New Member Education Program Guidelines Form

The undersigned students, appointed representatives of their respective student organization, have each received a copy of the St. John's University New Member Education Program Guidelines. The New Member Education Program Guidelines are procedures designed to ensure compliance with the University policy. The Division of Student Affairs acknowledges the support of the IFC, MGA, and Panhellenic Council in the development and endorsement of the New Member Education Guidelines. If any questions should arise regarding the content of these Guidelines, the undersigned have been instructed to direct their questions to OFSL prior to the commencement of the activity in question. Failure to comply with these New Member Education Program Guidelines will make the involved student organization and their members liable for disciplinary charges and penalties from the University as outlined in the St. John's University Organizational Guidelines. Additional charges and penalties may be made by the respective governing council in compliance with the authority and procedures set forth within their constitution.
