THE PETER J. TOBIN
COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Maurice R. Greenberg
School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science

Established in 1995, the "Insurance Leader of the Year Award" has annually recognized the contributions of outstanding individuals whose leadership in the worldwide insurance and financial services industry set them apart from their peers.

The Maurice R. Greenberg School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science was founded in 1901 as the Insurance Society of New York and over the years evolved into The College of Insurance (TCI). In June of 2001, TCI merged with St. John's University, becoming the School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science (SRM), part of The Peter J. Tobin College of Business. The School paid tribute to Mr. Greenberg, Honorary Chairman of C.V. Starr & Co., Inc., with a "Lifetime Leadership" Award, bestowed in January 2020. It was announced on this occasion that the University Board of Trustees had voted to rename the School in his honor, effective immediately.

St. John's University awards undergraduate, M.B.A., and M.S. degrees in insurance, risk management, and actuarial science disciplines. Through the Tobin College's Center for Executive Education, the University also provides education, training, and consulting services to industry, governments, and regulators worldwide. The Greenberg School is a global leader in risk and insurance education and training and draws candidates from all over the world. All degree programs offered by the Tobin College of Business, and thus by Greenberg, are fully accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.
