

— YOU ARE NOT ALONE

TABLE OF CONTENTS

St. John's University does not tolerate any incidents of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking, and wants to support you. We are proud that you have reached out to take care of yourself. It takes a lot of courage to share your experiences, and you have taken the necessary first step. This document will share with you available resources to further support your healing.

In this document you will find helpful information regarding:

TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDERS

PREFACE

St. John's University is committed to supporting survivors of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence, or stalking by providing the necessary safety and support services so that students can remain at St. John's University, meet academic standards, obtain necessary health/mental health treatment, and maintain social relationships. This document is written for survivors of sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking to provide support as well as important information about prohibited conduct, available resources on and off campus, and ways to file a complaint in order to assist survivors in the recovery process and in their efforts to heal from this unacceptable form of violence. If you have survived sexual misconduct or know someone who has, please be assured that there are people who care about what you have endured.

You are not alone in what happened to you, or in how you feel, no matter what form your experience took. It is important for you to know that the feelings, reactions, and questions you may be experiencing are similar to those of other people who have been victimized through no fault of their own. Sexual misconduct is never the fault of the victim. You are not to blame for what another person has done to you. You, as others have, can learn to regain a sense of power over your life. You may feel very isolated and alone, but there are resources and support available and people ready and able to help you.

While the needs and issues of different populations on campus may be unique, there are resources, support and procedures available to all. Whether you are an undergraduate student, graduate student, or an employee, and irrespective of your sex, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, national origin, or other protected status, you will receive dedicated support and services at St. John's University. Emotional support, counseling, advisement regarding your options, medical treatment, and academic assistance are all available. Please review this document as the first step in understanding how St. John's University can support you. If you have questions about this document please ask them of any of the support resources listed.

You have the right to make a report to Public Safety, the local law enforcement and State Police and/or to report the incident to St. John's University. You also have the right to choose not to report. If you report an incident to the University, you have the right to be protected by the University from retaliation and to receive assistance and resources from the University.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

The first step in taking care of yourself is making sure you are physically well. Even if you do not have any visible physical injuries following an incident of any form of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking, there may be physical injuries that you cannot see. Medical and health centers can provide additional services such as testing for sexually transmitted diseases, evidence collection, and/or counseling. New York State has a network of hospitals with Sexual Assault Forensic Examiner (SAFE) Programs. SAFE Programs have specially trained health professionals who provide medical care to patients who report sexual assault, including evaluation, treatment, referral and follow-up. Trained advocates may also be available to provide you with additional support and to guide you through the experience at the hospital.

Since evidence dissipates quickly, you may wish to preserve evidence and are encouraged to seek medical attention within 48 hours (and no more than 96 hours) of the incident. Preservation of evidence is important for possible use in legal actions or requests for civil no-contact orders and/or orders of protection. If you choose to preserve evidence, it is important that you do not bathe, douche, brush your teeth or comb your hair.

Also, the clothes you were wearing may be held as evidence, so it is recommended that you bring a change of clothes with you to the hospital. Additionally, photographs may be taken of you, including anywhere there are bruises, scrapes or cuts. If you are unsure about participating in criminal prosecution, having the evidence preserved will help keep your options open. Taking the step to gather evidence immediately will not commit you to a specific course of action; you do not have to make a police report.

If you would like to receive medical care, you may call 911, call Public Safety at 1-718-990-5252, or visit one of the hospitals with SAFE programs listed on the next page. The University offers free transportation to and from a hospital for a SAFE examination.

COUNSELING AND SUPPORT

Experiencing sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking may bring up many different types of feelings that can be painful, confusing, and/or overwhelming. Obtaining support from family and friends can be very beneficial to your healing. In addition, enlisting support from a professional who is specially trained in working with survivors of sexual assault can also be helpful for recovery.

Often survivors may experience acute stress that may include a range of difficulties such as nightmares, flashbacks, numbness, and withdrawal from family and friends. In addition, survivors may sometimes blame themselves, feel upset about the reactions of their friends and/or family, feel ashamed and/or angry about what happened. These responses can make it difficult for some survivors to manage these feelings alone. Many survivors find comfort in sharing their story in a supportive and confidential environment. It is also possible to learn new coping skills and facilitate returning to activities that you find meaningful and important. You have a number of options if you would like to receive support. Both on and off campus resources are available.

In the event of an attack or rape, the Gardaí should be contacted by ringing number 999 and this will activate the support and hospital process. They will guide the person through the process and the Gardaí will contact the Rape Crisis Midwest centre for a support worker to assist the survivor.

If a student wishes to obtain a forensic medical examination, this is available if a complaint is made to the Gardaí following a rape/sexual assault. The forensic service is activated by the Gardaí in Limerick and takes place at University Hospital Limerick (10 minutes from Mary Immaculate College campus). A support worker from Rape Crisis Midwest will be present to guide the person and provide emotional and psychological support.

If a student wishes to obtain a forensic medical examination, but does not wish to report the crime, they can do this by calling services across the country where this service is offered. The nearest one is Galway (087) 63 38 118 available weekdays 8am to 4pm or 091-524222 after 4pm or weekends and they should ask for SATU.

STUDENTS' BILL OF RIGHTS

In compliance with NYS Law 129-B addressing sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking, St. John's University students have the following rights:

- 1 Make a report to local law enforcement and/or NY State Police
- 2 Have disclosures of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault treated seriously
- 3 Make a decision about whether or not to disclose a crime or violation and participate in the judicial or conduct process and/or criminal justice process free from pressure by the University
- 4 Participate in a process that is fair, impartial, and provides adequate notice and a meaningful opportunity to be heard
- 5 Be treated with dignity and receive from the University courteous, fair, and respectful health care and counseling services, where available
- 6 Be free from any suggestion that the reporting individual is at fault when these crimes and violations are committed, or should have acted in a different manner to avoid such crimes or violations
- 7 Describe the incident to as few University representatives as practicable and not be required to unnecessarily repeat a description of the incident

- 8 Be protected from retaliation by the University, any student, the accused and/or the respondent, and/or their friends, family, and acquaintances within the jurisdiction of the University
- 9 Access to at least one level of appeal of a determination
- 10 Be accompanied by an advisor of choice who may assist and advise a reporting individual, accused, or respondent through the conduct process including during all meetings and hearings related to such process
- 11 Exercise civil rights and practice of religion without interference by the investigative, criminal justice, or judicial or conduct process of the University

Find out more about the resources available at St. John's University as well as details on how to make a report by visiting: st.johns.edu/sexualassault.

SUPPORTIVE MEASURES

The following supportive measures are available to victims of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking regardless of whether they choose to file a report or disclose the incident confidentially:

- Extensions of class or work deadlines
- Excused absences or leaves of absence
- Changes in University housing or work locations
- Adjustments to academic or University work schedules
- Transportation assistance including security escorts
- Increased security and monitoring of certain areas of campus
- Support for reporting to local law enforcement, referral to Health Services, Counseling Services, or other support services.
- Access to Community Resources
- Restrictions on contact (No Contact Orders)
- Issuing No Trespass Orders
- Protection from Retaliation
- Guidance through the University Complaint Process

SUPPORTIVE MEASURES

St. John's University will maintain as confidential any accommodations or protective measures provided to the victim, to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the institution to provide the accommodations or protective measures.

For more information about available supportive measures or to request supportive measures, contact the St. John's University Title IX Coordinator at (718) 990-2660 or titleix@stjohns.edu.

REPORTING OPTIONS

You have the right to make a report to Public Safety, or the Title IX Coordinator. You also have the right to make a report to local law enforcement and State Police or to choose not to report. If you choose to report the incident to St. John's University, you have the right to be protected by the University from retaliation and to receive assistance and resources from the University.

International students have the same rights as all students to report and to receive support and resources for sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking regardless of immigration or visa status. The University will not retaliate against international students or treat them differently. Furthermore, international students may obtain additional support and information about their immigration or visa status, including options for U and T visas, through the International Students and Scholars Office at 718-990-6083.

Faculty, Staff, and Administrators

If you share an incident of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking with a St. John's employee (excluding members of the Center for Counseling and Consultation, Health Services and the Campus Support Advisors working in their respective capacities), they are required by University policy to report this information to Public Safety and/or the Title IX Coordinator. Reports made to a St. John's administrator or faculty member will trigger a University response which may involve an investigation by Public Safety and/or the Title IX Coordinator.

Title IX Coordinator

Reports of sexual violence can also be made to the St. John's Title IX Coordinator. Danielle Haynes, Director of Equal Opportunity, Compliance and Title IX, serves as the Title IX Coordinator for overall campus compliance for the University. The Title IX Coordinator's office is located on the Queens campus in the Office of Human Resources in the University Center Suite C. The Title IX Coordinator can be contacted by phone, 718-990-2660 or titleix@stjohns.edu.

Jackie Lochrie, Associate Dean for Student Services, serves as the Deputy Title IX Coordinator for the Division of Student Affairs. Ms. Lochrie's office is located on the Queens campus in the Peter J. Tobin College of Business, Garden Level – Judiciary Suite-17C, and she can be contacted at 1-718-990-6568.

Kathleen F. Meehan, Senior Deputy Athletics Director/Senior Women's Administrator, serves as the Deputy Title IX Coordinator for Athletics. Ms. Meehan's office is located on the Queens campus in Carnesecca Arena Room 157, and she can be contacted at 1-718-990-6173.

Online Reporting Form

Reports can be made at stjohns.edu/reportsexualmisconduct. Reporters can remain anonymous.

When Should I Contact a Title IX Coordinator?

If you have concerns about sex discrimination including sexual harassment, sexual violence, or misconduct please seek the assistance of a Title IX Coordinator. For example, we encourage you to contact a Title IX Coordinator if you:

Think you may have encountered sex discrimination or sexual misconduct and wish to understand your options

Learn of a situation that you feel may warrant a University investigation

Need help on how to handle a situation by which you are indirectly affected

Seek guidance on possible methods of de-escalating or alleviating a difficult situation

Have questions on St. John's policies and procedures

St. John's Department of Public Safety

St. John's Department of Public Safety is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week at 1-718-990-5252. Public Safety Officers are available to assist you with contacting or reporting an incident to local law enforcement and/or to the local District Attorney's Office. You also have a right to decline to report incidents to law enforcement. Reports made to Public Safety will trigger a University response which may involve an investigation by Public Safety and/or the Title IX Coordinator. There may be times when the Department of Public Safety or another administrator may contact local law enforcement regarding the nature of an alleged incident, however, it is always your decision whether or not to cooperate with any law enforcement investigation.

St. John's University – Disciplinary Actions

When an allegation of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking is reported to a non-confidential university official, the report will be forwarded to the Department of Public Safety. The Title IX Coordinator will lead the university response by offering supportive measures and information about filing a complaint. If a complaint is filed, the University will initiate an investigation into the complaint. The investigation will be conducted by officials who, at a minimum, receive annual training on the issues related to sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence and stalking and who do not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against the complainant or the respondent, and is prompt, fair and impartial to all students involved.

The complainant and the respondent are both permitted to participate in the investigation. At the conclusion of the investigation, both parties will have an opportunity to inspect the evidence collected, as well as to review the investigative report. A hearing will then be held to determine whether the respondent violated University policy, and if found responsible, the hearing officer will also determine the appropriate sanctions. The hearing decision may be appealed by either the complainant or the respondent. The University uses a preponderance of the evidence standard to reach conclusions. i.e., whether the evidence demonstrates that it is more likely than not that the conduct occurred.

Throughout this process, the complainant and the respondent may have an advisor of their choice present during any interview, hearing, or other related meeting. At any hearing, the complainant and the respondent must have an advisor present. Either party can request that the University provide them with an advisor at no cost to them.

Reporting Incidents to Law Enforcement

To report incidents of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, intimate partner violence or stalking or conduct that may constitute a crime while attending St. John’s, please contact the St. John’s University’s Department of Public Safety, local law enforcement, or the law enforcement agency in the applicable jurisdiction. Please note that the University’s standards for finding someone in violation of sexual misconduct are different than those used by the criminal justice system. If you have specific questions about potential violation of criminal law, we will assist you with connecting with the NYPD and/or local district attorney’s office.

St. John’s University will complete publicly available recordkeeping, including Clery Act reporting and disclosures, without the inclusion of personally identifying information about the victim.

LEGAL ORDERS OF PROTECTION & TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDERS

In addition, you might be interested in obtaining an “Order of Protection” or “Temporary Restraining Order.” An Order of Protection is a document issued by a public court to limit the behavior of someone who harms or threatens to harm another person. It is used to address various types of safety issues, including, but not limited to, situations involving domestic violence. For example, it can require a person not to assault, threaten, harass or stalk you; it can forbid a person from having any contact with you and/or your family or it can require a person to stay away from your home or the University (where you study, work and live).

Upon request, Public Safety Officers within St. John’s Department of Public Safety are available to provide you with assistance in seeking an Order of Protection or a Temporary Restraining Order, but a Public Safety Office cannot request an Order of Protection or Temporary Restraining Order on your behalf.

In New York, Family Courts, Criminal Courts and Supreme Courts can all issue Orders of Protection.

Family Court Order of Protection

This is issued as part of a civil proceeding. Its purpose is to stop violence within a family, or within an intimate relationship, and provide protection for those individuals affected.

To obtain an order of protection in the Family Court, your relationship to the other person must fall into one of the following categories:

Current or former spouse

Someone with whom you have a child in common

A family member to whom you are related by blood or marriage

Someone with whom you have or have had an "intimate relationship." An intimate relationship does not have to be a sexual relationship. A relationship may be considered intimate depending on factors such as how often you see each other, or how long you have known each other. (After a petition is filed, the court will decide if it is an intimate relationship).

To start a proceeding in Family Court, you need to file a form called a Family Offense Petition. You can contact the Family Court in your county for help completing and filing the petition.

Criminal Court Order of Protection

A criminal court order of protection may only be issued against a person who has been charged with a crime. There does not need to be a relationship between the complaining witness and the defendant.

Supreme Court Order of Protection

This can only be issued as part of an ongoing divorce proceeding. If you have an ongoing divorce case and would like to request an order of protection, you may do so by making a written request by Motion or Order to Show Cause; or you may make an oral request at a court appearance.

In addition, there are many community resources available to assist in matters relating to sexual assault, such as the New York City Alliance Against Sexual Assault on the web at www.svfreenyc.org.

Through contact with the University Resources listed above, members of the University community can get help to identify appropriate resources.

Our Global Campus locations provide similar options:

- Rome, Italy: Ordini Restrittivi
- Paris, France: Ordonnance de protection
- Limerick, Ireland: Protection Order, Safety Order, Barring Order

The Student Affairs Administrator on-site can assist with these requests through local police. Students can also email requests for assistance to titleix@stjohns.edu.

NOTICE OF NON-DISCRIMINATION AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

St. John's University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex (including sexual harassment and sexual violence), gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, disability, religion, age, status in the uniformed services of the United States (including veteran status), marital status, status as a victim of domestic violence, citizenship status, genetic predisposition or carrier status or any other basis prohibited by law in its programs and activities as required by Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the Amendments Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title VI or Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and other applicable statutes and University policies.
