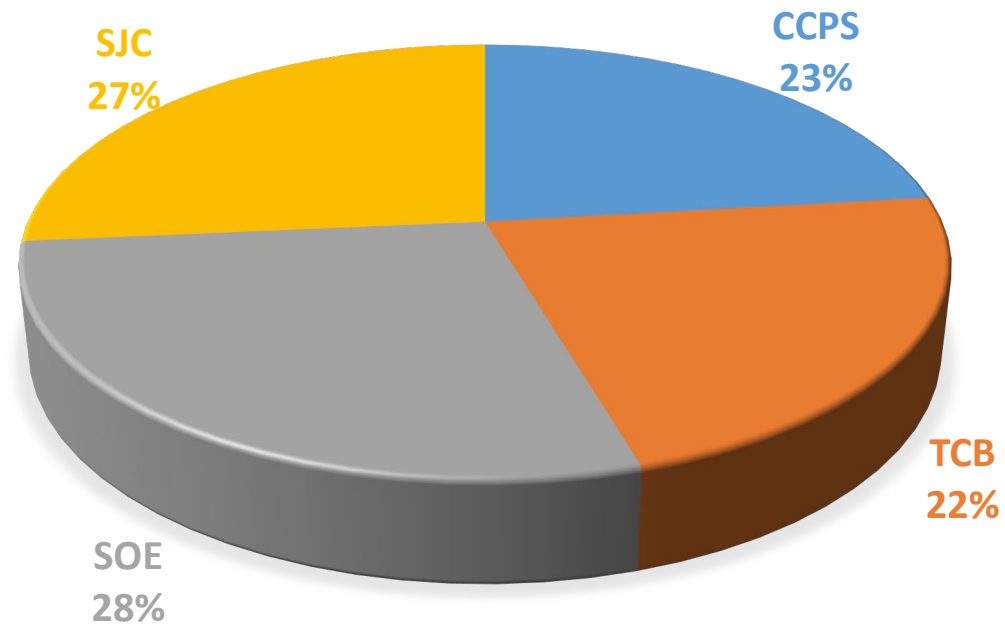

Results:

- 121 total survey responses
 - 109 unique responses
 - 14.8% response rate for SI students
 - Unique responses verified with signon
-

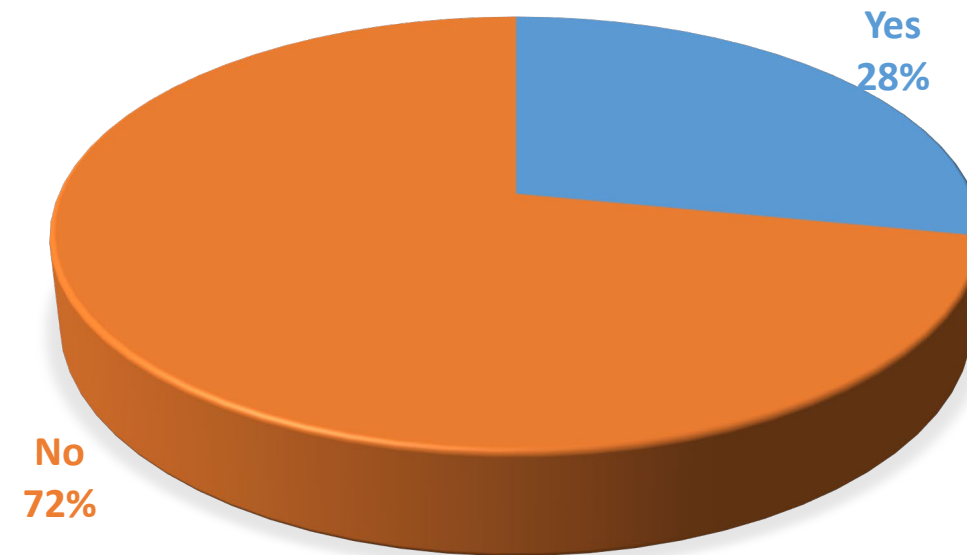

What is your class year as of the Spring 2023 semester?

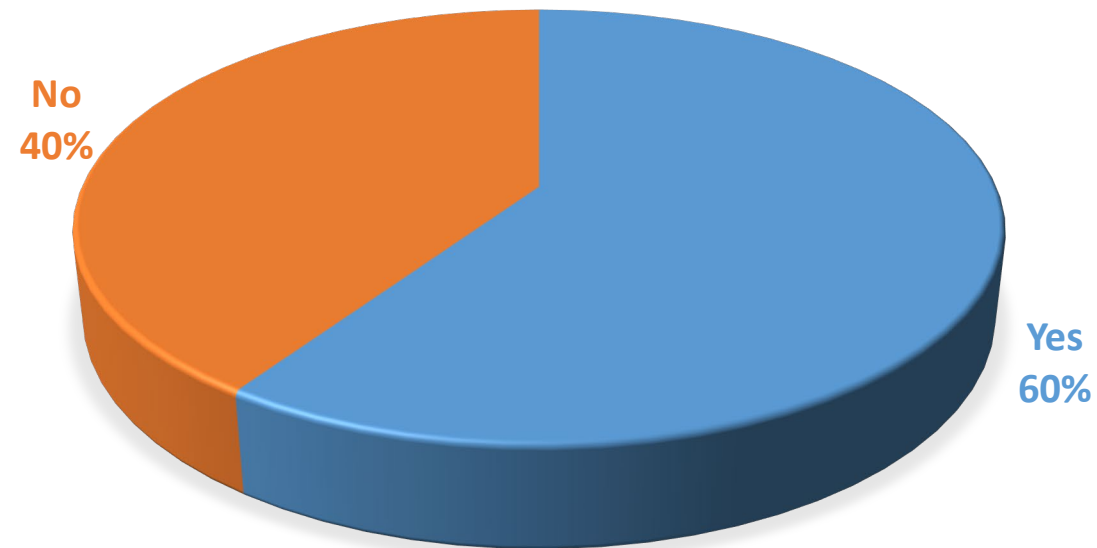

Please indicate your current school/college.

Are you interested in taking classes during the summer of 2023 on the Staten Island campus?

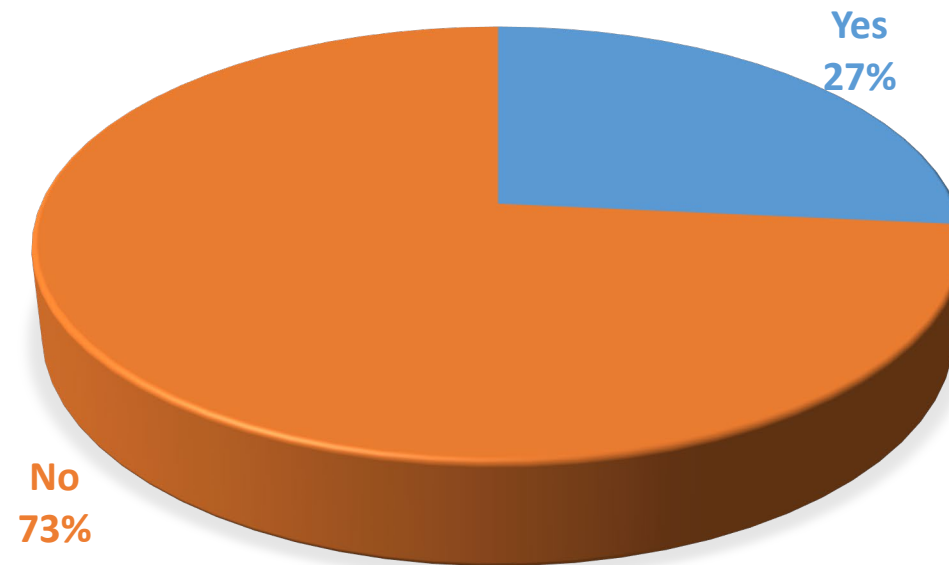

Have you ever visited the St. John's Queens campus?

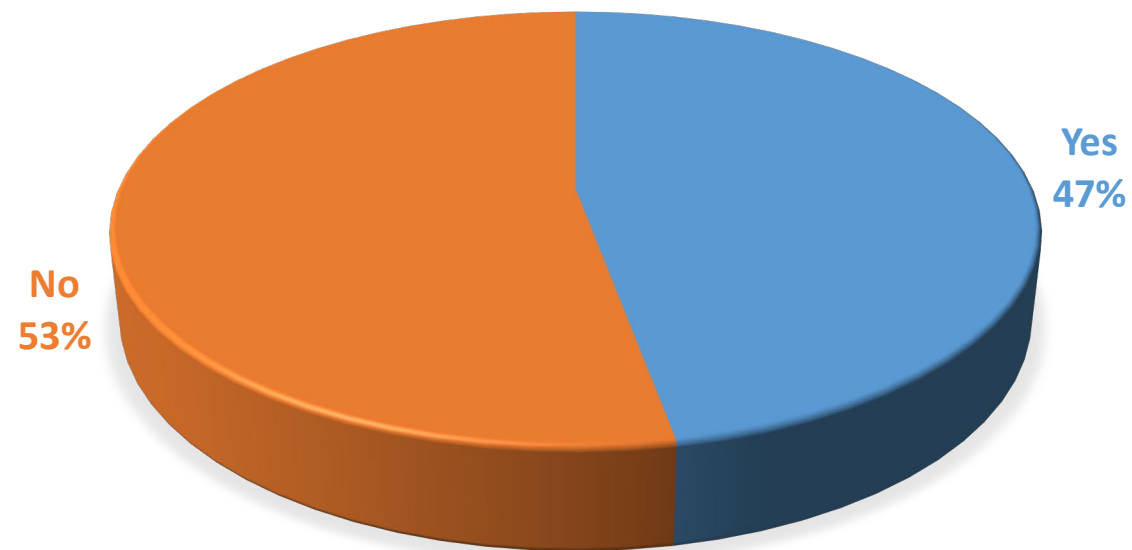

Of those who had never visited the Queens campus:

Would you be interested in participating in a group tour of the Queens campus?

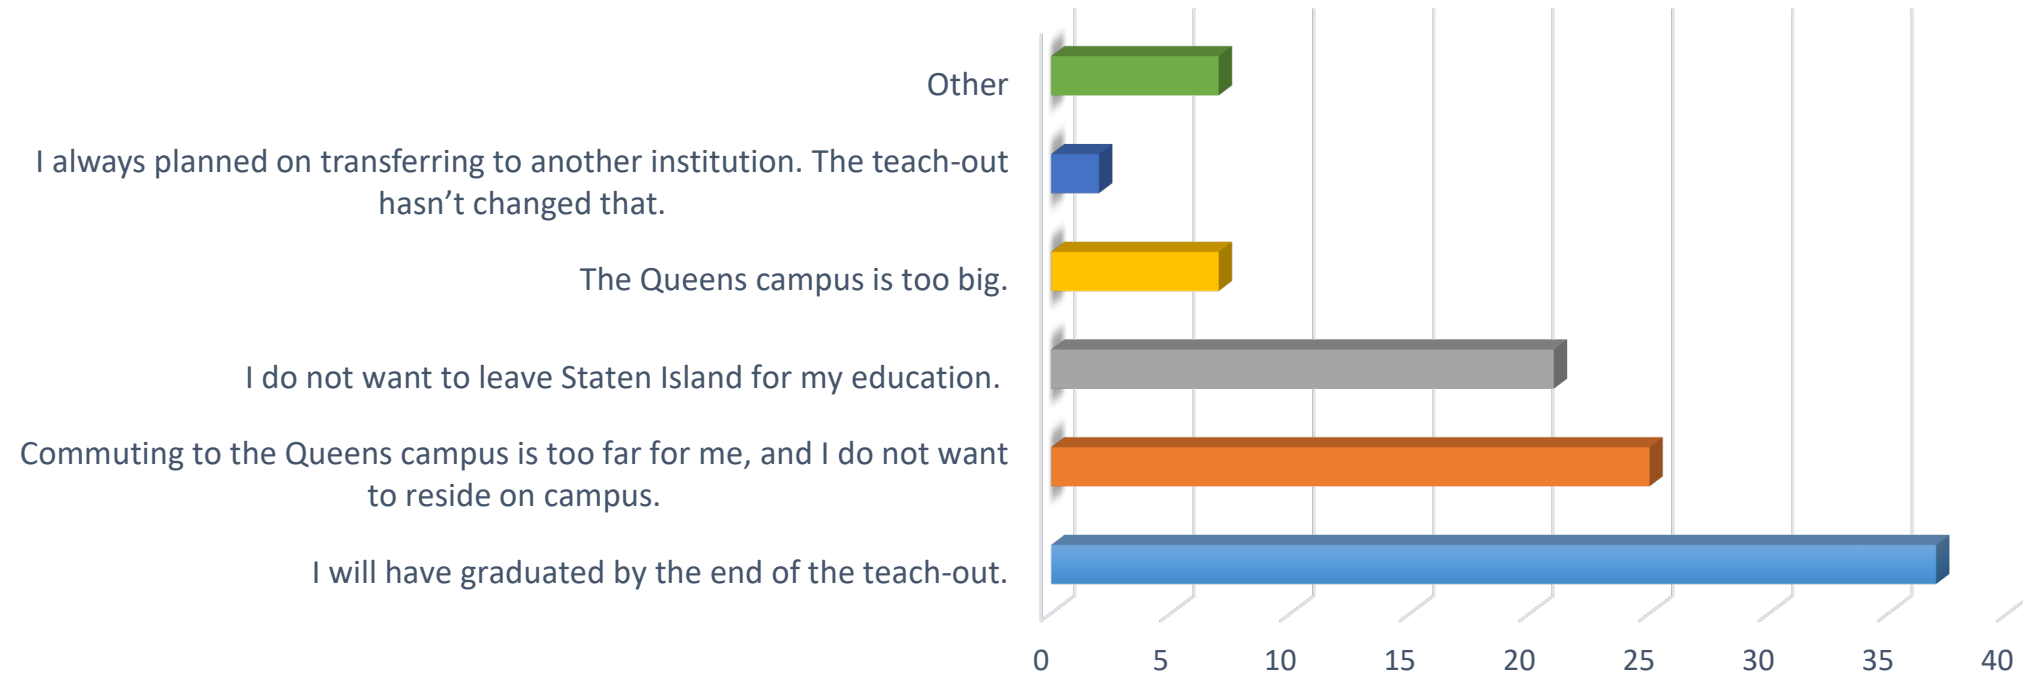

Do you intend to be a St. John's Queens campus student as of Fall 2024?

Of those who do not intend to be a Queens student:

Please select from any of the following reasons why you do not intend to be a Queens campus student as of Fall 2024.

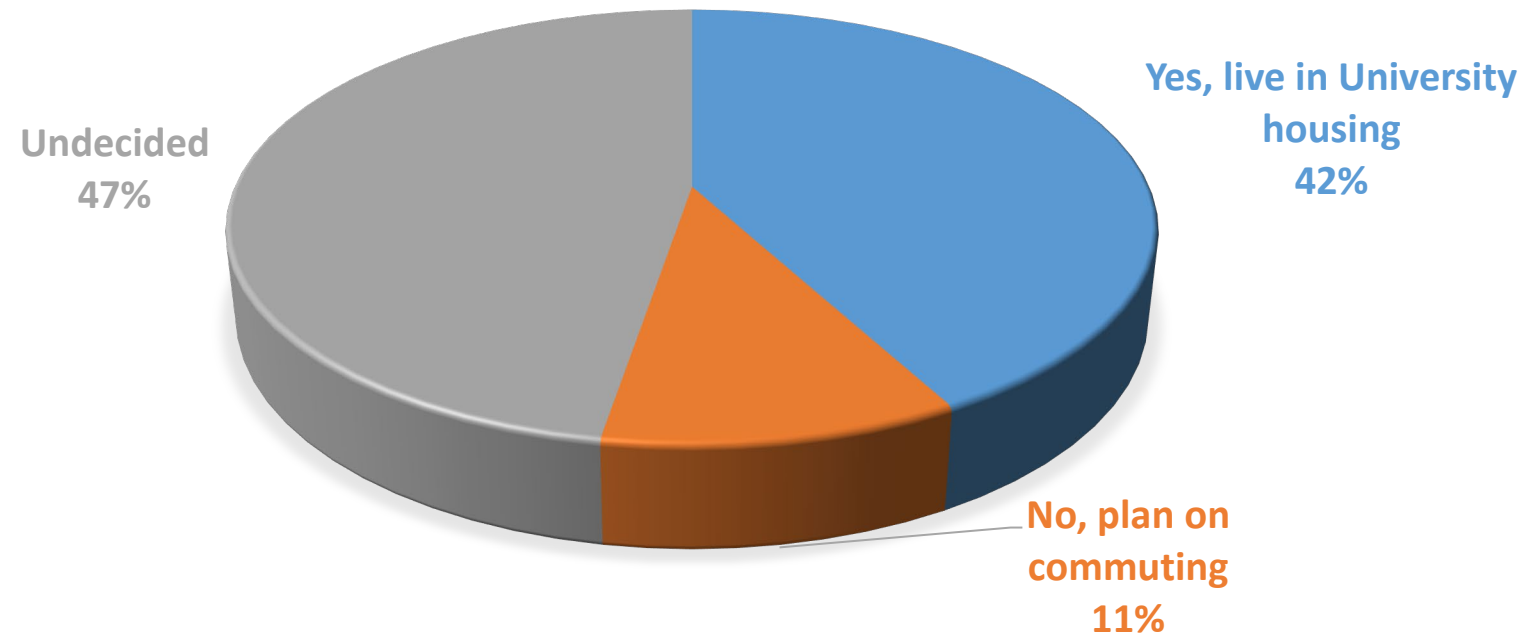

Other responses:

- I'm trying to finish by 2024
 - I am trying to take extra class to be able to graduate by the end of 2024
 - I hope I can take my masters online for 5th year.
 - Not sure if I am going to be in New York anymore, so my decision changes based on that
-

Of those who do intend to be a Queens student:

Are you planning on living in University housing or commuting to the Queens campus?

Please share your suggestions as we explore ways to help with the transition.

- Keep campus active with parent/family events and school events
 - More on-line class options during the summer
 - Make summer courses more affordable
 - Waive the sophomore/senior seminar
 - For students who transfer before spring 2024 given some sort of benefit
 - For resident students, no meal plan requirement
-

What we did/doing in Spring 2023

- Work with student government to have student mentors to help create relationships between students from both campuses
 - Deans and Donuts has been very successful
 - March 20th Student Life held an event for students and parents
 - 30 students and family members attended
 - A lot of good questions
 - Revising the Q & A on the web
 - Suggest another evening event in the Fall
 - Storming Loud on April 28th – Admissions planning tours for SI students in the morning before the event.
 - Study Abroad Office is working on a passport class for Staten Island Student.
 - Working on similar events for the Fall semester
 - Dual Advisement – Fall 23 to Spring 24 and Spring 24 to Fall 24
 - Continue to work closely with the SI Closing Committee
-