THE PETER J. TOBIN
COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Maurice R. Greenberg
School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science

Established in 1995, the "Insurance Leader of the Year Award" has annually recognized the contributions of outstanding individuals whose leadership in the worldwide insurance and financial services industry sets them apart from their peers.

Christopher J. Swift is being honored for his transformational leadership of The Hartford and his longstanding contributions to the insurance industry and the communities it serves.

The Maurice R. Greenberg School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science was founded in 1901 as the Insurance Society of New York and over the years evolved into The College of Insurance (TCI). In June of 2001, TCI merged with St. John's University, becoming the School of Risk Management, Insurance and Actuarial Science (SRM), part of The Peter J. Tobin College of Business. The School paid tribute to Mr. Greenberg, Honorary Chairman of C.V. Starr & Co., Inc., with a "Lifetime Leadership" Award, bestowed in January 2020. It was announced on this occasion that the University Board of Trustees had voted to rename the School in his honor, effective immediately.

St. John's University awards undergraduate, M.B.A., and M.S. degrees in insurance, risk management, and actuarial science disciplines. Through the Tobin College's Center for Executive Education, the University also provides education, training, and consulting services to industry, governments, and regulators worldwide. The Greenberg School is a global leader in risk and insurance education and training and draws candidates from all over the world. All degree programs offered by the Tobin College of Business, and thus by Greenberg, are fully accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

Christopher J. Swift

*Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Hartford*

Christopher J. Swift is chairman and CEO of The Hartford. Since joining The Hartford as CFO in 2010, he was the driving force in the company's transformation following the global financial crisis, resulting in an industry-leading insurance company focused on the property and casualty and employee benefits markets.

Named CEO in 2014, Swift expanded the company's capabilities and geographic reach through organic growth and strategic investments, including the purchase of Aetna's U.S. group life and disability business in 2017 and The Navigators Group, Inc., a specialty lines property and casualty business, in 2019. He also completed the company's exit from the run-off life and annuity business, focusing the enterprise on areas of strength and positioning it for profitable growth.

Swift is a recognized advocate for mental health awareness in the workplace, helping business leaders create stigma-free environments and lead with empathy. He actively promotes the company's initiatives aimed at strengthening community vitality and improving economic mobility within the City of Hartford. In 2025, he formed the Vision Committee, bringing together corporate and community leaders to create a unifying vision for Connecticut's state capital. His advocacy embodies the company's longstanding tradition of volunteerism, support, and dedication to improve quality of life and vibrancy in The Hartford's namesake city and home since 1810.

Beyond his role at The Hartford, Swift serves on the boards of Citizens Financial Group, Inc., Hartford HealthCare and American Property Casualty Insurance Association. He is also a member of the Chief Executives for Corporate Purpose, the Council on Foreign Relations, The Geneva Association and CNBC CEO Council.

Prior to The Hartford, he held senior leadership positions at American International Group (AIG) and began his career as a certified public accountant at KPMG LLP where he led the Global Insurance Industry Practice.

He earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Marquette University, where he is also a trustee.
