

Special Education Teacher Needed | Grades 1-6

About The Lowell School

A New York State Regents approved and accredited non-profit coeducational day school, The Lowell School provides a structured, supportive learning environment for students with learning differences from elementary to high school. The New York Next Generation Standards curriculum is modified at each grade level for our specialized academic program. A multisensory approach to learning is utilized by elementary teachers. A supportive environment allows students to develop academic skills, learning strategies, and self-confidence that will foster their educational success. Materials that are modified and specialized instruction are used to establish and build concepts. Our calendar is based on the one published by the Department of Education.

Job Requirements:

- Detail-oriented -- quality and precision-focused
- Innovative -- innovative and risk-taking
- People-oriented -- supportive and fairness-focused
- Team-oriented -- cooperative and collaborative

Starting salary is $59,000 (salary commensurate with experience)
