

Agreements with Other Universities

Australian Catholic University

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with Australian Catholic University, located in Sydney, Australia. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

Leeds Metropolitan University

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with Leeds Metropolitan University, located in the United Kingdom. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile, located in Santiago, Chile. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

Sophia University

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with Sophia University, located in Tokyo, Japan. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

University of Leicester

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with University of Leicester, located in Leicester, England. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

University of Paris – Dauphine

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with University of Paris – Dauphine, located in Dauphine, Paris. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

University of the West Indies

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with University of the West Indies, located in Mona, Jamaica. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.

Uppsala University

St. John's University has a student exchange agreement with Uppsala University, located in Uppsala, Sweden. Students will study for one semester and receive up to 15 credits via standard learning. Additional costs for the program include housing at the local level, airfare and other living expenses the student may incur.