Tobin College of Business
Academic Highlights

Major: Actuarial Science

- Internships and Job Opportunities- With close to 100% employment for all those eligible to work in the U.S. for the past three years, The Ellen Thrower Center for Apprenticeship and Career Services is a unique center as it caters solely to risk management and actuarial science students, thus allowing them to have direct access to the industry and its employers.

- The Greenberg School’s actuarial science program is recognized by the Society of Actuaries as a Center of Actuarial Excellence.

- Networking Opportunities- The Greenberg School of Risk Management’s (GSRM) Board of Overseers is composed of top CEO’s and other industry leaders who provide leadership, guidance and financial resources to our students. There will be several opportunities for students to network, intern and even work with these individuals and their respective companies.

- Preparation to Succeed- Within the classroom, students learn from both internationally recognized scholars and industry leaders, who direct some of the largest and most successful risk management companies and insurers in the world. Our graduates typically pass several professional examinations while students at St. John’s, placing them in a strong position as they enter the professional world.

- The Greenberg School of Risk Management is home to the Davis Library, the world's foremost collection in the discipline of risk management and insurance.

- Additional Incentives- Due to the generosity of its supporters, the School of Risk Management has additional scholarships available to eligible students who major in risk management and actuarial science. Additionally, a state-of-the-art building, housed at 101 Astor Place, allows students to take advantage of all the city has to offer.
