THE JACKSON LIST

As I write the biography of Robert H. Jackson (1892-1954), United States Supreme Court Justice and chief prosecutor of Nazi war criminals following World War II, I periodically send short essays about Justice Jackson, the U.S. Supreme Court, Nuremberg, and related topics to an email list: "The Jackson List." Each post reaches well over 100,000 readers, people in all walks of life, around the world. The Jackson List archive site, which contains hundreds of essays and is text-searchable, is http://thejacksonlist.com.
